In 2015, the Legislature assigned additional duties to the Committee related to reviewing implementation of ESSB 6746, which was legislation enacted in 2010 that made a number of changes to address issues related to commercially sexually exploited children. The Committee was required to report its findings regarding this review to the Legislature by February 1, 2016.

Staff Summary of Public Testimony: PRO: This Committee expires in June. We were contacted by members of the Committee in the hope that it can be reauthorized. The Committee is part of the model state protocol on sexually exploited children. Private money was raised to support this project, with over 200 people providing input for the development of the protocol. There are now taskforces in 14 different counties. The Committee hears reports from the regional taskforces, and has made a number of reports to the Legislature. Policy makers can feel confidence that resources are being allocated in the right place to support children. The Office of the Attorney General supports this taskforce within its budget appropriation. This is a priority for the Attorney General. We have applied for federal funding which would augment the work of this committee.
