Chapter 388-450A WAC
INCOME—GARNISHMENT

WAC

WAC 388-450A-0010 Can my subsidized income be garnished? (1) Your subsidized income cannot be garnished. Subsidized income is income that is partly or entirely paid from temporary assistance for needy families (TANF) funds. Examples of subsidized income are community jobs and WorkFirst work study.

(2) For how your subsidized income affects your benefits, see WAC 388-450-0035 or 388-450-0050.

Chapter 388-452 WAC
INTERVIEW REQUIREMENTS

WAC

WAC 388-452-0005 Do I have to be interviewed in order to get benefits? (1) Unless you are applying for medical only, you or your authorized representative must have an interview with the department:

(a) At initial certification; and

(b) At least once every twelve months if your assistance unit (AU) is certified for twelve months or less.

(2) You do not have to attend an interview if you are applying for or recertifying medical benefits only. If we deny your application for cash or Basic Food because you did not have an interview, we continue to process your request for medical benefits.

(3) You will have just one interview even if you are applying for or are having a review for benefits from more than one program.

(4) If we do not interview you on the same day that we get your application, we schedule an interview appointment for you. We schedule your appointment the day we get your application or on the next business day if we get your application outside of our scheduled business hours, on a holiday or a weekend.

(5) We schedule an interview so your AU has at least ten days after the interview to provide needed verification:

(a) Before the end of the thirty-day processing period for applications; or

(b) Before your certification period ends for eligibility reviews or recertifications.

(6) If you miss your first interview and ask for another interview within thirty days of the date you applied for benefits, we schedule a second interview for you.

(7) If you must have an interview for benefits, you or someone who can give us the information we need about your AU must participate in the interview. You may bring any person you choose to your interview.

(8) You may choose someone to take your place in your interview:

(a) For cash assistance if you cannot come to the local office for us to decide if you are eligible for benefits; or

(b) For Basic Food if the person is your authorized representative as described in WAC 388-460-0005.

(9) We usually have interviews at the local office. You can have a scheduled telephone interview if there is any reason you cannot attend an interview at the local office. Examples of reasons you may be unable to attend an interview include:

(a) Your work or training schedule make it inconvenient for you to attend an in-office interview during regular business hours;

(b) You are unable to take time off of work to attend an in-office interview, because you would not get paid for this time or you fear you could lose your job;

(c) Someone in your AU is ill, or you have to stay home to care for an AU member;

(d) You are having transportation problems;

(e) You can't safely get to the office because of severe weather;

(f) You live in a remote area and can't easily get to the local office;

(g) All the people in your AU are elderly, mentally disabled, or physically disabled;

(h) Someone in your AU is affected by family violence such as physical or mental abuse, harassment, or stalking by the abuser; or

(i) You have any other situation that makes it difficult for you to come into the office for an interview.

(10) If you currently get benefits from the department and you are completing an eligibility review or recertification for ongoing benefits under chapter 388-434 WAC, you can have a scheduled phone interview even if you do not meet the requirements for a phone interview listed above.

WAC 388-452-0010 What does the family violence option mean for TANF/SFA recipients? The Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996 (PRWORA), gave every state the option to have procedures in place to address issues of family violence for recipients receiving temporary assistance for needy families (TANF) or state family assistance (SFA).

(1) For TANF/SFA, it is family violence when a recipient, or family member or household member has been subjected by another family member or household member as defined in RCW 26.50.010(2) to one of the following:

(a) Physical acts that resulted in, or threatened to result in, physical injury;

(b) Sexual abuse;

(c) Sexual activity involving a dependent child;

(d) Being forced as the caretaker relative or a dependent child to engage in nonconsensual sexual acts or activities;

(e) Threats of or attempts at, physical sexual abuse;

(f) Mental abuse;

(g) Neglect or deprivation of medical care; or

(h) Stalking.

(2) Under the family violence option DSHS must:

(a) Screen and identify TANF/SFA recipients for a history of family violence;

(b) Notify TANF/SFA recipients about the family violence option both verbally and in writing;

(c) Maintain confidentiality as stated in RCW 74.04.060;

(d) Offer referral to social services or other resources for recipients who meet the criteria in subsection (1) of this section;

(e) Waive WorkFirst requirements in cases where the requirements would make it more difficult to escape family violence, unfairly penalize victims of family violence or place victims at further risk. Requirements to be waived may include:

(i) Time limits for TANF/SFA recipients, for as long as necessary (after fifty-two months of receiving TANF/SFA);

(ii) Cooperation with the division of child support.

(f) Develop specialized work activities for instances where participation in regular work activities would place the recipient at further risk of family violence.

Chapter 388-454 WAC
LIVING WITH A RELATIVE

WAC

WAC 388-454-0005 Can I get TANF or SFA benefits for the child living with me? (1) You can get temporary assistance for needy families (TANF) or state family assistance (SFA) for a child you live with if you are responsible for the care and control of the child and you are the child's:

(a) Parent or other relative as defined in WAC 388-454-0010;

(b) Court-ordered guardian or court-ordered custodian; or

(c) Other adult acting in loco parentis (in the place of a parent).

(2) If a child lives with more than one relative or parent because the relatives share custody of the child:

(a) We include the child in the assistance unit (AU) of the parent or relative that the child lives with for the majority of the time; or

(b) If relatives share physical custody of the child in equal amounts, we include the child in the AU of the parent or relative that first applies for assistance for the child.

(3) If you or the child in your AU is temporarily absent from the home according to WAC 388-454-0015 and 388-454-0020, you can still get TANF or SFA during the absence.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.04.057, 2000 2nd sp.s. c 1. 01-03-121, § 388-454-0005, filed 1/22/01, effective 3/1/01. Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.04.055, 74.04.057 and 74.08.090. 98-16-044, § 388-454-0005, filed 7/31/98, effective 9/1/98.]

WAC 388-454-0006 The department makes background checks on adults who are acting in place of a parent without court-ordered custody. (1) We check your background when you ask for TANF or SFA benefits for a child who:

(a) Is not related to you; and

(b) Lives with you but you do not have a court order that gives you legal custody of the child.

(2) A child who is not related to you cannot receive TANF/SFA benefits while living with you until we have completed a background check and the results of the background check meet the criteria in subsection (3) through (5).

(3) A child who is not related to you cannot receive benefits while living with you if:

(a) You have been convicted of a crime listed in WAC 388-06-0170; or

(b) You have been convicted of a crime listed in WAC 388-06-0180 within the last five years.

(4) We review your background when you have been convicted of a crime listed in WAC 388-06-0180 more than five years ago to determine your character, suitability, and competence to receive benefits for a child not related to you. We consider the following factors:

(a) The amount of time that has passed since you were convicted;

(b) The seriousness of the crime that led to the conviction;

(c) The number and types of convictions in your background; and

(d) Your age at the time of the conviction.

(5) When you have a conviction for a crime other than those listed in WAC 388-06-0170 or 388-06-0180 we review your background as described in subsection (4) above.

(6) Expunged or sealed conviction records do not count against you.

WAC 388-454-0010 Do I have to be related to a child in order to get TANF or SFA for the child? To get TANF or SFA, a child must live with a parent, other relative, court-ordered guardian, court-ordered custodian, or other adult acting in loco parentis.

(1) We consider the following people as parents for TANF and SFA:

(a) The child's natural or adoptive parent; or

(b) A stepparent who is legally obligated to support the child.

(2) We consider a man as a child's natural father if the relationship is:

(a) Made under a judgment or order under RCW 26.26.130 that set the relationship between the parent and child; or

(b) Presumed under the Uniform Parentage Act (chapter 26.26 RCW).

(3) When a child lives with a relative, the relative must be one of the following relationships to the child in order for that child to be eligible for TANF or SFA:

(a) The following blood relatives (including relatives of half blood) or their spouses: Siblings, first cousins (including first cousins once removed), nephews and nieces, and persons of earlier generations (including aunts, uncles and grandparents) as shown by the prefixes of great, great-great, or great-great-great;

(b) A natural parent whose parental rights were terminated by a court order;

(c) A stepparent who no longer has to support the child because:

(i) The child's natural or adoptive parent died; or

(ii) Divorce or dissolution ended the marriage between the stepparent and the child's natural or adoptive parent.

(d) A step sibling even if the marriage between the step sibling's parent and the child's natural or adoptive parent ended by death, divorce or dissolution.

WAC 388-454-0015 Temporary absence from the home. The temporary absence policy described in this WAC applies to the temporary assistance for needy families (TANF) and state family assistance (SFA) programs. In some situations, a child receiving TANF/SFA can continue to be eligible for TANF/SFA cash assistance when there is a temporary separation of the child and the child's caregiver. There must be a clear expectation the absence is temporary and the child is expected to be reunited with the family. Temporary absences can't exceed one hundred eighty days except as described in (1)(a).

(1) For recipients, temporary absences include, but are not limited to:

(a) A caregiver receiving care in a hospital, substance abuse treatment facility, or other medical institution. If the temporary care exceeds one hundred eighty days, the assistance payment for the person is reduced to the CPI amount specified under chapter 388-478 WAC.

(b) Out-of-home visits less than one hundred eighty days, when the caregiver is still responsible for the support and care of the child.

(c) A caregiver or child attending school or training as described in WAC 388-454-0020.

(d) Placement of a child in foster care or in the care of a relative or other adult, including when the child's primary caregiver is in a residential treatment facility. The division of children and family services (DCFS) must place the child and determine the child is expected to return to the primary caregiver within one hundred eighty days of the placement.

(2) For applicants, temporary absences include:

(a) When the child is placed in unlicensed foster care or in the care of a relative or other adult and DCFS expects the child will return to the home within one hundred eighty days of removal. Benefits can also be approved for an applicant if DCFS determines that the child will be in the care of the applying adult within thirty days of authorizing assistance even if the child has been out of the home for over one hundred eighty days.

(b) When the child is out of the home because of illness or hospitalization and the absence isn't expected to exceed one hundred eighty days.

(3) For situations described in (1)(d) and (2)(a) of this WAC, concurrent TANF or SFA cash assistance can be made for the child, only when DCFS places the child in the temporary care of an unlicensed-relative, other caregiver, or in foster care. DCFS must expect the child return to the home of the primary caregiver in one hundred eighty days.

(a) When the child goes into licensed foster care, the TANF/SFA grant to the parent continues.

(b) When the child goes into unlicensed care, whether with a relative or other caregiver, the TANF grant to the parent continues and the caregiver can also get a TANF grant.

(4) Situations that do not meet the criteria of a temporary absence include, but aren't limited to:

(a) The caregiver or child is incarcerated for any length of time.

(b) The child ran away and there is no clear expectation of when the child will be returning home.

(c) A caregiver or child is away attending school and doesn't meet the criteria outlined in WAC 388-454-0020.

(5) A caregiver must report within five days of learning that a child's absence is going to be greater than one hundred eighty days as required under WAC 388-418-0005 and 388-418-0007.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.04.055, 74.04.057, 74.04.510, and 74.08.090. 08-14-105, § 388-454-0015, filed 6/30/08, effective 8/1/08. Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.04.055, 74.04.057 and 74.08.090. 98-16-044, § 388-454-0015, filed 7/31/98, effective 9/1/98.]

WAC 388-454-0020 Temporary absence to attend school or training. A child or caretaker is temporarily absent from the home to attend school or training when:

(1) The child's caretaker is attending a department approved vocational training program; or

(2) The child attends school or training away from home, as long as:

(a) The child returns to the family home during a year's period, at least for summer vacation; and

(b) The absence is necessary because:

(i) Isolation of the child's home makes it necessary for the child to be away to attend school;

(ii) The child is enrolled in an Indian boarding school administered through the Bureau of Indian Affairs; or

(iii) Specialized education or training is not available in the child's home community and is recommended by local school authorities.

WAC 388-454-0025 The department notifies a child's parent when we approve assistance and the child is living with someone other than their parent. (1) The department makes a reasonable effort to contact the parent with whom the child last lived when we find out that a child applying for assistance lives with someone other than the child's parent. We tell the parent:

(a) Within seven days of the date we approve assistance for the child;

(b) How to ask for family reconciliation services from the department; and

(c) How to request the child's address and location as allowed under WAC 388-428-0010.

(2) We do not notify the parent when there is evidence to support a claim that the parent has abused or neglected the child.

Chapter 388-455 WAC
LUMP SUM INCOME

WAC

WAC 388-455-0005 How do lump sum payments affect benefits? (1) A lump sum payment is money that someone receives but does not expect to receive on a continuing basis.

(2) For cash assistance and family medical programs, we count a lump sum payment:

(a) As a resource, under WAC 388-455-0010, if it was awarded for wrongful death, personal injury, damage, or loss of property.

(b) As income, under WAC 388-455-0015, if it was received for any other reason.

(3) For Basic Food, we count lump sum payments for a previous period as a resource under WAC 388-470-0055. We count any amount for current or future months as income to your assistance unit.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.04.055, 74.04.057, 74.04.510, and 74.08.090. 08-11-105, § 388-455-0005, filed 5/20/08, effective 7/1/08. Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090 and 74.04.510. 99-24-008, § 388-455-0005, filed 11/19/99, effective 1/1/00.]

WAC 388-455-0010 When and how does the department treat lump sum payments as a resource for cash assistance and family medical programs? (1) If you receive a lump sum payment, we count it as a resource if it was awarded for:

(a) Wrongful death;

(b) Personal injury;

(c) Damage; or

(d) Loss of property.

(2) If some of your lump sum payment is designated for medical bills or to repair or replace damaged property, we do not count the designated amount as a resource for sixty days starting the month after you received the payment. After the sixty day period, we count all of the lump sum payment that remains as a resource.

(3) For family medical programs, we do not count an increase in your resources if you are continuously eligible as described under WAC 388-470-0026 (1) and (2).

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.04.055, 74.04.057, 74.04.510, and 74.08.090. 08-11-105, § 388-455-0010, filed 5/20/08, effective 7/1/08. Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090 and 74.04.510. 99-24-008, § 388-455-0010, filed 11/19/99, effective 1/1/00.]

WAC 388-455-0015 When and how does the department treat lump sum payments as income for cash assistance and family medical programs. This section applies to cash and family medical programs.

(1) If you receive a lump sum payment that is not awarded for wrongful death, personal injury, damage, or loss of property, we count this payment as income to your assistance unit. We budget this income according to effective date rules under WAC 388-418-0020.

(2) For cash assistance, if you cannot access some or all of your lump sum payment for reasons beyond your control, we will adjust the amount we count as income to your assistance unit as described under WAC 388-450-0005.

(3) To decide the amount of your lump sum we count as income, we take the following steps:

(a) First, we subtract the value of your current resources from the resource limit under WAC 388-470-0005;

(b) Then, we subtract the difference in (3)(a) from the total amount of the lump sum; and

(c) The amount left over is what we count as income, as specified in WAC 388-450-0025 and 388-450-0030.

(4) When the countable amount of the lump sum payment is:

(a) Less than your payment standard plus additional requirements, we count it as income in the month it is received.

(b) More than one month's payment standard plus additional requirements but less than two months:

(i) We count the portion equal to one month's payment standard plus additional requirements as income in the month it is received; and

(ii) We count the remainder as income the following month.

(c) Equal to or greater than the total of the payment standard plus additional requirements for the month of receipt and the following month, we count the payment as income for those months.

(5) If you receive a one-time lump sum payment, and you are ineligible or disqualified from receiving cash benefits:

(a) We allocate the payment to meet your needs as described under WAC 388-450-0105; and

(b) Count the remainder as a lump sum payment available to eligible members of your assistance unit according to the rules of this section.

(6) For family medical programs:

(a) We count lump sum payments as income in the month you receive the payment.

(b) If you cannot access some or all of your lump sum payment for reasons beyond your control, will adjust the amount we count as income to your assistance unit as described under WAC 388-450-0005.

(c) We count any money that remains on the first of the next month as a resource except for recipients as described in WAC 388-470-0026 (1) and (2).

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.04.055, 74.04.057, 74.04.510, and 74.08.090. 08-11-105, § 388-455-0015, filed 5/20/08, effective 7/1/08. Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090 and 74.04.510. 99-24-008, § 388-455-0015, filed 11/19/99, effective 1/1/00.]

WAC 388-466-0120 Refugee cash assistance (RCA). (1) Who can apply for refugee cash assistance (RCA)?

Anyone can apply to the department of social and health services (DSHS) for refugee cash assistance and have their eligibility determined within thirty days.

(2) How do I know if I qualify for RCA?

You may be eligible for RCA if you meet all of the following conditions:

(a) You have resided in the United States for less than eight months;

(b) You meet the immigration status requirements of WAC 388-466-0005;

(c) You meet the income and resource requirements under chapters 388-450 and 388-470 WAC;

(d) You meet the work and training requirements of WAC 388-466-0150; and

(e) You provide the name of the voluntary agency (VOLAG) which helped bring you to this country.

(3) What are the other reasons for not being eligible for RCA?

You may not get RCA if you:

(a) Are eligible for temporary assistance for needy families (TANF) or Supplemental Security Income (SSI); or

(b) Have been denied TANF due to your refusal to meet TANF eligibility requirements; or

(c) Are employable and have voluntarily quit or refused to accept a bona fide offer of employment within thirty consecutive days immediately prior to your application for RCA; or

(d) Are a full-time student in a college or university.

(4) If I am an asylee, what date will be used as an entry date?

If you are an asylee, your entry date will be the date that your asylum status is granted. For example: You entered the United States on December 1, 1999 as a tourist, then applied for asylum on April 1, 2000, interviewed with the asylum office on July 1, 2000 and were granted asylum on September 1, 2000. Your entry date is September 1, 2000. On September 1, 2000, you may be eligible for refugee cash assistance.

(5) If I am a victim of human trafficking, what kind of documentation do I need to provide to be eligible for RCA?

You are eligible for RCA to the same extent as a refugee if you are:

(a) An adult victim, eighteen years of age or older, you provide the original certification letter from the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS), and you meet eligibility requirements in subsections (2)(c) and (d) of this section. You do not have to provide any other documentation of your immigration status. Your entry date will be the date on your certification letter;

(b) A child victim under the age of eighteen, in which case you do not need to be certified. DHHS issues a special letter for children. Children also have to meet income eligibility requirement;

(c) A family member of a certified victim of human trafficking, you have a T-2, T-3, T-4, or T-5 Visa (Derivative T-Visas), and you meet the eligibility requirements in subsections (2)(c) and (d) of this section.

(6) Does getting a one time cash grant from a voluntary agency (VOLAG) affect my eligibility for RCA?

No. In determining your eligibility for RCA DSHS does not count a onetime resettlement cash grant provided to you by your VOLAG.

(7) What is the effective date of my eligibility for RCA?

The date DSHS has sufficient information to make eligibility decision is the date your RCA begins.

(8) When does my RCA end?

(a) Your RCA ends on the last day of the eighth month starting with the month of your arrival to the United States. Count the eight months from the first day of the month of your entry into the United States. For example, if you entered the United States on May 28, 2000, May is your first month and December 2000 is your last month of RCA.

(b) If you are from Afghanistan and were granted special immigrant status under section 101 (a)(27) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA), your RCA ends on the last day of the sixth month starting from the month of your arrival to the United States or from the month you received special immigrant status if this occurred after your entry.

(c) If you get a job, your income will affect your RCA based on the TANF rules (chapter 388-450 WAC). If you earn more than is allowed by WAC 388-478-0035, you are no longer eligible for RCA. Your medical coverage may continue for up to eight months from your month of arrival in the United States (WAC 388-466-0130).

(9) Are there other reasons why RCA may end?

Your RCA also ends if:

(a) You move out of Washington state;

(b) Your unearned income and/or resources go over the maximum limit (WAC 388-466-0140); or

(c) You, without good cause, refuse to meet refugee employment and training requirements (WAC 388-466-0150).

(10) Will my spouse be eligible for RCA, if he/she arrives in the U.S. after me?

When your spouse arrives in the United States, DSHS determines his/her eligibility for RCA and/or other income assistance programs.

(a) Your spouse may be eligible for up to eight months of RCA based on his/her date of arrival into the United States. Spouses from Afghanistan who have been granted special immigrant status under section 101 (a)(27) of the INA, are eligible for RCA for up to six months from the date of their entry into the United States or from the month they received special immigrant status if this occurred after their U.S. entry.

(b) If you live together you and your spouse are part of the same assistance unit and your spouse's eligibility for RCA is determined based on your and your spouse's combined income and resources (WAC 388-466-0140).

(11) Can I get additional money in an emergency?

If you have an emergency and need a cash payment to get or keep your housing or utilities, you may apply for the DSHS program called additional requirements for emergent needs (AREN). To receive AREN, you must meet the requirements in WAC 388-436-0002.

(12) What can I do if I disagree with a decision or action that has been taken by DSHS on my case?

No. A cash assistance payment provided to you by your VOLAG is not counted in determining eligibility for RMA.

DSHS will send you a letter in both English and your primary language informing you about your eligibility. DSHS will also let you know in writing every time there are any changes or actions taken on your case.

(8) Will RMA cover my medical expenses that occurred after I arrived in the U.S. but before I applied for RMA?

(9) If I am a victim of human trafficking, what kind of documentation do I need to provide to be eligible for RMA?

On September 1, 2000 you may be eligible for refugee medical assistance.

(11) When does my RMA end?

(a) Your refugee medical assistance will end on the last day of the eighth month from the month of your entry into the United States. Start counting the eight months with the first day of the month of your entry into the U.S. For example, if you entered the U.S. on May 28, 2000, your last month is December 2000.

(b) If you are from Afghanistan and were granted Special Immigrant status under section 101 (a)(27) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA), your RMA ends on the last day of the sixth month starting with the month of your arrival to the United States or from the month you received Special Immigrant status if this occurred after your U.S. entry.

(12) What happens if my earned income goes above the income standards?

(a) If you are getting RMA, your medical eligibility will not be affected by the amount of your earnings;

(b) If you were getting medicaid and it was terminated because of your earnings, we will transfer you to RMA for the rest of your RMA eligibility period. You will not need to apply.

(13) Will my spouse also be eligible for RMA, if he/she arrives into the U.S. after me?

When your spouse arrives in the U.S., we will determine his/her eligibility for medicaid and other medical programs.

(a) Your spouse may be eligible for RMA; if so, he/she would have a maximum of eight months of RMA starting on the first day of the month of his/her arrival.

(b) Spouses from Afghanistan who have been granted special immigrant status under section 101 (a)(27) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA), are eligible for RMA for a maximum of six months from the date of entry into the United States or from the month they received special immigrant status if this occurred after their U.S. entry.

(14) What do I do if I disagree with a decision or action that has been taken by DSHS on my case?

If you disagree with the decision or action taken on your case by department you have the right to request a review of your case or request a fair hearing (see WAC 388-02-0090). Your request must be made within ninety days of the decision or action).

(15) What happens to my medical coverage after my eligibility period is over?

We will determine your eligibility for other medical programs. You may have to complete an application for another program.

WAC 388-466-0140 Income and resources for refugee assistance eligibility. (1) How does DSHS count my income and resources when determining my eligibility for refugee cash assistance?

We determine your eligibility for RCA using the TANF rules about income and resources in chapters 388-450 and 388-470 WAC, except we do not count a onetime resettlement cash payment provided to you by your voluntary agency (VOLAG).

(2) How does DSHS count my income and resources when determining my eligibility for refugee medical assistance?

We determine your eligibility for RMA using the TANF rules about income and resources in chapters 388-450 and 388-470 WAC, except as it stated below:

(a) Your monthly income can be up to two hundred percent of the federal poverty level (FPL);

(b) A onetime resettlement cash payment provided to you by your VOLAG is not counted in determining your eligibility for RMA;

(c) Your RMA eligibility is determined on the basis of your income and resources on the date of your application (WAC 388-466-0130).

WAC 388-466-0150 Refugee employment and training services. (1) What are refugee employment and training services?

Refugee employment and training services provided to eligible refugees may include information and referral, employment oriented case management, job development, job placement, job retention, wage progression, skills training, on-the-job training, counseling and orientation, English as a second language, and vocational English training.

(2) Am I required to participate in refugee employment and training services?

If you are receiving refugee cash assistance (RCA) you are required to participate in refugee employment and training services, unless you are exempt.

(3) How do I know if I am exempt from mandatory employment and training requirements?

(a) You may be exempt from participation in employment and training requirements if:

(i) You are needed in the home to personally provide care for your child under three months of age (see WAC 388-310-0300);

(ii) You are sixty years of age or older.

(b) You can not be exempt from work and training requirements solely because of an inability to communicate in English.

(4) If I am required to participate, what do I have to do?

You are required to:

(a) Register with your employment service provider;

(b) Accept and participate in all employment opportunities, training or referrals, determined appropriate by the department.

(5) What happens if I do not follow these requirements?

If you refuse without good reason to cooperate with the requirements, you are subject to the following penalties:

(a) If you are applying for refugee cash and medical assistance, you will be ineligible for thirty days from the date of your refusal to accept work or training opportunity; or

(b) If you are already receiving refugee cash and medical assistance, your cash benefits will be subject to financial penalties.

(c) The department will notify your voluntary agency (VOLAG) if financial penalties take place.

(6) What are the penalties to my grant?

The penalties to your grant are:

(a) If the assistance unit includes other individuals as well as yourself, the cash grant is reduced by the sanctioned refugee's amount for three months after the first occurrence. For the second occurrence the financial penalty continues for the remainder of the sanctioned refugee's eight-month eligibility period.

(b) If you are the only person in the assistance unit your cash grant is terminated for three months after the first occurrence. For the second occurrence, your grant is terminated for the remainder of your eight-month eligibility period.

(7) How can I avoid the penalties?

You can avoid the penalties, if you accept employment or training before the last day of the month in which your cash grant is closed.

(8) What is considered a good reason for not being able to follow the requirements?

You have a good reason for not following the requirements if it was not possible for you to stay on the job or to follow through on a required activity due to an event outside of your control. See WAC 388-310-1600(3) for examples.

WAC 388-470-0005 How do resources affect my eligibility for cash assistance, medical assistance, and Basic Food? (1) The following definitions apply to this chapter:

(a) "We" means the department of social and health services.

(b) "You" means a person applying for or getting benefits from the department.

(c) "Fair market value (FMV)" means the price at which you could reasonably sell the resource.

(d) "Equity value" means the FMV minus any amount you owe on the resource.

(e) "Community property" means a resource in the name of the husband, wife, or both.

(f) "Separate property" means a resource of a married person that one of the spouses:

(i) Had possession of and paid for before they were married;

(ii) Acquired and paid for entirely out of income from separate property; or

(iii) Received as a gift or inheritance.

(2) We count a resource to decide if your assistance unit (AU) is eligible for cash assistance, family medical programs, or Basic Food when:

(a) It is a resource we must count under WAC 388-470-0045 and 388-470-0055;

(b) You own the resource. We consider you to own a resource if:

(i) Your name is on the title to the property; or

(ii) You have property that doesn't have a title; and

(c) You have control over the resource, which means the resource is actually available to you; and

(d) You could legally sell the resource or convert it into cash within twenty days.

(3) For cash assistance and family medical programs, you must try to make your resources available even if it will take you more than twenty days to do so, unless:

(a) There is a legal barrier; or

(b) You must petition the court to release part or all of a resource.

(4) When you apply for assistance, we count your resources as of:

(a) The date of your interview, if you are required to have an interview; or

(b) The date of your application, if you are not required to have an interview; or

(c) The first day of the month of application, for medical assistance.

(5) If your total countable resources are over the resource limit in subsection (6) through (13) of this section, you are not eligible for benefits.

(6) For cash assistance and applicants for family medical programs, we use the equity value as the value of your resources.

(a) Applicants can have countable resources up to one thousand dollars.

(b) Recipients of cash assistance can have an additional three thousand dollars in a savings account.

(7) Recipients of family medical programs do not have a resource limit.

(8) We do not count your resources for children's medical or pregnancy medical benefits.

(9) For SSI-related medical assistance, see chapter 388-475 WAC.

(10) For clients receiving institutional or wavered services, see chapters 388-513 and 388-515 WAC.

(11) If your household consists of more than one medical assistance unit (MAU), as described in WAC 388-408-0055, we look at the resources for each MAU separately.

(12) If your AU is categorically eligible (CE) as described in WAC 388-414-0001, you do not have a resource limit for Basic Food.

(13) If your AU is not CE under WAC 388-414-0001, your AU may have countable resources up to the following amount and be eligible for Basic Food:

(a) Three thousand dollars if your AU has either an elderly or disabled individual; or

(b) Two thousand dollars for all other AUs.

(14) If you own a countable resource with someone who is not in your AU, we count the portion of the resource that you own. If we cannot determine how much of the resource is yours:

(a) For cash assistance, we count an equal portion of the resource that belongs to each person who owns it.

(b) For medical assistance and Basic Food, we count the entire amount unless you can prove that the entire amount is not available to you.

(15) We assume that you have control of community property and you can legally sell the property or convert it to cash unless you can show that you do not.

(16) We may not consider an item to be separate property if you used both separate and community funds to buy or improve it.

(17) We do not count the resources of victims of family violence when:

(a) The resource is owned jointly with members of the former household; or

(b) Availability of the resource depends on an agreement of the joint owner; or

(c) Making the resource available would place the client at risk of harm.

(18) You may give us proof about a resource anytime, including when we ask for it or if you disagree with a decision we made, about:

(a) Who owns a resource;

(b) Who has legal control of the resource;

(c) The value of a resource;

(d) The availability of a resource; or

(e) The portion of a property you or another person owns.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090 and 74.04.510. 03-05-015, § 388-470-0005, filed 2/7/03, effective 3/1/03. Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.-050, 74.04.055, 74.04.057 and 74.08.090. 98-16-044, § 388-470-0005, filed 7/31/98, effective 9/1/98.]

WAC 388-470-0012 Does the department look at the resources of people who are not getting benefits? Yes we do. We count the resources of certain people who live in your home, even if they are not getting assistance. Their resources count as part of your resources.

(1) For cash assistance, we count the resources of ineligible, disqualified, or financially responsible people as defined in WAC 388-450-0100.

(2) For Basic Food, we count the resources of ineligible assistance unit (AU) members as defined in WAC 388-408-0035.

(3) For family and SSI-related medical assistance, we count the resources of financially responsible people as defined in WAC 388-408-0055.

(4) For long term care services, we count the resources of financially responsible people as defined in WAC 388-506-0620.

(5) For cash assistance, medical assistance, and Basic Food, we also count the resources of an immigrant's sponsor as described in WAC 388-470-0060.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090 and 74.04.510. 03-05-015, § 388-470-0012, filed 2/7/03, effective 3/1/03. Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.-050, 74.04.055, 74.04.057 and 74.08.090. 99-09-053, § 388-470-0012, filed 4/19/99, effective 5/20/99.]

WAC 388-470-0026 Excluded resources for family medical programs. "Continuously eligible" means, for the purposes of this chapter, there has not been a break of a calendar month or more in a client's eligibility since the date the client received resources in an amount that would cause the client to exceed the resource limit of a family medical program.

(1) The department does not count any increase in a client's resources received while a client:

(a) Is eligible for and receiving coverage under a family medical program; and

(b) Remains continuously eligible for a family medical program.

(2) The department does not count the resource increase for a client:

(a) Who meets the requirement of subsection (1)(a) of this section;

(b) Whose family medical program is terminated; and

(c) Who is later found eligible for all months since the termination, which may include a retroactive period of up to three months.

(3) The department counts the resource increase when the client is ineligible for a family medical program for a full calendar month or more except as described in subsection (2) of this section.

(4) When determining the eligibility of a Holocaust survivor for a family medical program, the department does not count the recoveries of:

(a) Insurance proceeds; and

(b) Other assets.

(5) For the purposes of this section, a family medical program includes the medical extension benefits as described in WAC 388-523-0100.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 74.08A.100, 74.09.080, and 74.09.415. 02-17-030, § 388-470-0026, filed 8/12/02, effective 9/12/02. WAC 388-470-0045 How do my resources count toward the resource limits for cash assistance and family medical programs? WAC 388-470-0060 How does the department decide how much of my sponsor's resources affect my eligibility for cash, medical, and food assistance benefits? (1) If you are a sponsored immigrant as defined in WAC 388-450-0155, and you are not exempt from deeming under WAC 388-450-0156, we count part of your sponsor's resources as available to you.

(2) We decide the amount of your sponsor's resources to count by:

(a) Totaling the countable resources of the sponsor and the sponsor's spouse (if the spouse signed the affidavit of support) under chapter 388-470 WAC;

(b) Subtracting fifteen hundred dollars; and

(c) Counting the remaining amount as a resource that is available to you.

(3) If you can show that your sponsor has sponsored other people as well, we divide the result by the total number of people who they sponsored.

(4) We continue to count your sponsor's resources when we determine your eligibility for benefits until you are exempt from deeming under WAC 388-450-0156.

WAC 388-470-0070 How vehicles are counted toward the resource limit for cash assistance and family medical programs. (1) A vehicle is any device for carrying persons and objects by land, water, or air.

(2) The entire value of a licensed vehicle needed to transport a physically disabled assistance unit member is excluded.

(3) The equity value of one vehicle up to five thousand dollars is excluded when the vehicle is used by the assistance unit or household as a means of transportation. Each separate medical assistance unit is allowed this exclusion.

WAC 388-470-0075 How is my vehicle counted for the Washington Basic Food program? This rule applies to the Washington Basic Food program only.

(1) A vehicle is a motorized device that the client can use as a regular means of transportation.

(2) If you own a licensed vehicle we (the department) do not count its entire value if the vehicle:

(a) Has an equity value (fair market value (FMV) minus what you owe on the vehicle) of one thousand five hundred dollars or less.

(b) Is used over fifty percent of the time to make income. This includes vehicles such as a taxi, truck, or fishing boat. If you are a self-employed farmer or fisher and your self-employment ends, we still exclude your vehicle for one year from the date you end your self-employment.

(c) Is used to make income each year that is consistent with its FMV, even if used on a seasonal basis.

(d) Is needed for long-distance travel, other than daily commuting, for the employment of an assistance unit (AU).

(e) Is used as your AU's home.

