1 AN ACT Relating to helping former foster care youth gain 2 postsecondary education and providing scholarships to former foster 3 care youth for this purpose; adding a new chapter to Title 28B RCW; and 4 making appropriations.

5 BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON:

б Sec. 1. (1)(a) The legislature finds NEW SECTION. that in 7 Washington, there are more than seven thousand three hundred children 8 in foster family or group care. These children face unique obstacles and burdens as they transition to adulthood, 9 including lacking 10 continuity in their elementary and high school educations. As compared to the general population of students, twice as many foster care youth 11 change schools at least once during their elementary and secondary 12 school careers, and three times as many change schools at least three 13 14 times. Only thirty-four percent of foster care youth graduate from high school within four years, compared to seventy percent for the 15 general population. Of the former foster care youth who earn a high 16 school diploma, more than twenty-eight percent earn a GED instead of a 17 traditional high school diploma. This is almost six times the rate of 18 19 the general population. Research indicates that GED holders tend not to be as economically successful as the holders of traditional high school diplomas. Only twenty percent of former foster care youth who earn a high school degree enroll in college, compared to over sixty percent of the population generally. Of the former foster care youth who do enroll in college, very few go on to earn a degree. Less than two percent of former foster care youth hold bachelor's degrees, compared to twenty-eight percent of Washington's population generally.

(b) Former foster care youth face two critical hurdles to enrolling 8 in college. The first is a lack of information regarding preparation 9 for higher education and their options for enrolling in higher 10 education. The second is finding the financial resources to fund their 11 education. As a result of the unique hurdles and challenges that face 12 13 former foster care youth, a disproportionate number of them are part of society's large group of marginalized youth and are at increased risk 14 of continuing the cycle of poverty and violence that frequently plagues 15 16 their families.

17 (c) Former foster care youth suffer from mental health problems at a rate greater than that of the general population. For example, one 18 in four former foster care youth report having suffered from 19 posttraumatic stress disorder within the previous twelve months, 20 21 compared to only four percent of the general population. Similarly, 22 the incidence of major depression among former foster care youth is twice that of the general population, twenty percent versus ten 23 24 percent.

(d) There are other barriers for former foster care youth to 25 achieving successful adulthood. One-third of former foster care youth 26 27 live in households that are at or below the poverty level. This is three times the rate for the general population. 28 The percentage of former foster care youth who report being homeless within one year of 29 leaving foster care varies from over ten percent to almost twenty-five 30 31 percent. By comparison, only one percent of the general population 32 reports having been homeless at sometime during the past year. One in three former foster care youth lack health insurance, compared to less 33 than one in five people in the general population. One in six former 34 foster care youth receive cash public assistance. This is five times 35 the rate of the general population. 36

37 (e) Approximately twenty-five percent of former foster care youth38 are incarcerated at sometime after leaving foster care. This is four times the rate of incarceration for the general population. Of the former foster care youth who "age out" of foster care, twenty-seven percent of the males and ten percent of the females are incarcerated within twelve to eighteen months of leaving foster care.

5 (f) Female former foster care youth become sexually active more 6 than seven months earlier than their nonfoster care counterparts, have 7 more sexual partners, and have a mean age of first pregnancy of almost 8 two years earlier than their peers who were not in foster care.

9 (2) The legislature further finds that a court may order a 10 noncustodial parent to pay for some or all of their children's 11 reasonable higher education costs. With respect to youth who have been 12 in the foster care system during their adolescent years, and 13 particularly with respect to youth who age out of the foster care 14 system, the state has a duty to these youth that is not less than that 15 of a noncustodial parent.

16 (3) The legislature intends to create the passport to college 17 promise program that will have two primary components, as follows:

(a) Significantly increasing outreach to foster care youth between the ages of fifteen and eighteen regarding the higher education opportunities available to them, how to apply to college, and how to apply for and obtain financial aid; and

(b) Providing financial aid to former foster care youth to ensure that the entire costs of their public undergraduate college education are paid for.
