

HB 1178 - DIGEST

Establishes the protection of the rights of religious exercise and conscience from the government discrimination act.

Prohibits the state from taking discriminatory action against a person on the basis that the person believes, speaks, or acts in accordance with a sincerely held religious belief or moral conviction.