

SENATE RESOLUTION

8644

By Senator Schoesler

1 WHEREAS, The Seattle Mariners joined Major League Baseball's
2 American League in 1977 as an expansion franchise; and

3 WHEREAS, The Mariners' first winning season came in 1991, when 4 they finished 83-79; and

5 WHEREAS, The 1995 Mariners reached the MLB playoffs for the first 6 time, led by eventual Hall of Famers Ken Griffey Jr., Edgar Martinez, 7 and Randy Johnson; and

8 WHEREAS, The 1995 Mariners forever earned a place in Pacific
9 Northwest sports lore when they rallied from two games down to beat
10 the New York Yankees in five games, capped by Edgar Martinez's double 11 down the left-field line to score Joey Cora and a sliding Ken Griffey 12 Jr. as fans in the Kingdome roared; and

13 WHEREAS, The Mariners reached the playoffs in 1997, 2000, and 14 2001, with attendance averaging over three million fans in each of 15 those three seasons; and

16 WHEREAS, The Mariners then experienced a playoff drought lasting 17 two decades; and

18 WHEREAS, The 2021 Mariners rekindled hope among fans by finishing 19 the season with a 90-72 record and barely missing the playoffs; and

20 WHEREAS, The 2022 Seattle Mariners overcame a slow start early in 21 the season to win 14 straight games in July and finish the season 22 with another 90-72 record, but this season had a happier finish; and

1 WHEREAS, On September 30, 2022, the Mariners ended their playoff
2 drought and clinched an American League wild card berth when Cal
3 Raleigh hit a walk-off home run at T-Mobile Park to defeat the 4 Oakland Athletics 2-1; and

5 WHEREAS, During the 2022 playoffs, the Mariners defeated the 6 Toronto Blue Jays two games to none in the wild card round before
7 being swept by the eventual 2022 World Series champion Houston Astros
8 in three close games, including a marathon 18-inning, 1-0 Game 3 loss 9 in Seattle; and

10 WHEREAS, The Mariners' 2022 season highlights included the 11 exciting play of American League Rookie of the Year Julio Rodriguez, 12 who finished with 28 home runs and 25 stolen bases in addition to his 13 Griffey-esque play in center field; and

14 WHEREAS, The 2022 Mariners' pitching staff, from its starters to 15 its relievers, earned a reputation as one of the best in the American 16 League; and

17 WHEREAS, Hope and expectations are high among fans as the 18 Mariners begin the 2023 season;

19 NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Washington State Senate
20 congratulate the Seattle Mariners on reaching the 2022 American 21 League playoffs and ending their 21-year postseason drought; and

22 BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Washington State Senate wish 23 good luck to the Mariners on their 2023 season and that it ends with 24 a long-awaited World Series championship. Go M's!
