11 On page 24, beginning on line 4 of the striking amendment, strike
12 all of section 6

13
14 Renumber the remaining sections consecutively and correct any 15 internal references accordingly.

EFFECT: Restores current law specifying that juvenile dispositions within the standard range are not appealable, removing the provision in the underlying striking amendment that allows an appeal for dispositions that carry a term of confinement of 30 days or more and require the court to find that commitment is needed because a community-based placement would not adequately protect the community.

Specifies that a court order following a review hearing held during the commitment period for a person adjudicated of a juvenile offense is not appealable.