(f) Is used to carry fuel for heating or water for home use when this is the primary source of fuel or water for your AU.

(g) Is needed to transport a physically disabled AU member, no matter if the disability is permanent or temporary.

(3) For licensed vehicles we did not exclude in subsection (2) above, we subtract four thousand six hundred fifty dollars from the vehicle's FMV and count the remaining amount toward the resource limit for:

(a) One vehicle for each adult AU member no matter how it is used; and

(b) Any vehicle an AU member under age eighteen uses to drive to work, school, training, or to look for work.

(4) If you have other licensed vehicles, we count the larger value of the following toward your AU's resource limit:

(a) FMV greater than four thousand six hundred fifty dollars; or

(b) Equity value (FMV minus what is owed on the vehicle).

(5) If you are a tribal member and drive an unlicensed vehicle on a reservation that does not require vehicle licensing, we count or exclude your vehicle as if it was a licensed vehicle.

(6) For all other unlicensed vehicles we count the equity value towards your AU's resource limit unless the vehicle is:

(a) Used to make income each year that is consistent with its FMV, even if used on a seasonal basis; or

(b) Work-related equipment needed for employment or self-employment of a member of your AU.

(7) We do not add the equity values of different vehicles together to perform the equity test. We look at each vehicle separately. If a vehicle passes the equity test, we do not count it towards the resource maximum.

(8) After we determine the countable value of each vehicle, we add those values to your other countable resources to see if your resources are below your resource limit.

(c) Request benefits by giving us an application form using any method listed under WAC 388-406-0010. You can ask for and get a receipt when you give us an application or other documents;

(d) Have your application processed as soon as possible. Unless your application is delayed under WAC 388-406-0040, we process your application for benefits within thirty days, except:

(i) If you are eligible for expedited services under WAC 388-406-0015, you get food assistance within five days. If we deny you expedited services, you have a right to ask that the decision be reviewed by the department within two working days from the date we denied your request for expedited services;

(ii) If you are pregnant and otherwise eligible, you get medical within fifteen working days.

(iii) General assistance (GAU), alcohol or drug addiction treatment (ADATSA), or medical assistance may take up to forty-five days; and

(f) Have the information you give us kept private. We may share some facts with other agencies for efficient management of federal and state programs;

(g) Ask us not to collect child support or medical support if you fear the noncustodial parent may harm you, your children, or the children in your care;

(h) Ask for extra money to help pay for temporary emergency shelter costs, such as an eviction or a utility shutoff, if you get TANF;

(i) Get a written notice, in most cases, at least ten days before we make changes to lower or stop your benefits;

(j) Ask for a fair hearing if you disagree with a decision we make. You can also ask a supervisor or administrator to review our decision or action without affecting your right to a fair hearing;

(k) Have interpreter or translator services given to you at no cost and without delay;

(l) Refuse to speak to a fraud investigator. You do not have to let an investigator into your home. You may ask the investigator to come back at another time. Such a request will not affect your eligibility for benefits; and

(m) Get help from us to register to vote.

(2) If you get cash, food, or medical assistance, you are responsible to:

(a) Tell us if you are pregnant, in need of immediate medical care, experiencing an emergency such as having no money for food, or facing an eviction so we can process your request for benefits as soon as possible;

(b) Report the following expenses so we can decide if you can get more food assistance:

(i) Shelter costs;

(ii) Child or dependent care costs;

(iii) Child support that is legally obligated;

(c) Report changes as required under WAC 388-418-0005 and 388-418-0007.

(g) Apply for and get any benefits from other agencies or programs prior to getting cash assistance from us;

(h) Complete reports and reviews when asked;

(i) Look for, get, and keep a job or participate in other activities if required for cash or food assistance;

(j) Give your medical identification card or letter of eligibility from us to your medical care provider; and

(k) Cooperate with the quality control review process.

(3) If you are eligible for necessary supplemental accommodation (NSA) services under chapter 388-472 WAC, we help you comply with the requirements of this section.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.04.055. 08-18-007, § 388-472-0005, filed 8/22/08, effective 9/22/08. WAC 388-472-0010 What are necessary supplemental accommodation services? Necessary supplemental accommodation (NSA) services are services provided to you if you have a mental, neurological, physical or sensory impairment or other problems that prevent you from getting program benefits in the same way that an unimpaired person would get them.

NSA services include but are not limited to:

(1) Arranging for or providing help to complete and submit forms to us;

(2) Helping you give or get the information we need to decide or continue eligibility;

(3) Helping you request continuing benefits;

(4) If you miss an appointment or deadline, contacting you about the reason before we reduce or end your benefits;

(5) Explaining to you the reduction in or ending of your benefits (see WAC 388-418-0020);

(6) If we know you have a person who helps you with your applications, notifying them when we need information or when we are about to reduce or end your benefits;

(7) Assisting you with requests for fair hearings;

(8) Providing protective payments if needed; and

(9) On request, reviewing our decision to terminate, suspend or reduce your benefits.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 74.04.050, 74.04.055, 74.04.057. 04-14-037, § 388-472-0010, filed 6/29/04, effective 7/30/04. Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.04.055, 74.04.057, 74.04.510, and 74.08.090. 01-10-104, § 388-472-0010, filed 5/1/01, effective 6/1/01.]

WAC 388-472-0020 How does the department decide if I am eligible for NSA services? When you, as head of household, apply for benefits either in person or by phone, we screen you to decide if you meet NSA requirements. We explain NSA services to you during the screening.

(1) We identify you as NSA if you:

(a) Say you need NSA services in order to have equal access to our programs and services;

(b) Have or claim to have a mental impairment;

(c) Have a developmental disability;

(d) Are disabled by alcohol or drug addiction;

(e) Are unable to read or write in any language; or

(f) Are a minor not residing with your parents.

(2) We identify you as NSA if we observe you to have cognitive limitations, whether or not you have a disability, which may prevent you from understanding the nature of NSA services or affect your ability to access our programs. Cognitive limitations are limitations in your ability to communicate, understand, remember, process information, exercise judgement and make decisions, perform routine tasks or relate appropriately with others.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.04.055, 74.04.057, 74.04.510, and 74.08.090. 01-10-104, § 388-472-0020, filed 5/1/01, effective 6/1/01.]

WAC 388-472-0030 How can I get NSA services? (1) After we screen you for NSA eligibility and initially identify your case as NSA, we mark your case file with a uniform NSA identifier.

(2) After you are initially identified as NSA, we complete an assessment to confirm your NSA designation.

(3) If the assessment confirms your NSA designation, we develop an accommodation plan that specifies the services we will provide to you to improve your access to our programs and services.

(4) If you are designated as NSA according to WAC 388-472-0020 (1) and (2), we include all the NSA services listed in WAC 388-472-0010 in your accommodation plan.

(5) Based on your request or a change in your needs, the NSA designation and the accommodation plan may be assessed and changed.

(6) Even if you are eligible to receive NSA services you may refuse NSA services.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.04.055, 74.04.057, 74.04.510, and 74.08.090. 01-10-104, § 388-472-0030, filed 5/1/01, effective 6/1/01.]

WAC 388-472-0040 What are the department's responsibilities in giving NSA services to me? (1) All of our staff are continually responsible to identify you as possibly NSA eligible and assist you with NSA services.

(2) We provide a grace period to continue your financial, food or medical assistance when:

(a) We stop a benefit because we are unable to tell if you continue to qualify; and

(b) You provide proof you still qualify for the benefit within the twenty days right after the benefit stops. We restore lost benefits as follows:

(i) We reopen your medical assistance from the first of the month; and

(ii) We recalculate your cash and food assistance and issue you the correct amount without taking away any benefits as long as you were eligible to receive them.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.04.055, 74.04.057, 74.04.510, and 74.08.090. 01-10-104, § 388-472-0040, filed 5/1/01, effective 6/1/01.]

WAC 388-472-0050 What if I don't accept or follow through the program requirements because I'm not able to or I don't understand them? (1) We consider how your limitation or impairment affects your ability to accept and follow through on all program requirements. This can include, but is not limited to, your actions in failing to:

(a) Follow through with medical treatment;

(b) Follow through with referrals to other agencies;

(c) Provide timely income reports;

(d) Maintain employment;

(e) Participate in food assistance employment and training; or

(f) Participate in the WorkFirst program.

(2) If we decide your limitation was the cause of your refusal to accept or failure to follow through on these requirements, we will find that you have good cause and we will not take any adverse action.

(3) Following a finding of good cause not to have followed through with the requirement, we will review your accommodation plan to assure that all services necessary to enable you to meet the program requirements are being provided to you.

(4) If we are unable to accommodate your condition so that you are able to participate in program requirements, we will waive program requirements.

(5) If participation in program requirements is not waived, you must cooperate with program requirements.

Chapter 388-474 WAC
SUPPLEMENTAL SECURITY INCOME

WAC

WAC 388-474-0001 What is Supplemental Security Income (SSI) and who can get it? (1) SSI is a federal cash benefit program administered by the Social Security Administration (SSA) under Title XVI of the Social Security Act.

(2) You can get SSI if you have limited income and resources and if you are:

(a) Aged (sixty-five and older);

(b) Blind; or

(c) Disabled.

(3) The SSI program replaced state programs for aged, blind and disabled persons beginning in January 1974. If you received state assistance in December 1973 and you became eligible for SSI in January 1974, you are called a grandfathered client by the state and a mandatory income level (MIL) client by SSI. You must continue to meet the definition of blind or disabled that was in effect under the state plan in December 1973. These definitions can be found in the SSA program operations manual system (POMS), see http://policy.ssa.gov/poms.nsf.

(4) If you are needed in the home to care for an eligible person, you are called an essential person. You are also called a grandfathered client.

(5) If you are an essential person you must have lived continuously with the eligible person since January 1974.

(6) If you are an SSI recipient and you have a spouse who does not qualify for SSI in their own right, you may be eligible for a state supplemental payment for your spouse (also referred to as an ineligible spouse).

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.04.055, 74.04.057, 74.08.090 and 74.04.630. 02-11-033, § 388-474-0001, filed 5/7/02, effective 6/7/02. Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.04.055, 74.04.057 and 74.08.090. 98-16-044, § 388-474-0001, filed 7/31/98, effective 9/1/98.]

WAC 388-474-0005 What medical coverage does a Supplemental Security Income client, essential person, and an ineligible spouse get? (1) If you are an SSI client you automatically get categorically needy (CN) medical coverage (WAC 388-505-0110) unless you:

(a) Refuse to provide private medical insurance information; or

(b) Refuse to assign the right to recover insurance funds to the department (WAC 388-505-0540).

(2) If you are an essential person as described in WAC 388-474-0001 you get CN medical coverage as long as you continue to live with the SSI client.

(3) If you are an ineligible spouse you are not considered an SSI recipient. You must have your medical assistance determined separately.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.04.055, 74.04.057, 74.08.090 and 74.04.630. 02-11-033, § 388-474-0005, filed 5/7/02, effective 6/7/02. Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.04.055, 74.04.057 and 74.08.090. 98-16-044, § 388-474-0005, filed 7/31/98, effective 9/1/98.]

WAC 388-474-0010 How does being a Supplemental Security Income (SSI) client affect your cash assistance eligibility? (1) If you are married to an SSI recipient but do not get SSI in your own right, you are called an "ineligible spouse."

(2) If you are an ineligible spouse you cannot get the SSI state supplement when you are:

(a) The caretaker relative of a child who receives TANF or SFA; and

(b) Required to be included in the TANF or SFA assistance unit with the child (see WAC 388-408-0015; or

(c) Receiving refugee assistance.

(3) If you are an ineligible spouse and get an SSI state supplement (WAC 388-474-0012), you cannot get general assistance (GA).

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.04.055, 74.04.057, 74.08.090 and 74.04.630. 02-11-033, § 388-474-0010, filed 5/7/02, effective 6/7/02. WAC 388-474-0012 What is a state supplemental payment and who can get it? (1) The state supplemental payment (SSP) is a state-funded cash assistance program for certain clients who the Social Security Administration determines are eligible for Supplemental Security Income (SSI).

(2) You can get an SSP if:

(a) You are a grandfathered SSI recipient under WAC 388-474-0001;

(b) You are an individual with an ineligible spouse under WAC 388-474-0001;

(c) You receive SSI because you are age sixty-five or older under WAC 388-474-0001;

(d) You receive SSI because you are blind under WAC 388-474-0001;

(e) You are determined eligible for SSP by the division of developmental disabilities; or

(f) You are eligible for and receive SSI as a foster child receiving specific services through children's administration behavior rehabilitation services (BRS) for part or all of a month, and not eligible for foster care reimbursement under Title IV-E of the Social Security Act.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.04.055, 74.04.057, 74.08.090. 05-07-031, § 388-474-0012, filed 3/9/05, effective 4/9/05; 03-21-125, § 388-474-0012, filed 10/20/03, effective 11/1/03; 03-03-114, § 388-474-0012, filed 1/21/03, effective 2/23/03.]

WAC 388-474-0015 What happens to my categorically needy (CN) medical coverage when my Supplemental Security Income (SSI) cash payment is terminated? (1) Your CN medical coverage (WAC 388-505-0110) continues after an SSI cash payment ends when:

(a) Countable income exceeds the SSI income standard due solely to the annual cost-of-living adjustment (COLA); or

(b) A timely request for a hearing has been filed. CN medical coverage is continued until Social Security Administration (SSA) makes a final decision on the hearing request and on any subsequent timely appeals.

(2) If your SSI ends your CN medical coverage continues for a period of up to one hundred twenty days while the department reviews your eligibility for other cash or medical programs.

(3) If you are a terminated SSI or SSI-related client, the department will review your disability status when:

(a) You present new medical evidence;

(b) Your medical condition changes significantly; or

(c) Your termination from SSI was not based on a review of current medical evidence.

(4) Children terminated from SSI due to loss of disabled status may be eligible for medical benefits under WAC 388-505-0210.

WAC 388-474-0020 What can a general assistance-unemployable (GA-U) client expect when Supplemental Security Income (SSI) benefits begin? You can only get assistance to meet your basic needs from one government source at a time (WAC 388-448-0210). If you are a GA-U client who begins setting SSI, you should know that:

(1) If you got advance, emergency or retroactive SSI cash assistance for any period where you got GA-U, you must repay the department the amount of GA-U paid to you for the matching time period.

(2) When you apply for GA-U you must sign DSHS 18-235(X), interim assistance reimbursement agreement (IARA) to get GA-U assistance.

(3) You cannot use your GA-U money to replace money deducted from your SSI check to repay an SSI overpayment.

WAC 388-475-0200 SSI-related medical—Definition of resources. (1) A resource is any cash, other personal property, or real property that an applicant, recipient or other financially responsible person:

(a) Owns;

(b) Has the right, authority, or power to convert to cash (if not already cash); and

(c) Has the legal right to use for his/her support and maintenance.

(2) The value of a resource may change. However, the property (personal or real) still remains a resource.

(3) Some assets are not resources. Any asset that does not meet the criteria in subsection (1) above is not a resource.

(4) When an SSI-related client owns a bank account or time deposit jointly with others who are also SSI-related clients, we consider the funds as being available to the SSI-related individuals in equal shares, unless sufficient evidence to the contrary is provided.

(5) When an SSI-related client owns a bank account or time deposit jointly with others who are not SSI-related, we consider all funds in the joint account as available to the client unless sufficient evidence to the contrary is provided.

(6) When an SSI-related client jointly owns either real or personal property other than bank accounts or time deposits, the department considers that the client owns and has available only his or her fractional interest in the property unless sufficient evidence to the contrary is provided.

(7) A resource is countable toward the resource limit only if it is available and is not excluded.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.08.090. 04-09-002, § 388-475-0200, filed 4/7/04, effective 6/1/04.]

WAC 388-475-0250 SSI-related medical—Ownership and availability of resources. (1) Personal or real property is available to the client if the client, client's spouse or other financially responsible person:

(a) Owns the property;

(b) Has the authority to convert the property into cash;

(c) Can expect to convert the property to cash within twenty working days; and

(d) May legally use the property for his/her support.

(2) A resource is considered available on the first day of the month following the month of receipt unless a rule about a specific type of resource provides for a different time period.

(3) A resource, which ordinarily cannot be converted to cash within twenty working days, is considered unavailable as long as a reasonable effort is being made to convert the resource to cash.

(4) A client may provide evidence showing that a resource is unavailable. A resource is not counted if a client shows sufficient evidence that the resource is unavailable.

(5) We do not count the resources of victims of family violence, as defined in WAC 388-452-0010, when:

(a) The resource is owned jointly with members of the former household;

(b) Availability of the resource depends on an agreement of the joint owner; or

(c) Making the resource available would place the client at risk of harm.

(6) The value of a resource is its fair market value minus encumbrances.

(7) Refer to WAC 388-470-0060 to consider additional resources when an alien has a sponsor.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.08.090. 04-09-002, § 388-475-0250, filed 4/7/04, effective 6/1/04.]

WAC 388-475-0300 SSI-related medical—Resources eligibility. (1) At 12:00 a.m. on the first day of the month a client's countable resources must be at or below the resource standard to be eligible for noninstitutional medical benefits for that month. If the total of the client's countable resources is above the resource standard at 12:00 a.m. on the first day of the month, the client is ineligible for noninstitutional medical benefits for that entire month regardless of resource status at the time of application during that month. For resource eligibility relating to long-term care eligibility see chapter 388-513 WAC.

(2) An excluded resource converted to another excluded resource remains excluded.

(3) Cash received from the sale of an excluded resource becomes a countable resource the first of the month following conversion unless the cash is;

(a) Used to replace the excluded resource; or

(b) Invested in another excluded resource in the same month or within the longer time allowed for home sales under WAC 388-475-0350; or

(c) Spent.

(4) The unspent portion of a nonrecurring lump sum payment is counted as a resource on the first of the month following its receipt with the following exception: The unspent portion of any Title II (SSA) or Title XVI (SSI) retroactive payment is excluded as a resource for nine months following the month of receipt. These exclusions apply to lump sums received by the client, client's spouse or any other person who is financially responsible for the client.

(5) Clients applying for SSI-related medical coverage for long-term care (LTC) services must meet different resource rules. See chapter 388-513 WAC for LTC resource rules.

(6) The transfer of a resource without adequate consideration does not affect medical program eligibility except for LTC services described in chapters 388-513 and 388-515 WAC. In those programs, the transfer may make a client ineligible for medical benefits for a period of time. See WAC 388-513-1363 through 388-513-1366 for LTC rules.

WAC 388-475-0350 SSI-related medical—Property and contracts excluded as resources. (1) The department does not count the following resources when determining eligibility for SSI-related medical assistance:

(a) A client's household goods and personal effects;

(b) One home (which can be any shelter), including the land on which the dwelling is located and all contiguous property and related out-buildings in which the client has ownership interest, when:

(i) The client uses the home as his or her primary residence; or

(ii) The client's spouse lives in the home; or

(iii) The client does not currently live in the home but the client or his/her representative has stated the client intends to return to the home; or

(iv) A relative, who is financially or medically dependent on the client, lives in the home and the client, client's representative, or dependent relative has provided a written statement to that effect.

(c) The value of ownership interest in jointly owned real property is an excluded resource for as long as sale of the property would cause undue hardship to a co-owner due to loss of housing. Undue hardship would result if the co-owner:

(i) Uses the property as his or her principal place of residence;

(ii) Would have to move if the property were sold; and

(iii) Has no other readily available housing.

(2) Cash proceeds from the sale of the home described in subsection (1)(b) above are not considered if the client uses them to purchase another home by the end of the third month after receiving the proceeds from the sale.

(3) An installment contract from the sale of the home described in subsection (1)(b) above is not a resource as long as the person plans to use the entire down payment and the entire principal portion of a given installment payment to buy another excluded home, and does so within three full calendar months after the month of receiving such down payment or installment payment.

(4) The value of sales contracts is excluded when the:

(a) Current market value of the contract is zero,

(b) Contract cannot be sold, or

(c) Current market value of the sales contract combined with other resources does not exceed the resource limits.

(5) Sales contracts executed before December 1, 1993, are exempt resources as long as they are not transferred to someone other than a spouse.

(6) A sales contract for the sale of the client's principal place of residence executed between December 1, 1993 and May 31, 2004 is considered an exempt resource unless it has been transferred to someone other than a spouse and it:

(a) Provides interest income within the prevailing interest rate at the time of the sale;

(b) Requires the repayment of a principal amount equal to the fair market value of the property; and

(c) The term of the contract does not exceed thirty years.

(7) A sales contract executed on or after June 1, 2004 on a home that was the principal place of residence for the client at the time of institutionalization is considered exempt as long as it is not transferred to someone other than a spouse and it:

(a) Provides interest income within the prevailing interest rate at the time of the sale;

(b) Requires the repayment of a principal amount equal to the fair market value of the property within the anticipated life expectancy of the client; and

(c) The term of the contract does not exceed thirty years.

(8) Payments received on sales contracts of the home described in subsection (1)(b) above are treated as follows:

(a) The interest portion of the payment is treated as unearned income in the month of receipt of the payment;

(b) The principal portion of the payment is treated as an excluded resource if reinvested in the purchase of a new home within three months after the month of receipt;

(c) If the principal portion of the payment is not reinvested in the purchase of a new home within three months after the month of receipt, that portion of the payment is considered a liquid resource as of the date of receipt.

(9) Payments received on sales contracts described in subsection (4) are treated as follows:

(a) The principal portion of the payment on the contract is treated as a resource and counted toward the resource limit to the extent retained at the first moment of the month following the month of receipt of the payment; and

(b) The interest portion is treated as unearned income the month of receipt of the payment.

(10) For sales contracts that meet the criteria in subsections (5), (6), or (7) but do not meet the criteria in subsections (3) or (4), both the principal and interest portions of the payment are treated as unearned income in the month of receipt.

(11) Property essential to self-support is not considered a resource within certain limits. The department places property essential to self-support in several categories:

(a) Real and personal property used in a trade or business (income-producing property), such as:

(i) Land,

(ii) Buildings,

(iii) Equipment,

(iv) Supplies,

(v) Motor vehicles, and

(vi) Tools.

(b) Nonbusiness income-producing property, such as:

(i) Houses or apartments for rent, or

(ii) Land, other than home property.

(c) Property used to produce goods or services essential to an individual's daily activities, such as land used to produce vegetables or livestock, which is only used for personal consumption in the individual's household. This includes personal property necessary to perform daily functions including vehicles such as boats for subsistence fishing and garden tractors for subsistence farming, but does not include other vehicles such as those that qualify as automobiles (cars, trucks).

(12) The department will exclude an individual's equity in real and personal property used in a trade or business (income producing property listed in subsection (11)(a) above) regardless of value as long as it is currently in use in the trade or business and remains used in the trade or business.

(13) The department excludes up to six thousand dollars of an individual's equity in nonbusiness income-producing property listed in subsection (11)(b) above, if it produces a net annual income to the individual of at least six percent of the excluded equity.

(a) If a person's equity in the property is over six thousand dollars, only the amount over six thousand dollars is counted toward the resource limit, as long as the net annual income requirement of six percent is met on the excluded equity.

(b) If the six percent requirement is not met due to circumstances beyond the person's control, and there is a reasonable expectation that the activities will again meet the six percent rule, the same exclusions as in subsection (13)(a) above apply.

(c) If a person has more than one piece of property in this category, each is looked at to see if it meets the six percent return and the total equities of all those properties are added to see if the total is over six thousand dollars. If the total is over the six thousand dollars limit, the amount exceeding the limit is counted toward the resource limit.

(d) The equity in each property that does not meet the six percent annual net income limit is counted toward the resource limit, with the exception of property that represents the authority granted by a governmental agency to engage in an income-producing activity if it is:

(i) Used in a trade or business or nonbusiness income-producing activity; or

(ii) Not used due to circumstances beyond the individual's control, e.g., illness, and there is a reasonable expectation that the use will resume.

(14) Property used to produce goods or services essential to an individual's daily activities is excluded if the individual's equity in the property does not exceed six thousand dollars.

(15) Personal property used by an individual for work is not counted, regardless of value, while in current use, or if the required use for work is reasonably expected to resume.

(16) Interests in trust or in restricted Indian land owned by an individual who is of Indian descent from a federally recognized Indian tribe or held by the spouse or widow/er of that individual, is not counted if permission of the other individuals, the tribe, or an agency of the federal government must be received in order to dispose of the land.

WAC 388-475-0400 SSI-related medical—Vehicles excluded as resources. (1) For SSI-related medical programs, a vehicle is defined as anything used for transportation. In addition to cars and trucks, a vehicle can include boats, snowmobiles, and animal-drawn vehicles.

(2) One vehicle is excluded regardless of its value, if it is used to provide transportation for the individual or a member of the individual's household:

(a) For employment;

(b) For the treatment of a specific or regular medical problem;

(c) For transportation of or modified for operation by a handicapped person; or

(d) Because of climate, terrain, distance, or similar factors to perform essential daily activities.

(3) If no vehicle is excluded under subsection (2), the department excludes up to five thousand dollars of the current fair market value of one vehicle as a resource. If the current fair market value of the vehicle exceeds five thousand dollars, the excess is counted toward the resource limit.

(4) A vehicle used as the client's primary residence is excluded as the home, and does not count as the one excluded vehicle.

(5) All other vehicles, except those excluded under WAC 388-475-0350 (11) through (14), are treated as nonliquid resources and the equity value is counted toward the resource limit.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.08.090. 04-09-003, § 388-475-0400, filed 4/7/04, effective 6/1/04.]

WAC 388-475-0450 SSI-related medical—Life insurance excluded as a resource. (1) The department excludes life insurance policies that do not have or cannot accrue a cash surrender value (CSV) in determining whether owned policies exceed the life insurance exclusion limits for resources and in determining burial fund exclusion limits.

(2) Policies owned by each spouse are evaluated and counted separately.

(3) If the total face value of all policies with a CSV potential that a person owns on the same insured is equal to or less than fifteen hundred dollars, the resource is excluded.

(4) If the total face value of all policies with a CSV potential that a person owns on the same insured is more than fifteen hundred dollars, the total CSV of the policies is counted toward the resource limit, unless the client designates such policies as burial funds. If they are designated as burial funds, they must be evaluated under the burial fund exclusion described in WAC 388-475-0500.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.08.090. 04-09-003, § 388-475-0450, filed 4/7/04, effective 6/1/04.]

WAC 388-475-0500 SSI-related medical—Burial funds, contracts and spaces excluded as resources. (1) For the purposes of this section, burial funds are funds set aside and clearly designated solely for burial and related expenses and kept separate from all other resources not intended for burial. These include:

(a) Revocable burial contracts;

(b) Revocable burial trusts;

(c) Installment contracts for purchase of a burial space on which payments are still owing;

(d) Other revocable burial arrangements. The designation is effective the first day of the month in which the person intended the funds to be set aside for burial.

(2) The following burial funds are excluded as resources for the client and spouse up to fifteen hundred dollars each when set aside solely for the expenses of burial or cremation and expenses related to the burial or cremation, and the funds are either:

(a) An installment contract for purchase of a burial space that is not yet paid in full; or

(b) In a revocable burial contract, burial trust, cash accounts, or other financial instrument with a definite cash value.

(3) Interest earned in burial funds and appreciation in the value of excluded burial arrangements in subsection (2)(a) and (b) above are excluded from resources and are not counted as income if left to accumulate and become part of the separate burial fund.

(4) The fifteen hundred dollar exclusion for burial funds described in subsection (2) above is reduced by:

(a) The face value of life insurance with CSV excluded in WAC 388-475-0450; and

(b) Amounts in an irrevocable burial trust, or other irrevocable arrangement available to meet burial expenses, or burial space purchase agreement installment contracts on which money is still owing. If these reductions bring the balance of the available exclusion to zero, no additional funds can be excluded as burial funds.

(5) An irrevocable burial account, burial trust, or other irrevocable burial arrangement, set aside solely for burial and related expenses is not considered a resource. The amount set aside must be reasonably related to the anticipated death-related expenses in order to be excluded.

(6) A client's burial funds are no longer excluded when they are mixed with other resources that are not related to burial.

(7) When excluded burial funds are spent for other purposes, the spent amount is added to other countable resources and any amount exceeding the resource limit is considered available income on the first of the month it is used. The amount remaining in the burial fund remains excluded.

(8) Burial space and accessories for the client and any member of the client's immediate family described in subsection (9) of this section are excluded. Burial space and accessories include:

(a) Conventional gravesites;

(b) Crypts, niches, and mausoleums;

(c) Urns, caskets and other repositories customarily used for the remains of deceased persons;

(d) Necessary and reasonable improvements to the burial space including, but not limited to:

(i) Vaults and burial containers;

(ii) Headstones, markers and plaques;

(iii) Arrangements for the opening and closing of the gravesite; and

(iv) Contracts for care and maintenance of the gravesite.

(e) A burial space purchase agreement that is currently paid for and owned by the client is also defined as a burial space. The entire value of the purchase agreement is excluded; as well as any interest accrued, which is left to accumulate as part of the value of the agreement. The value of this agreement does not reduce the amount of burial fund exclusion available to the client.

(9) Immediate family, for the purposes of subsection (8) of this section includes the client's:

(a) Spouse;

(b) Parents and adoptive parents;

(c) Minor and adult children, including adoptive and stepchildren;

(d) Siblings (brothers and sisters), including adoptive and stepsiblings;

(e) Spouses of any of the above.

None of the family members listed above, need to be dependent on or living with the client, to be considered immediate family members.

(i) Is currently receiving a Social Security payment;

(ii) Was eligible for and received both SSA and SSI/State Supplement payments (SSP) in the same month for at least one month since April, 1977; and

(b) Widow(er)'s benefits for a client who:

(i) Was entitled to SSA title II (widow/widower's) benefits in December 1983;

(ii) Was at least fifty years old, but not yet sixty at that time;

(v) Filed an application for medicaid with the state by July 1, 1988.

(c) Widow, Widower or Surviving Divorced Spouse (title II) benefits for a client who:

(i) Received SSI/SSP benefits the month prior to receipt of title II benefits;

(ii) Would continue to be eligible for SSI/SSP benefits if the title II benefits or the COLA(s) to those benefits were disregarded;

(iii) Is not eligible for medicare Part A. This client is considered an SSI recipient until becoming entitled to medicare Part A.

(2) A disabled adult child (DAC) who is ineligible for SSI/SSP solely due to receipt of either Social Security benefits as a disabled adult child of a person with a Social Security account or due to receipt of a COLA to the DAC benefits, may be income eligible for CN medical if disregarding the SSA DAC benefits and COLA brings countable income below the CN standards, and the client:

(a) Is eighteen years of age or older;

(c) Lost SSI eligibility on or after July 1, 1988 due solely to the receipt of DAC benefits from SSA or a COLA to those benefits; and

(a) Fifty percent earned income disregard;

(b) Child care and dependent care expenses related to employment; and

(c) Child support actually paid.

WAC 388-475-0900 SSI-related medical—Allocating income. The department considers income of financially responsible persons to determine if a portion of that income must be regarded as available to other household members.

(1) When income is allocated from an SSI-related person to other household members, that income is considered as the other members' income.

(2) A portion of the income of a spouse or parent is allocated to the needs of an SSI-related applicant when the spouse or parent is:

(a) Financially responsible for the SSI-related person as described in WAC 388-408-0055 and 388-506-0620. For long-term care programs, see WAC 388-513-1315, 388-513-1330, 388-513-1350; for waiver programs see WAC 388-515-1505 through 388-515-1530;

(b) Living in the same household;

(c) Not receiving SSI; and

(d) Either not related to SSI or is not applying for medical assistance.

(3) Allocations to children are deducted from the nonapplying spouse's unearned income, then from their earned income, before they are deducted from the applicant's income. See WAC 388-475-0820.

(4) If the conditions in subsection (2) are met, the income to be allocated from a parent to an SSI-related minor child applying for medical benefits is the amount remaining after deducting:

(a) All allowable income exclusions and disregards as described in WAC 388-475-750 through 388-475-880;

(b) One-half of the federal benefit rate (FBR) for each SSI ineligible sibling of the SSI related child living in the household, minus any countable income of that child. See WAC 388-478-0055 for FBR amount;

(c) The parent's allowance, either the one person FBR for a single parent or two person FBR for a two-parent household.

(5) A portion of the countable income of a nonapplying spouse remaining after the deductions in subsection (4) may be allocated to the SSI-related spouse as follows for CN medical determinations:

(a) If the income is less than or equal to one-half of the FBR after allowing the income exclusions in subsection (4) of this section, no income is allocated to the client.

(b) If the income is equal to or more than one-half of the FBR after allowing the income exclusions in subsection (4) of this section, all income other than the excluded amounts is allocated to the applying spouse.

(6) Deductions from the income of the nonapplying spouse of an SSI-related applicant for CN medical determinations are:

(a) Income exclusions as described in WAC 388-475-0750 through 388-478-0880;

(b) One-half of the federal benefit rate (FBR) as described in WAC 388-478-0055 for each eligible child in the household, minus the child's countable income.

(7) In determining MN medical eligibility for SSI-related applicants:

(a) If the income of the nonapplying spouse is less than the MNIL (see WAC 388-478-0070) after applying any child allocation, a portion of the applying spouse's countable income is added to the nonapplying spouse's income to raise it to the MNIL for MN;

(b) If the income of the nonapplying spouse is more than the MNIL after applying any child allocation, the entire amount exceeding the MNIL is allocated to the applying spouse.

(8) Only income and resources actually contributed to an alien applicant from their sponsor are counted as income. For allocation of income from an alien sponsor, refer to WAC 388-450-0155.

(1) For the purpose of the HWD program, employment means a person:

(a) Gets paid for working;

(b) Has earnings that are subject to federal income tax; and

(c) Has payroll taxes taken out of earnings received, unless self-employed.

(2) To qualify for HWD coverage as a member of the BCG, a person must be employed full or part time.

(a) Working at least forty hours per month; and

(b) Earning at least the local minimum wage as described under section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act (29 U.S.C. 206).

WAC 388-475-1250 Healthcare for workers with disabilities (HWD)—Premium payments. This section describes how the department calculates the premium amount a person must pay for healthcare for workers with disabilities (HWD) coverage. This section also describes program requirements regarding the billing and payment of HWD premiums.

