HB 1260

Brief Description: Accelerating stability for people with a work-limiting disability or incapacity.

Sponsors: Representatives Alvarado, Leavitt, Taylor, Senn, Farivar, Simmons, Davis, Fitzgibbon, Callan, Reeves, Reed, Fey, Gregerson, Cortes, Macri, Fosse, Doglio and Pollet; by request of Department of Social and Health Services.

Brief Summary of Bill

- Eliminates the requirement for Aged, Blind, or Disabled (ABD) program recipients to repay the state for benefits received while waiting to be approved for federal Supplemental Security Income benefits or during the same period as such federal benefits were received.
- Makes participation in vocational rehabilitation services for persons receiving ABD or Pregnant Women Assistance (PWA) benefits voluntary, rather than required when assessed as beneficial.
- Places income eligibility standards for the Essential Needs and Housing (HEN) program within rule, rather than statute, and modifies eligibility criteria for the ABD and PWA programs to require that a person is ineligible for specific programs, rather than most federal assistance programs in general.
- Provides that the list of good cause reasons for failing to participate in substance use disorder treatment as a condition of eligibility for ABD, PWA, or HEN program benefits is a nonexhaustive list.

Background:

The Aged, Blind, or Disabled Cash Assistance Program. The Aged, Blind, or Disabled (ABD) cash assistance program provides cash assistance, a referral to the Essential Needs and Housing (HEN) program, and help accessing federal disability benefits to eligible low-income adults who are age 65 or older, blind, or determined likely to meet federal Supplemental Security Income (SSI) criteria. Additionally, to qualify for ABD benefits, persons must be ineligible to receive federal aid assistance other than basic food benefits and medical assistance. Persons may receive ABD benefits concurrently while pending application for federal SSI benefits. The monetary value of any ABD benefit that is subsequently duplicated by the person's receipt of SSI benefits for the same period is considered a debt and is subject to recovery by the state.

The Pregnant Women Assistance Program. The Pregnant Women Assistance (PWA) program provides cash assistance and a referral to the HEN program to pregnant individuals who are not eligible to receive federal aid assistance other than basic food benefits or medical assistance, and are in need based on current income and resource standards for the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) programs, but are ineligible for a reason other than a failure to cooperate with TANF program rules.

Essential Needs and Housing Program.

The HEN program provides funding to local governments and homeless service providers to help individuals referred to the program with time-limited rent assistance, services connected to housing stability, and limited essential needs items, such as personal hygiene and transportation. Persons are eligible for a referral to the program when they:

- have been determined to be eligible for the PWA program, the ABD program, or are incapacitated from gainful employment by reason of bodily or mental infirmity that will likely continue for a minimum of 90 days;
- are a citizen, lawful permanent resident, residing in the United States under color of law, or are a victim of human trafficking, and have furnished a Social Security number, with some exceptions;
- have countable income at or below $428 for a married couple or at or below $339 for a single individual, and meet certain resource limits, or meet standards for the PWA program; and
- are not eligible for federal aid assistance, other than basic food benefits and medical assistance.

Disqualification from Aged, Blind, or Disabled Cash Assistance; Pregnant Women Assistance; and Essential Needs and Housing Program Eligibility.

Certain persons are not eligible ABD, PWA, and HEN program benefits, including those who refuse or fail without good cause to participate in substance use disorder (SUD) treatment when assessed as needing treatment by a SUD professional. Good cause includes when a person's physical or mental condition prevents participation in SUD treatment, when needed outpatient treatment is not available in the person's county, or when needed inpatient treatment is not available in a reasonably accessible location.

Temporary Assistance for Needy Families, State Family Assistance, and Refugee Cash Assistance.

The TANF program is a federally funded program that provides cash assistance to parents or caregivers with children and pregnant individuals to help meet foundational needs. Persons who are caring for a relative's child, are legal guardians, or who are acting in the place of a parent, are also able to apply for TANF benefits on behalf of these children. Benefits under the TANF program are limited to 60 months, with some exceptions, and are available to people who meet certain income and resource limits and meet citizenship criteria. The State Family Assistance (SFA) program provides state-funded cash assistance for legal immigrant families, students ages 19 to 20, and pregnant individuals who are ineligible to receive TANF benefits. The Refugee Cash Assistance (RCA) program provides up to 12 months of cash assistance for newly arrived single and married adults who are ineligible for TANF.

Division of Vocational Rehabilitation.

The Department of Social and Health Services (DSHS) Division of Vocational Rehabilitation (DVR) assists people with disabilities to prepare for, secure, maintain, advance in, or regain employment. The DVR partners with organizations and businesses to develop employment opportunities. Persons receiving benefits through the ABD, PWA, and HEN programs must be assessed to determine whether they would likely benefit from a program offered by the DVR. If the assessment indicates the person might benefit, the DSHS must make a referral to the DVR. If a person is found eligible for a DVR program, the person must participate in the program to remain eligible for benefits. The DSHS must terminate benefits if the person refuses to participate or does not complete the DVR program.

Summary of Bill:

Effective October 1, 2023, the requirement for ABD program recipients to repay the state for benefits received while waiting to be approved for federal SSI benefits or during the same period as such federal benefits were received is eliminated.

Income eligibility standards for the HEN program are placed within rule, rather than statute. The provisions outlining eligibility for ABD benefits are modified to reflect that a person is eligible for ABD benefits when they are ineligible for SSI, RCA, TANF, or SFA benefits and meet other criteria, rather than when they are ineligible for federal aid assistance other than basic food and medical assistance. The provisions outlining eligibility for the PWA program are modified to reflect that a person is eligible when they are in need but ineligible for SFA benefits, in addition to TANF benefits, and meet other criteria, rather than when they are ineligible for most federal assistance programs.

Participation in vocational rehabilitation services for persons receiving ABD or PWA benefits is voluntary, rather than required when assessed as beneficial. The list of good cause reasons for failing to participate in SUD treatment as a condition of ABD, PWA, or HEN program eligibility is made a nonexhaustive list.

Appropriation: None.

Fiscal Note: Requested on January 6, 2023.

Effective Date: The bill takes effect 90 days after adjournment of the session in which the bill is passed.
