SENATE COMMITTEE ON LABOR & COMMERCE

Staff: Jarrett Sacks (786-7448)

Background: The Public Employees' Collective Bargaining Act (PECBA) provides for collective bargaining of wages, hours, and working conditions with employees of cities, counties, and other political subdivisions, as well as to certain employees of institutions of higher education. Officers of the Washington State Patrol (WSP) and Department of Fish and Wildlife (DFW) also bargain under PECBA.

For certain uniformed personnel, PECBA requires binding interest arbitration if negotiations for a contract reach impasse and cannot be resolved through mediation. Under interest arbitration, an impartial third-party makes decisions regarding the unresolved terms of the contract. There are statutory procedures for parties to select arbitrators and factors the arbitration panel must consider when making its decision. The interest arbitration provisions of PECBA also apply to officers of WSP and DFW officers.

This analysis was prepared by non-partisan legislative staff for the use of legislative members in their deliberations. This analysis is not part of the legislation nor does it constitute a statement of legislative intent.

Under PECBA, a DFW officer is a person appointed and commissioned by the director of DFW who ranks below lieutenant and includes officers, detectives, and sergeants.

Summary of Bill: Lieutenants and captains are added to the DFW officers that are eligible for interest arbitration under PECBA.

Appropriation: None.
