Participants. Seven days before an event, a promoter must submit the names of all potential participants to the Department. Changes are allowed only for wrestling events.

Medical. Boxing promoters must provide proof of medical insurance to the Department 72 hours prior to an event. A physician licensed by the Department must be present throughout a boxing, kickboxing, or martial arts event. Within 24 hours before these events, a physician must conduct a preflight physical. dangerous for a participant to continue. The Department may require a physician at a wrestling event.

Participants may be subject to random urinalysis or chemical tests within 24 hours before or after an event. An applicant or licensee who refuses to submit to testing is subject to disciplinary action. If the urinalysis or chemical test is positive for substances prohibited by rule, the applicant or licensee is subject to disciplinary action.

A promoter must have an ambulance or paramedic unit at an event.

The Director must adopt rules to assure clean and sportsmanlike conduct and may adopt rules with respect to round and bout limitations.

Inspectors. The Department may appoint official inspectors and the inspectors must carry a card as evidence of their authority. The Director sets a fee for the inspectors which is paid by the promoter. The promoter also pays a fee to the event physician and chiropractor, if a chiropractor is present. The Department may also employ inspectors.

Fees and taxes. Promoters pay the Department a tax equal to 5 percent of the gross receipts on events, as well as on gross receipts for telecasts of events. The tax on telecasts is due 72 hours after the event.

Other. The Director or persons acting on the Director's behalf are immune from liability based on official acts.

Summary of Bill:

A number of changes are made to the laws regulating boxing, kickboxing, mixed martial arts, and wrestling events.

Participants. The seven day period to submit the names of potential participants is changed to 10 days and made explicitly applicable to boxing, kickboxing, and mixed martial arts events. All licensing documents must be received within 72 hours before an event. Participant changes or additions for all events may be allowed no less than 48 hours before an event.

Medical. Kickboxing and mixed martial arts promoters, in addition to boxing promoters, are explicitly required to provide proof of medical insurance. The prefight physical must be within a time specified in rule. A physician may stop any bout when it would be dangerous and need not stop an entire event. The danger is no longer limited to a participant.

Breathalyzer tests may be administered within 24 hours before an event, during an event, or after an event until the postfight physical has been completed. Participants may not consume alcohol until the postfight physical is completed. An applicant or licensee who refuses to submit to the breathalyzer test or tests positive is subject to disciplinary action. The prohibited substances found in a urinalysis or chemical test are specified to be controlled substances.

The Department may appoint a chiropractor for wrestling events.

The emergency unit required on event locations must be a paramedic unit with transport and resuscitation capabilities.

The Director of the Department may adopt rules with respect to glove weights and weight classes, and is granted explicit authority to provide rules for clean and sportsmanlike conduct for boxing.

Inspectors. The Department must, rather than may, appoint official inspectors and must also appoint all other event officials. The Department may also contract with appointed officials.

Fees and taxes. The time frame to pay the telecast tax changed from 72 hours to 10 days.

Other provisions. All appointed officials are immune from liability based on official acts. Appointed officials are not immune from disciplinary actions by the Department.

Changes are made in terminology and organization of the provisions. Some provisions that refer to boxing only are made explicitly applicable to kickboxing and mixed martial arts. Some provisions covered in other laws are deleted.

Rules Authority: The bill does not directly address rule-making; however, the Director of the Department may need to adopt rules to implement the provisions.

Appropriation: None.

Fiscal Note: Requested on February 3, 2008.

Effective Date: The bill takes effect on January 1, 2009.