(1) When determining the HWD premium amount, the department counts only the income of the person approved for the program. It does not count the income of another household member.

(2) When determining countable income used to calculate the HWD premium, the department applies the following rules:

(a) Income is considered available and owned when it is:

(i) Received; and

(ii) Can be used to meet the person's needs for food, clothing, and shelter, except as described in WAC 388-475-0600(5), 388-475-0650, and 388-475-0700(1).

(b) Loans and certain other receipts are not considered to be income as described in 20 C.F.R. Sec. 416.1103, e.g., direct payment by anyone of a person's medical insurance premium or a tax refund on income taxes already paid.

(3) The HWD premium amount equals a total of the following (rounded down to the nearest whole dollar):

(a) Fifty percent of unearned income above the medically needy income level (MNIL) described in WAC 388-478-0070; plus

(b) Five percent of total unearned income; plus

(c) Two point five percent of earned income after first deducting sixty-five dollars.

(4) When determining the premium amount, the department will use the current income amount until a change in income is reported and processed.

(5) A change in the premium amount is effective the month after the change in income is reported and processed.

(6) For current and ongoing coverage, the department will bill for HWD premiums during the month following the month in which coverage is approved.

(7) For retroactive coverage, the department will bill the HWD premiums during the month following the month in which coverage is requested and necessary information is received.

(8) If initial coverage for the HWD program is approved in a month that follows the month of application, the first monthly premium includes the costs for both the month of application and any following month(s).

(9) As described in WAC 388-475-1050 (4)(b), the department will close HWD coverage after four consecutive months for which premiums are not paid in full.

(10) If a person makes only a partial payment toward the cost of HWD coverage for any one month, the person remains one full month behind in the payment schedule.

(11) The department first applies payment for current and ongoing coverage to any amount owed for such coverage in an earlier month. Then it applies payment to the current month and then to any unpaid amount for retroactive coverage.

WAC 388-478-0005 Cash assistance need and payment standards and grant maximum. (1) Need standards for cash assistance programs represent the amount of income required by individuals and families to maintain a minimum and adequate standard of living. Need standards are based on assistance unit size and include basic requirements for food, clothing, shelter, energy costs, transportation, household maintenance and operations, personal maintenance, and necessary incidentals.

(2) Payment standards for assistance units in medical institutions and other facilities are based on the need for clothing, personal maintenance, and necessary incidentals (see WAC 388-478-0040 and 388-478-0045).

(3) Need and payment standards for persons and families who do not reside in medical institutions and other facilities are based on their obligation to pay for shelter.

(b) Eligibility and benefit levels for all other persons and families are determined using standards for assistance units who have shelter provided at no cost.

(c) For recent arrivals to Washington state who apply for temporary assistance for needy families (TANF), see WAC 388-468-0005.

WAC 388-478-0010 Households with obligations to pay shelter costs. The monthly need and payment standards for cash assistance are based on a determination of assistance unit size and whether the assistance unit has an obligation to pay shelter costs.

Eligibility and benefit level is determined using standards for assistance unit with obligations to pay shelter costs. An assistance unit has an obligation to pay shelter costs if one of the members:

(1) Owns, purchases or rents their place of residence, even if costs are limited to property taxes, fire insurance, sewer, water, or garbage;

(2) Resides in a lower income housing project which is funded under the United States Housing Act of 1937 or Section 236 of the National Housing Act, if the household either pays rent or makes a utility payment instead of a rental payment; or

(3) Is homeless. Homeless households include persons or families who:

(a) Lack a fixed, regular, and adequate nighttime residence; or

(b) Reside in a public or privately operated shelter designed to provide temporary living accommodations; or

(c) Live in temporary lodging provided through a public or privately funded emergency shelter program.

WAC 388-478-0055 How much do I get from my state supplemental payments (SSP)? (1) The SSP is a payment from the state for certain SSI eligible people (see WAC 388-474-0012).

If you converted to the federal SSI program from state assistance in January 1974, because you were aged, blind, or disabled, and have remained continuously eligible for SSI since January 1974, the department calls you a grandfathered client. Social Security calls you a mandatory income level (MIL) client.

A change in living situation, cost-of-living adjustment (COLA) or federal payment level (FPL) can affect a grandfathered (MIL) client. A grandfathered (MIL) client gets a federal SSI payment and a SSP payment, which totals the higher of one of the following:

(a) The state assistance standard set in December 1973, unless you lived in a medical institution at the time of conversion, plus the federal cost-of-living adjustments (COLA) since then; or

(b) The current payment standard.

(2) The monthly SSP rates for eligible persons under WAC 388-474-0012 and individuals residing in an institution are:

SSP eligible persons	Monthly SSP Rate
Individual (aged 65 and older)	$46.00
Individual (blind as determined by SSA)	$46.00
Individual with an ineligible spouse	$46.00
Grandfathered (MIL)	Varies by individual based on federal requirements. Payments range between $0.54 and $199.77.

WAC 388-478-0057 Year-end adjustments to the SSI state supplement. For the purposes of this rule, "we" refers to the department of social and health services. We are required by federal law to maintain the total SSI state supplement payments at the same level each year, without an increase or decrease in total spending. This may result in adjustment to your SSI state supplement benefits at the end of the year.

(1) If there are unexpended funds, you will receive a one-time bonus payment, usually at the end of the calendar year.

(2) When there is a shortage in available funds, your state supplement benefits will be decreased. The decrease will usually be spread out over multiple months to reduce the negative impact on you.

WAC 388-478-0060 What are the income limits and maximum benefit amounts for Basic Food? If your assistance unit (AU) meets all other eligibility requirements for Basic Food, your AU must have income at or below the limits in column B and C to get Basic Food, unless you meet one of the exceptions listed below. The maximum monthly food assistance benefit your AU could receive is listed in column D.

EFFECTIVE 10-1-2008

Column A Number of Eligible AU Members	Column B Maximum Gross Monthly Income	Column C Maximum Net Monthly Income	Column D Maximum Allotment	Column E 165% of Poverty Level
1	$1,127	$867	$176	$1,430
2	1,517	1,167	323	1,925
3	1,907	1,467	463	2,420
4	2,297	1,767	588	2,915

10	4,637	3,567	1,322	5,885
Each Additional Member	+390	+300	+132	+495

Exceptions:

(1) If your AU is categorically eligible as under WAC 388-414-0001, your AU does not have to meet the gross or net income standards in columns B and C. We do budget your AU's income to decide the amount of Basic Food your AU will receive.

(2) If your AU includes a member who is sixty years of age or older or has a disability, your income must be at or below the limit in column C only.

(3) If you are sixty years of age or older and cannot buy and cook your own meals because of a permanent disability, we will use column E to decide if you can be a separate AU.

(4) If your AU has zero income, your benefits are the maximum allotment in column D, based on the number of eligible members in your AU.

STRIKERS

WAC

WAC 388-480-0001 Does being on strike impact my eligibility for the Washington Basic Food program? (1) A strike is a work stoppage, slowdown or other interruption of work caused by employees. This includes when a stoppage happens because a collective bargaining agreement has expired.

(2) We do not consider you to be on strike if you:

(a) Are locked out by your employer;

(b) Do not have work available as a result of striking employees;

(c) Are not a member of the bargaining unit on strike and you fear someone may physically hurt you if you cross a picket line; or

(d) Would have been exempt from work registration under WAC 388-444-0015 the day before the strike for any reason other than being employed at least thirty hours per week.

(3) If a person in your assistance unit (AU) is a striker, your AU is not eligible for Basic Food unless:

(a) Your AU met all income requirements the day before the strike; and

(b) You meet all other requirements of the Basic Food program as described in WAC 388-400-0040.

(4) If someone in your AU is on strike, your AU cannot receive a higher amount of Basic Food benefits solely because the person receives less income as a direct result of being on strike. We count the larger of the two following amounts to determine if your AU is eligible and calculate your benefits:

(a) The striker's income before they went on strike; or

(b) The striker's current income.

Chapter 388-484 WAC
TANF/SFA FIVE YEAR TIME LIMIT

WAC

WAC 388-484-0005 There is a five-year (sixty-month) time limit for TANF, SFA and GA-S cash assistance. (1) What is the sixty-month time limit?

(a) You can receive cash assistance for temporary assistance for needy families (TANF), state family assistance (SFA), and general assistance for pregnant women (GA-S) for a lifetime limit of sixty months. The time limit applies to cash assistance provided by any combination of these programs, and whether or not it was received in consecutive months.

(b) If you receive cash assistance for part of the month, it counts as a whole month against the time limit.

(c) If you have received cash assistance from another state on or after August 1, 1997, and it was paid for with federal TANF funds, those months will count against your time limit.

(d) The time limit does not apply to diversion cash assistance, support services, food assistance or medicaid.

(2) When did the sixty-month time limit go into effect?

The sixty-month time limit applies to cash assistance received on or after August 1, 1997 for TANF and SFA. Although the GA-S program no longer exists, the time limit applies to GA-S cash assistance received from May 1, 1999 through July 31, 1999.

(3) Does the time limit apply to me?

The sixty-month time limit applies to you for any month in which you are a parent or other relative as defined in WAC 388-454-0010, or a minor parent emancipated through court order or marriage.

(4) Do any exceptions to the time limits apply to me?

The department does not count months of assistance towards the sixty-month time limit if you are:

(a) An adult caretaker, as described in WAC 388-454-0005 through 388-454-0010, who is not a member of the assistance unit and you are receiving cash assistance on behalf of a child;

(b) An unemancipated pregnant or parenting minor living in a department approved living arrangement as defined by WAC 388-486-0005; or

(c) An American Indian or Native Alaskan adult and you are living in Indian country, as defined under 18 U.S.C. 1151, or an Alaskan Native village and you are receiving TANF, SFA, or GA-S cash assistance during a period when at least fifty percent of the adults living in Indian country or in the village were not employed. See WAC 388-484-0010.

(5) What happens if a member of my assistance unit has received sixty months of TANF, SFA, and GA-S cash benefits?

Once any adult or emancipated minor in the assistance unit has received sixty months of cash assistance, the entire assistance unit becomes ineligible for TANF or SFA cash assistance, unless you are eligible for an extended period of cash assistance called a TANF/SFA time limit extension under WAC 388-484-0006.

(6) What can I do if I disagree with how the department has counted my months of cash assistance?

(a) If you disagree with how we counted your months of cash assistance, you may ask for a hearing within ninety days of the date we sent you a letter telling you how many months we are counting.

(b) You will get continued benefits (the amount you were getting before the change) if:

(i) You have used all sixty months of benefits according to our records; and

(ii) You ask for a hearing within the ten-day notice period, as described in chapter 388-458 WAC.

(c) If you get continued benefits and the administrative law judge (ALJ) agrees with our decision, you may have to pay back the continued benefits after the hearing, as described in chapter 388-410 WAC.

(7) Does the department ever change the number of months that count against my time limit?

We change the number of months we count in the following situations:

(a) You repay an overpayment for a month where you received benefits but were not eligible for any of the benefits you received. We subtract one month for each month that you completely repay. If you were eligible for some of the benefits you received, we still count that month against your time limit.

(b) We did not close your grant on time when the division of child support (DCS) collected money for you that was over your grant amount two months in a row, as described in WAC 388-422-0030.

(c) An ALJ decides at a fair hearing that we should change the number of months we count.

(d) You start getting worker's compensation payments from the department of labor and industries (L&I) and your L&I benefits have been reduced by the payments we made to you.

(e) You participated in the excess real property (ERP) program in order to get assistance and we collected the funds when your property sold.

(f) Another state gave us incorrect information about the number of months you got cash assistance from them.

WAC 388-484-0006 TANF/SFA time limit extensions. (1) What happens after I receive sixty or more months of TANF/SFA cash assistance?

After you receive sixty or more months of TANF/SFA cash assistance, you may qualify for additional months of cash assistance. We call these additional months of TANF/SFA cash assistance a TANF/SFA time limit extension.

(2) Who is eligible for a TANF/SFA time limit extension?

You are eligible for a TANF/SFA time limit extension if you are on TANF or otherwise eligible for TANF and:

(a) You qualify for one of the exemptions listed in WAC 388-310-0350; or

(b) You:

(i) Are participating satisfactorily in the WorkFirst program (see chapter 388-310 WAC for a description of WorkFirst participation requirements); or

(ii) Meet the family violence option criteria in WAC 388-61-001 and are participating satisfactorily in specialized activities listed in your individual responsibility plan.

(c) You have a temporary situation that prevents you from working or looking for a job. (For example, you may be unable to look for a job while you have health problems or if you are dealing with family violence.) You will receive a time-limited extension if you are participating in activities included in your individual responsibility plan to help your situation.

(d) You are in sanction, but you will be subject to the sanction rules described in WAC 388-310-1600.

(3) Who reviews and approves an extension?

(a) Your case manager or social worker will review your case and determine which extension type will be approved.

(b) This review will not happen until after you have received at least fifty-two months of assistance but before you reach your time limit.

(c) Before you reach your time limit, the department will send you a notice that tells you whether your extension was approved and how to request a fair hearing if you disagree with the decision.

(4) Do my WorkFirst participation requirements change if I receive a TANF/SFA time limit extension?

Your participation requirements do not change. You must still meet all of the WorkFirst participation requirements listed in chapter 388-310 WAC while you receive a TANF/SFA time limit extension.

(5) Do my benefits change if I receive a TANF/SFA time limit extension?

(a) You are still a TANF/SFA recipient and your cash assistance, services, or supports will not change as long as you continue to meet all other TANF/SFA eligibility requirements.

(b) During the TANF/SFA time limit extension, you must continue to meet all other TANF/SFA eligibility requirements. If you no longer meet TANF/SFA eligibility criteria during your extension, your benefits will end.

(6) What happens if I stop participating in WorkFirst activities as required during a TANF/SFA time limit extension?

If you do not participate in the WorkFirst activities required in your individual responsibility plan, and you do not have a good reason under WAC 388-310-1600(4), the department will follow the sanction rules in WAC 388-310-1600.

(7) How long will a TANF/SFA time limit extension last?

(a) We will review your TANF/SFA time limit extension and your case periodically for changes in family circumstances:

(i) If you are extended under WAC 388-484-0006 (2)(a) then we will review your extension at least every twelve months;

(ii) If you are extended under WAC 388-484-0006 (2)(b) then we will review your extension at least every six months;

(iii) If you are extended under WAC 388-484-0006 (2)(c) or (d) then we will review your extension at least every twelve months.

(b) Your TANF/SFA time limit extension may be renewed for as long as you continue to meet the criteria to qualify.

(c) If during the extension period we get proof that your circumstances have changed, we may review your case and change the type of TANF/SFA time limit extension.

WAC 388-484-0010 How does the five-year (sixty-month) time limit for TANF, SFA and GA-S cash assistance apply to American Indians or Alaskan Natives living in Indian country? (1) If you are American Indian or Alaskan Native, time limits on temporary assistance for needy families (TANF), state family assistance (SFA) and general assistance for pregnant women (from May 1, 1999 to July 31, 1999) do not count under certain circumstances.

If you are an American Indian or Alaskan Native parent or other relative as defined by WAC 388-454-0010, months of cash assistance do not count against the sixty-month lifetime limit if you live in Indian country or an Alaskan Native village where at least fifty percent of Indian adults are not employed.

(2) Do time limits on cash assistance apply if I am not an American Indian or Alaskan Native but I am the parent or other relative of an American Indian or Alaskan Native child?

If you are a non-American Indian or non-Alaskan Native parent or other relative, as defined by WAC 388-454-0010, of an American Indian or Alaskan Native child or children living in a qualifying area of Indian country, your months on assistance will count against your lifetime limit. You may, however, receive more than sixty months of assistance under hardship criteria to be developed by the department.

(3) Where must I live to qualify for the Indian country exemption to time limits?

To qualify for this exemption to TANF time limits, you must live in "Indian country." The department uses the "Indian country" definition in federal law at 18 U.S.C. 1151. Indian country is defined as reservations, dependent Indian communities, and allotments. Dependent Indian communities must be set aside by the federal government for the use of Indians and be under federal superintendence. Near reservation areas (areas or communities adjacent or contiguous to reservations) are not considered Indian country for purposes of this exemption.

(4) Can I live on the reservation or Indian country belonging to a tribe other than my own to qualify for this time limit exemption?

Yes. You do not need to be an American Indian or Alaskan Native of the same tribe as the reservation or other area of Indian country on which you reside.

(5) How does the department determine if at least fifty percent of adults living in Indian country are not employed?

The department uses the most current biennial Indian Service Population and Labor Force Estimates Report published by the Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA), or any successor report, as the default data source to determine if the not employed rates for areas of Indian country are at least fifty percent.

(6) What if a tribe disagrees with the not employed rate published in the BIA Indian Service Population and Labor Force Estimates Report?

A tribe may provide alternative data, based on similar periods to the Indian Service Population and Labor Force Estimates Report, to demonstrate that the not employed rate is at least fifty percent.

(4) An unmarried minor is exempt from this rule if the minor has:

(a) Been emancipated by a court; or

Chapter 388-488 WAC
TRANSFER OF PROPERTY

WAC

WAC 388-488-0005 Transfer of property to qualify for cash assistance. This rule applies to cash assistance programs only and does not affect medicaid eligibility for a person who is not institutionalized. For transfer of property for institutional medical see WAC 388-513-1365.

(1) An assistance unit is disqualified from receiving benefits when it transferred or transfers real or personal property for less than its market value in an attempt to qualify for benefits:

(a) Two years prior to the date of application;

(b) During the application process; or

(c) Anytime while receiving benefits.

(2) When an assistance unit transferred property for less than its fair market value in an attempt to qualify for benefits, the disqualification period:

(a) For applicants, begins the first day of the month the property was transferred.

(b) For recipients, begins the first day of the month after the month the property was transferred.

(3) To determine the number of months an assistance unit will be disqualified, divide the uncompensated resource value of the transferred property by the state gross median income. The uncompensated resource value is the equity value minus the amount the client received when transferring a resource.

(4) An assistance unit can provide evidence to clarify the reasons for transferring the property when the department presumes that the assistance unit transferred the property in an attempt to qualify for benefits.

(5) The benefits received by an assistance unit are not affected by the transfer of separate property of a spouse who is not a member of the assistance unit.

(6) An assistance unit's disqualification period is reduced when the client:

(a) Verifies undue hardship will exist if the benefits are denied such as an eviction;

(b) Secures a return of some or all of the transferred property or the equivalent value of the transferred property;

(c) Verifies an unforeseen change in circumstances such as extensive hospitalization; or

(d) Is responsible for and can verify medical expenses.

(7) When a disqualification period has been adjusted and the client is otherwise eligible, benefits will be authorized. Any benefits authorized because of the reason(s) in subsection (6) of this section, are not considered an overpayment.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.04.055, 74.04.057 and 74.08.090. 98-16-044, § 388-488-0005, filed 7/31/98, effective 9/1/98. Formerly WAC 388-505-0580 and 388-518-1820.]

WAC 388-488-0010 Transfer of property to qualify for food assistance. (1) An assistance unit is disqualified from the program when it transfers a resource to qualify or attempt to qualify for benefits:

(a) Three months prior to the month of application; or

(b) Beginning the month the household is approved for benefits.

(2) The length of disqualification depends on the dollar amount the household is over the resource limit. The countable resources transferred are added to the assistance unit's other countable resources. This total is compared to the resource limit. The amount in excess of the resource limit is located on the chart below to determine the length of the disqualification period.

Amount Over the Resource Limit	Disqualification Period
$ 0 - $ 249.99	1 month
250 - 999.99	3 months
1,000 - 2,999.99	6 months
3,000 - 4,999.99	9 months
5,000 and over	12 months

(3) The disqualification period begins:

(a) For applicants, the month of application; or

(b) For recipients, the first of the month after the advance notice period expires.

(4) An assistance unit will not be disqualified for transferring the following:

(a) Excluded resources that do not affect eligibility;

(b) Resources sold or traded at or near fair market value (FMV);

(c) Resources transferred between assistance unit members of the same household including ineligible household members; and

(d) Resources transferred for reasons other than to qualify for benefits.

(ii) Cooperating with the division of child support (WAC 388-422-0100); or

(a) You were applying for recertification of your Basic Food benefits and refused to cooperate with the application process; or

(b) All members are ineligible for Basic Food for the reasons stated in WAC 388-489-0025(3).

(6) There is no limit to the number of times your family may leave temporary assistance for needy families and receive transitional food assistance.

WAC 388-489-0010 How is my transitional food assistance benefit calculated? (1) We base your transitional food assistance benefit amount on the regular monthly benefit allotment issued to your Basic Food assistance unit for the last month your family received temporary assistance for needy families. We will not count your last temporary assistance for needy families grant payment when we calculate your transitional food assistance benefit amount. For example:

(a) If your Basic Food assistance unit's only income was temporary assistance for needy families, the transitional food assistance benefit will be the amount your household would have received if you had no income.

(b) If your Basic Food benefit was calculated using temporary assistance for needy families plus income from another source, we will count only the income from the other source when calculating the transitional food assistance amount.

(2) We will adjust your transitional food assistance benefits if:

(a) Someone who gets transitional food assistance with you leaves your assistance unit and is found eligible to receive Basic Food in another assistance unit. We will reduce your transitional food assistance based on the number of persons who left your assistance unit and become eligible in another Basic Food assistance unit.

(b) A change to the maximum allotment for Basic Food under WAC 388-478-0060 results in an increase in benefits for Basic Food assistance units.

(c) You got an overpayment of Basic Food benefits and we need to adjust the amount we deduct from your monthly benefits to repay the overpayment as required in WAC 388-410-0033. This includes:

(i) Starting a new monthly deduction;

(ii) Changing the amount of the monthly deduction; and

(iii) Ending the monthly deduction when the amount you owe has been paid off.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.04.055, 74.04.057, 74.04.510, 74.08.090, and 74.08A.010. 05-19-060, § 388-489-0010, filed 9/16/05, effective 11/1/05.]

WAC 388-489-0015 How long will my family receive transitional food assistance? If your Basic Food assistance unit is eligible for transitional food assistance according to WAC 388-489-0005, you will receive transitional food assistance for up to five months after your family leaves temporary assistance for needy families.

(1) If you stopped getting temporary assistance for needy families from the department, you are eligible for transitional benefits beginning the month after your family received their last grant.

(2) If you stopped receiving tribal TANF benefits, you are eligible for transitional benefits:

(a) With the next monthly issuance after we update your case to show you no longer have tribal TANF income, if the tribal TANF end date is the end of the current month or the end of a prior month; or

(b) On the first of the month following the tribal TANF end date, if the tribal TANF end date is the end of a future month.

(3) If necessary, we will extend or shorten your Basic Food assistance unit's current certification period to match the five-month transition period.

(4) You may choose to end your five-month transition period early by submitting an application for regular Basic Food under WAC 388-489-0020 or by asking us to terminate your benefits.

(5) We send you a notice before the end of your five-month transition period so you can reapply for regular Basic Food benefits and continue to receive benefits without interruption as described in WAC 388-434-0010.

(6) We may terminate your transitional food assistance early for the reasons stated in WAC 388-489-0025.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.04.055, 74.04.057, 74.04.510, 74.08.090, and 74.08A.010. 05-19-060, § 388-489-0015, filed 9/16/05, effective 11/1/05.]

WAC 388-489-0020 Am I required to report changes in my household's circumstances while on transitional food assistance? (1) If you only receive transitional food assistance, you are not required to report any changes in your household circumstances.

(2) If you receive benefits from another cash or medical assistance program, you must meet the reporting requirements for the other program as required by WAC 388-418-0005. Except for changes listed under WAC 388-489-0025, the changes you report for the other program will not affect your family's eligibility for transitional food assistance.

(3) If you family experiences a change in circumstances during your five-month transition period, and you think that you may be eligible for more food assistance, you may submit an application for the regular Basic Food program. Examples of such changes include the loss of income by a person who gets transitional food assistance with you or adding a new person to your household.

(a) If you submit a new application, we will determine your eligibility for Basic Food and allow you to choose if you want to remain on transitional food assistance or receive regular Basic Food benefits.

(b) If you choose to go back on Basic Food and are found eligible, we will start your new benefit amount on the first day of the month after we receive your application for Basic Food. If you have already received transitional food assistance for this month and are eligible for more assistance on the Basic Food program, we will pay you the additional amount.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.04.055, 74.04.057, 74.04.510, 74.08.090, and 74.08A.010. 05-19-060, § 388-489-0020, filed 9/16/05, effective 11/1/05.]

WAC 388-489-0025 Can my transitional food assistance benefits end before the end of my five-month transition period? Your transitional food assistance benefits will end early if:

(1) Someone who gets transitional food assistance with you applies and is approved for temporary assistance for needy families while still living in your home. You may reapply to have your eligibility for Basic Food determined;

(2) We learn that you and your family are no longer residing in the state of Washington; or

(3) All members of your household are ineligible to get Basic Food for any of the following reasons:

(a) Refusal to cooperate with quality assurance (WAC 388-464-0001);

(b) Transfer of property to qualify for Basic Food assistance (WAC 388-488-0010);

(c) Intentional program violation (WAC 388-466-0015 and 388-446-0020);

Chapter 388-490 WAC
VERIFICATION

WAC

WAC 388-490-0005 The department requires proof before authorizing benefits for cash, medical, and Basic Food. This rule applies to cash, medical, and Basic Food.

(1) When you first apply for benefits, the department may require you to provide proof of things that help us decide if you are eligible for benefits. This is also called "verification." The types of things that need to be proven are different for each program.

(2) After that, we will ask you to give us proof when:

(a) You report a change;

(b) We find out that your circumstances have changed; or

(c) The information we have is questionable, confusing, or outdated.

(3) Whenever we ask for proof, we will give you a notice as described in WAC 388-458-0020.

(4) You must give us the proof within the time limits described in:

(a) WAC 388-406-0030 if you are applying for benefits; and

(b) WAC 388-458-0020 if you currently receive benefits.

(5) We will accept any proof that you can easily get when it reasonably supports your statement or circumstances. The proof you give to us must:

(a) Clearly relate to what you are trying to prove;

(b) Be from a reliable source; and

(c) Be accurate, complete, and consistent.

(6) We cannot make you give us a specific type or form of proof.

(7) If the only type of proof that you can get costs money, we will pay for it.

(8) If the proof that you give to us is questionable or confusing, we may:

(a) Ask you to give us more proof, which may include providing a collateral statement. A "collateral statement" is from someone outside of your residence who knows your situation;

(b) Schedule a visit to come to your home and verify your circumstances; or

(c) Send an investigator from the Division of Fraud Investigations (DFI) to make an unannounced visit to your home to verify your circumstances.

(9) By signing the application, eligibility review, or change of circumstances form, you give us permission to contact other people, agencies, or institutions.

(10) If you do not give us all of the proof that we have asked for, we will determine if you are eligible based on the information that we already have. If we cannot determine that you are eligible based on this information, we will deny or stop your benefits.

(11) For all medicaid programs, you must provide proof of citizenship and identity as specified at Section 6036 of the Deficit Reduction Act of 2005 (PL 106-171 amending USC 1396b). Exempt from this requirement are recipients of:

(a) SSI cash benefits; or

(b) Medicare.

WAC 388-492-0020 What are WASHCAP food benefits? WASHCAP means the Washington State Combined Application program.

(1) WASHCAP is a simplified food benefits program for certain Supplemental Security Income (SSI) recipients. Unless specifically stated in this WAC chapter, WASHCAP food benefits follow all the program requirements of the Basic Food program as described under WAC 388-400-0040.

(2) Social Security Administration (SSA) asks you if you want to get food benefits when you apply for SSI in Washington state.

(3) If you meet the requirements of WAC 388-492-0030, you will get WASHCAP food benefits unless you can choose Basic Food benefits under WAC 388-492-0040.

(4) If you are eligible for WASHCAP food benefits under WAC 388-492-0030, SSA electronically sends us the information we need to open your WASHCAP food benefits.

(5) WASHCAP food benefits begin the first month after the month you are eligible for ongoing SSI.

(6) You do not have to go to your local community services office (CSO) to apply for WASHCAP.

(7) If you want Basic Food benefits before WASHCAP food benefits begin, you can apply at your local CSO, home and community services office (HCS), or SSA.

(8) While you get WASHCAP food benefits, you must report all changes to SSA.

(9) SSA shares the changes you report to them with your WASHCAP worker.

(10) You do not have to report changes to your WASHCAP worker. See WAC 388-492-0080.

WAC 388-492-0070 How are my WASHCAP food benefits calculated? We calculate your food benefits as follows:

(1) We begin with your gross income.

(2) We subtract one hundred forty-four dollars from your gross income to get your countable income.

(3) We figure your shelter cost based on information we receive from Social Security Administration (SSA), unless you report a change as described under WAC 388-492-0080. If you pay:

(a) Two hundred eighty-four dollars or more a month for shelter, we use three hundred seventy-nine dollars as your shelter cost; or

(b) Less than two hundred eighty-four dollars for shelter, we use one hundred eighty-two dollars as your shelter cost; and

(c) We add the current standard utility allowance under WAC 388-450-0195 to determine your total shelter cost.

(4) We figure your shelter deduction by subtracting one half of your countable income from your shelter cost.

(5) We figure your net income by subtracting your shelter deduction from your countable income and rounding the resulting figure up from fifty cents and down from forty-nine cents to the nearest whole dollar.

(6) We figure your WASHCAP food benefits (allotment) by:

(a) Multiplying your net income by thirty percent and rounding up to the next whole dollar; and

(b) Subtracting the result from the maximum allotment under WAC 388-478-0060.

(c) If you are eligible for WASHCAP, you will get at least the minimum monthly benefit for Basic Food under WAC 388-412-0015.

WAC 388-501-0050 Healthcare general coverage. The following rules, WAC 388-501-0050 through 388-501-0065, describe the healthcare services available to a client on a fee-for-service basis or as an enrollee in a managed care organization (MCO)(defined in WAC 388-538-050). Noncovered services are described in WAC 388-501-0070.

(1) Service categories listed in WAC 388-501-0060 do not represent a contract for services.

(2) The client must be eligible for the covered service on the date the service is performed or provided.

(3) The department pays only for medical or dental services, equipment, or supplies that are:

(a) Within the scope of the client's medical program;

(b) Covered - see subsection (5);

(c) Medically necessary;

(d) Ordered or prescribed by a healthcare provider meeting the requirements of chapter 388-502 WAC; and

(e) Furnished by a provider according to the requirements of chapter 388-502 WAC.

(4) The department's fee-for-service program pays only for services furnished by enrolled providers who meet the requirements of chapter 388-502 WAC.

(5) The department does not pay for any service, treatment, equipment, drug, or supply requiring prior authorization from the department, if prior authorization was not obtained before the service was provided.

(6) Covered services

(a) Covered services are either:

(i) "Federally mandated" - means the state of Washington is required by federal regulation (42 CFR 440.210 and 220) to cover the service for medicaid clients; or

(ii) "State-option" - means the state of Washington is not federally mandated to cover the service but has chosen to do so at its own discretion.

(b) The department may limit the scope, amount, duration, and/or frequency of covered services. Limitation extensions are authorized according to WAC 388-501-0169.

(7) Noncovered services

(a) The department does not pay for any service, equipment, or supply:

(i) That federal or state law or regulations prohibit the department from covering;

(ii) Listed as noncovered in WAC 388-501-0070 or in any other program rule. The department evaluates a request for a noncovered service only if an exception to rule is requested according to the provisions in WAC 388-501-0160.

(b) When Early and Periodic Screening, Diagnosis, and Treatment (EPSDT) applies, a noncovered service, equipment, or supply will be evaluated according to the process in WAC 388-501-0165 to determine if it is medically necessary, safe, effective, and not experimental (see WAC 388-534-0100 for EPSDT rules).

MCS means the limited scope of care financed by state funds and provided to general assistance and Alcohol and Drug Addiction Treatment and Support Act (ADATSA) program clients.

(2) Not all categories of service listed in this section are covered under every medical program, nor do they represent a contract for services. Services are subject to the exclusions, limitations, and eligibility requirements contained in department rules.

(3) Services covered under each listed category:

(i) Determine efficacy, effectiveness, and safety;

(ii) Determine impact on health outcomes;

(iii) Identify indications for use;

(iv) Compare alternative technologies; and

(v) Identify sources of credible evidence that use and report evidence-based information.

(b) May require prior authorization (see WAC 388-501-0165), or expedited authorization when allowed by the department.

(c) Are paid for by the department and subject to review both before and after payment is made. The department or the client's managed care organization may deny or recover payment for such services, equipment, and supplies based on these reviews.

(4) The department does not pay for covered services, equipment, or supplies that:

(a) Require prior authorization from the department, if prior authorization was not obtained before the service was provided;

(b) Are provided by providers who are not contracted with the department as required under chapter 388-502 WAC;

(c) Are included in a department waiver program identified in chapter 388-515 WAC; or

(4) The department is not responsible for medical care payment(s) for a client whose personal injuries are caused by the negligence or wrongdoing of another. However, the department may provide the medical care required as a result of an injury or illness to the client if the client is otherwise eligible for medical care.

(5) The department may pursue its right to recover the value of medical care provided to an eligible client from any liable third party or third party settlement or judgment as a subrogee, assignee, or by enforcement of its public assistance lien as provided under RCW 43.20B.040 through 43.20B.-070, RCW 74.09.180 and 74.09.185.

(6) Notice to the department and determining the reimbursement amount:

(c) Where damages, including medical damages, have not been designated in the settlement or judgment, the client or the client's legal representative must contact the department to determine the appropriate reimbursement amount for payments the department made for the client's benefit.

(d) If the client and the department are unable to reach an agreement as to the appropriate reimbursement amount, any party may bring a motion in the superior court for a hearing to determine the amount of reimbursement to the department from settlement or judgment proceeds.

(7) The secretary of the department or the secretary's designee must consent in writing to any discharge or compromise of any settlement or judgment of a lien created under RCW 43.20B.060. (7) A health care practitioner may refuse to implement a directive, and may not be discriminated against by the facility or organization for refusing to withhold or withdraw life-sustaining treatment.

