Background:

Counties are authorized to pay their officers and employees according to the following different methods:

- Weekly or Biweekly Pay. The legislative authority of any county may establish a weekly or biweekly pay period where county officers and employees receive their compensation not later than seven days after the end of each pay period for services rendered during that pay period. If the county has assumed the rights, powers, functions, and obligations of a metropolitan municipal corporation, county officers and employees receive their compensation not later than 13 days following the end of each pay period for services rendered during that pay period.
- Semi-Monthly Pay. The salaries of county officers and employees of counties with a population of greater than 5,000 may be paid twice monthly. For services rendered from the first to the fifteenth day of the month, compensation is paid not later than the last day of the month. For services rendered from the sixteenth to the last day of the month, compensation must be paid not later than the fifteenth day of the following month.
- Once-a-Month Pay. The county legislative authorities of counties with populations greater than 5,000 that do not adopt weekly, biweekly, or semi-monthly pay must designate the first pay period as a draw day. The draw day must be not later than the last day of each month. Employees must be paid no more than 40 percent of their earned monthly salary on the draw day, and payroll deductions may not be deducted from the salary paid on the draw day. The balance of the earned monthly salary must be paid not later than the fifteenth day of the following month. In counties with a population of less than 5,000, salaries may be paid monthly and the legislative authority may adopt the draw-day procedure.
