Staff Summary of Public Testimony: PRO: There are widespread workforce shortages across many sectors. Healthcare and nursing are the most critical. This bill is part of a solution and can be implemented quickly. There is a penalty for coming back to work after retirement that can reduce benefits for life. This bill gets rid of that penalty and encourages retired nurses to return to patient care. This issue has been addressed in the Legislature for the shortage of educators. Removing this barrier is one step toward fixing the nursing shortage. It will help alleviate workforce challenges for nurses in state agencies. There is a cost to doing nothing.

Persons Testifying: PRO: Senator Annette Cleveland, Prime Sponsor; Melissa Johnson, Washington State Nurses Association; Dane Austreng, SEIU Healthcare 1199NW.