(8) The agencies, HMOs, and facilities must document, in a prominent place in each client's medical record, whether or not the client has executed an advance directive.

(9) The agencies, HMOs, and facilities must educate staff and the community on issues concerning advance directives.

(10) The agencies, HMOs, and facilities must comply with state and federal laws and regulations concerning advance directives, including but not limited to: 42 USC 1396a, subsection (w); 42 CFR 417.436; 42 CFR 489 Subpart I; and chapter 70.122 RCW.

Assigned providers can include a primary care provider (PCP), a pharmacy, a controlled substances prescriber, and a hospital for nonemergent hospital services.

"At-risk"—A term used to describe one or more of the following:

(a) A client with a medical history of:

• Indications of forging or altering prescriptions;

• Seeking and/or obtaining healthcare services at a frequency or amount that is not medically necessary;

"Just cause"—A legitimate reason to justify the action taken, including but not limited to, protecting the health and safety of the client.

"Managed care organization" or "MCO"—An organization having a certificate of authority or certificate of registration from the office of insurance commissioner, that contracts with the department under a comprehensive risk con-

(a) Prior to or during a PRC review; or

(b) When currently in the PRC program.

(5) Review for placement in the PRC program. When the department or MCO selects a client for PRC review, the department or MCO staff, with clinical oversight, reviews a client's medical and/or billing history to determine if the client has utilized healthcare services at a frequency or amount that is not medically necessary (42 CFR 431.54(e)).

(6) Utilization guidelines for PRC placement. Department or MCO staff use the following utilization guidelines to determine PRC placement. A client may be placed in the PRC program when medical and/or billing histories document any of the following:

(i) The client has a history of using healthcare services in a manner that is duplicative, excessive, or contraindicated; or

(ii) The client has a history of receiving conflicting healthcare services, drugs, or supplies that are not within acceptable medical practice.

(7) PRC review results. As a result of the PRC review, the department or MCO staff may take any of the following steps:

(a) Determine that no action is needed and close the client's file;

(b) Send the client and, if applicable, the client's authorized representative, a letter of concern with information on specific findings and notice of potential placement in the PRC program; or

(c) Determine that the utilization guidelines for PRC placement establish that the client has utilized healthcare services at an amount or frequency that is not medically necessary, in which case the department or MCO will take one or more of the following actions:

(i) Refer the client for education on appropriate use of healthcare services;

(ii) Refer the client to other support services or agencies; or

(iii) Place the client into the PRC program for an initial placement period of twenty-four months.

(8) Initial placement in the PRC program. When a client is initially placed in the PRC program:

(ii) The client's assigned provider no longer participates with the MCO and is available in another MCO, and the client wishes to remain with the current provider.

(c) A managed care client placed in the PRC program must remain in the PRC program for the initial twenty-four month period regardless of whether the client changes MCOs or becomes a fee-for-service client.

(d) A care management program may be offered to a client.

(9) Notifying the client about placement in the PRC program. When the client is initially placed in the PRC program, the department or the MCO sends the client and, if applicable, the client's authorized representative, a written notice containing at least the following components:

(a) Informs the client of the reason for the PRC program placement;

(b) Directs the client to respond to the department or MCO within ten business days of the date of the written notice about taking the following actions:

(B) An advanced registered nurse practitioner (ARNP) who meets the criteria as defined in chapter 388-502 WAC; or

(C) A licensed physician assistant (PA), practicing with a supervising physician.

(iii) Controlled substances prescriber prescribes all controlled substances for the client.

(iv) Pharmacy fills all prescriptions for the client.

(v) Hospital provides all nonemergent hospital services.

(c) A client placed in the PRC program cannot change assigned providers for twelve months after the assignments are made, unless:

(i) The client moves to a residence outside the provider's geographic area;

(ii) The provider moves out of the client's local geographic area and is no longer reasonably accessible to the client;

(iii) The provider refuses to continue to serve the client;

(iv) The client did not select the provider. The client may request to change an assigned provider once within thirty calendar days of the initial assignment;

(iii) The client must choose or be assigned another provider according to the requirements in this section.

(11) PRC placement periods. The length of time for a client's PRC placement includes:

(12) Department review of a PRC placement period. The department or MCO reviews a client's use of healthcare services prior to the end of each PRC placement period described in subsection (11) of this section using the utilization guidelines in subsection (6) of this section.

(a) The department or MCO assigns the next PRC placement period if the utilization guidelines for PRC placement in subsection (6) apply to the client.

(b) When the department or MCO assigns a subsequent PRC placement period, the department or MCO sends the client and, if applicable, the client's authorized representative, a written notice informing the client:

(i) The reason for the subsequent PRC program placement;

(ii) The length of the subsequent PRC placement;

(iii) That the current providers assigned to the client continue to be assigned to the client during the subsequent PRC placement period;

(iv) That all PRC program rules continue to apply; and

(v) Of hearing or appeal rights (see subsection (14) of this section);

(vi) Of the rules that support the decision.

(14) Right to hearing or appeal.

(a) A fee-for-service client who believes the department has taken an invalid action pursuant to this section may request a hearing.

(b) A managed care client who believes the MCO has taken an invalid action pursuant to this section or chapter 388-538 WAC must exhaust the MCO's internal appeal process set forth in WAC 388-538-110 prior to requesting a hearing. Managed care clients can not change MCOs until the appeal or hearing is resolved and there is a final ruling.

(c) A client must request the hearing or appeal within ninety calendar days after the client receives the written notice of placement in the PRC program.

(d) The department conducts a hearing according to chapter 388-02 WAC. Definitions for the terms "hearing," "initial order," and "final order" used in this subsection are found in WAC 388-02-0010.

(e) A client who requests a hearing or appeal within ten calendar days from the date of the written notice of an initial PRC placement period under subsection (11)(a) of this section will not be placed in the PRC program until the date an initial order is issued that supports the client's placement in the PRC program or otherwise ordered by an administrative law judge (ALJ).

(f) A client who requests a hearing or appeal more than ten calendar days from the date of the written notice under subsection (9) of this section will remain placed in the PRC program unless a final administrative order is entered that orders the client's removal from the program.

(g) A client who requests a hearing or appeal within ninety days from the date of receiving the written notice under subsection (9) of this section and who has already been assigned providers will remain placed in the PRC program unless a final administrative order is entered that orders the client's removal from the program.

(h) An administrative law judge (ALJ) may rule that the client be placed in the PRC program prior to the date the record is closed and prior to the date the initial order is issued based on a showing of just cause.

(i) The client who requests a hearing challenging placement into the PRC program has the burden of proving the department's or MCO's action was invalid. For standard of proof, see WAC 388-02-0485.

(1) The department cannot approve an exception to rule if the requested service is excluded under state statute.

(2) The item or service(s) for which an exception is requested must be of a type and nature which falls within accepted standards and precepts of good medical practice;

(3) All exception requests must represent cost-effective utilization of medical assistance program funds as determined by the department;

(4) A request for an exception to rule must be submitted to the department in writing within ninety days of the date of the written notification denying authorization for the noncovered service. For the department to consider the exception to rule request:

(a) The client and/or the client's healthcare provider must submit sufficient client-specific information and documentation to health and recovery services administration's medical director or designee which demonstrate the client's clinical condition is so different from the majority that there is no equally effective, less costly covered service or equipment that meets the client's need(s).

(b) The client's healthcare professional must certify that medical treatment or items of service which are covered under the client's medical assistance program and which, under accepted standards of medical practice, are indicated as appropriate for the treatment of the illness or condition, have been found to be:

(i) Medically ineffective in the treatment of the client's condition; or

(ii) Inappropriate for that specific client.

(5) Within fifteen business days of receiving the request, the department sends written notification to the provider and the client:

(a) Approving the exception to rule request;

(b) Denying the exception to rule request; or

(c) Requesting additional information.

(i) The additional information must be received by the department within thirty days of the date the information was requested.

(ii) The department approves or denies the exception to rule request within five business days of receiving the additional information.

(iii) If the requested information is insufficient or not provided within thirty days, the department denies the exception to rule request.

(6) The HRSA medical director or designee evaluates and considers requests on a case-by-case basis. The HRSA medical director has final authority or approve or deny a request for exception to rule.

(7) Clients do not have a right to a fair hearing on exception to rule decisions.

(3) The risks to individuals are outweighed by the potential benefit to them or by the knowledge to be gained; and

(4) The proposed study design and methods are adequate and appropriate in the light of stated study objectives.

"Independent review organization (IRO)"—A panel of medical and benefit experts intended to provide unbiased, independent, clinical, evidence-based reviews of adverse decisions.

"Independent medical evaluation (IME)"—An objective medical examination of the client to establish the medical facts.

"Provider"—The individual who is responsible for diagnosing, prescribing, and providing medical, dental, or mental health services to department clients.

(3) The department authorizes, on a case-by-case basis, requests described in subsection (1) when the department determines the service or equipment is medically necessary as defined in WAC 388-500-0005. The process the department uses to assess medical necessity is based on:

(a) The evaluation of submitted and obtainable medical, dental, or mental health evidence as described in subsections (4) and (5) of this section; and

(b) The application of the evidence-based rating process described in subsection (6) of this section.

(4) The department reviews available evidence relevant to a medical, dental, or mental health service or equipment to:

(a) Determine its efficacy, effectiveness, and safety;

(b) Determine its impact on health outcomes;

(c) Identify indications for use;

(d) Evaluate pertinent client information;

(e) Compare to alternative technologies; and

(f) Identify sources of credible evidence that use and report evidence-based information.

(5) The department considers and evaluates all available clinical information and credible evidence relevant to the client's condition. At the time of request, the provider responsible for the client's diagnosis and/or treatment must submit credible evidence specifically related to the client's condition, including but not limited to:

(a) A client-specific physiological description of the disease, injury, impairment, or other ailment;

(b) Pertinent laboratory findings;

(c) Pertinent X-ray and/or imaging reports;

(d) Individual patient records pertinent to the case or request;

(e) Photographs and/or videos when requested by the department; and

(f) Objective medical/dental/mental health information such as medically/dentally acceptable clinical findings and diagnoses resulting from physical or mental examinations.

(6) The department uses the following processes to determine whether a requested service described in subsection (1) is medically necessary:

(a) Hierarchy of evidence—How defined. The department uses a hierarchy of evidence to determine the weight given to available data. The weight of medical evidence depends on objective indicators of its validity and reliability including the nature and source of the evidence, the empirical characteristics of the studies or trials upon which the evidence is based, and the consistency of the outcome with comparable studies. The hierarchy (in descending order with Type I given the greatest weight) is:

(i) Type I: Meta-analysis done with multiple, well-designed controlled studies;

(ii) Type II: One or more well-designed experimental studies;

(iii) Type III: Well-designed, quasi-experimental studies such as nonrandomized controlled, single group pre-post, cohort, time series, or matched case-controlled studies;

(iv) Type IV: Well-designed, nonexperimental studies, such as comparative and correlation descriptive, and case studies (uncontrolled); and

(v) Type V: Credible evidence submitted by the provider.

(b) Hierarchy of evidence—How classified. Based on the quality of available evidence, the department determines if the requested service is effective and safe for the client by classifying it as an "A," "B," "C," or "D" level of evidence:

(i) "A" level evidence: Shows the requested service or equipment is a proven benefit to the client's condition by strong scientific literature and well-designed clinical trials such as Type I evidence or multiple Type II evidence or combinations of Type II, III or IV evidence with consistent results (An "A" rating cannot be based on Type III or Type IV evidence alone).

(ii) "B" level evidence: Shows the requested service or equipment has some proven benefit supported by:

(A) Multiple Type II or III evidence or combinations of Type II, III or IV evidence with generally consistent findings of effectiveness and safety (A "B" rating cannot be based on Type IV evidence alone); or

(B) Singular Type II, III, or IV evidence in combination with department-recognized:

(I) Clinical guidelines; or

(II) Treatment pathways; or

(III) Other guidelines that use the hierarchy of evidence in establishing the rationale for existing standards.

(iii) "C" level evidence: Shows only weak and inconclusive evidence regarding safety and/or efficacy such as:

(A) Type II, III, or IV evidence with inconsistent findings; or

(B) Only Type V evidence is available.

(iv) "D" level evidence: Is not supported by any evidence regarding its safety and efficacy, for example that which is considered investigational or experimental.

(c) Hierarchy of evidence—How applied. After classifying the available evidence, the department:

(i) Approves "A" and "B" rated requests if the service or equipment:

(A) Does not place the client at a greater risk of mortality or morbidity than an equally effective alternative treatment; and

(B) Is not more costly than an equally effective alternative treatment.

(ii) Approves a "C" rated request only if the provider shows the requested service is the optimal intervention for meeting the client's specific condition or treatment needs, and:

(A) Does not place the client at a greater risk of mortality or morbidity than an equally effective alternative treatment; and

(B) Is less costly to the department than an equally effective alternative treatment; and

(C) Is the next reasonable step for the client in a well-documented tried-and-failed attempt at evidence-based care.

(iii) Denies "D" rated requests unless:

(A) The requested service or equipment has a humanitarian device exemption from the Food And Drug Administration (FDA); or

(B) There is a local institutional review board (IRB) protocol addressing issues of efficacy and safety of the requested service that satisfies both the department and the requesting provider.

(7) Within fifteen days of receiving the request from the client's provider, the department reviews all evidence submitted and:

(a) Approves the request;

(b) Denies the request if the requested service is not medically necessary; or

(c) Requests the provider submit additional justifying information. The department sends a copy of the request to the client at the same time.

(i) The provider must submit the additional information within thirty days of the department's request.

(ii) The department approves or denies the request within five business days of the receipt of the additional information.

(iii) If the provider fails to provide the additional information, the department will deny the requested service.

(8) When the department denies all or part of a request for a covered service(s) or equipment, the department sends the client and the provider written notice, within ten business days of the date the information is received, that:

(a) Includes a statement of the action the department intends to take;

(b) Includes the specific factual basis for the intended action;

(c) Includes reference to the specific WAC provision upon which the denial is based;

(d) Is in sufficient detail to enable the recipient to:

(i) Learn why the department's action was taken; and

(ii) Prepare an appropriate response.

(e) Is in sufficient detail to determine what additional or different information might be provided to challenge the department's determination;

(f) Includes the client's administrative hearing rights;

(g) Includes an explanation of the circumstances under which the denied service is continued or reinstated if a hearing is requested; and

(h) Includes examples(s) of "lesser cost alternatives" that permit the affected party to prepare an appropriate response.

(9) If an administrative hearing is requested, the department or the client may request an independent review organization (IRO) or independent medical examination (IME) to provide an opinion regarding whether the requested service or equipment is medically necessary. The department will pay for the independent assessment if the department agrees that it is necessary, or an administrative law judge orders the assessment.

WAC 388-501-0169 Healthcare coverage—Limitation extension. This section addresses requests for limitation extensions (additional covered services when a client has received the maximum services allowed under specific healthcare program rules). The department does not pay for services exceeding the maximum allowed until authorization is obtained.

(1) No extension of covered services will be authorized when prohibited by specific program rules.

(2) When an extension is not prohibited by specific program rules, a client or the client's provider may request a limitation extension.

(3) Under fee-for-service (FFS), the department evaluates requests for limitation extensions using the process described in WAC 388-501-0165. For a managed care enrollee, the client's managed care organization (MCO) evaluates requests for limitation extensions according to the MCO's prior authorization process.

(4) In addition to subsection (3), both the department and MCO consider the following in evaluating a request for a limitation extension:

(a) The level of improvement the client has shown to date related to the requested service and the reasonably calculated probability of continued improvement if the requested service is extended; and

(b) The reasonably calculated probability the client's condition will worsen if the requested service is not extended.

WAC 388-501-0180 Healthcare services provided outside the state of Washington—General provisions. WAC 388-501-0180 through 388-501-0184 apply only to services payable on a fee-for-service basis for Washington state medical assistance clients.

(1) Subject to the exceptions and limitations in this section, WAC 388-501-0182 and 388-501-0184, the department covers emergency and nonemergency out-of-state healthcare services provided to eligible Washington state medical assistance clients when the services are:

(a) Within the scope of the client's healthcare program as specified under chapter 388-501 WAC;

(b) Allowed to be provided outside the state of Washington by specific program WAC; and

(c) Medically necessary as defined in WAC 388-500-0005.

(2) The department does not cover services provided outside the state of Washington under the Involuntary Treatment Act (chapter 71.05 RCW and chapter 388-865 WAC), including designated bordering cities.

(3) When the department pays for covered healthcare services furnished to an eligible Washington state medical assistance client outside the state of Washington, its payment is payment in full according to 42 CFR 447.15. The department does not pay when the provider refuses to accept the department's payment as payment in full.

(4) The department determines coverage for transportation services provided out of state, including ambulance services, according to chapter 388-546 WAC.

(5) With the exception of designated bordering cities (see WAC 388-501-0175), if the client travels out of state expressly to obtain healthcare, the service(s) must be prior authorized by the department. See WAC 388-501-0182 for requirements related to out-of-state nonemergency treatment and WAC 388-501-0165 for the department's medical necessity determination process.

(6) The department does not cover healthcare services provided outside the United States and U.S. territories, with the exception of British Columbia, Canada. See WAC 388-501-0184 for limitations on coverage of healthcare provided to medical assistance clients in British Columbia, Canada.

WAC 388-501-0182 Healthcare provided in another state or U.S. territory—Nonemergency. (1) This rule applies to nonemergency treatment situations occurring in another state or U.S. territory. Applicable situations include, but are not limited to:

(a) Healthcare services that the department has prior authorized for a client; and

(b) Healthcare services obtained by the client, independent of the department, while traveling or visiting.

(2) In accordance with the prior authorization process described in WAC 388-501-0165, except as specified in subsection (3) of this section, the department pays for covered nonemergency healthcare services provided to an eligible Washington state medical assistance client in another state or U.S. territory to the same extent that it pays for covered nonemergency services provided within the state of Washington when the department determines that:

(a) Services are medically necessary and the client's health will be endangered if the client is required to travel to the state of Washington to receive the needed care;

(b) Medically necessary services are not available in Washington state or designated bordering cities (see WAC 388-501-0175) and are more readily available in another state; or

(c) It is general practice for clients in a particular Washington state locality to use medically necessary resources in a bordering state.

(3) The department pays for covered nonemergency healthcare services furnished to an eligible Washington state medical assistance client in another state or U.S. territory, unless the out-of-state provider is unwilling to accept the department's payment as payment in full according to 42 CFR 447.15. The department does not pay when the provider refuses to accept the department's payment as payment in full.

(4) The department does not pay for medically necessary, nonsymptomatic treatment (i.e., preventive care) furnished outside the state of Washington unless it is furnished in a designated bordering city, which is considered the same as an in-state city for the purposes of healthcare coverage (see WAC 388-501-0175). Covered nonemergency services requiring prior authorization, when provided in the state of Washington, also require prior authorization, when provided in a designated bordering city (see WAC 388-501-0165 for the department's medical necessity determination process).

(5) See WAC 388-501-0180 for additional information regarding healthcare services provided outside the state of Washington.

(6) The department's health and recovery services administration's (HRSA) assistant secretary or designee reviews all exception to rule (ETR) requests.

WAC 388-501-0184 Healthcare services provided outside of the United States and U.S. territories or in a foreign country. For the purposes of this section the term "healthcare services" does not include the diagnosis and treatment for alcohol and/or substance abuse and mental health services.

(1) The provisions of WAC 388-501-0182 apply to this section.

(2) The department does not pay for healthcare services furnished in a foreign country, except for medical services furnished in the province of British Columbia, Canada, under the conditions specified in this section. The department pays for medical services furnished in British Columbia to the following Washington state medical assistance clients only:

(a) Those who reside in Point Roberts, Washington;

(b) Those who reside in Washington communities along the border with British Columbia, Canada (see subsection (3) of this section for further clarification); and

(c) Members of the Canadian First Nations who live in Washington state.

(3) For those medical assistance clients identified in subsection (1) of this section, the department covers emergency and nonemergency medical services provided in British Columbia, Canada, when the services are:

(a) Within the scope of the client's healthcare program as specified in chapter 388-501 WAC;

(b) Allowed to be provided outside the United States and U.S. territories by specific program WAC; and

(c) Medically necessary as defined in WAC 388-500-0005.

(4) For those medical assistance clients identified in subsection (1) of this section, the department covers nonemergency medical services in British Columbia, Canada, only when:

(a) It is general practice for Washington state medical assistance clients residing in these particular localities to use medically necessary resources across the Canadian border; or

(b) The medical services in British Columbia are closer or more readily accessible to the client's Washington state residence. As applied to nonemergency medical services, the phrase "closer or more readily accessible to the client's Washington state residence" means:

(i) There is not a United States provider for the same service within twenty-five miles of the client's Washington state residence; and

(ii) The closest Canadian provider of service is closer than the closest U.S. provider of the service.

(5) The department does not cover services provided outside of the United States under the involuntary treatment act (chapter 71.05 RCW and chapter 388-865 WAC).

(6) When the department pays for covered medical services furnished to a Washington state medical assistance client in British Columbia, its payment is payment in full according to 42 CFR 447.15. The department does not pay when the provider refuses to accept the department's payment as payment in full.

WAC 388-501-0200 Third-party resources. (1) MAA requires a provider to seek timely reimbursement from a third party when a client has available third-party resources, except as described under subsections (2) and (3) of this section.

(2) MAA pays for medical services and seeks reimbursement from the liable third party when the claim is for any of the following:

(a) Prenatal care;

(b) Labor, delivery, and postpartum care (except inpatient hospital costs) for a pregnant woman; or

(c) Preventive pediatric services as covered under the EPSDT program.

(3) MAA pays for medical services and seeks reimbursement from any liable third party when both of the following apply:

(a) The provider submits to MAA documentation of billing the third party and the provider has not received payment after thirty days from the date of services; and

(b) The claim is for a covered service provided to a client on whose behalf the office of support enforcement is enforcing an absent parent to pay support. For the purpose of this section, "is enforcing" means the absent parent either:

(i) Is not complying with an existing court order; or

(ii) Received payment directly from the third party and did not pay for the medical services.

(4) The provider may not bill MAA or the client for a covered service when a third party pays a provider the same amount as or more than the MAA rate.

(5) When the provider receives payment from the third party after receiving reimbursement from MAA, the provider must refund to MAA the amount of the:

(a) Third-party payment when the payment is less than MAA's maximum allowable rate; or

(b) MAA payment when the third-party payment is equal to or greater than MAA's maximum allowable rate.

(6) MAA is not responsible to pay for medical services when the third-party benefits are available to pay for the client's medical services at the time the provider bills MAA, except as described under subsections (2) and (3) of this section.

(7) The client is liable for charges for covered medical services that would be paid by the third party payment when the client either:

(a) Receives direct third-party reimbursement for such services; or

(b) Fails to execute legal signatures on insurance forms, billing documents, or other forms necessary to receive insurance payments for services rendered. See WAC 388-505-0540 for assignment of rights.

(8) MAA considers an adoptive family to be a third-party resource for the medical expenses of the birth mother and child only when there is a written contract between the adopting family and either the birth mother, the attorney, the provider, or the adoption service. The contract must specify that the adopting family will pay for the medical care associated with the pregnancy.

(9) A provider cannot refuse to furnish covered services to a client because of a third party's potential liability for the services.

(10) For third-party liability on personal injury litigation claims, MAA is responsible for providing medical services as described under WAC 388-501-0100.

WAC 388-501-0213 Case management services. (1) The department shall provide case management services to medical assistance recipients:

(a) By contract with providers of case management services.

(b) Limited to target groups of clients as determined by the contract.

(c) Limited to services as determined by the contract.

(2) Case management services are services which will assist clients in gaining access to needed medical, social, educational, and other services.

(c) A school district for health services provided under the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act.

(3) The department does not reimburse providers for medical services identified by the department as client financial obligations, and deducts from the payment the costs of those services identified as client financial obligations. After the medicaid outlier threshold is reached, the department pays an amount based on the policy described in the Title XIX state plan.

(3) If medicare and medicaid cover the service, the department pays only the deductible and/or coinsurance up to medicare or medicaid's allowed amount, whichever is less. If only medicare and not medicaid covers the service, the department pays only the deductible and/or coinsurance up to medicare's allowed amount.

(4) The department bases its outlier policy on the methodology described in the department's Title XIX state plan, methods, and standards used for establishing payment rates for hospital inpatient services.

(5) The department pays, according to department rules and billing instructions, for medicaid covered services when the client exhausts medicare benefits.

WAC 388-502-0130 Interest penalties—Providers. (1) Providers who are enrolled as contractors with the department's medical care programs may be assessed interest on excess benefits or other inappropriate payments. Nursing home providers are governed by WAC 388-96-310 and are not subject to this section.

(2) The department assesses interest when:

(a) The excess benefits or other inappropriate payments were not the result of department error; and

(b) A provider is found liable for receipt of excess benefits or other payments under RCW 74.09.220; or

(c) A provider is notified by the department that repayment of excess benefits or other payments is due under RCW 74.09.220.

(3) The department assesses interest at the rate of one percent for each month the overpayment is not satisfied. Daily interest calculations and assessments are made for partial months.

(4) Interest is calculated beginning from the date the department receives payment from the provider. Interest ceases to be calculated and collected from the provider once the overpayment amount is received by the department.

(5) The department calculates interest and amounts, which are identified on all department collection notices and statements.

WAC 388-502-0150 Time limits for providers to bill MAA. Providers may bill the medical assistance administration (MAA) for covered services provided to eligible clients.

(1) MAA requires providers to submit initial claims and adjust prior claims in a timely manner. MAA has three timeliness standards:

(a) For initial claims, see subsections (3), (4), (5), and (6) of this section;

(b) For resubmitted claims other than prescription drug claims, see subsections (7) and (8) of this section; and

(c) For resubmitted prescription drug claims, see subsections (9) and (10) of this section.

(2) The provider must submit claims to MAA as described in MAA's billing instructions.

(3) Providers must submit their claim to MAA and have an internal control number (ICN) assigned by MAA within three hundred sixty-five days from any of the following:

(a) The date the provider furnishes the service to the eligible client;

(b) The date a final fair hearing decision is entered that impacts the particular claim;

(c) The date a court orders MAA to cover the service; or

(d) The date the department certifies a client eligible under delayed certification criteria.

(4) MAA may grant exceptions to the three hundred sixty-five-day time limit for initial claims when billing delays are caused by either of the following:

(a) The department's certification of a client for a retroactive period; or

(b) The provider proves to MAA's satisfaction that there are other extenuating circumstances.

(5) MAA requires providers to bill known third parties for services. See WAC 388-501-0200 for exceptions. Providers must meet the timely billing standards of the liable third parties in addition to MAA's billing limits.

(6) When a client is covered by both medicare and MAA, the provider must bill medicare for the service before billing medicaid. If medicare:

(a) Pays the claim the provider must bill MAA within six months of the date medicare processes the claim; or

(b) Denies payment of the claim, MAA requires the provider to meet the three hundred sixty-five-day requirement for timely initial claims as described in subsection (3) of this section.

(7) MAA allows providers to resubmit, modify, or adjust any claim, other than a prescription drug claim, with a timely ICN within thirty-six months of the date the service was provided to the client. This applies to any claim, other than a prescription drug claim, that met the time limits for an initial claim, whether paid or denied. MAA does not accept any claim for resubmission, modification, or adjustment after the thirty-six-month period ends.

(8) The thirty-six-month period described in subsection (7) of this section does not apply to overpayments that a provider must refund to the department. After thirty-six months, MAA does not allow a provider to refund overpayments by claim adjustment; a provider must refund overpayments by a negotiable financial instrument, such as a bank check.

(9) MAA allows providers to resubmit, modify, or adjust any prescription drug claim with a timely ICN within fifteen months of the date the service was provided to the client. After fifteen months, MAA does not accept any prescription drug claim for resubmission, modification or adjustment.

(10) The fifteen-month period described in subsection (9) of this section does not apply to overpayments that a prescription drug provider must refund to the department. After fifteen months a provider must refund overpayments by a negotiable financial instrument, such as a bank check.

(11) MAA does not allow a provider or any provider's agent to bill a client or a client's estate when the provider fails to meet the requirements of this section, resulting in the claim not being paid by MAA.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090 and 42 C.F.R. 447.45. 00-14-067, § 388-502-0150, filed 7/5/00, effective 8/5/00.]

WAC 388-502-0160 Billing a client. (1) A provider may not bill, demand, collect, or accept payment from a client or anyone on the client's behalf for a covered service. The client is not responsible to pay for a covered service even if MAA does not pay the provider because the provider failed to satisfy the conditions of payment in MAA billing instructions, this chapter, and other chapters regulating the specific type of service provided.

(2) The provider is responsible for verifying whether the client has medical coverage for the date of service and to check the limitations of the client's medical program.

(3) A provider may bill a client only if one of the following situations apply:

(a) The client is enrolled in medical assistance managed care and the client and provider comply with the requirements in WAC 388-538-095;

(b) The client is not enrolled in medical assistance managed care, and the client and provider sign an agreement regarding payment for the service. The agreement must be translated or interpreted into the client's primary language and signed before the service is rendered. The provider must give the client a copy and maintain the original in the client's file for department review upon request. The agreement must include each of the following elements to be valid:

(i) A statement listing the specific service to be provided;

(ii) A statement that the service is not covered by MAA;

(iii) A statement that the client chooses to receive and pay for the specific service; and

(iv) The client is not obligated to pay for the service if it is later found that the service was covered by MAA at the time it was provided, even if MAA did not pay the provider for the service because the provider did not satisfy MAA's billing requirements.

(c) The client or the client's legal guardian was reimbursed for the service directly by a third party (see WAC 388-501-0200);

(d) The client refuses to complete and sign insurance forms, billing documents, or other forms necessary for the provider to bill insurance for the service. This provision does not apply to coverage provided by MAA;

(e) The provider has documentation that the client represented himself/herself as a private pay client and not receiving medical assistance when the client was already eligible for and receiving benefits under a MAA medical program. This documentation must be signed and dated by the client or the client's representative. The provider must give a copy to the client and maintain the original documentation in the client's file for department review upon request. In this case, the provider may bill the client without fulfilling the requirements in subsection (3)(b) of this section regarding the agreement to pay. However, if the patient later becomes eligible for MAA coverage of a provided service, the provider must comply with subsection (4) of this section for that service;

(f) The bill counts toward a spenddown liability, emergency medical expense requirement, deductible, or copayment required by MAA; or

(g) The client received medical services in a hospital emergency room for a condition that was not an emergency medical condition. In such cases, a three-dollar copayment may be imposed on the client by the hospital, except when:

(i) Reasonable alternative access to care was not available;

(ii) The "indigent person" criteria in WAC 246-453-040(1) applies;

(iii) The client was eighteen years of age or younger;

(iv) The client was pregnant or within sixty days postpregnancy;

(v) The client is an American Indian or Alaska Native;

(vi) The client was enrolled in a MAA managed care plan, including primary care case management (PCCM);

(vii) The client was in an institution such as a nursing facility or residing in an alternative living facility such as an adult family home, assisted living facility, or boarding home; or

(viii) The client receives waivered services such as community options program entry system (COPES) and community alternatives program (CAP).

(4) If a client becomes eligible for a covered service that has already been provided because the client:

(a) Applied to the department for medical services later in the same month the service was provided (and is made eligible from the first day of the month), the provider must:

(i) Not bill, demand, collect, or accept payment from the client or anyone on the client's behalf for the service; and

(ii) Promptly refund the total payment received from the client or anyone on the client's behalf, and then bill MAA for the service;

(b) Receives a delayed certification as defined in WAC 388-500-0005, the provider must:

(i) Not bill, demand, collect, or accept payment from the client or anyone on the client's behalf for the service; and

(ii) Promptly refund the total payment received from the client or anyone on the client's behalf, and then bill MAA for the service; or

(c) Receives a retroactive certification as defined in WAC 388-500-0005, the provider:

(i) Must not bill, demand, collect, or accept payment from the client or anyone on the client's behalf for any unpaid charges for the service; and

(ii) May refund any payment received from the client or anyone on the client's behalf, and after refunding the payment, the provider may bill MAA for the service.

(5) Hospitals may not bill, demand, collect, or accept payment from a medically indigent, GA-U, or ADATSA client, or anyone on the client's behalf, for inpatient or outpatient hospital services during a period of eligibility, except for spenddown and under the circumstance described in subsection (3)(g) of this section.

(6) A provider may not bill, demand, collect, or accept payment from a client, anyone on the client's behalf, or MAA for copying or otherwise transferring health care information, as that term is defined in chapter 70.02 RCW, to another health care provider. This includes, but is not limited to:

(a) Medical charts;

(b) Radiological or imaging films; and

(c) Laboratory or other diagnostic test results.

WAC 388-502-0210 Statistical data-provider reports. (1) At the request of the medical assistance administration (MAA), all providers enrolled with MAA programs must submit full reports, as specified by MAA, of goods and services furnished to eligible medical assistance clients. MAA furnishes the provider with a standardized format to report these data.

(2) MAA analyzes the data collected from the providers' reports to secure statistics on costs of goods and services furnished and makes a report of the analysis available to MAA's advisory committee, the state welfare medical care committee, representative organizations of provider groups enrolled with MAA, and any other interested organizations or individuals.

WAC 388-502-0220 Administrative appeal contractor/provider rate reimbursement. (1) Any enrolled contractor/provider of medical services has a right to an administrative appeal when the contractor/provider disagrees with the medical assistance administration's (MAA) reimbursement rate. The exception to this is nursing facilities governed by WAC 388-96-904.

(2) The first level of appeal. A contractor/provider who wants to contest a reimbursement rate must file a written appeal with MAA.

(a) The appeal must include all of the following:

(i) A statement of the specific issue being appealed;

(ii) Supporting documentation; and

(iii) A request for MAA to recalculate the rate.

(b) When a contractor/provider appeals a portion of a rate, MAA may review all components of the reimbursement rate.

(c) In order to complete a review of the appeal, MAA may do one or both of the following:

(i) Request additional information; and/or

(ii) Conduct an audit of the documentation provided.

(d) MAA issues a decision or requests additional information within sixty calendar days of receiving the rate appeal request.

