SENATE COMMITTEE ON HUMAN SERVICES

Staff: Alison Mendiola (786-7488)

Background: Home and Community Living Administration. The Home and Community Living Administration (HCLA) is a division of the Department of Social and Health Services (DSHS) that assists individuals with intellectual and developmental disabilities and their families with obtaining services and supports based on individual preferences, capabilities, and needs. Clients of the HCLA may live in the community or in an institutional setting such as a residential habilitation center (RHC).

Residential Habilitation Centers. HCLA operates four RHCs that provide clients with residential, habilitative support in an institutional setting. The RHCs only serve clients age 21 and older, though clients 16 and older may be served on a short-term basis for respite or crisis stabilization services when no appropriate service options are available in the community. The RHCs are federally certified by the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services as either an intermediate care facility (ICF) that provides individualized habilitative services, a nursing facility that is capable of caring for clients with unique medical needs, or both, providing care 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Additional services include therapies, behavioral support and employment and community services.

The four RHCs are:

- Fircrest School in Shoreline, which includes a nursing facility and an ICF;
- Lakeland Village Residential Habilitation Center in Medical Lake, which includes a nursing facility and an ICF;
- Rainier School in Buckley, which is an ICF; and
- Yakima Valley School in Selah, which is a nursing facility.

Rainier School and Yakima Valley School are not accepting new permanent residents. Admissions are limited to short-term respite or crisis stabilization services only.

Interlake School was an RHC that closed in 1994. References to Interlake School remain in the Revised Code of Washington.

Summary of Bill: Fircrest School is renamed Fircrest Residential Habilitation Center and Rainier School is renamed Rainier Residential Habilitation Center. References to the former Interlake School will be to Interlake Residential Habilitation Center.

Lakeland Village Residential Habilitation Center and Yakima Valley School retain their current names.

Any existing references to Fircrest School or Rainier School retain full force and effect. DSHS is to update rules and make other changes necessary to reflect the names of the RHCs.
