Background: Generally, the owner of real property has a right to use the property as they choose. Sometimes the property may be subject to certain encumbrances, such as easements, covenants, or other restrictions. A covenant is an agreement between two parties about what can or cannot be done to or on the property. Typically, a restrictive covenant is an agreement between parties to refrain from doing something on or to the land.

Counties, cities, towns, and other metropolitan municipal corporations may hold or acquire a development right, easement, covenant, restriction, or other right or interest in land. These restrictions on real property may serve to protect, preserve, maintain, improve, restore, limit the future use of, or conserve for open space purposes, any land or improvement on the land. This right or interest is classified as real property.

Summary of Bill: Cities, towns, municipal corporations, code cities, and counties that wish to remove, vacate, or extinguish a restrictive covenant from property owned by the local government must first hold a public hearing. The local government must provide notice of the public hearing at least ten days before the hearing at its usual place of business, and issue a press release to local media providing the date, time, location, and reason for the public hearing.

Notice must be posted on the local government's website if it is updated for any reason before the hearing date. The notice must identify the property and provide a brief explanation of the restrictive covenant that the local government is proposing to remove, vacate, or extinguish.

Members of the public may provide testimony regarding the proposed action at the public hearing.

Appropriation: None.

Fiscal Note: Not requested.

Creates Committee/Commission/Task Force that includes Legislative members: No.

Effective Date: Ninety days after adjournment of session in which bill is passed.

Staff Summary of Public Testimony: PRO: This bill addresses a slight oversight where a city recently removed a covenant on land gifted to them over a 100 years ago without first holding a public hearing. This is a great transparency bill.

Persons Testifying: PRO: Representative Mark Harmsworth, Prime Sponsor.

Persons Signed In To Testify But Not Testifying: No one.