(i) When MAA requests additional information, the contractor/provider has forty-five calendar days from the date of MAA's request to submit the additional information.

(ii) MAA issues a decision within thirty calendar days of receipt of the completed information.

(e) MAA may adjust rates retroactively to the effective date of a new rate or a rate change. In order for a rate increase to be retroactive, the contractor/provider must file the appeal within sixty calendar days of the date of the rate notification letter from MAA. MAA does not consider any appeal filed after the sixty day period to be eligible for retroactive adjustment.

(f) MAA may grant a time extension for the appeal period if the contractor/provider makes such a request within the sixty-day period referenced under (e) of this subsection.

(g) Any rate increase resulting from an appeal filed within the sixty-day period described in subsection (2)(e) of this section is effective retroactively to the rate effective date in the notification letter.

(h) Any rate increase resulting from an appeal filed after the sixty-day period described in subsection (2)(e) of this section is effective on the date the rate appeal is received by the department.

(i) Any rate decrease resulting from an appeal is effective on the date specified in the appeal decision letter.

(j) Any rate change that MAA grants that is the result of fraudulent practices on the part of the contractor/provider as described under RCW 74.09.210 is exempt from the appeal provisions in this chapter.

(3) The second level of appeal. When the contractor/provider disagrees with a rate review decision, it may file a request for a dispute conference with MAA. For this section "dispute conference" means an informal administrative hearing for the purpose of resolving contractor/provider disagreements with a department action as described under subsection (1) of this section, and not agreed upon at the first level of appeal. The dispute conference is not governed by the Administrative Procedure Act, chapter 34.05 RCW.

(a) If a contractor/provider files a request for a dispute conference, it must submit the request to MAA within thirty calendar days after the contractor/provider receives the rate review decision. MAA does not consider dispute conference requests submitted after the thirty-day period for the first level decision.

(b) MAA conducts the dispute conference within ninety calendar days of receiving the request.

(c) A department-appointed conference chairperson issues the final decision within thirty calendar days of the conference. Extensions of time for extenuating circumstances may be granted if all parties agree.

(d) Any rate increase or decrease resulting from a dispute conference decision is effective on the date specified in the dispute conference decision.

(e) The dispute conference is the final level of administrative appeal within the department and precede judicial action.

(4) MAA considers that a contractor/provider who fails to attempt to resolve disputed rates as provided in this section has abandoned the dispute.

WAC 388-502-0230 Provider review and appeal. (1) As authorized by chapter 74.09 RCW, the medical assistance administration (MAA) monitors and reviews all providers who furnish medical, dental, or other services to eligible medical assistance clients. Examples of provider reviews are:

(a) A review of all billing/medical/dental/service records for medical assistance clients;

(2) The Washington State Health Professions Quality Assurance Commissions serve in an advisory capacity to MAA in conducting provider reviews and monitoring.

(3) MAA may determine that a provider's billing does not comply with program regulations or the provider is not meeting quality of care practices. MAA may do, but is not limited to, any of the following:

(f) Terminate the provider's participation in medical assistance programs;

(g) Assess a civil penalty against the provider, per RCW 74.09.210; and

(h) Recover any moneys that the provider received as a result of inappropriate payments.

(4) When any part of the time period that is reviewed or monitored falls on or before June 30, 1998, the following process applies. A provider who disagrees with a department action regarding overpayment recovery may request an administrative review hearing to dispute the action(s).

(c) When a final decision is issued, the office of financial recovery collects any amount the provider is ordered to repay.

(d) The administrative review hearing referenced in this subsection is the final level of administrative review.

WAC 388-505-0211 Premium requirements for premium-based children's healthcare programs. (1) For the purposes of this chapter, "premium" means an amount paid for medical coverage.

(2) Payment of a premium is required as a condition of eligibility for premium-based children's healthcare coverage, as described in WAC 388-505-0210(4), unless the child is:

(a) Pregnant; or

(b) An American Indian or Alaska native.

(3) The premium requirement begins the first of the month following the determination of eligibility. There is no premium requirement for medical coverage received in a month or months before the determination of eligibility.

(4) The premium amount for the assistance unit is based on the net available income as described in WAC 388-450-0005. If the household includes more than one assistance unit, the premium amount billed for the assistance units may be different amounts.

(5) The premium amount for each eligible child is fifteen dollars per month per child, up to a maximum of forty-five dollars per month, per household.

(6) All children in an assistance unit are ineligible for medical coverage when the head of household fails to pay required premium payments for three consecutive months.

(7) When the department terminates the medical coverage of a child due to nonpayment of premiums, the child has a three-month period of ineligibility beginning the first of the following month. The three-month period of ineligibility is rescinded only when the:

(a) Past due premiums are paid in full prior to the begin date of the period of ineligibility; or

(b) The child becomes eligible for a nonpremium-based medical program. The department will not rescind the three-month period of ineligibility for reasons other than the criteria described in this subsection.

(8) The department writes off past-due premiums after twelve months.

(9) When the designated three-month period of ineligibility is over, all past due premiums that are an obligation of the head of household must be paid or written off before a child can become eligible for premium-based children's healthcare.

(10) A family cannot designate partial payment of the billed premium amount as payment for a specific child in the assistance unit. The full premium amount is the obligation of the head of household of the assistance unit. A family can decide to request medical coverage only for certain children in the assistance unit, if they want to reduce premium obligation.

(11) A change that affects the premium amount is effective the month after the change is reported and processed.

(12) A sponsor or other third party may pay the premium on behalf of the child or children in the assistance unit. The premium payment requirement remains the obligation of head of household of the assistance unit. The failure of a sponsor or other third party to pay the premium does not eliminate the:

(a) Establishment of the period of ineligibility described in subsection (7) of this section; or

(b) Obligation of the head of household to pay past-due premiums.

WAC 388-513-1301 Definitions related to long-term care (LTC) services. This section defines the meaning of certain terms used in chapters 388-513 and 388-515 WAC. Within these chapters, institutional, waiver, and hospice services are referred to collectively as LTC services. Other terms related to LTC services that also apply to other programs are found in the sections in which they are used. Definitions of terms used in certain rules that regulate LTC programs are as follows:

"Add-on hours" means additional hours the department purchases from providers to perform medically oriented tasks for clients who require extra help because of a handicapping condition.

"Alternate living facility (ALF)" means one of the following community residential facilities that are contracted with the department to provide certain services:

(1) Adult family home (AFH), a licensed family home that provides its residents with personal care and board and room for two to six adults unrelated to the person(s) providing the care.

(2) Adult residential care facility (ARC) (formerly known as a CCF) is a licensed facility that provides its residents with shelter, food, household maintenance, personal care and supervision.

(3) Adult residential rehabilitation center (ARRC) or adult residential treatment facility (ARTF), a licensed facility that provides its residents with twenty-four hour residential care for impairments related to mental illness.

(4) Assisted living facility (AL), a licensed facility for aged and disabled low-income persons with functional disabilities. COPES eligible clients are often placed in assisted living.

"Community spouse (CS)" means a person who does not live in a medical institution or nursing facility, and who is legally married to an institutionalized client or to a person receiving services from home and community-based waiver programs.

There are four waivers administered by DDD: Basic, Basic Plus, Core and Community Protection.

"Fair market value (FMV)" means the price an asset may reasonably be expected to sell for on the local market at the time of transfer or assignment. A transfer of assets for love and affection is not considered a transfer for FMV.

"Federal benefit rate (FBR)" means the basic benefit amount the social security administration (SSA) pays to clients who are eligible for the supplemental security income (SSI) program.

"Look-back period" means the number of months prior to the month of application for LTC services that the department will consider for transfer of assets.

"Maintenance needs amount" means a monthly income amount a client keeps or that is allocated to a spouse or dependent family member who lives in the client's home.

"Medically intensive children (MIC)" program means a medicaid waiver program that enables medically fragile children under age eighteen to live in the community. "Undue hardship" means the person is not able to meet shelter, food, clothing, or health needs.

"Value of compensation received" means the consideration the purchaser pays or agrees to pay. Compensation includes:

(1) All money, real or personal property, food, shelter, or services the person receives under a legally enforceable purchase agreement whereby the person transfers the asset; and

(2) The payment or assumption of a legal debt the seller owes in exchange for the asset.

Such programs provide to an eligible client a variety of services not normally covered under medicaid. In Washington state, waiver programs are DDD waivers, COPES, MIC, and OBRA.

WAC 388-513-1350 Defining the resource standard and determining resource eligibility for long-term care (LTC) services. This section describes how the department defines the resource standard and countable or excluded resources when determining a client's eligibility for LTC services. The department uses the term "resource standard" to describe the maximum amount of resources a client can have and still be resource eligible for program benefits.

(1) The resource standard used to determine eligibility for LTC services equals:

(a) Two thousand dollars for:

(i) A single client; or

(ii) A legally married client with a community spouse, subject to the provisions described in subsections (8) through (11) of this section; or

(b) Three thousand dollars for a legally married couple, unless subsection (3) of this section applies.

(2) When both spouses apply for LTC services the department considers the resources of both spouses as available to each other through the month in which the spouses stopped living together.

(3) When both spouses are institutionalized, the department will determine the eligibility of each spouse as a single client the month following the month of separation.

(4) If the department has already established eligibility and authorized services for one spouse, and the community spouse needs LTC services in the same month, (but after eligibility has been established and services authorized for the institutional spouse), then the department applies the standard described in subsection (1)(a) of this section to each spouse. If doing this would make one of the spouses ineligible, then the department applies (1)(b) of this section for a couple.

(5) When a single institutionalized individual marries, the department will redetermine eligibility applying the rules for a legally married couple.

(6) The department applies the following rules when determining available resources for LTC services:

(a) WAC 388-475-0300, Resource eligibility;

(b) WAC 388-475-0250, How to determine who owns a resource; and

(c) WAC 388-470-0060(6), Resources of an alien's sponsor.

(7) For LTC services the department determines a client's countable resources as follows:

(a) The department determines countable resources for SSI-related clients as described in WAC 388-475-0350 through 388-475-0550 and resources excluded by federal law with the exception of:

(i) WAC 388-475-0550(16);

(ii) WAC 388-475-0350 (1)(b) clients who have submitted an application for LTC services on or after May 1, 2006 and have an equity interest greater than five hundred thousand dollars in their primary residence are ineligible for LTC services. This exception does not apply if a spouse or blind, disabled or dependent child under age twenty-one is lawfully residing in the primary residence. Clients denied or terminated LTC services due to excess home equity may apply for an undue hardship waiver.

(b) For an SSI-related client one automobile per household is excluded regardless of value if it is used for transportation of the eligible individual/couple.

(i) For an SSI-related client with a community spouse, the value of one automobile is excluded regardless of its use or value.

(ii) A vehicle not meeting the definition of automobile is a vehicle that has been junked or a vehicle that is used only as a recreational vehicle.

(c) For an SSI-related client, the department adds together the countable resources of both spouses if subsections (2), (5) and (8)(a) or (b) apply, but not if subsection (3) or (4) apply.

(d) For an SSI-related client, excess resources are reduced:

(i) In an amount equal to incurred medical expenses such as:

(A) Premiums, deductibles, and coinsurance/copayment charges for health insurance and medicare;

(B) Necessary medical care recognized under state law, but not covered under the state's medicaid plan;

(C) Necessary medical care covered under the state's medicaid plan incurred prior to medicaid eligibility.

(ii) As long as the incurred medical expenses:

(A) Are not subject to third-party payment or reimbursement;

(B) Have not been used to satisfy a previous spend down liability;

(C) Have not previously been used to reduce excess resources;

(D) Have not been used to reduce client responsibility toward cost of care;

(E) Were not incurred during a transfer of asset penalty described in WAC 388-513-1363, 388-513-1364, 388-513-1365 and 388-513-1366; and

(F) Are amounts for which the client remains liable.

(e) Expenses not allowed to reduce excess resources or participation in personal care:

(i) Unpaid expense(s) prior to waiver eligibility to an adult family home (AFH) or boarding home is not a medical expense.

(ii) Personal care cost in excess of approved hours determined by the CARE assessment described in chapter 388-106 WAC is not a medical expense.

(f) The amount of excess resources is limited to the following amounts:

(i) For LTC services provided under the categorically needy (CN) program:

(A) Gross income must be at or below the special income level (SIL), 300% of the federal benefit rate (FBR).

(B) In a medical institution, excess resources and income must be under the state medicaid rate.

(C) For CN waiver eligibility, incurred medical expenses must reduce resources within allowable resource limits for CN-waiver eligibility. The cost of care for the waiver services cannot be allowed as a projected expense.

(ii) For LTC services provided under the medically needy (MN) program when excess resources are added to nonexcluded income, the combined total is less than the:

(A) Private medical institution rate plus the amount of recurring medical expenses for institutional services; or

(B) Private hospice rate plus the amount of recurring medical expenses, for hospice services in a medical institution.

(C) For MN waiver eligibility, incurred medical expenses must reduce resources within allowable resource limits for MN-waiver eligibility. The cost of care for the waiver services cannot be allowed as a projected expense.

(g) For a client not related to SSI, the department applies the resource rules of the program used to relate the client to medical eligibility.

(8) For legally married clients when only one spouse meets institutional status, the following rules apply. If the client's current period of institutional status began:

(a) Before October 1, 1989, the department adds together one-half the total amount of countable resources held in the name of:

(i) The institutionalized spouse; or

(ii) Both spouses.

(b) On or after October 1, 1989, the department adds together the total amount of nonexcluded resources held in the name of:

(i) Either spouse; or

(ii) Both spouses.

(9) If subsection (8)(b) of this section applies, the department determines the amount of resources that are allocated to the community spouse before determining countable resources used to establish eligibility for the institutionalized spouse, as follows:

(a) If the client's current period of institutional status began on or after October 1, 1989 and before August 1, 2003, the department allocates the maximum amount of resources ordinarily allowed by law. Effective January 1, 2008, the maximum allocation is one hundred and four thousand four hundred dollars. This standard increases annually on January 1st based on the consumer price index. (For the current standard starting January 2008 and each year thereafter, see long-term care standards at http://www1.dshs.wa.gov/manuals/eaz/sections/LongTermCare/LTCstandardspna.shtml); or

(b) If the client's current period of institutional status began on or after August 1, 2003, the department allocates the greater of:

(i) A spousal share equal to one-half of the couple's combined countable resources as of the beginning of the current period of institutional status, up to the amount described in subsection (9)(a) of this section; or

(ii) The state spousal resource standard of forty-five thousand one hundred four dollars effective July 1, 2007 (this standard increases every odd year on July 1st). This increase is based on the consumer price index published by the federal bureau of labor statistics. For the current standard starting July 2007 and each year thereafter, see long-term care standards at http://www1.dshs.wa.gov/manuals/eaz/sections/LongTermCare/LTCstandardspna.shtml.

(10) The amount of the spousal share described in (9)(b)(i) can be determined anytime between the date that the current period of institutional status began and the date that eligibility for LTC services is determined. The following rules apply to the determination of the spousal share:

(a) Prior to an application for LTC services, the couple's combined countable resources are evaluated from the date of the current period of institutional status at the request of either member of the couple. The determination of the spousal share is completed when necessary documentation and/or verification is provided; or

(b) The determination of the spousal share is completed as part of the application for LTC services if the client was institutionalized prior to the month of application, and declares the spousal share exceeds the state spousal resource standard. The client is required to provide verification of the couple's combined countable resources held at the beginning of the current period of institutional status.

(11) The amount of allocated resources described in subsection (9) of this section can be increased, only if:

(a) A court transfers additional resources to the community spouse; or

(b) An administrative law judge establishes in a fair hearing described in chapter 388-02 WAC, that the amount is inadequate to provide a minimum monthly maintenance needs amount for the community spouse.

(12) The department considers resources of the community spouse unavailable to the institutionalized spouse the month after eligibility for LTC services is established, unless subsection (5) or (13)(a), (b), or (c) of this section applies.

(13) A redetermination of the couple's resources as described in subsection (7) is required, if:

(a) The institutionalized spouse has a break of at least thirty consecutive days in a period of institutional status;

(b) The institutionalized spouse's countable resources exceed the standard described in subsection (1)(a), if subsection (8)(b) applies; or

(c) The institutionalized spouse does not transfer the amount described in subsections (9) or (11) to the community spouse or to another person for the sole benefit of the community spouse as described in WAC 388-513-1365(4) by either:

(i) The first regularly scheduled eligibility review; or

(ii) The reasonable amount of additional time necessary to obtain a court order for the support of the community spouse.

WAC 388-513-1363 Evaluating the transfer of assets on or after May 1, 2006 for persons applying for or receiving long-term care (LTC) services. This section describes how the department evaluates asset transfers made on or after May 1, 2006 and their affect on LTC services. This applies to transfers by the client, spouse, a guardian or through an attorney in fact. Clients subject to asset transfer penalty periods are not eligible for LTC services. LTC services for the purpose of this rule include nursing facility services, services offered in any medical institution equivalent to nursing facility services, and home and community-based services furnished under a waiver program. Program of all-inclusive care of the elderly (PACE) and hospice services are not subject to transfer of asset rules. The department must consider whether a transfer made within a specified time before the month of application, or while the client is receiving LTC services, requires a penalty period.

• Refer to WAC 388-513-1364 for rules used to evaluate asset transfers made on or after April 1, 2003 and before May 1, 2006.

• Refer to WAC 388-513-1365 for rules used to evaluate asset transfer made prior to April 1, 2003.

(1) When evaluating the effect of the transfer of asset made on or after May 1, 2006 on the client's eligibility for LTC services the department counts sixty months before the month of application to establish what is referred to as the "look-back" period.

(2) The department does not apply a penalty period to transfers meeting the following conditions:

(a) The total of all gifts or donations transferred do not exceed the average daily private nursing facility rate in any month;

(b) The transfer is an excluded resource described in WAC 388-513-1350 with the exception of the client's home, unless the transfer of the home meets the conditions described in subsection (2)(d);

(c) The asset is transferred for less than fair market value (FMV), if the client can provide evidence to the department of one of the following:

(i) An intent to transfer the asset at FMV or other adequate compensation. To establish such an intent, the department must be provided with written evidence of attempts to dispose of the asset for fair market value as well as evidence to support the value (if any) of the disposed asset.

(ii) The transfer is not made to qualify for LTC services, continue to qualify, or avoid Estate Recovery. Convincing evidence must be presented regarding the specific purpose of the transfer.

(iii) All assets transferred for less than fair market value have been returned to the client.

(iv) The denial of eligibility would result in an undue hardship as described in WAC 388-513-1367.

(d) The transfer of ownership of the client's home, if it is transferred to the client's:

(i) Spouse; or

(ii) Child, who:

(A) Meets the disability criteria described in WAC 388-475-0050 (1)(b) or (c); or

(B) Is less than twenty-one years old; or

(C) Lived in the home for at least two years immediately before the client's current period of institutional status, and provided care that enabled the individual to remain in the home; or

(iii) Brother or sister, who has:

(A) Equity in the home, and

(B) Lived in the home for at least one year immediately before the client's current period of institutional status.

(e) The asset is transferred to the client's spouse or to the client's child, if the child meets the disability criteria described in WAC 388-475-0050 (1)(b) or (c);

(f) The transfer meets the conditions described in subsection (3), and the asset is transferred:

(i) To another person for the sole benefit of the spouse;

(ii) From the client's spouse to another person for the sole benefit of the spouse;

(iii) To trust established for the sole benefit of the individual's child who meets the disability criteria described in WAC 388-475-0050 (1)(b) or (c);

(iv) To a trust established for the sole benefit of a person who is sixty-four years old or younger and meets the disability criteria described in WAC 388-475-0050 (1)(b) or (c); or

(3) The department considers the transfer of an asset or the establishment of a trust to be for the sole benefit of a person described in subsection (1)(f), if the transfer or trust:

(a) Is established by a legal document that makes the transfer irrevocable;

(b) Provides that no individual or entity except the spouse, blind or disabled child, or disabled individual can benefit from the assets transferred in any way, whether at the time of the transfer or at any time during the life of the primary beneficiary; and

(c) Provides for spending all assets involved for the sole benefit of the individual on a basis that is actuarially sound based on the life expectancy of that individual or the term of the trust, whichever is less; and

(d) The requirements in subsection (2)(c) of this section do not apply to trusts described in WAC 388-561-0100 (6)(a) and (b) and (7)(a) and (b).

(4) The department does not establish a period of ineligibility for the transfer of an asset to a family member prior to the current period of long-term care service if:

(a) The transfer is in exchange for care services the family member provided the client;

(b) The client has a documented need for the care services provided by the family member;

(c) The care services provided by the family member are allowed under the medicaid state plan or the department's waiver services;

(d) The care services provided by the family member do not duplicate those that another party is being paid to provide;

(e) The FMV of the asset transferred is comparable to the FMV of the care services provided;

(f) The time for which care services are claimed is reasonable based on the kind of services provided; and

(g) Compensation has been paid as the care services were performed or with no more time delay than one month between the provision of the service and payment.

(5) The department considers the transfer of an asset in exchange for care services given by a family member that does not meet the criteria as described under subsection (4) as the transfer of an asset without adequate consideration.

(6) If a client or the client's spouse transfers an asset within the look-back period without receiving adequate compensation, the result is a penalty period in which the individual is not eligible for LTC services.

(7) If a client or the client's spouse transfers an asset on or after May 1, 2006, the department must establish a penalty period by adding together the total uncompensated value of all transfers made on or after May 1, 2006. The penalty period:

(a) For a LTC services applicant, begins on the date the client would be otherwise eligible for LTC services based on an approved application for LTC services or the first day after any previous penalty period has ended; or

(b) For a LTC services recipient, begins the first of the month following ten-day advance notice of the penalty period, but no later than the first day of the month that follows three full calendar months from the date of the report or discovery of the transfer; or the first day after any previous penalty period has ended; and

(c) Ends on the last day of the number of whole days found by dividing the total uncompensated value of the assets by the statewide average daily private cost for nursing facilities at the time of application or the date of transfer, whichever is later.

(8) If an asset is sold, transferred, or exchanged, the portion of the proceeds:

(a) That is used within the same month to acquire an excluded resource described in WAC 388-513-1350 does not affect the client's eligibility;

(b) That remain after an acquisition described in subsection (8)(a) becomes an available resource as of the first day of the following month.

(9) If the transfer of an asset to the client's spouse includes the right to receive a stream of income not generated by a transferred resource, the department must apply rules described in WAC 388-513-1330 (6) through (8).

(10) If the transfer of an asset for which adequate compensation is not received is made to a person other than the client's spouse and includes the right to receive a stream of income not generated by a transferred resource, the length of the penalty period is determined and applied in the following way:

(a) The total amount of income that reflects a time frame based on the actuarial life expectancy of the client who transfers the income is added together;

(b) The amount described in subsection (10)(a) is divided by the statewide average daily private cost for nursing facilities at the time of application; and

(c) A penalty period equal to the number of whole days found by following subsections (7)(a), (b), and (c).

(11) A penalty period for the transfer of an asset that is applied to one spouse is not applied to the other spouse, unless both spouses are receiving LTC services. When both spouses are receiving LTC services;

(a) We divide the penalty between the two spouses.

(b) If one spouse is no longer subject to a penalty (e.g. the spouse is no longer receiving institutional services or is deceased) any remaining penalty that applies to both spouses must be served by the remaining spouse.

(12) If a client or the client's spouse disagrees with the determination or application of a penalty period, that person may request a hearing as described in chapter 388-02 WAC.

WAC 388-513-1364 Evaluating the transfer of an asset made on or after April 1, 2003 for long-term care (LTC) services. This section describes how the department evaluates the transfer of an asset made on or after April 1, 2003, by a client who is applying or approved for LTC services. The department must consider whether a transfer made within a specified time before the month of application requires a penalty period in which the client is not eligible for these services. Refer to WAC 388-513-1365 for rules used to evaluate the transfer of an asset made before April 1, 2003. Refer to WAC 388-513-1363 for rules used to evaluate the transfer of an asset made on or after May 1, 2006.

(1) The department does not apply a penalty period to the following transfers by the client, if they meet the conditions described:

(a) Gifts or donations totaling one thousand dollars or less in any month;

(b) The transfer of an excluded resource described in WAC 388-513-1350 with the exception of the client's home, unless the transfer of the client's home meets the conditions described in subsection (1)(d);

(c) The transfer of an asset for less than fair market value (FMV), if the client can provide evidence to the department of one of the following:

(i) An intent to transfer the asset at FMV or other adequate compensation;

(ii) The transfer is not made to qualify for LTC services;

(iii) The client is given back ownership of the asset;

(iv) The denial of eligibility would result in an undue hardship.

(d) The transfer of ownership of the client's home, if it is transferred to the client's:

(i) Spouse; or

(ii) Child, who:

(A) Meets the disability criteria described in WAC 388-475-0050 (1)(b) or (c); or

(B) Is less than twenty-one years old; or

(C) Lived in the home for at least two years immediately before the client's current period of institutional status, and provided care that enabled the client to remain in the home; or

(iii) Brother or sister, who has:

(A) Equity in the home; and

(B) Lived in the home for at least one year immediately before the client's current period of institutional status.

(e) The transfer of an asset, if the transfer meets the conditions described in subsection (4), and the asset is transferred:

(i) To another person for the sole benefit of the spouse;

(ii) From the client's spouse to another person for the sole benefit of the spouse;

(iii) To trust established for the sole benefit of the client's child who meets the disability criteria described in WAC 388-475-0050 (1)(b) or (c);

(iv) To a trust established for the sole benefit of a person who is sixty-four years old or younger and meets the disability criteria described in WAC 388-475-0050 (1)(b) or (c); or

(f) The asset is transferred to the client's spouse or to the client's child, if the child meets the disability criteria described in WAC 388-475-0050 (1)(b) or (c).

(2) The department does not establish a period of ineligibility for the transfer of an asset to a family member prior to the current period of institutional status, if:

(a) The transfer is in exchange for care services the family member provided the client;

(b) The client has a documented need for the care services provided by the family member;

(c) The care services provided by the family member are allowed under the medicaid state plan or the department's waivered services;

(d) The care services provided by the family member do not duplicate those that another party is being paid to provide;

(e) The FMV of the asset transferred is comparable to the FMV of the care services provided;

(f) The time for which care services are claimed is reasonable based on the kind of services provided; and

(g) Compensation has been paid as the care services were performed or with no more time delay than one month between the provision of the service and payment.

(3) The department considers the transfer of an asset in exchange for care services given by a family member that does not meet the criteria as described under subsection (2) as the transfer of an asset without adequate consideration.

(4) The department considers the transfer of an asset or the establishment of a trust to be for the sole benefit of a person described in subsection (1)(e), if the transfer or trust:

(a) Is established by a legal document that makes the transfer irrevocable;

(b) Provides that no individual or entity except the spouse, blind or disabled child, or disabled individual can benefit from the assets transferred in any way, whether at the time of the transfer or at any time during the life of the primary beneficiary; and

(c) Provides for spending all assets involved for the sole benefit of the individual on a basis that is actuarially sound based on the life expectancy of that individual or the term or the trust, whichever is less; and

(d) The requirements in subsection (4)(c) of this section do not apply to trusts described in WAC 388-561-0100 (6)(a) and (b).

(5) If a client or the client's spouse transfers an asset within the look-back period described in WAC 388-513-1365 without receiving adequate compensation, the result is a penalty period in which the client is not eligible for LTC services. If a client or the client's spouse transfers an asset on or after April 1, 2003, the department must establish a penalty period as follows:

(a) If a single or multiple transfers are made within a single month, then the penalty period:

(i) Begins on the first day of the month in which the transfer is made; and

(ii) Ends on the last day of the number of whole days found by dividing the total uncompensated value of the assets by the statewide average daily private cost for nursing facilities at the time of application.

(b) If multiple transfers are made during multiple months, then the transfers are treated as separate events and multiple penalty periods are established that begin on the latter of:

(i) The first day of the month in which the transfer is made; or

(ii) The first day after any previous penalty period has ended and end on the last day of the whole number of days as described in subsection (5)(a)(ii).

(6) If an asset is sold, transferred, or exchanged, the portion of the proceeds:

(a) That is used within the same month to acquire an excluded resource described in WAC 388-513-1350 does not affect the client's eligibility;

(b) That remain after an acquisition described in subsection (6)(a) becomes an available resource as of the first day of the following month.

(7) If the transfer of an asset to the client's spouse includes the right to receive a stream of income not generated by a transferred resource, the department must apply rules described in WAC 388-513-1330 (6) through (8).

(8) If the transfer of an asset for which adequate compensation is not received is made to a person other than the client's spouse and includes the right to receive a stream of income not generated by a transferred resource, the length of the penalty period is determined and applied in the following way:

(a) The total amount of income that reflects a time frame based on the actuarial life expectancy of the client who transfers the income is added together;

(b) The amount described in subsection (8)(a) is divided by the statewide average daily private cost for nursing facilities at the time of application; and

(c) A penalty period equal to the number of whole days found by following subsections (5)(a) and (b) and (8)(a) and (b) is applied that begins on the latter of:

(i) The first day of the month in which the client transfers the income; or

(ii) The first day of the month after any previous penalty period has ended.

(9) A penalty period for the transfer of an asset that is applied to one spouse is not applied to the other spouse, unless:

(a) Both spouses are receiving LTC services; and

(b) A division of the penalty period between the spouses is requested.

(10) If a client or the client's spouse disagrees with the determination or application of a penalty period, that person may request a hearing as described in chapter 388-02 WAC.

WAC 388-513-1365 Evaluating the transfer of an asset made on or after March 1, 1997 and before April 1, 2003 for long-term care (LTC) services. This section describes how the department evaluates the transfer of an asset made on or after March 1, 1997 and before April 1, 2003, by a client who is applying or approved for LTC services. The department must consider whether a transfer made within a specified time before the month of application requires a penalty period in which the client is not eligible for these services. Refer to WAC 388-513-1366 for rules used to evaluate the transfer of an asset made before March 1, 1997. Refer to WAC 388-513-1364 for rules used to evaluate the transfer of an asset made on or after March 31, 2003. Refer to WAC 388-513-1363 for rules used to evaluate the transfer of an asset made on or after May 1, 2006.

(1) The department disregards the following transfers by the client, if they meet the conditions described:

(a) Gifts or donations totaling one thousand dollars or less in any month;

(b) The transfer of an excluded resource described in WAC 388-513-1350 with the exception of the client's home, unless the transfer meets the conditions described in subsection (1)(d);

(c) The transfer of an asset for less than fair market value (FMV), if the client can provide evidence to the department that satisfies one of the following:

(i) An intent to transfer the asset at FMV or other adequate compensation;

(ii) The transfer is not made to qualify for LTC services;

(iii) The client is given back ownership of the asset;

(iv) The denial of eligibility would result in an undue hardship.

(d) The transfer of ownership of the client's home, if it is transferred to the client's:

(i) Spouse; or

(ii) Child, who:

(A) Meets the disability criteria described in WAC 388-475-0050 (1)(b) or (c); or

(B) Is less than twenty-one years old; or

(iii) A son or daughter, who:

(A) Lived in the home for at least two years immediately before the client's current period of institutional status; and

(B) Provided care that enabled the client to remain in the home; or

(iv) A brother or sister, who has:

(A) Equity in the home, and

(B) Lived in the home for at least one year immediately before the client's current period of institutional status.

(e) The transfer of an asset other than the home, if the transfer meets the conditions described in subsection (4), and the asset is transferred:

(i) To the client's spouse or to another person for the sole benefit of the spouse;

(ii) From the client's spouse to another person for the sole benefit of the spouse;

(iii) To the client's child who meets the disability criteria described in WAC 388-475-0050 (1)(b) or (c) or to a trust established for the sole benefit of this child; or

(iv) To a trust established for the sole benefit of a person who is sixty-fours years old or younger and meets the disability criteria described in WAC 388-475-0050 (1)(b) or (c).

(f) The transfer of an asset to a member of the client's family in exchange for care the family member provided the client before the current period of institutional status, if a written agreement that describes the terms of the exchange:

(i) Was established at the time the care began;

(ii) Defines a reasonable FMV for the care provided that reflects a time frame based on the actuarial life expectancy of the client who transfers the asset; and

(iii) States that the transferred asset is considered payment for the care provided.

(2) When the fair market value of the care described in subsection (1)(f) is less than the value of the transferred asset, the department considers the difference the transfer of an asset without adequate consideration.

(3) The department considers the transfer of an asset in exchange for care given by a family member without a written agreement as described under subsection (1)(f) as the transfer of an asset without adequate consideration.

(4) The transfer of an asset or the establishment of a trust is considered to be for the sole benefit of a person described in subsection (1)(e), if the transfer or trust:

(a) Is established by a legal document that makes the transfer irrevocable; and

(b) Provides for spending all funds involved for the benefit of the person for whom the transfer is made within a time frame based on the actuarial life expectancy of that person.

(5) When evaluating the effect of the transfer of an asset on a client's eligibility for LTC services received on or after October 1, 1993, the department counts the number of months before the month of application to establish what is referred to as the "look-back" period. The following number of months apply as described:

(a) Thirty-six months, if all or part of the assets were transferred on or after August 11, 1993; and

(b) Sixty months, if all or part of the assets were transferred into a trust as described in WAC 388-561-0100.

(6) If a client or the client's spouse transfers an asset within the look-back period without receiving adequate compensation, the result is a penalty period in which the client is not eligible for LTC services. If a client or the client's spouse transfers an asset on or after March 1, 1997 and before April 1, 2003, the department must establish a penalty period as follows:

(a) If a single or multiple transfers are made within a single month, then the penalty period:

(i) Begins on the first day of the month in which the transfer is made; and

(ii) Ends on the last day of the number of whole months found by dividing the total uncompensated value of the assets by the statewide average monthly private cost for nursing facilities at the time of application.

(b) If multiple transfers are made during multiple months, then the transfers are treated as separate events and multiple penalty periods are established that:

(i) Begin on the latter of:

(A) The first day of the month in which the transfer is made; or

(B) The first day after any previous penalty period has ended; and

(ii) End on the last day of the whole number of months as described in subsection (6)(a)(ii).

(7) If an asset is sold, transferred, or exchanged, the portion of the proceeds:

(a) That is used within the same month to acquire an excluded resource described in WAC 388-513-1350 does not affect the client's eligibility;

(b) That remains after an acquisition described in subsection (7)(a) becomes an available resource as of the first day of the following month.

(8) If the transfer of an asset to the client's spouse includes the right to receive a stream of income not generated by a transferred resource, the department must apply rules described in WAC 388-513-1330 (6) through (8).

(9) If the transfer of an asset for which adequate compensation is not received is made to a person other than the client's spouse and includes the right to receive a stream not generated by a transferred resource, the length of the penalty period is determined and applied in the following way:

(a) The total amount of income that reflects a time frame based on the actuarial life expectancy of the client who transfers the income is added together;

(b) The amount described in (9)(a) is divided by the statewide average monthly private cost for nursing facilities at the time of application; and

(c) A penalty period equal to the number of whole months found by following subsections (9)(a) and (b) is applied that begins on the latter of:

(i) The first day of the month in which the client transfers the income; or

(ii) The first day of the month after any previous penalty period has ended.

(10) A penalty period for the transfer of an asset that is applied to one spouse is not applied to the other spouse, unless:

(a) Both spouses are receiving LTC services; and

(b) A division of the penalty period between the spouses is requested.

(11) If a client or the client's spouse disagrees with the determination or application of a penalty period, that person may request a hearing as described in chapter 388-02 WAC.

WAC 388-513-1366 Evaluating the transfer of an asset made before March 1, 1997 for long-term care (LTC) services. This section describes how the department evaluates the transfer of an asset made before March 1, 1997, by a client who is applying or approved for LTC services. The department must consider whether a transfer made within a specified time before the month of application requires a penalty period in which the client is not eligible for these services. Refer to WAC 388-513-1365 for rules used to evaluate the transfer of an asset on or after March 1, 1997.

(1) When evaluating the transfer of an asset made before March 1, 1997, the department must apply rules described in WAC 388-513-1365 (1) through (4) and (7) through (11) in addition to the rules described in this section.

(2) When evaluating the effect of the transfer of an asset on a client's eligibility for LTC services received before October 1, 1993, the department counts the number of months before the month of application to establish what is referred to as the "look-back" period. The following number of months apply as described:

(a) Thirty months, if the asset was transferred before August 11, 1993; or

(b) Thirty-six months, if the asset was transferred on or after August 11, 1993.

(3) If a client or the client's spouse transferred an asset without receiving adequate compensation before August 11, 1993, the department must establish a penalty period that:

(a) Runs concurrently for transfers made in more than one month in the look-back period; and

(b) Begins on the first day of the month in which the asset is transferred and ends on the last day of the month which is the lesser of:

(i) Thirty months after the month of transfer; or

(ii) The number of whole months found by dividing the total uncompensated value of the assets by the statewide average monthly private cost for nursing facilities at the time of application.

(4) If a client or the client's spouse transferred an asset without receiving adequate compensation on or after August 11, 1993 and before March 1, 1997, the department must establish a penalty period as follows:

(a) If the transfer is made during the look-back period, then the penalty period:

(i) Begins on the first day of the month in which the transfer is made; and

(ii) Ends on the last day of the number of whole months described in subsection (3)(b)(ii).

(b) If the transfer is made while the client is receiving LTC services or during a period of ineligibility, then the penalty period:

(i) Begins on the latter of the first day of the month:

(A) In which the transfer is made; or

(B) After a previous penalty period has ended; and

(ii) Ends on the last day of the number of whole months described in subsection (3)(b)(ii).

WAC 388-513-1367 Hardship waivers for long-term care (LTC) services. Clients who are denied or terminated from LTC services due to a transfer of asset penalty (described in WAC 388-513-1363, 388-513-1364 and 388-513-1365), or having excess home equity (described in WAC 388-513-1350) may apply for an undue hardship waiver. Notice of the right to apply for an undue hardship waiver will be given whenever there is a denial or termination based on an asset transfer or excess home equity. This section:

• Defines undue hardship;

• Specifies the approval criteria for an undue hardship request;

• Establishes the process the department follows for determining undue hardship; and

• Establishes the appeal process for a client whose request for an undue hardship is denied.

(1) When does undue hardship exist?

(a) Undue hardship may exist:

(i) When a client who transferred the assets or income, or on whose behalf the assets or income were transferred, either personally or through a spouse, guardian or attorney-in-fact, has exhausted all reasonable means including legal remedies to recover the assets or income or the value of the transferred assets or income that have caused a penalty period; and

(ii) The client provides sufficient documentation to support their efforts to recover the assets or income; or

(iii) The client is unable to access home equity in excess of five hundred thousand dollars due to a lien or legal impediment; and

(iv) When, without LTC benefits, the client is unable to obtain:

(A) Medical care to the extent that his or her health or life is endangered; or

(B) Food, clothing, shelter or other basic necessities of life.

(b) Undue hardship can be approved for an interim period while the client is pursuing recovery of the assets or income.

(2) Undue hardship does not exist:

(a) When the transfer of asset penalty period or excess home equity provision inconveniences a client or restricts their lifestyle but does not seriously deprive him or her as defined in subsection (1)(a)(iii) of this section;

(b) When the resource is transferred to a person who is handling the financial affairs of the client; or

(c) When the resource is transferred to another person by the individual that handles the financial affairs of the client.

(d) Undue hardship may exist under (b) and (c) if DSHS has found evidence of financial exploitation.

(3) How is an undue hardship waiver requested?

(a) An undue hardship waiver may be requested by:

(i) The client;

(ii) The client's spouse;

(iii) The client's authorized representative;

(iv) The client's power of attorney; or

(v) With the consent of the client or their guardian, a medical institution, as defined in WAC 388-500-0005, in which an institutionalized client resides.

(b) Request must:

(i) Be in writing;

(ii) State the reason for requesting the hardship waiver;

(iii) Be signed by the requestor and include the requestor's name, address and telephone number. If the request is being made on behalf of a client, then the client's name, address and telephone number must be included;

(iv) Be made within thirty days of the date of denial or termination of LTC services; and

(v) Returned to the originating address on the denial/termination letter.

(4) What if additional information is needed to determine a hardship waiver?

(a) A written notice to the client is sent requesting additional information within fifteen days of the request for an undue hardship waiver. Additional time to provide the information can be requested by the client.

(5) What happens if my hardship waiver is approved?

(a) The department sends a notice within fifteen days of receiving all information needed to determine a hardship waiver. The approval notice specifies a time period the undue hardship waiver is approved.

(b) Any changes in a client's situation that led to the approval of a hardship must be reported to the department by the tenth of the month following the change per WAC 388-418-0007.

(6) What happens if my hardship waiver is denied?

(a) The department sends a denial notice within fifteen days of receiving the requested information. The letter will state the reason it was not approved.

(b) The denial notice will have instructions on how to request an administrative hearing. The department must receive an administrative hearing request within ninety days of the date of the adverse action or denial.

(7) What statute or rules govern administrative hearings?

(a) An administrative hearing held under this section is governed by chapters 34.05 RCW and chapter 388-02 WAC and this section. If a provision in this section conflicts with a provision in chapter 388-02 WAC, the provision in this section governs.

(8) Can the department revoke an approved undue hardship waiver?

(a) The department may revoke approval of an undue hardship waiver if any of the following occur:

(i) A client, or his or her authorized representative, fails to provide timely information and/or resource verifications as it applies to the hardship waiver when requested by the department per WAC 388-490-0005 and 388-418-0007;

(ii) The lien or legal impediment that restricted access to home equity in excess of five hundred thousand dollars is removed; or

(iii) Circumstances for which the undue hardship was approved have changed.

WAC 388-513-1380 Determining a client's financial participation in the cost of care for long-term care (LTC) services. This rule describes how the department allocates income and excess resources when determining participation in the cost of care (the post-eligibility process). The department applies rules described in WAC 388-513-1315 to define which income and resources must be used in this process.

(1) For a client receiving institutional or hospice services in a medical institution, the department applies all subsections of this rule.

(2) For a client receiving waiver services at home or in an alternate living facility, the department applies only those subsections of this rule that are cited in the rules for those programs.

(3) For a client receiving hospice services at home, or in an alternate living facility, the department applies rules used for the community options program entry system (COPES) for hospice applicants with income under the medicaid special income level (SIL) (300% of the federal benefit rate (FBR)), if the client is not otherwise eligible for another noninstitutional categorically needy medicaid program. (Note: For hospice applicants with income over the medicaid SIL, medically needy medicaid rules apply.)

(4) The department allocates nonexcluded income in the following order and the combined total of (4)(a), (b), (c), and (d) cannot exceed the medically needy income level (MNIL):

(a) A personal needs allowance (PNA) of:

(i) One hundred sixty dollars for a client living in a state veterans' home;

(ii) Ninety dollars for a veteran or a veteran's surviving spouse, who receives the ninety dollar VA improved pension and does not live in a state veterans' home; or

(iii) Forty-one dollars and sixty-two cents for all clients in a medical institution receiving general assistance.

(iv) Effective July 1, 2007 through June 30, 2008 fifty-five dollars and forty-five cents for all other clients in a medical institution. Effective July 1, 2008 this PNA increases to fifty-seven dollars and twenty-eight cents.

(v) Current PNA and long-term care standards can be found at http://www1.dshs.wa.gov/manuals/eaz/sections/LongTermCare/LTCstandardspna.shtml.

(b) Mandatory federal, state, or local income taxes owed by the client.

(c) Wages for a client who:

(i) Is related to the Supplemental Security Income (SSI) program as described in WAC 388-475-0050(1); and

(ii) Receives the wages as part of a department-approved training or rehabilitative program designed to prepare the client for a less restrictive placement. When determining this deduction employment expenses are not deducted.

(d) Guardianship fees and administrative costs including any attorney fees paid by the guardian, after June 15, 1998, only as allowed by chapter 388-79 WAC.

(5) The department allocates nonexcluded income after deducting amounts described in subsection (4) in the following order:

(a) Income garnished for child support or withheld according to a child support order in the month of garnishment (for current and back support):

(i) For the time period covered by the PNA; and

(ii) Is not counted as the dependent member's income when determining the family allocation amount.

(b) A monthly maintenance needs allowance for the community spouse not to exceed, effective January 1, 2008, two thousand six hundred ten dollars, unless a greater amount is allocated as described in subsection (7) of this section. The community spouse maintenance allowance is increased each January based on the consumer price index increase (from September to September, http://www.bls.gov/cpi/). Starting January 1, 2008 and each year thereafter the community spouse maintenance allocation can be found in the long-term care standards chart at http://www1.dshs.wa.gov/manuals/eaz/sections/LongTermCare/LTCstandardspna.shtml. The monthly maintenance needs allowance:

(i) Consists of a combined total of both:

(A) One hundred fifty percent of the two person federal poverty level. This standard increases annually on July 1st (http://aspe.os.dhhs.gov/poverty/); and

(B) Excess shelter expenses as described under subsection (6) of this section.

(ii) Is reduced by the community spouse's gross countable income; and

(iii) Is allowed only to the extent the client's income is made available to the community spouse.

(c) A monthly maintenance needs amount for each minor or dependent child, dependent parent or dependent sibling of the community spouse or institutionalized person who:

(i) Resides with the community spouse:

(A) In an amount equal to one-third of one hundred fifty percent of the two person federal poverty level less the dependent family member's income. This standard increases annually on July 1st (http://aspe.os.dhhs.gov/poverty/).

(ii) Does not reside with the community spouse or institutionalized person, in an amount equal to the MNIL for the number of dependent family members in the home less the dependent family member's income.

(iii) Child support received from a noncustodial parent is the child's income.

(d) Medical expenses incurred by the institutional client and not used to reduce excess resources. Allowable medical expenses and reducing excess resources are described in WAC 388-513-1350.

(e) Maintenance of the home of a single institutionalized client or institutionalized couple:

(i) Up to one hundred percent of the one-person federal poverty level per month;

(ii) Limited to a six-month period;

(iii) When a physician has certified that the client is likely to return to the home within the six-month period; and

(iv) When social services staff documents the need for the income exemption.

(6) For the purposes of this section, "excess shelter expenses" means the actual expenses under subsection (6)(b) less the standard shelter allocation under subsection (6)(a). For the purposes of this rule:

(a) The standard shelter allocation is based on thirty percent of one hundred fifty percent of the two person federal poverty level. This standard increases annually on July 1st (http://aspe.os.dhhs.gov/poverty/); and

(b) Shelter expenses are the actual required maintenance expenses for the community spouse's principal residence for:

(i) Rent;

(ii) Mortgage;

(iii) Taxes and insurance;

(iv) Any maintenance care for a condominium or cooperative; and

(v) The food stamp standard utility allowance for four persons, provided the utilities are not included in the maintenance charges for a condominium or cooperative.

(7) The amount allocated to the community spouse may be greater than the amount in subsection (6)(b) only when:

(a) A court enters an order against the client for the support of the community spouse; or

(b) A hearings officer determines a greater amount is needed because of exceptional circumstances resulting in extreme financial duress.

(8) A client who is admitted to a medical facility for ninety days or less and continues to receive full SSI benefits is not required to use the SSI income in the cost of care for medical services. Income allocations are allowed as described in this section from non-SSI income.

(9) Standards described in this section for long-term care can be found at: http://www1.dshs.wa.gov/manuals/eaz/sections/LongTermCare/LTCstandardspna.shtml.

This section describes how the department determines a client's eligibility for institutional or hospice services in a medical institution and for facility care only under the MN program. In addition, this section describes rules used by the department to determine whether a client approved for these benefits is also eligible for noninstitutional medical assistance in a medical institution under the MN program.

(1) To be eligible for institutional or hospice services under the MN program for individuals living in a medical institution, a client must meet the financial requirements described in subsection (5). In addition, a client must meet program requirements described in WAC 388-513-1315; and

(a) Be an SSI-related client with countable income as described in subsection (4)(a) that is more than the special income level (SIL); or

(b) Be a child not described in subsection (1)(a) with countable income as described in subsection (4)(b) that exceeds the categorically needy (CN) standard for the children's medical program.

(2) For an SSI-related client, excess resources can be reduced by medical expenses as described in WAC 388-513-1350.

(3) The department determines a client's countable resources for institutional and hospice services under the MN programs as follows:

(a) For an SSI-related client, the department determines countable resources per WAC 388-513-1350.

(b) For a child not described in subsection (3)(a), no determination of resource eligibility is required.

(4) The department determines a client's countable income for institutional and hospice services under the MN program as follows:

(a) For an SSI-related client, the department reduces available income as described in WAC 388-513-1325 and 388-513-1330 by:

(ii) Disregarding income described in WAC 388-513-1345; and

(iii) Subtracting previously incurred medical expenses incurred by the client and not used to reduce excess resources. Allowable medical expenses and reducing excess resources are described in WAC 388-513-1350.

(b) For a child not described in subsection (4)(a), the department:

(i) Follows the income rules described in WAC 388-505-0210 for the children's medical program; and

(ii) Subtracts the medical expenses described in subsection (4).

(5) If the combined total of a client's countable income, when added to countable resources in excess of the standard described in WAC 388-513-1350(1), is less than the department-contracted rate plus the amount of recurring medical expenses, the client:

(a) Is eligible for institutional or hospice services in a medical institution, and noninstitutional medical assistance;

(b) Is approved for twelve months; and

(c) Participates in the cost of care as described in WAC 388-513-1380.

(6) If the combined total of a client's countable income, which when added to countable resources in excess of the standard described in WAC 388-513-1350(1) is less than the private nursing facility rate plus the amount of recurring medical expenses, but more than the department contracted rate, the client:

(ii) Participates in the cost of care as described in WAC 388-513-1380; and

(iii) Is not eligible for medical assistance or hospice services unless the requirements in (6)(b) or (c) are met.

(b) Is approved for medical assistance for a three or six month base period as described in chapter 388-519 WAC, if:

(i) No income and resources remain after the post eligibility treatment of income process described in WAC 388-513-1380.

WAC 388-515-1508 How does the department determine if you are financially eligible for home and community based (HCB) services and hospice if you are not eligible for medicaid under a categorically needy (CN) program listed in WAC 388-515-1507(1)? (1) If you are not eligible for medicaid under a categorically needy (CN) program listed in WAC 388-515-1507(1), the department must determine your eligibility using institutional medicaid rules. This section explains how you may qualify using institutional medicaid rules.

(2) You must meet the general eligibility requirements described in WAC 388-513-1315 and 388-515-1506.

(3) You must meet the following resource requirements:

(a) Resource limits described in WAC 388-513-1350.

(b) If you have resources over the standard allowed in WAC 388-513-1350, the department reduces resources over the standard by your unpaid medical expenses described in WAC 388-513-1350 (d), (e) and (f) if you verify these expenses.

(4) Your gross nonexcluded income must be at or below the special income level (SIL) which is three hundred percent of the federal benefit rate (FBR).

(5) The department follows the rules in WAC 388-515-1325, 388-513-1330, and 388-513-1340 to determine available income and income exclusions.

(6) Current resource and income standards (including the SIL and FBR) for long-term care are found at: http://www.dshs.wa.gov/manuals/eaz/sections/LongTermCare/LTCstandardspna.shtml.

WAC 388-515-1509 How does the department determine how much of my income I must pay towards the cost of my care if I am only eligible for home and community based (HCB) services under WAC 388-515-1508? If you are only eligible for medicaid under WAC 388-515-1508, the department determines how much you must pay based upon the following:

(1) If you are single and living at home as defined in WAC 388-106-0010, you keep all your income up to the federal poverty level (FPL) for your personal needs allowance (PNA).

(2) If you are married living at home as defined in WAC 388-106-0010, you keep all your income up to the medically needy income level (MNIL) for your PNA.

(3) If you live in an assisted living (AL) facility, enhanced adult residential center (EARC), or adult family home (AFH), you:

(a) Keep a PNA from your gross nonexluded income. The PNA is sixty-two dollars and seventy-nine cents effective July 1, 2008; and

(b) Pay for your room and board up to the ADSA room and board standard.

(4) In addition to paying room and board, you may also have to pay toward the cost of personal care. This is called your participation. Income that remains after the PNA and any room and board deduction is reduced by allowable deductions in the following order:

(a) If you are working, the department allows an earned income deduction of the first sixty-five dollars plus one-half of the remaining earned income.

(b) Guardianship fees and administrative costs including any attorney fees paid by the guardian only as allowed by chapter 388-79 WAC;

(c) Current or back child support garnished or withheld from your income according to a child support order in the month of the garnishment if it is for the current month. If the department allows this as deduction from your income, the department will not count it as your child's income when determining the family allocation amount;

(d) A monthly maintenance needs allowance for your community spouse not to exceed that in WAC 388-513-1380 (5)(b) unless a greater amount is allocated as described in subsection (e) of this section. This amount:

(i) Is allowed only to the extent that you make your income available to your community spouse; and

(ii) Consists of a combined total of both:

(A) One hundred fifty percent of the two person federal poverty level. This standard increases annually on July 1 (http://aspe.os.dhhs.gov/poverty/); and

(B) Excess shelter expenses. For the purposes of this section, excess shelter expenses are the actual required maintenance expenses for your community spouse's principal residence. These expenses are determined in the following manner:

(I) Rent, including space rent for mobile homes, plus;

(II) Mortgage, plus;

(III) Taxes and insurance, plus;

(IV) Any required payments for maintenance care for a condominium or cooperative, minus;

(V) The food assistance standard utility allowance (SUA) (for long-term care services this is set at the standard utility allowance for a four-person household), provided the utilities are not included in the maintenance charges for a condominium or cooperative, minus;

(VI) The standard shelter allocation. This standard is based on thirty percent of one hundred fifty percent of the two person federal poverty level. This standard increases annually on July 1 (http://aspe.os.dhhs.gov/poverty).

(e) Is reduced by your community spouse's gross countable income.

(f) The amount allocated to the community spouse may be greater than the amount in subsection (d)(ii) only when:

(i) There is a court order approving the higher amount for the support of your community spouse; or

(ii) A hearings officer determines a greater amount is needed because of exceptional circumstances resulting in extreme financial duress.

(g) A monthly maintenance needs amount for each minor or dependent child, dependent parent, or dependent sibling of your community or institutional spouse. The amount the department allows is based on the living arrangement of the dependent. If the dependent:

(i) Resides with your community spouse, the amount is equal to one-third of the community spouse allocation as described in WAC 388-513-1380 (5)(b)(i)(A) that exceeds the dependent family member's income (child support received from a noncustodial parent is considered the child's income);

(ii) Does not reside with the community spouse, the amount is equal to the MNIL based on the number of dependent family members in the home less their separate income (child support received from a noncustodial parent is considered the child's income).

(h) Your unpaid medical expenses which have not been used to reduce excess resources. Allowable medical expenses are described in WAC 388-513-1350.

(i) The total of the following deductions cannot exceed the SIL (three hundred percent of the FBR):

(i) Personal needs allowance in subsections (1), (2) and (3)(a) and (b); and

(ii) Earned income deduction of the first sixty-five dollars plus one-half of the remaining earned income in subsection (4)(a); and

(iii) Guardianship fees and administrative costs in subsection (4)(b).

(5) You must pay your provider the combination of the room and board amount and the cost of personal care services after all allowable deductions.

(6) You may have to pay third party resources described in WAC 388-501-0200 in addition to the room and board and participation. The combination of room and board, participation, and third party resources is the total amount you must pay.

(7) Current income and resource standards for long-term care (including SIL, MNIL, FPL, FBR) are located at: http://www.dshs.wa.gov/manuals/eaz/sections/LongTermCare/LTCstandardspna.shtml.

(8) If you are in multiple living arrangements in a month (an example is a move from an adult family home to a home setting on HCB services), the department allows you the highest PNA available based on all the living arrangements and services you have in a month.

(9) Current PNA and ADSA room and board standards are located at: http://www.dshs.wa.gov/manuals/eaz/sections/LongTermCare/ltcstandardsPNAchartsubfile.shtml.

WAC 388-515-1512 What are the financial requirements if I am eligible for medicaid under the noninstitutional categorically needy program (CN-P)? (1) You automatically meet income and resource eligibility for DDD waiver services if you are eligible for medicaid under a categorically needy program (CN-P) under one of the following programs:

(a) Supplemental Security Income (SSI) eligibility described in WAC 388-474-0001. This includes SSI clients under 1619B status. These clients have medicaid eligibility determined and maintained by the Social Security Administration;

(b) Healthcare for workers with disabilities (HWD) described in WAC 388-475-1000 through 388-475-1250;

(c) SSI-related CN-P medicaid described in WAC 388-475-0100 (2)(a) and (b) or meets the requirements in WAC 388-475-0880 and is CN-P eligible after the income disregards have been applied;

(d) CN-P medicaid for a child as described in WAC 388-505-0210 (1), (2), (7) or (8); or

(e) General assistance expedited medicaid disability (GA-X) or general assistance based on aged/blind/disabled criteria described in WAC 388-505-0110(6).

(2) If you are eligible for a CN-P medicaid program listed in subsection (1) above, you do not have to pay (participate) toward the cost of your personal care and/or habilitation services.

(3) If you are eligible for a CN-P medicaid program listed in subsection (1) above, you do not need to meet the initial eligibility income test of gross income at or below the special income level (SIL), which is three hundred percent of the federal benefit rate (FBR).

(4) If you are eligible for a CN-P medicaid program listed in subsection (1), you pay up to the ADSA room and board standard described in WAC 388-515-1505. Room and board and long-term care standards are located at http://www1.dshs.wa.gov/manuals/eaz/sections/LongTermCare/LTCstandardspna.shtml.

(a) If you live in an ARC, AFH or DDD group home, you keep a personal needs allowance (PNA) and use your income to pay up to the ADSA room and board standard. Effective January 1, 2009 the PNA is sixty-two dollars and seventy-nine cents.

(5) If you are eligible for a premium based medicaid program such as healthcare for workers with disabilities (HWD), you must continue to pay the medicaid premium to remain eligible for that CN-P program.

WAC 388-515-1513 How does the department determine if I am financially eligible for medical coverage if I am not eligible for medicaid under a categorically needy program (CN-P) listed in WAC 388-515-1512(1)? If you are not eligible for medicaid under a categorically needy program (CN-P) listed in WAC 388-515-1512(1), we must determine your eligibility using institutional medicaid rules. This section explains how you may qualify under this program. You may be required to pay towards the cost of your care if you are eligible under this program. The rules explaining how much you have to pay are listed in WAC 388-515-1514. To qualify, you must meet both the resource and income requirements.

(1) If you have resources which are higher than the standard allowed under WAC 388-515-1350, we may reduce the amount we are required to count if you have unpaid medical expenses.

(a) We will reduce your resources in an amount equal to the unpaid medical expenses you verify. The anticipated cost of your waiver services cannot be used as a medical expense to qualify for this deduction.

(b) If your remaining resources, after the deduction in section (1)(a) are still over the standard, you are ineligible until your resources are below the standard.

(c) You are not subject to a transfer of asset penalty described in WAC 388-513-1363 through 388-513-1366.

(d) Equity in your home is five hundred thousand dollars or less as described in WAC 388-513-1350.

(2) Your gross nonexcluded income must be at or below the special income level (SIL) which is three hundred percent of the federal benefit level. The department follows the rules in WAC 388-515-1325, 388-513-1330 and 388-513-1340 to determine available income and income exclusions.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.04.057, 74.08.090, 74.09.500, 74.09.530, and Washington state 2007-09 operating budget (SHB 1128). 08-11-083, § 388-515-1513, filed 5/20/08, effective 6/20/08.]

WAC 388-515-1514 How does the department determine how much of my income I must pay towards the cost of my care if I am not eligible for medicaid under a categorically needy program (CN-P) listed in WAC 388-515-1512(1)? If you are not eligible for medicaid under a categorically needy program (CN-P) listed in WAC 388-515-1512 (1), the department determines how much you must pay based upon the following:

(1) If you are an SSI-related client living at home as defined in WAC 388-106-0010, you keep all your income up to the SIL (three hundred percent of the FBR) for your personal needs allowance (PNA).

(2) If you are an SSI-related client and you live in an ARC, AFH or DDD group home, you:

(a) Keep a personal needs allowance (PNA) from your gross nonexcluded income. Effective January 1, 2009 the PNA is sixty-two dollars and seventy-nine cents; and

(b) Pay for your room and board up to the ADSA room and board rate described in http://www1.dshs.wa.gov/manuals/eaz/sections/LongTermCare/LTCstandardspna.shtml.

(3) Income that remains after the allocation described in (2) above, is reduced by allowable deductions in the following order:

(a) If you are working, we allow an earned income deduction of the first sixty-five dollars plus one-half of the remaining earned income;

(b) Guardianship fees and administrative costs including any attorney fees paid by the guardian only as allowed by chapter 388-79 WAC;

(c) Current or back child support garnished from your income or withheld according to a child support order in the month of the garnishment if it is for the current month. If we allow this as deduction from your income, we will not count it as your child's income when determining the family allocation amount;

(d) A monthly maintenance needs allowance for your community spouse not to exceed that in WAC 388-513-1380 (5)(b) unless a greater amount is allocated as described in subsection (e) of this section. This amount:

(i) Is allowed only to the extent that your income is made available to your community spouse; and

(ii) Consists of a combined total of both:

(A) One hundred fifty percent of the two person federal poverty level. This standard increases annually on July 1st (http://aspe.os.dhhs.gov/poverty/); and

(B) Excess shelter expenses. For the purposes of this section, excess shelter expenses are the actual required maintenance expenses for your community spouse's principal residence. These expenses are determined in the following manner:

(I) Rent, including space rent for mobile homes, plus;

(II) Mortgage, plus;

(III) Taxes and insurance, plus;

(IV) Any required payments for maintenance care for a condominium or cooperative minus;

(V) The food assistance standard utility allowance (for long term care services this is set at the standard utility allowance (SUA) for a four-person household), provided the utilities are not included in the maintenance charges for a condominium or cooperative, minus;

(VI) The standard shelter allocation. This standard is based on thirty percent of one hundred fifty percent of the two person federal poverty level. This standard increases annually on July 1st (http://aspe.os.dhhs.gov/poverty); and

(VII) Is reduced by your community spouse's gross countable income.

(iii) May be greater than the amount in subsection (d)(ii) only when:

(A) There is a court order approving a higher amount for the support of your community spouse; or

(B) A hearings officer determines a greater amount is needed because of exceptional circumstances resulting in extreme financial duress.

(e) A monthly maintenance needs amount for each minor or dependent child, dependent parent or dependent sibling of your community or institutionalized spouse. The amount we allow is based on the living arrangement of the dependent. If the dependent:

(i) Resides with your community spouse, the amount is equal to one-third of the community spouse allocation as described in WAC 388-513-1380 (5)(b)(i)(A) that exceeds the dependent family member's income (child support received from a noncustodial parent is considered the child's income);

(ii) Does not reside with the community spouse, the amount is equal to the MNIL based on the number of dependent family members in the home less their separate income (child support received from a noncustodial parent is considered the child's income).

(f) Your unpaid medical expenses which have not been used to reduce excess resources. Allowable medical expenses are described in WAC 388-513-1350.

(g) The total of the following deductions cannot exceed the SIL (three hundred percent of the FBR):

(i) Personal needs allowances in subsection (1) for in home or subsection (2)(a) in a residential setting; and

(ii) Earned income deduction of the first sixty-five dollars plus one-half of the remaining earned income in subsection (3)(a); and

(iii) Guardianship fees and administrative costs in subsection (3)(b).

(4) If you are eligible for general assistance expedited medicaid disability (GA-X) or general assistance based on aged/blind/disabled criteria described in WAC 388-505-0110(6), you do not participate in the cost of personal care and you may keep the following:

(a) When you live at home, you keep the cash grant amount authorized under the general assistance program;

(b) When you live in an AFH, you keep a PNA of thirty-eight dollars and eighty-four cents, and pay any remaining income and general assistance grant to the facility for the cost of room and board up to the ADSA room and board standard described in http://www1.dshs.wa.gov/manuals/eaz/sections/LongTermCare/LTCstandardspna.shtml; or

(c) When you live in an ARC or DDD group home, you are only eligible to receive a cash grant of thirty-eight dollars and eighty-four cents which you keep for your PNA.

(5) The combination of the room and board amount and the cost of personal care and/or habilitation services (participation) after all allowable deductions have been considered is called your total responsibility. You pay this amount to the ARC, AFH or DDD group home provider.

(iii) Have not previously been used to reduce excess resources;

(iv) Have not been used to reduce client responsibility toward cost of care; and

(v) Are amounts for which the client remains liable.

(5) The department determines a client's countable income under MNRW in the following way:

(a) Considers income available described in WAC 388-513-1325 and 388-513-1330 (1), (2), and (3);

(b) Excludes income described in WAC 388-513-1340;

(c) Disregards income described in WAC 388-513-1345;

(d) Deducts monthly health insurance premiums, except medicare premiums.

(6) If the client's countable income is:

(a) Less than the residential facility's department-contracted rate, based on an average of 30.42 days in a month the client may qualify for MNRW subject to availability per WAC 388-106-0435;

(b) More than the residential facility's department-contracted rate, based on an average of 30.42 days in a month the client may qualify for MNRW when they meet the requirements described in subsections (7) through (9), subject to availability per WAC 388-106-0435.

(7) The portion of a client's countable income over the department-contracted rate is called "excess income."

(8) A client who meets the requirements for MNRW chooses a three or six month base period. The months must be consecutive calendar months.

(9) A client who has or will have "excess income" is not eligible for MNRW until the client has medical expenses which are equal in amount to that excess income. This is the process of meeting "spenddown." The excess income from each of the months in the base period is added together to determine the total "spenddown" amount.

(10) Medical expenses described in subsection (4) of this WAC may be used to meet spenddown if not already used in subsection (4) of this WAC to disregard excess resources or to reduce countable income as described in subsection (5)(d).

(11) In cases where spenddown has been met, medical coverage begins the day services are authorized.

(12) The client's income that remains after determining available income in WAC 388-513-1325 and 388-513-1330 (1), (2), (3) and excluded income in WAC 388-513-1340 is paid towards the cost of care after deducting the following amounts in the order listed:

(a) An earned income deduction of the first sixty-five dollars plus one-half of the remaining earned income;

(b) Personal needs allowance (PNA) described in WAC 388-515-1505. (Long-term care standards can be found at http://www1.dshs.wa.gov/manuals/eaz/sections/LongTermCare/LTCstandardspna.shtml);

(c) Medicare and health insurance premiums not used to meet spenddown or reduce excess resources described in WAC 388-513-1350;

(d) Incurred medical expenses described in (4) not used to meet spenddown or reduce excess resources described in WAC 388-513-1350.

(7) The portion of a client's countable income over the MNIL is called "excess income."

(8) A client who has or will have "excess income" is not eligible for MNIW until the client has medical expenses which are equal in amount to that excess income. This is the process of meeting "spenddown." The excess income from each of the months in the base period is added together to determine the total "spenddown" amount.

(a) Medicare Part B premiums; and

(b) Only the Part A and B co-insurance, deductibles, and copayments up to the medicare or medicaid allowed amount, whichever is less (WAC 388-502-0110), if the service is covered by medicare and medicaid.

(6) For the dual-eligible client, (a client receiving both medicare and CN or MN medical coverage) the department pays as follows:

(a) If the service is covered by medicare and medicaid, medicaid pays only the deductible, and coinsurance up to the medicare or medicaid allowed amount, whichever is less (WAC 388-502-0110); and

(b) Copayments for medicare advantage Part C up to the medicare or medicaid allowed copayment amount, whichever is less (WAC 388-502-0110);

WAC 388-519-0100 Eligibility for the medically needy program. (1) A person who meets the following conditions is considered for medically needy (MN) coverage under the special rules in chapter 388-513 WAC.

(a) A person who meets the institutional status requirements of WAC 388-513-1320; or

(b) A person who receives waiver services under chapter 388-515 WAC.

(2) MN coverage is considered under this chapter when a person:

(a) Is not excluded under subsection (1) of this section; and

(b) Is not eligible for categorically needy (CN) medical coverage because they have CN countable income which is above the CN income standard.

(3) MN coverage is available for children, for persons who are pregnant or for persons who are SSI-related. MN coverage is available to an aged, blind, or disabled ineligible spouse of an SSI recipient even though that spouse's countable income is below the CN income standard. Adults with no children must be SSI related in order to be qualified for MN coverage.

(4) A person not eligible for CN medical and who is applying for MN coverage has the right to income deductions in addition to those used to arrive at CN countable income. The following deductions are used to calculate their countable income for MN. Those deductions to income are applied to each month of the base period and determine MN countable income:

(a) All health insurance premiums expected to be paid by the client during the base period are deducted from their income; and

(b) For persons who are SSI-related and who are married, see the income provisions for the nonapplying spouse in WAC 388-450-0210; and

(c) For persons who are not SSI-related and who are married, an income deduction is allowed for a nonapplying spouse:

(i) If the nonapplying spouse is living in the same home as the applying person; and

(ii) The nonapplying spouse is receiving community and home based services under chapter 388-515 WAC; then

(iii) The income deduction is equal to the one person MNIL less the nonapplying spouse's actual income.

(5) A person who meets the above conditions is eligible for MN medical coverage if their MN countable income is at or below the medically needy income level (MNIL) in WAC 388-478-0070. They are certified as eligible for up to twelve months of MN medical coverage. Certain SSI or SSI-related clients have a special MNIL. That MNIL exception is described in WAC 388-513-1305.

(6) A person whose MN countable income exceeds the MNIL may become eligible for MN medical coverage when they have or expect to have medical expenses. Those medical expenses or obligations may be used to offset any portion of their income which is over the MNIL.

(7) That portion of a person's MN countable income which is over the department's MNIL standard is called "excess income."

(8) When a person has or will have "excess income" they are not eligible for MN coverage until they have medical expenses which are equal in amount to that excess income. This is the process of meeting "spenddown."

(9) A person who is considered for MN coverage under this chapter may not spenddown excess resources to become eligible for the MN program. Under this chapter a person is ineligible for MN coverage if their resources exceed the program standard in WAC 388-478-0070. A person who is considered for MN coverage under chapter 388-513 WAC is allowed to spenddown excess resources.

(10) No extensions of coverage or automatic redetermination process applies to MN coverage. A client must submit an application for each eligibility period under the MN program.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.04.055, 74.04.057 and 74.08.090. 98-16-044, § 388-519-0100, filed 7/31/98, effective 9/1/98. Formerly WAC 388-503-0320, 388-518-1840, 388-519-1930 and 388-522-2230.]

WAC 388-519-0110 Spenddown of excess income for the medically needy program. (1) The person applying for MN medical coverage chooses a three month or a six month base period for spenddown calculation. The months must be consecutive calendar months unless one of the conditions in subsection (4) of this section apply.

(2) A person's base period begins on the first day of the month of application, subject to the exceptions in subsection (4) of this section.

(3) A separate base period may be made for a retroactive period. The retroactive base period is made up of the three calendar months immediately prior to the month of application.

(4) A base period may vary from the terms in subsections (1), (2), or (3) of this section if:

(a) A three month base period would overlap a previous eligibility period; or

(b) A client is not or will not be resource eligible for the required base period; or

(c) The client is not or will not be able to meet the TANF-related or SSI-related requirement for the required base period; or

(d) The client is or will be eligible for categorically needy (CN) coverage for part of the required base period; or

(e) The client was not otherwise eligible for MN coverage for each of the months of the retroactive base period.

(5) The amount of a person's "spenddown" is calculated by the department. The MN countable income from each month of the base period is compared to the MNIL. The excess income from each of the months in the base period is added together to determine the "spenddown" for the base period.

(6) If income varies and a person's MN countable income falls below the MNIL for one or more months, the difference is used to offset the excess income in other months of the base period. If this results in a spenddown amount of zero dollars and cents, see WAC 388-519-0100(5).

(7) Once a person's spenddown amount is known, their qualifying medical expenses are subtracted from that spenddown amount to determine the date of eligibility. The following medical expenses are used to meet spenddown:

(a) First, medicare and other health insurance deductibles, coinsurance charges, enrollment fees, or copayments;

(b) Second, medical expenses which would not be covered by the MN program;

(c) Third, hospital expenses paid by the person during the base period;

(d) Fourth, hospital expenses, regardless of age, owed by the applying person;

(e) Fifth, other medical expenses, potentially payable by the MN program, which have been paid by the applying person during the base period; and

(f) Sixth, other medical expenses, potentially payable by the MN program which are owed by the applying person.

(8) If a person meets the spenddown obligation at the time of application, they are eligible for MN medical coverage for the remainder of the base period. The beginning date of eligibility would be determined as described in WAC 388-416-0020.

(9) If a person's spenddown amount is not met at the time of application, they are not eligible until they present evidence of additional expenses which meets the spenddown amount.

(10) To be counted toward spenddown, medical expenses must:

(a) Not have been used to meet a previous spenddown; and

(b) Not be the confirmed responsibility of a third party. The entire expense will be counted unless the third party confirms its coverage within:

(i) Forty-five days of the date of the service; or

(ii) Thirty days after the base period ends; and

(c) Meet one of the following conditions:

(i) Be an unpaid liability at the beginning of the base period and be for services for:

(A) The applying person; or

(B) A family member legally or blood-related and living in the same household as the applying person.

(ii) Be for medical services either paid or unpaid and incurred during the base period; or

(iii) Be for medical services paid and incurred during a previous base period if that client payment was made necessary due to delays in the certification for that base period.

(11) An exception to the provisions in subsection (10) of this section exists. Medical expenses the person owes are applied to spenddown even if they were paid by or are subject to payment by a publicly administered program during the base period. To qualify, the program cannot be federally funded or make the payments of a person's medical expenses from federally matched funds. The expenses do not qualify if they were paid by the program before the first day of the base period.

(12) The following medical expenses which the person owes are applied to spenddown. Each dollar of an expense or obligation may count once against a spenddown cycle that leads to eligibility for MN coverage:

(a) Charges for services which would have been covered by the department's medical programs as described in WAC 388-501-0060 and 388-501-0065, less any confirmed third party payments which apply to the charges; and

(b) Charges for some items or services not typically covered by the department's medical programs, less any third party payments which apply to the charges. The allowable items or services must have been provided or prescribed by a licensed health care provider; and

(c) Medical insurance and medicare copayments or coinsurance (premiums are income deductions under WAC 388-519-0100(4)); and

(d) Medical insurance deductibles including those medicare deductibles for a first hospitalization in sixty days.

(13) Medical expenses may be used more than once if:

(a) The person did not meet their total spenddown amount and did not become eligible in that previous base period; and

(b) The medical expense was applied to that unsuccessful spenddown and remains an unpaid bill.

(14) To be considered toward spenddown, written proof of medical expenses for services rendered to the client must be presented to the department. The deadline for presenting medical expense information is thirty days after the base period ends unless good cause for delay can be documented.

(15) The medical expenses applied to the spenddown amount are the client's financial obligation and are not reimbursed by the department (see WAC 388-502-0100).

(16) Once a person meets their spenddown and they are issued a medical identification card for MN coverage, newly identified expenses cannot be considered toward that spenddown. Once the application is approved and coverage begins the beginning date of the certification period cannot be changed due to a clients failure to identify or list medical expenses.

(a) Month four of the extension period, for months one, two, and three; and

WAC 388-523-0120 Medical extensions—Premiums. (1) "Countable income" means, for the purposes of determining the premium amount described in this chapter, all earned income of the adult family members, minus the amount of employment-related child care paid for by the family. The earned income of an adult, living in the household, who is financially responsible for other members of the assistance unit is included, whether or not the person is an eligible member of the assistance unit.

(2) The department requires the family to pay premiums for medical coverage provided during the second six-month medical extension period. The premium amount is one percent of the family's average countable income rounded down to the nearest whole dollar. This whole dollar amount is billed per adult per month. See subsection (3).

(3) The premiums for:

(a) Months seven, eight, and nine are based solely on the average countable income received in months one, two and three of the medical extension period; and

(b) Months ten, eleven, and twelve are based solely on the average countable income received in months four, five, and six of the medical extension period.

(4) A subsequent change in income does not effect the premium amount described in subsection (2) and (3) of this section.

(5) When a family's premium is one month in arrears, the family is ineligible for the balance of the medical extension period unless good cause exists. Reasons for good cause include, but are not limited to:

(a) Illness, mental impairment, injury, trauma, or stress;

(b) Lack of understanding the premium payment requirement due to a language barrier;

(c) Transportation problems;

(d) Nonpayment of the premium because the client expected to be able to meet the family medical needs, but could not; or

(e) Receipt of incorrect information or nonreceipt of advance and adequate notice about the premium payment requirements. WAC 388-422-0020 (4) and (5) provisions regarding good cause rights and periodic review apply to good cause for nonpayment of premiums.

(6) The department exempts individual family members from premium payment requirements, as follows:

(a) Children;

(b) Pregnant women;

(c) American Indians and Alaska Natives; and

(d) Caretaker adults in a family whose countable income is equal to or less than one hundred percent of the federal poverty level based on family size as described in WAC 388-478-0075(2).

(7) When determining the exemption described in subsection (6)(b), the premium exemption is effective the first of the month following the client's report of the pregnancy to the department.

(8) When determining the exemption described in subsection (6)(d), the department shall include in the household size an unborn child and a person who is financially responsible for other members of the assistance unit, whether or not the person is an eligible member of the assistance unit. A person receiving SSI cash assistance is not included when determining the household size.

(9) The department determines a family's exemption from the premium requirement as described in subsection (6)(d) for:

(a) Months seven, eight and nine based solely on information available to the department at the time the premium for these months is calculated; and

(b) Months ten, eleven, and twelve based solely on information available to the department at the time the premium for these months is calculated.

(10) Any change resulting in an individual meeting the exemption criteria in subsection (6)(d) after the establishment of the premium amount for months seven, eight and nine is used to calculate the premium amount for months ten, eleven, and twelve. Any change resulting in an individual meeting the exemption criteria in subsection (6)(d) after the establishment of the premium amount for months ten, eleven, and twelve is not used to recalculate the premium amount for months ten, eleven, and twelve.

WAC 388-527-2750 Delay of recovery for undue hardship. The department delays recovery under this section when the department determines that recovery would cause an undue hardship for a qualified individual(s). This delay is limited to the period during which the undue hardship exists. The undue hardship must exist at the time of the client's death in order to be considered for a delay of recovery.

(1) Undue hardship exists when:

(a) The estate subject to adjustment or recovery is the sole income-producing asset of one or more qualified individuals and income is limited; or

(b) Recovery would deprive a qualified individual of shelter and the qualified individual lacks the financial means to obtain and maintain alternative shelter.

(2) Undue hardship does not exist when:

(a) The adjustment or recovery of the decedent's cost of assistance would merely cause the qualified individual inconvenience or restrict his or her lifestyle; or

(b) The undue hardship was created as a result of estate planning methods by which the qualified individual or deceased client divested, transferred or otherwise encumbered assets, in whole or in part, to avoid recovery from the estate.

(3) When a delay in recovery is not granted, the department provides notice to the person who requested the delay of recovery. The department's notice includes information on how to request an administrative hearing to contest the department's denial.

(4) When a delay of recovery is granted, the department may revoke the delay of recovery if the qualified individual(s):

(a) Fails to supply timely information and resource declaration when requested by the department;

(b) Sells, transfers, or encumbers title to the property;

(c) Fails to reside full-time on the premises;

(d) Fails to pay property taxes and utilities when due;

(e) Fails to identify the state of Washington as the primary payee on the property insurance policies. The person granted the delay of recovery must provide the department with documentation of the coverage status on an annual basis.

(f) Have a change in circumstances under subsection (1) of this section for which the delay of recovery due to undue hardship was granted; or

(g) Dies.

(5) When a delay of recovery is granted due to undue hardship, the department has the option to:

(a) Apply a lien; and/or

(b) Accept a payment plan.

(b) Signed hardcopy prescriptions given to a client, whether handwritten or computer-generated.

(3) This requirement does not apply to:

(a) Prescriptions paid for by Washington's healthy options (HO) program or other department contracted managed care organizations.

(b) Prescription drugs that are part of the per diem or bundled rate and not reimbursed separately in designated institutional or clinical settings, such as a nursing facility, ICF/MR, dental office, hospice, or radiology. For example, a morphine prescription used to control a hospice client's cancer pain is covered under the hospice per diem rate and therefore the tamper-resistant prescription requirement is not required.

(c) Telephone, fax or electronic prescriptions.

(d) Refill prescriptions, if the original written prescriptions were presented at a pharmacy before April 1, 2008.

(e) Prescriber or clinic drug samples given directly to the client.

(f) An institutional setting, as defined in WAC 388-500-0005, where the prescriber writes the order into the medical records and the orders go directly to the pharmacy.

(4) Effective April 1, 2008, the tamper-resistant prescription pads and paper must meet at least one of the following industry recognized characteristics:

(a) One or more features designed to prevent unauthorized copying of a completed or blank prescription form;

(b) One or more features designed to prevent the erasure or modification of information written on the prescription by the prescriber; or

(c) One or more features designed to prevent the use of counterfeit prescription forms.

(5) Effective October 1, 2008, the tamper-resistant prescription pads and paper must contain all of the three characteristics in subsection (4) of this section.

(6) If the written prescription is not on tamper-resistant paper, the pharmacy may provide the prescription on an emergency basis. The pharmacy must verify the prescription with the prescriber by telephone, fax, or electronic communication, or by physical receipt of a tamper-resistant written prescription within seventy-two hours of filling the prescription.

(7) Federal controlled substance laws on controlled substances apply when prescribing or dispensing schedule II drugs.

(8) Record retention requirements (WAC 388-502-0020) remain in effect. Additional documentation is required as follows:

(a) Documentation by the pharmacy of verbal confirmation of a noncompliant written prescription.

(b) Documentation by the pharmacy of verbal confirmation about the authenticity of the tamper-resistant prescription.

(9) To submit a claim for a medicaid client retroactively certified for medicaid, the following applies:

(a) The prescription must meet the tamper-resistant compliance requirement.

(b) Refills that occur after the date on which the client is determined to be eligible require a new, tamper-resistant prescription in compliance with this WAC.

(c) If the original order is not compliant with subsection (4) of this section, the pharmacy must obtain a verbal, faxed, or email confirmation of the prescription from the prescriber.

(d) The pharmacy must reimburse the client in accordance with WAC 388-502-0160.

AUTHORIZATION

WAC 388-530-3000 When the department requires authorization. Pharmacies must obtain authorization for covered drugs, devices, or drug-related supplies in order to receive reimbursement as described in this section.

(1) The department's pharmacists and medical consultants:

(a) Have determined that authorization for the drug, device, or drug-related supply is required, as described in WAC 388-530-3100; or

(b) Have not yet reviewed the manufacturer's dossier of drug information submitted in the Academy of Managed Care Pharmacy (AMCP) format.

(2) The drug, device, or drug-related supply is in the therapeutic drug class on the Washington preferred drug list and the product is one of the following:

(a) Nonpreferred as described in WAC 388-530-4100; and

(i) The prescriber is a nonendorsing practitioner; or

(ii) The drug is designated as exempt from the therapeutic interchange program per WAC 388-530-4100(6) or 388-530-4150 (2)(c);

(b) Preferred for a special population or specific indication and has been prescribed by a nonendorsing practitioner under conditions for which the drug, device, or drug-related supply is not preferred; or

(c) Determined to require authorization for safety.

(3) For the purpose of promoting safety, efficacy, and effectiveness of drug therapy, the department identifies clients or groups of clients who would benefit from further clinical review.

(4) The department designates the prescriber(s) as requiring authorization because the prescriber(s) is under department review or is sanctioned for substandard quality of care.

(5) Utilization data indicate there are health and safety concerns or the potential for misuse and abuse. Examples of utilization concerns include:

(a) Multiple prescriptions filled of the same drug in the same calendar month;

(b) Prescriptions filled earlier than necessary for optimal therapeutic response;

(c) Therapeutic duplication;

(d) Therapeutic contraindication;

(e) Excessive dosing, excessive duration of therapy, or subtherapeutic dosing as determined by FDA labeling or the compendia of drug information; and

WAC 388-530-3100 How the department determines when a drug requires authorization. (1) The department's pharmacists and medical consultants evaluate new covered drugs, new covered indications, or new dosages approved by the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) to determine the drug authorization requirement.

(a) The clinical team uses a drug evaluation matrix to evaluate and score the benefit/risk assessment and cost comparisons of drugs to similar existing drugs based on quality evidence contained in compendia of drug information and peer-reviewed medical literature.

(b) In performing this evaluation the clinical team may consult with other department clinical staff, financial experts, and program managers. The department may also consult with an evidence-based practice center, the drug use review (DUR) board, and/or medical experts in this evaluation.

(c) Information reviewed in the drug evaluation matrix includes, but is not limited to, the following:

(i) The drug, device, or drug-related supply's benefit/risk ratio;

(ii) Potential for clinical misuse;

(iii) Potential for client misuse/abuse;

(iv) Narrow therapeutic indication;

(v) Safety concerns;

(vi) Availability of less costly therapeutic alternatives; and

(vii) Product cost and outcome data demonstrating the drug, device, or drug-related supply's cost effectiveness.

(d) Based on the clinical team's evaluation and the drug evaluation matrix score, the department may determine that the drug, device, or drug-related supply:

(i) Requires authorization;

(ii) Requires authorization to exceed department established limitations; or

(iii) Does not require authorization.

(2) Drugs in therapeutic classes on the Washington preferred drug list are not subject to determination of authorization requirements through the drug evaluation matrix. Authorization requirements are determined by their preferred status according to WAC 388-530-4100.

(3) The department periodically reviews existing drugs, devices, or drug-related supplies and reassigns authorization requirements as necessary according to the same provisions as outlined above for new drugs, devices, or pharmaceutical supplies.

(4) For any drug, device, or drug-related supply with limitations or requiring authorization, the department may elect to apply automated authorization criteria according to WAC 388-530-3200.

WAC 388-530-3200 The department's authorization process. (1) The department may establish automated ways for pharmacies to meet authorization requirements for specified drugs, devices, and drug-related supplies, or circumstances as listed in WAC 388-530-3000(4) including, but are not limited to:

(a) Use of expedited authorization codes as published in the department's prescription drug program billing instructions and numbered memoranda;

(b) Use of specified values in national council of prescription drug programs (NCPDP) claim fields;

(c) Use of diagnosis codes; and

(d) Evidence of previous therapy within the department's claim history.

(2) When the automated requirements in subsection (1) of this section do not apply or cannot be satisfied, the pharmacy provider must request authorization from the department before dispensing. The pharmacy provider must:

(a) Ensure the request states the medical diagnosis and includes medical justification for the drug, device, drug-related supply, or circumstance as listed in WAC 388-530-3000(4); and

(b) Keep documentation on file of the prescriber's medical justification that is communicated to the pharmacy by the prescriber at the time the prescription is filled. The records must be retained for the period specified in WAC 388-502-0020 (1)(c).

(3) When the department receives the request for authorization:

(a) The department acknowledges receipt:

(i) Within twenty-four hours if the request is received during normal state business hours; or

(ii) Within twenty-four hours of opening for business on the next business day if received outside of normal state business hours.

(b) The department reviews all evidence submitted and takes one of the following actions within fifteen business days:

(i) Approves the request;

(ii) Denies the request if the requested service is not medically necessary; or

(iii) Requests the prescriber submit additional justifying information.

(A) The prescriber must submit the additional information within ten days of the department's request.

(B) The department approves or denies the request within five business days of the receipt of the additional information.

(C) If the prescriber fails to provide the additional information within ten days, the department will deny the requested service. The department sends a copy of the request to the client at the time of denial.

(4) The department's authorization may be based on, but not limited to:

(a) Requirements under this chapter and WAC 388-501-0165;

(b) Client safety;

(c) Appropriateness of drug therapy;

(d) Quantity and duration of therapy;

(e) Client age, gender, pregnancy status, or other demographics; and

(f) The least costly therapeutically equivalent alternative.

(5) The department evaluates request for authorization of covered drugs, devices, and drug-related supplies that exceed limitations in this chapter on a case-by-case basis in conjunction with subsection (4) of this section and WAC 388-501-0169.

(6) If a provider needs authorization to dispense a covered drug outside of normal state business hours, the provider may dispense the drug without authorization only in an emergency. The department must receive justification from the provider within seventy-two hours of the fill date, excluding weekends and Washington state holidays, to be paid for the emergency fill.

(7) The department may remove authorization requirements under WAC 388-530-3000 for, but not limited to, the following:

(a) Prescriptions written by specific practitioners based on consistent high quality of care; or

(b) Prescriptions filled at specific pharmacies and billed to the department at the pharmacies' lower acquisition cost.

(8) Authorization requirements in WAC 388-530-3000 are not a denial of service.

(9) Rejection of a claim due to the authorization requirements listed in WAC 388-530-3000 is not a denial of service.

(10) When a claim requires authorization, the pharmacy provider must request authorization from the department. If the pharmacist fails to request authorization as required, the department does not consider this a denial of service.

(11) Denials that result as part of the authorization process will be issued by the department in writing.

(12) The department's authorization:

(a) Is a decision of medical appropriateness; and

(b) Does not guarantee payment.

QUALITY OF CARE

WAC 388-530-4000 Drug use review (DUR) board. In accordance with 42 CFR 456.716, the department establishes a drug use review (DUR) board.

(1) The DUR board:

(iii) Drug use review, evaluation, and intervention; and

(iv) Medical quality assurance.

(b) Is made up of at least one-third but not more than fifty-one percent physicians, and at least one-third pharmacists.

(2) The department may appoint members of the pharmacy and therapeutics committee established by the health care authority (HCA) under chapter 182-50 WAC or other qualified individuals to serve as members of the DUR board.

(3) The DUR board meets periodically to:

WAC 388-530-4050 Drug use and claims review. (1) The department's drug use review (DUR) consists of:

(a) A prospective drug use review (Pro-DUR) that requires all pharmacy providers to:

(i) Obtain patient histories of allergies, idiosyncrasies, or chronic condition(s) which may relate to drug utilization;

(ii) Screen for potential drug therapy problems; and

(iii) Counsel the patient in accordance with existing state pharmacy laws and federal regulations.

(2) The department reviews a periodic sampling of claims to determine if drugs are appropriately dispensed and billed. If a review of the sample finds that a provider is inappropriately dispensing or billing for drugs, the department may implement corrective action that includes, but is not limited to:

(a) Educating the provider regarding the problem practice(s);

(b) Requiring the provider to maintain specific documentation in addition to the normal documentation requirements regarding the provider's dispensing or billing actions;

(c) Recouping the payment for the drug(s); and/or

(d) Terminating the provider's core provider agreement (CPA).

WAC 388-530-4100 Washington preferred drug list (PDL). Under RCW 69.41.190 and 70.14.050, the department, and other state agencies cooperate in developing and maintaining the Washington preferred drug list.

(1) Washington state contracts with evidence-based practice center(s) for systematic reviews of drug(s).

(2) The pharmacy and therapeutics (P&T) committee reviews and evaluates the safety, efficacy, and outcomes of prescribed drugs, using evidence-based information provided by the evidence-based practice center(s).

(3) The P&T committee makes recommendations to state agencies as to which drug(s) to include on the Washington PDL, under chapter 182-50 WAC.

(4) The appointing authority makes the final selection of drugs included on the Washington PDL.

(5) Drugs in a drug class on the Washington PDL, that have been studied by the evidence-based practice center(s) and reviewed by the P&T committee, and which have not been selected as preferred are considered nonpreferred drugs and are subject to the therapeutic interchange program (TIP) and dispense as written (DAW) rules under WAC 388-530-4150.

(6) Drugs in a drug class on the Washington PDL that have not been studied by the evidence-based practice center(s) and have not been reviewed by the P&T committee will be treated as nonpreferred drugs not subject to the dispense as written (DAW) or the therapeutic interchange program (TIP).

(7) A nonpreferred drug, which the department determines as covered, is considered for authorization after the client has:

(a) Tried and failed or is intolerant to at least one preferred drug; and

(b) Met department established criteria for the nonpreferred drug.

(8) Drugs in a drug class on the Washington PDL may be designated as preferred drugs for special populations or specific indications.

(9) Drugs in a drug class on the Washington PDL may require authorization for safety.

(10) Combination drugs that have been studied by the evidence-based practice center and have reviewed by the P&T committee may be included in the Washington PDL.

WAC 388-530-4150 Therapeutic interchange program (TIP). This section contains the department's rules for the endorsing practitioner therapeutic interchange program (TIP). TIP is established under RCW 69.41.190 and 70.14.-050. The statutes require state-operated prescription drug programs to allow physicians and other prescribers to endorse a Washington preferred drug list (PDL) and, in most cases, requires pharmacists to automatically substitute a preferred, equivalent drug from the list.

(1) The therapeutic interchange program (TIP) applies only to drugs:

(a) Within therapeutic classes on the Washington PDL;

(b) Studied by the evidence-based practice center(s);

(c) Reviewed by the P&T committee; and

(d) Prescribed by an endorsing practitioner.

(2) TIP does not apply:

(a) When the pharmacy and therapeutics (P&T) committee determines that TIP does not apply to the therapeutic class on the PDL; or

(b) To a drug prescribed by a nonendorsing practitioner.

(3) A practitioner who wishes to become an endorsing practitioner must specifically enroll with the health care authority (HCA) as an endorsing practitioner, under the provisions of chapter 182-50 WAC.

(4) When an endorsing practitioner writes a prescription for a client for a nonpreferred drug, or for a preferred drug for a special population or indication other than the client's population or indication, and indicates that substitution is permitted, the pharmacist must:

(a) Dispense a preferred drug in that therapeutic class in place of the nonpreferred drug; and

(b) Notify the endorsing practitioner of the specific drug and dose dispensed.

(5) When an endorsing practitioner determines that a nonpreferred drug is medically necessary, all of the following apply:

(a) The practitioner must indicate that the prescription is to be dispensed as written (DAW);

(b) The pharmacist dispenses the nonpreferred drug as prescribed; and

(c) The department does not require prior authorization to dispense the nonpreferred drug in place of a preferred drug except when the drug requires authorization for safety.

(6) In the event the following therapeutic drug classes are on the Washington PDL, pharmacists will not substitute a preferred drug for a nonpreferred drug in these therapeutic drug classes when the endorsing practitioner prescribes a refill (including the renewal of a previous prescription or adjustments in dosage, and samples):

(a) Antipsychotic;

(b) Antidepressant;

(c) Chemotherapy;

(d) Antiretroviral;

(e) Immunosuppressive; or

(f) Immunomodulator/antiviral treatment for hepatitis C for which an established, fixed duration of therapy is prescribed for at least twenty-four weeks but no more than forty-eight weeks.

WAC 388-530-5000 Billing requirements—Pharmacy claim payment. (1) When billing the department for pharmacy services, providers must:

(a) Use the appropriate department claim form or electronic billing specifications;

(b) Include the actual eleven-digit national drug code (NDC) number of the product dispensed from a rebate eligible manufacturer;

(c) Bill the department using metric decimal quantities which is the National Council for Prescription Drug Programs (NCPDP) billing unit standard;

(d) Meet the general provider documentation and record retention requirements in WAC 388-502-0020; and

(e) Maintain proof of delivery receipts.

(i) When a provider delivers an item directly to the client or the client's authorized representative, the provider must be able to furnish proof of delivery including signature, client's name and a detailed description of the item(s) delivered.

(ii) When a provider mails an item to the client, the provider must be able to furnish proof of delivery including a mail log.

(iii) When a provider uses a delivery/shipping service to deliver items, the provider must be able to furnish proof of delivery and it must:

(A) Include the delivery service tracking slip with the client's name or a reference to the client's package(s); the delivery service package identification number; and the delivery address.

(B) Include the supplier's shipping invoice, with the client's name; the shipping service package identification number; and a detailed description(s).

(iv) Make proof of delivery receipts available to the department, upon request.

(2) When billing drugs under the expedited authorization process, providers must insert the authorization number which includes the corresponding criteria code(s) in the appropriate data field on the drug claim.

(3) Pharmacy services for clients on restriction under WAC 388-501-0135 must be prescribed by the client's primary care provider and are paid only to the client's primary pharmacy, except in cases of:

(a) Emergency;

(b) Family planning services; or

(c) Services properly referred from the client's assigned pharmacy or physician/ARNP.

WAC 388-530-5050 Billing requirements—Point-of-sale (POS) system/prospective drug use review (Pro-DUR). (1) Pharmacy claims for drugs and other products listed in the department's drug file and billed to the department by national drug code (NDC) are adjudicated by the department's point-of-sale (POS) system. Claims must be submitted for payment using the billing unit standard identified in WAC 388-530-5000.

(2) All pharmacy drug claims processed through the POS system undergo a system-facilitated prospective drug use review (Pro-DUR) screening as a complement to the Pro-DUR screening required of pharmacists.

(3) If the POS system identifies a potential drug therapy problem during Pro-DUR screening, a message will alert the pharmacy provider indicating the type of potential problem. The alerts regarding possible drug therapy problems include, but are not limited to:

(a) Therapeutic duplication;

(b) Duration of therapy exceeds the recommended maximum period;

(c) Drug-to-drug interaction;

(d) Drug disease precaution;

(e) High dose;

(f) Ingredient duplication;

(g) Drug-to-client age conflict;

(h) Drug-to-client gender conflict; or

(i) Refill too soon.

(4) The department provides pharmacy providers with a list of codes from which to choose in overriding POS system alert messages. These codes come from the National Council For Prescription Drug Programs (NCPDP).

(5) The dispensing pharmacist evaluates the potential drug therapy conflict and enters applicable NCPDP codes representing their professional interaction.

(a) If the resolution to the conflict satisfies department requirements, the claim will be processed accordingly.

(b) If the resolution to the conflict does not satisfy department requirements, the department requires prior authorization. This includes all claims for which an alert message is triggered in the POS system and an NCPDP override code is not appropriate.

(6) The department requires providers to retain documentation of the justification for the use of payment system override codes as described in subsections (4) and (5) of this section. The department requires the documentation be retained for the same period as that described in WAC 388-502-0020.

(7) POS/Pro-DUR screening is not applicable to pharmacy claims included in the managed care capitated rate.

WAC 388-530-5100 Billing requirements—Unit dose. (1) To be eligible for a unit dose dispensing fee from the department, a pharmacy must:

(a) Notify the department in writing of its intent to provide unit dose service;

(b) Identify the nursing facility(ies) to be served;

(c) Indicate the approximate date unit dose service to the facility(ies) will commence; and

(d) Follow department requirements for unit dose payment.

(2) Under a unit dose delivery system, a pharmacy must bill only for the number of drug units actually used by the medical assistance client in the nursing facility, except as provided in subsections (3), (4), and (5) of this section. It is the unit dose pharmacy provider's responsibility to coordinate with nursing facilities to ensure that the unused drugs the pharmacy dispensed to clients are returned to the pharmacy for credit.

(3) The pharmacy must submit an adjustment form or claims reversal of the charge to the department for the cost of all unused drugs returned to the pharmacy from the nursing facility on or before the sixtieth day following the date the drug was dispensed, except as provided in subsection (5) of this section. Such adjustment must conform to the nursing facility's monthly log as described in subsection (7) of this section.

(4) The department pays a unit dose provider a dispensing fee when a provider-packaged unit dose prescription is returned, in its entirety, to the pharmacy. A dispensing fee is not paid if the returned prescription is for a drug with a manufacturer-designated unit dose national drug code (NDC). In addition to the dispensing fee paid under this subsection, the provider may bill the department one unit of the tablet or capsule but must credit the department for the remainder of the ingredient costs for the returned prescription.

(5) Unit dose providers do not have to credit the department for federally designated schedule two drugs which are returned to the pharmacy. These returned drugs must be disposed of according to federal regulations.

(6) Pharmacies must not charge clients or the department a fee for repackaging a client's bulk medications in unit dose form. The costs of repackaging are the responsibility of the nursing facility when the repackaging is done:

(a) To conform with a nursing facility's drug delivery system; or

(b) For the nursing facility's convenience.

(7) The pharmacy must maintain detailed records of medications dispensed under unit dose delivery systems. The pharmacy must keep a monthly log for each nursing facility served, including but not limited to the following information:

(a) Facility name and address;

(b) Client's name and patient identification code (PIC);

(c) Drug name/strength;

(d) National drug code (NDC);

(e) Quantity and date dispensed;

(f) Quantity and date returned;

(g) Value of returned drugs or amount credited;

(h) Explanation for no credit given or nonreusable returns; and

(i) Prescription number.

(8) Upon the department's request, the pharmacy must submit copies of the logs referred to in subsection (7) of this section.

(9) When the pharmacy submits the completed annual prescription volume survey to the department, it must include an updated list of all nursing facilities currently served under unit dose systems.

MAIL-ORDER SERVICES

WAC 388-530-6000 Mail-order services. The department provides a contracted mail-order pharmacy service for client use. The mail-order contractor is selected as a result of a competitive procurement process.

(1) The contracted mail-order pharmacy service is available as an option to all medical assistance clients, subject to the:

(a) Scope of the client's medical care program;

(b) Availability of services from the contracted mail-order provider; and

(c) Special terms and conditions described in subsection (2) and (3) of this section.

(2) The mail-order prescription service may not dispense medication in a quantity greater than authorized by the prescriber. (See RCW 18.64.360(5), Nonresident pharmacies.)

(3) Prescribed medications may be filled by the mail-order pharmacy service within the following restrictions:

(a) Drugs available from mail-order in no more than a ninety day supply include:

(i) Preferred drugs (see WAC 388-530-4100);

(ii) Generic drugs; and

(iii) Drugs that do not have authorization requirements (see WAC 388-530-3000 through 388-530-3200).

(b) Drugs available in no more than a thirty-four-day supply:

(i) Controlled substances (schedules II through V); and

(ii) Drugs having authorization requirements (see WAC 388-530-3000).

(c) Other pharmacy restrictions (chapter 388-530 WAC, Pharmacy services) continue to apply.

(4) The contracted mail-order pharmacy services are reimbursed at levels lower than those established for the regular outpatient pharmacy services.

REIMBURSEMENT

WAC 388-530-7000 Reimbursement. (1) The department's total reimbursement for a prescription drug must not exceed the lowest of:

(a) Estimated acquisition cost (EAC) plus a dispensing fee;

(b) Maximum allowable cost (MAC) plus a dispensing fee;

(c) Federal upper limit (FUL) plus a dispensing fee;

(d) Actual acquisition cost (AAC) plus a dispensing fee for drugs purchased under section 340B of the Public Health Service (PHS) Act;

(e) Automated maximum allowable cost (AMAC) plus a dispensing fee; or

(f) The provider's usual and customary charge to the nonmedicaid population.

(2) The department selects the sources for pricing information used to set EAC and MAC.

(3) The department may solicit assistance from pharmacy providers, pharmacy benefit managers (PBM), other government agencies, actuaries, and/or other consultants when establishing EAC and/or MAC.

(4) The department reimburses a pharmacy for the least costly dosage form of a drug within the same route of administration, unless the prescriber has designated a medically necessary specific dosage form or the department has selected the more expensive dosage form as a preferred drug.

(5) If the pharmacy provider offers a discount, rebate, promotion or other incentive which directly relates to the reduction of the price of a prescription to the individual nonmedicaid customer, the provider must similarly reduce its charge to the department for the prescription.

(6) If the pharmacy provider gives an otherwise covered product for free to the general public, the pharmacy must not submit a claim to the department.

(7) The department does not reimburse for:

(a) Prescriptions written on presigned prescription blanks filled out by nursing facility operators or pharmacists;

(b) Prescriptions without the date of the original order;

(c) Drugs used to replace those taken from a nursing facility emergency kit;

(d) Drugs used to replace a physician's stock supply;

(e) Outpatient drugs, biological products, insulin, supplies, appliances, and equipment included in other reimbursement methods including, but not limited to:

(i) Diagnosis-related group (DRG);

(ii) Ratio of costs-to-charges (RCC);

(iii) Nursing facility daily rates;

(iv) Managed care capitation rates;

(v) Block grants; or

(vi) Drugs prescribed for clients who are on the department's hospice program when the drugs are related to the client's terminal illness and related condition.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.08.090, 74.09.530, and 74.09.-700. 07-20-049, § 388-530-7000, filed 9/26/07, effective 11/1/07.]

WAC 388-530-7050 Reimbursement—Dispensing fee determination. (1) Subject to the provisions of WAC 388-530-7000 and the exceptions permitted in WAC 388-530-2000, the department pays a dispensing fee for each covered, prescribed drug.

(2) The department does not pay a dispensing fee for nondrug items, devices, or drug-related supplies.

(3) The department adjusts the dispensing fee by considering factors including, but not limited to:

(a) Legislative appropriations for vendor rates;

(b) Input from provider and/or advocacy groups;

(c) Input from state-employed or contracted actuaries; and

(d) Dispensing fees paid by other third-party payers, including, but not limited to, health care plans and other states' medicaid agencies.

(4) The department uses a tiered dispensing fee system which pays higher volume pharmacies at a lower fee and lower volume pharmacies at a higher fee.

(5) The department uses total annual prescription volume (both medicaid and nonmedicaid) reported to the department to determine each pharmacy's dispensing fee tier.

(a) A pharmacy which fills more than thirty-five thousand prescriptions annually is a high-volume pharmacy. The department considers hospital-based pharmacies that serve both inpatient and outpatient clients as high-volume pharmacies.

(b) A pharmacy which fills between fifteen thousand one and thirty-five thousand prescriptions annually is a mid-volume pharmacy.

(c) A pharmacy which fills fifteen thousand or fewer prescriptions annually is a low-volume pharmacy.

(6) The department determines a pharmacy's annual total prescription volume as follows:

(a) The department sends out a prescription volume survey form to pharmacy providers during the first quarter of the calendar year;

(b) Pharmacies return completed prescription volume surveys to the department each year. Pharmacy providers not responding to the survey by the specified date are assigned to the high volume category;

(c) Pharmacies must include all prescriptions dispensed from the same physical location in the pharmacy's total prescription count;

(d) The department considers prescriptions dispensed to nursing facility clients as outpatient prescriptions; and

(e) Assignment to a new dispensing fee tier is effective on the first of the month, following the date specified by the department.

(7) A pharmacy may request a change in dispensing fee tier during the interval between the annual prescription volume surveys. The pharmacy must substantiate such a request with documentation showing that the pharmacy's most recent six-month dispensing data, annualized, would qualify the pharmacy for the new tier. If the department receives the documentation by the twentieth of the month, assignment to a new dispensing fee tier is effective on the first of the following month.

(8) The department grants general dispensing fee rate increases only when authorized by the legislature. Amounts authorized for dispensing fee increases may be distributed nonuniformly (e.g., tiered dispensing fee based upon volume).

(9) The department may pay true unit dose pharmacies at a different rate for unit dose dispensing.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.08.090, 74.09.530, and 74.09.-700. 07-20-049, § 388-530-7050, filed 9/26/07, effective 11/1/07.]

WAC 388-530-7100 Reimbursement—Pharmaceutical supplies. (1) The department reimburses for selected pharmaceutical supplies through the pharmacy point-of-sale (POS) system when it is necessary for client access and safety.

(2) The department bases reimbursement of pharmaceutical items or supplies that are not payable through the POS on department-published fee schedules.

(3) The department uses any or all of the following methodologies to set the maximum allowable reimbursement rate for drugs, devices, and drug-related supplies:

(a) A pharmacy provider's acquisition cost. Upon review of the claim, the department may require an invoice which must show the name of the item, the manufacturer, the product description, the quantity, and the current cost including any free goods associated with the invoice;

(b) Medicare's reimbursement rate for the item; or

(c) A specified discount off the item's list price or manufacturer's suggested retail price (MSRP).

(4) The department does not pay a dispensing fee for nondrug items, devices, or drug-related supplies. See WAC 388-530-7050.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.08.090, 74.09.530, and 74.09.-700. 07-20-049, § 388-530-7100, filed 9/26/07, effective 11/1/07.]

WAC 388-530-7150 Reimbursement—Compounded prescriptions. (1) The department does not consider reconstitution to be compounding.

(2) The department covers a drug ingredient used for a compounded prescription only when the manufacturer has a signed rebate agreement with the federal Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS).

(3) The department considers bulk chemical supplies used in compounded prescriptions as nondrug items, which do not require a drug rebate agreement. The department covers such bulk chemical supplies only as specifically approved by the department.

(4) The department reimburses pharmacists for compounding drugs only if the client's drug therapy needs are unable to be met by commercially available dosage strengths and/or forms of the medically necessary drug.

(a) The pharmacist must ensure the need for the adjustment of the drug's therapeutic strength and/or form is well documented in the client's file.

(b) The pharmacist must ensure that the ingredients used in a compounded prescription are for an approved use as defined in "medically accepted indication" in WAC 388-530-1050.

(5) The department requires that each drug ingredient used for a compounded prescription be billed to the department using its eleven-digit national drug code (NDC) number.

(6) Compounded prescriptions are reimbursed as follows:

(a) The department allows only the lowest cost for each covered ingredient, whether that cost is determined by actual acquisition cost (AAC), estimated acquisition cost (EAC), federal upper limit (FUL), maximum allowable cost (MAC), automated maximum allowable cost (AMAC), or amount billed.

(b) The department applies current prior authorization requirements to drugs used as ingredients in compounded prescriptions, except as provided under subsection (6)(c) of this section. The department denies payment for a drug requiring authorization when authorization is not obtained.

(c) The department may designate selected drugs as not requiring authorization when used for compounded prescriptions. For the list of selected drugs, refer to the department's prescription drug program billing instructions.

(d) The department pays a dispensing fee as described under WAC 388-530-7050 for each drug ingredient used in compounding when the conditions of this section are met and each ingredient is billed separately by the eleven digit NDC.

(e) The department does not pay a separate fee for compounding time.

(7) The department requires pharmacists to document the need for each inactive ingredient added to the compounded prescription. The department limits reimbursement to the inactive ingredients that meet the following criteria. To be reimbursed by the department, each inactive ingredient must be:

(a) A necessary component of a compounded drug; and

(b) Billed by an eleven digit national drug code (NDC).

WAC 388-530-7200 Reimbursement—Out-of-state prescriptions. (1) The department reimburses out-of-state pharmacies for prescription drugs provided to an eligible client within the scope of the client's medical care program if the pharmacy:

(a) Contracts with the department to be an enrolled provider; and

(b) Meets the same criteria the department requires for in-state pharmacy providers.

(2) The department considers pharmacies located in bordering areas listed in WAC 388-501-0175 the same as in-state pharmacies.

(a) Chapter 388-531 WAC, Physician-related services;

(b) Chapter 388-532 WAC, Reproductive health/family planning only/TAKE CHARGE; and

(c) Chapter 388-540 WAC, Kidney services.

(2) Providers who are purchasers of Public Health Services (PHS) discounted drugs must comply with PHS 340b program requirements. (See WAC 388-530-7900).

(3) The department may request providers to submit a current invoice for the actual cost of the drug, device, or drug-related supply billed. If an invoice is requested, the invoice must show the:

(a) Name of the drug, device, or drug-related supply;

(b) Drug or product manufacturer;

(c) NDC of the product(s);

(d) Drug strength;

(e) Product description;

(f) Quantity; and

(g) Cost, including any free goods associated with the invoice.

WAC 388-530-7300 Reimbursement—Requesting a change. Upon request from a pharmacy provider, the department may reimburse at actual acquisition cost (AAC) for a drug that would otherwise be reimbursed at maximum allowable cost (MAC) when:

(1) The availability of lower cost equivalents in the marketplace is severely curtailed and the price disparity between AAC for the drug and the MAC reimbursement affects clients' access; and

(2) An invoice documenting actual acquisition cost relevant to the date the drug was dispensed is provided to the department.

(2) Unit dose delivery systems may be either true or modified unit dose.

(3) The department pays pharmacies that provide unit dose delivery services the department's highest allowable dispensing fee for each unit dose prescription dispensed to clients in nursing facilities. The department reimburses ingredient costs for drugs under unit dose systems as described in WAC 388-530-7000.

(4) The department pays a pharmacy that dispenses drugs in bulk containers or multidose forms to clients in nursing facilities the regular dispensing fee applicable to the pharmacy's total annual prescription volume tier. Drugs the department considers not deliverable in unit dose form include, but are not limited to, liquids, creams, ointments, ophthalmic and otic solutions. The department reimburses ingredient costs as described in WAC 388-530-7000.

(5) The department pays a pharmacy that dispenses drugs prepackaged by the manufacturer in unit dose form to clients in nursing facilities the regular dispensing fee applicable under WAC 388-530-7050. The department reimburses ingredient costs for drugs prepackaged by the manufacturer in unit dose form as described in WAC 388-530-7000.

(6) The department limits its coverage and payment for manufacturer-designated unit dose packaging to the following conditions:

(a) The drug is a single source drug and a multidose package for the drug is not available;

(b) The drug is a multiple source drug but there is no other multidose package available among the drug's generic equivalents; or

(c) The manufacturer-designated unit dose package is the most cost-effective package available or it is the least costly alternative form of the drug.

(7) The department reimburses a pharmacy provider for manufacturer-designated unit dose drugs dispensed to clients not residing in nursing facilities only when such drugs:

(a) Are available in the marketplace only in manufacturer-designated unit dose packaging; and

(b) Would otherwise be covered as an outpatient drug. The unit dose dispensing fee does not apply in such cases. The department pays the pharmacy the dispensing fee applicable to the pharmacy's total annual prescription volume tier.

The manufacturer must be listed on the list of participating manufacturers as published by CMS.

(2) The fill date must be within the manufacturer's beginning and ending eligibility dates to be reimbursed by the department.

(3) The department may extend this rebate requirement to any outpatient drug reimbursements as allowed or required by federal law.

(a) An amount up to the department's maximum allowable fee for drugs medicare does not cover, but the department covers; or

(b) Deductible and/or coinsurance amounts up to medicare's or the department's maximum allowable fee, whichever is less, for drugs medicare and the department cover; or

(c) Deductible and/or coinsurance amounts for clients under the qualified medicare beneficiary (QMB) program for drugs medicare covers but the department does not cover.

(2) Medicare Part D:

(a) For payment of medicare Part D drugs:

(i) Medicare is the primary payer for covered Part D drugs;

(ii) The department pays only the copayment up to a maximum amount set by the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS); and

(iii) The client is responsible for copayments above the maximum amount.

(b) For drugs excluded from the basic medicare Part D benefits:

(i) The department offers the same drug benefit as a non-dual eligible client has within those same classes;

WAC 388-530-7800 Reimbursement—Clients with third-party liability. (1) The department requires providers to meet the third party requirements of WAC 388-501-0200.

(2) The following definitions apply to this section:

(a) "Closed pharmacy network" means an arrangement made by an insurer which restricts prescription coverage to an exclusive list of pharmacies. This arrangement prohibits the coverage and/or payment of prescriptions provided by a pharmacy that is not included on the exclusive list.

(b) "Private point-of-sale (POS) authorization system" means an insurer's system, other than the department's POS system, which requires that coverage be verified by or submitted to the insurer for authorization at the time of service and at the time the prescription is filled.

(3) This subsection applies to clients who have a third-party resource that is a managed care entity other than a department-contracted plan, or have other insurance that requires the use of "closed pharmacy networks" or "private point-of-sale authorization system." The department will not pay pharmacies for prescription drug claims until the pharmacy provider submits an explanation of benefits from the private insurance demonstrating that the pharmacy provider has complied with the terms of the third-party's coverage.

(a) If the private insurer pays a fee based on the incident of care, the pharmacy provider must file a claim with the department consistent with the department's billing requirements.

(b) If the private insurer pays the pharmacy provider a monthly capitation fee for all prescription costs related to the client, the pharmacy provider must submit a claim to the department for the amount of the client copayment, coinsurance, and/or deductible. The department pays the provider the lesser of:

(i) The billed amount; or

(ii) The department's maximum allowable fee for the prescription.

dispensed to medical assistance clients only by PHS-qualified health facilities and must be billed to the department at actual acquisition cost (AAC) as required by laws governing the PHS 340B program.

(2) Providers dispensing drugs under this section are required to submit their valid medical assistance provider number(s) to the PHS health resources and services administration, office of pharmacy affairs. This requirement is to ensure that claims for drugs dispensed under this section and paid by the department are excluded from the drug rebate claims that are submitted to the manufacturers of the drugs. See WAC 388-530-7500 for information on the drug rebate program.

(3) The department reimburses drugs under this section at actual acquisition cost plus a dispensing fee set by the department.

REIMBURSEMENT METHODOLOGY

WAC 388-530-8000 Reimbursement method—Estimated acquisition cost (EAC). (1) The department determines estimated acquisition cost (EAC) using:

(a) Acquisition cost data made available to the department; or

(b) Information provided by any of the following:

(i) Audit agencies, federal or state;

(ii) Other state health care purchasing agencies;

(iii) Pharmacy benefit managers;

(iv) Individual pharmacy providers participating in the department's programs;

(v) Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS);

(vi) Other third party payers;

(vii) Drug file data bases; and/or

(viii) Actuaries or other consultants.

(2) The department implements EAC by applying a percentage adjustment to available reference pricing from national sources such as wholesale acquisition cost (WAC), average wholesale price (AWP), average sale price (ASP), and average manufacturer price (AMP).

(3) The department may set EAC for specified drugs or drug categories at a percentage other than that determined in subsection (1)(a) of this section when the department considers it necessary. The factors the department considers in setting a rate for a class of drugs under this subsection include, but are not limited to:

(a) Product acquisition cost;

(b) The department's documented clinical concerns; and

(c) The department's budget limits.

(4) The department bases EAC drug reimbursement on the actual package size dispensed.

(5) The department uses the EAC as the department's reimbursement for a drug when the EAC is the lowest of the rates calculated under the methods listed in WAC 388-530-7000, or when the conditions of WAC 388-530-7300 are met.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.08.090, 74.09.530, and 74.09.-700. 07-20-049, § 388-530-8000, filed 9/26/07, effective 11/1/07.]

WAC 388-530-8050 Reimbursement—Federal upper limit (FUL). (1) The department adopts the federal upper limit (FUL) set by the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS).

(2) The department's maximum payment for multiple-source drugs for which CMS has set FULs will not exceed, in the aggregate, the prescribed upper limits plus the dispensing fees set by the department.

(3) Except as provided in WAC 388-530-7300, the department uses the FUL as the department's reimbursement rate for the drug when the FUL price is the lowest of the rates calculated under the methods listed in WAC 388-530-7000.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.08.090, 74.09.530, and 74.09.-700. 07-20-049, § 388-530-8050, filed 9/26/07, effective 11/1/07.]

WAC 388-530-8100 Reimbursement—Maximum allowable cost (MAC). (1) The department establishes a maximum allowable cost (MAC) for a multiple-source drug which is available from at least two manufacturers/labelers.

(2) The department determines the MAC for a multiple-source drug:

(a) When specific regional and local drug acquisition cost data is available, the department:

(i) Identifies what products are available from wholesalers for each drug being considered for MAC pricing;

(ii) Determines pharmacy providers' approximate acquisition costs for these products; and

(iii) Establishes the MAC at a level which gives pharmacists access to at least one product from a manufacturer with a qualified rebate agreement (see WAC 388-530-7500(4)).

(b) When specific regional and local drug acquisition cost data is not available, the department may estimate acquisition cost based on national pricing sources.

(3) The MAC established for a multiple-source drug does not apply if the written prescription identifies that a specific brand is medically necessary for a particular client. In such cases, the estimated acquisition cost (EAC) for the particular brand applies, provided authorization is obtained from the department as specified under WAC 388-530-3000.

(4) Except as provided in subsection (3) of this section, the department reimburses providers for a multiple-source drug at the lowest of the rates calculated under the methods listed in WAC 388-530-7000.

(5) The MAC established for a multiple-source drug may vary by package size, including those identified as unit dose national drug codes (NDCs) by the manufacturer(s) of the drug.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.08.090, 74.09.530, and 74.09.-700. 07-20-049, § 388-530-8100, filed 9/26/07, effective 11/1/07.]

WAC 388-530-8150 Reimbursement—Automated maximum allowable cost (AMAC). (1) The department uses the automated maximum allowable cost (AMAC) pricing methodology for multiple-source drugs that are:

(a) Not on the published maximum allowable cost (MAC); and

(b) Produced by two or more manufacturers/labelers, at least one of which must have a current, signed federal drug rebate agreement.

(2) The department establishes AMAC as a specified percentage of the published average wholesale price (AWP) or other nationally accepted pricing source in order to estimate acquisition cost.

(3) The department sets the percentage discount from AWP for AMAC reimbursement using any of the information sources identified in WAC 388-530-8000.

(4) The department may set AMAC reimbursement at different percentage discounts from AWP for different multiple source drugs. The department considers the same factors as those in WAC 388-530-8000.

(5) AMAC reimbursement for all products with the same ingredient, form and strength is at the AMAC determined for the second lowest priced product, or the AMAC of the lowest priced drug from a manufacturer with a current, signed federal rebate agreement.

(6) The department recalculates AMAC each time the drug file contractor provides a pricing update.

(7) Except as provided in WAC 388-530-7300, the department reimburses at the lowest of the rates calculated under the methods listed in WAC 388-530-7000.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.08.090, 74.09.530, and 74.09.700. 07-20-049, § 388-530-8150, filed 9/26/07, effective 11/1/07.]

WAC 388-531-0300 Anesthesia providers and covered physician-related services. MAA bases coverage of anesthesia services on medicare policies and the following rules:

(1) MAA reimburses providers for covered anesthesia services performed by:

(a) Anesthesiologists;

(b) Certified registered nurse anesthetists (CRNAs);

(c) Oral surgeons with a special agreement with MAA to provide anesthesia services; and

(d) Other providers who have a special agreement with MAA to provide anesthesia services.

(2) MAA covers and reimburses anesthesia services for children and noncooperative clients in those situations where the medically necessary procedure cannot be performed if the client is not anesthetized. A statement of the client-specific reasons why the procedure could not be performed without specific anesthesia services must be kept in the client's medical record. Examples of such procedures include:

(a) Computerized tomography (CT);

(b) Dental procedures;

(c) Electroconvulsive therapy; and

(d) Magnetic resonance imaging (MRI).

(3) MAA covers anesthesia services provided for any of the following:

(a) Dental restorations and/or extractions:

(b) Maternity per subsection (9) of this section. See WAC 388-531-1550 for information about sterilization/hysterectomy anesthesia;

(c) Pain management per subsection (5) of this section;

(d) Radiological services as listed in WAC 388-531-1450; and

(e) Surgical procedures.

(4) For each client, the anesthesiologist provider must do all of the following:

(a) Perform a pre-anesthetic examination and evaluation;

(b) Prescribe the anesthesia plan;

(c) Personally participate in the most demanding aspects of the anesthesia plan, including, if applicable, induction and emergence;

(d) Ensure that any procedures in the anesthesia plan that the provider does not perform, are performed by a qualified individual as defined in the program operating instructions;

(e) At frequent intervals, monitor the course of anesthesia during administration;

(f) Remain physically present and available for immediate diagnosis and treatment of emergencies; and

(g) Provide indicated post anesthesia care.

(5) MAA does not allow the anaesthesiologist provider to:

(a) Direct more than four anesthesia services concurrently; and

(b) Perform any other services while directing the single or concurrent services, other than attending to medical emergencies and other limited services as allowed by medicare instructions.

(6) MAA requires the anesthesiologist provider to document in the client's medical record that the medical direction requirements were met.

(7) General anesthesia:

(a) When a provider performs multiple operative procedures for the same client at the same time, MAA reimburses the base anesthesia units (BAU) for the major procedure only.

(b) MAA does not reimburse the attending surgeon for anesthesia services.

(c) When more than one anesthesia provider is present on a case, MAA reimburses as follows:

(i) The supervisory anesthesiologist and certified registered nurse anesthetist (CRNA) each receive fifty percent of the allowed amount.

(ii) For anesthesia provided by a team, MAA limits reimbursement to one hundred percent of the total allowed reimbursement for the service.

(8) Pain management:

(a) MAA pays CRNAs or anesthesiologists for pain management services.

(b) MAA allows two postoperative or pain management epidurals per client, per hospital stay plus the two associated E&M fees for pain management.

(9) Maternity anesthesia:

(a) To determine total time for obstetric epidural anesthesia during normal labor and delivery and c-sections, time begins with insertion and ends with removal for a maximum of six hours. "Delivery" includes labor for single or multiple births, and/or cesarean section delivery.

(b) MAA does not apply the six-hour limit for anesthesia to procedures performed as a result of post-delivery complications.

(c) See WAC 388-531-1550 for information on anesthesia services during a delivery with sterilization.

(d) See chapter 388-533 WAC for more information about maternity-related services.

WAC 388-531-0350 Anesthesia services—Reimbursement for physician-related services. (1) MAA reimburses anesthesia services on the basis of base anesthesia units (BAU) plus time.

(2) MAA calculates payment for anesthesia by adding the BAU to the time units and multiplying that sum by the conversion factor. The formula used in the calculation is: (BAU x fifteen) + time) x (conversion factor divided by fifteen) = reimbursement.

(3) MAA obtains BAU values from the relative value guide (RVG), and updates them annually. MAA and/or the anesthesia technical advisory group (ATAG) members establish the base units for procedures for which anesthesia is appropriate but do not have BAUs established by RVSP and are not defined as add-on.

(4) MAA determines a budget neutral anesthesia conversion factor by:

(a) Determining the BAUs, time units, and expenditures for a base period for the provided procedure. Then,

(b) Adding the latest BAU RVSP to the time units for the base period to obtain an estimate of the new time unit for the procedure. Then,

(c) Multiplying the time units obtained in (b) of this subsection for the new period by a conversion factor to obtain estimated expenditures. Then,

(d) Comparing the expenditures obtained in (c) of this subsection with base period expenditure levels obtained in (a) of this subsection. Then,

(e) Adjusting the dollar amount for the anesthesia conversion factor and the projected time units at the new BAUs equals the allocated amount determined in (a) of this subsection.

(5) MAA calculates anesthesia time units as follows:

(a) One minute equals one unit.

(b) The total time is calculated to the next whole minute.

(c) Anesthesia time begins when the anesthesiologist, surgeon, or CRNA begins physically preparing the client for the induction of anesthesia; this must take place in the operating room or its equivalent. When there is a break in continuous anesthesia care, blocks of time may be added together as long as there is continuous monitoring. Examples of this include, but are not limited to, the following:

(i) The time a client spends in an anesthesia induction room; or

(ii) The time a client spends under the care of an operating room nurse during a surgical procedure.

(d) Anesthesia time ends when the anesthesiologist, surgeon, or CRNA is no longer in constant attendance (i.e., when the client can be safely placed under post-operative supervision).

(6) MAA changes anesthesia conversion factors if the legislature grants a vendor rate increase, or other increase, and if the effective date of that increase is not the same as MAA's annual update.

(7) If the legislatively authorized vendor rate increase or other increase becomes effective at the same time as MAA's annual update, MAA applies the increase after calculating the budget-neutral conversion factor.

(8) When more than one surgical procedure is performed at the same operative session, MAA uses the BAU of the major procedure to determine anesthesia allowed charges. MAA reimburses add-on procedures as defined by CPT only for the time spent on the add-on procedure that is in addition to the time spent on the major procedure.

WAC 388-531-0400 Client responsibility for reimbursement for physician-related services. Clients may be responsible to reimburse the provider, as described under WAC 388-501-0100, for services that are not covered under the client's medical care program. WAC 388-531-0450 Critical care—Physician-related services. (1) MAA reimburses the following physicians for critical care services:

(a) The attending physician who assumes responsibility for the care of a client during a life-threatening episode;

(b) More than one physician if the services provided involve multiple organ systems; or

(c) Only one physician for services provided in the emergency room.

(2) MAA reimburses preoperative and postoperative critical care in addition to a global surgical package when all the following apply:

(a) The client is critically ill and the physician is engaged in work directly related to the individual client's care, whether that time is spent at the immediate bedside or elsewhere on the floor;

(b) The critical injury or illness acutely impairs one or more vital organ systems such that the client's survival is jeopardized;

(c) The critical care is unrelated to the specific anatomic injury or general surgical procedure performed; and

(d) The provider uses any necessary, appropriate modifier when billing MAA.

(3) MAA limits payment for critical care services to a maximum of three hours per day, per client.

(4) MAA does not pay separately for certain services performed during a critical care period when the services are provided on a per hour basis. These services include, but are not limited to, the following:

(a) Analysis of information data stored in computers (e.g., ECG, blood pressure, hematologic data);

(b) Blood draw for a specimen;

(c) Blood gases;

(d) Cardiac output measurement;

(e) Chest X rays;

(f) Gastric intubation;

(2) MAA reimburses emergency physician services only when provided by physicians assigned to the hospital emergency department or the physicians on call to cover the hospital emergency department.

(3) MAA pays a provider who is called back to the emergency room at a different time on the same day to attend a return visit the same client. When this results in multiple claims on the same day, the time of each encounter must be clearly indicated on the claim.

(4) MAA does not pay emergency room physicians for hospital admission charges or additional service charges.

WAC 388-531-0550 Experimental and investigational services. (1) When MAA makes a determination as to whether a proposed service is experimental or investigational, MAA follows the procedures in this section. The policies and procedures and any criteria for making decisions are available upon request.

(2) The determination of whether a service is experimental and/or investigational is subject to a case-by-case review under the provisions of WAC 388-501-0165 which relate to medical necessity. MAA also considers the following:

(a) Evidence in peer-reviewed medical literature, as defined in WAC 388-531-0050, and preclinical and clinical data reported to the National Institute of Health and/or the National Cancer Institute, concerning the probability of the service maintaining or significantly improving the enrollee's length or quality of life, or ability to function, and whether the benefits of the service or treatment are outweighed by the risks of death or serious complications;

(b) Whether evidence indicates the service or treatment is more likely than not to be as beneficial as existing conventional treatment alternatives for the treatment of the condition in question;

(c) Whether the service or treatment is generally used or generally accepted for treatment of the condition in the United States;

(d) Whether the service or treatment is under continuing scientific testing and research;

(e) Whether the service or treatment shows a demonstrable benefit for the condition;

(f) Whether the service or treatment is safe and efficacious;

(g) Whether the service or treatment will result in greater benefits for the condition than another generally available service; and

(h) If approval is required by a regulating agency, such as the Food and Drug Administration, whether such approval has been given before the date of service.

(3) MAA applies consistently across clients with the same medical condition and health status, the criteria to determine whether a service is experimental. A service or treatment that is not experimental for one client with a particular medical condition is not determined to be experimental for another enrollee with the same medical condition and health status. A service that is experimental for one client with a particular medical condition is not necessarily experimental for another, and subsequent individual determinations must consider any new or additional evidence not considered in prior determinations.

(4) MAA does not determine a service or treatment to be experimental or investigational solely because it is under clinical investigation when there is sufficient evidence in peer-reviewed medical literature to draw conclusions, and the evidence indicates the service or treatment will probably be of greater overall benefit to the client in question than another generally available service.

(5) All determinations that a proposed service or treatment is "experimental" or "investigation" are subject to the review and approval of a physician who is:

(a) Licensed under chapter 18.57 RCW or an osteopath licensed under chapter 18.71 RCW;

(b) Designated by MAA's medical director to issue such approvals; and

(c) Available to consult with the client's treating physician by telephone.

WAC 388-531-1400 Psychiatric physician-related services and other professional mental health services. (1) The mental health services covered in the medical benefits described in this section are separate from the mental health services covered by the mental health managed care system administered under the authority of the mental health division pursuant to chapter 388-865 WAC. The department covers outpatient mental health services with the following limitations:

(a) For clients eighteen years of age and younger:

(i) The department pays for only one hour per day, per client, up to a total of twenty hours per calendar year, including the psychiatric diagnostic evaluation and family therapy visits that are medically necessary to the client's treatment;

(ii) The department limits medication management services to one per day, but this service may be billed by psychiatrists and psychiatric advanced registered nurse practitioners (ARNP) in conjunction with the diagnostic interview examination, or when a psychiatrist or psychiatric ARNP performs medication management services on the same day as a different licensed mental health practitioner renders another billable mental health service; and

(iii) The mental health services must be provided in an outpatient setting by a psychiatrist, psychologist, psychiatric ARNP, social worker, marriage and family therapist, or mental health counselor who must:

(A) Be licensed, in good standing and without restriction, by the department of health under their appropriate licensure; and

(B) Have a minimum of two years experience in the diagnosis and treatment of clients eighteen years of age and younger and their families, including a minimum one year under the supervision of a mental health professional trained in child and family mental health. A licensed psychiatrist may provide these services and bill the department without meeting this requirement.

(b) For clients nineteen years of age and older:

(i) The department pays for only one hour per day, per client, up to a total of twelve hours per calendar year, including family or group therapy visits;

(ii) The department limits medication management services to one per day, but this service may be billed by psychiatrists and psychiatric ARNPs in conjunction with the diagnostic interview examination, or when a psychiatrist or psychiatric ARNP performs medication management services on the same day as a different licensed mental health practitioner renders another billable mental health service; and

(iii) The mental health services must be provided by a psychiatrist in an outpatient setting.

(2) The department covers inpatient mental health services with the following limitations:

(a) Must be provided by a psychiatrist;

(ii) Family/group therapy; or

(iii) Electroconvulsive therapy.

(3) With the exception of medication management, the department covers other mental health services described in this section with the limitation of one per client, per day regardless of location or provider type.

(4) The department pays psychiatrists when the client receives a medical physical examination in the hospital in addition to a psychiatric diagnostic or evaluation interview examination.

(5) The department covers psychiatric diagnostic interview evaluations at the limit of one per provider, per calendar year unless a significant change in the client's circumstances renders an additional evaluation medically necessary and is authorized by the department.

(6) The department does not cover psychiatric sleep therapy.

(7) The department covers electroconvulsive therapy and narcosynthesis only when performed by a psychiatrist.

(8) The department pays psychiatric ARNPs only for mental health medication management and diagnostic interview evaluations provided to clients nineteen years of age and older.

(9) The department covers interactive, face-to-face visits at the limit of one per client, per day, in an outpatient setting. Interactive, face-to-face visits may be billed only for clients age twenty and younger.

(10) The client or licensed healthcare provider may request a limitation extension only when the client exceeds the total hour limit described in subsection (1) of this section, and for no other limitation of service in this section. The department will evaluate these requests in accordance with WAC 388-501-0169.

(11) DSHS providers must comply with chapter 388-865 WAC for hospital inpatient psychiatric admissions, and must follow rules adopted by the mental health division or the appropriate regional support network (RSN).

(12) Accepting payment under more than one contract or agreement with the department for the same service for the same client constitutes duplication of payment. If a client is provided services under multiple contracts or agreements, each provider must maintain documentation identifying the type of service provided and the contract or agreement under which it is provided to ensure it is not a duplication of service.

(a) Performed on the same day;

(b) Performed on the same client; and

(b) Physician's Board Certification by the American Board of Sleep Medicine.

(3) Registered polysomnograph technicians (PSGT) must meet the accreditation standards of the American Academy of Sleep Medicine.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 74.09.520. 01-01-012, § 388-531-1500, filed 12/6/00, effective 1/6/01.]

WAC 388-531-1550 Sterilization physician-related services. (1) For purposes of this section, sterilization is any medical procedure, treatment, or operation for the purpose of rendering a client permanently incapable of reproducing. A hysterectomy is a surgical procedure or operation for the purpose of removing the uterus. Hysterectomy results in sterilization, but MAA does not cover hysterectomy performed solely for that purpose. Both hysterectomy and sterilization procedures require the use of specific consent forms.

STERILIZATION

(2) MAA covers sterilization when all of the following apply:

(a) The client is at least eighteen years of age at the time consent is signed;

(b) The client is a mentally competent individual;

(c) The client has voluntarily given informed consent in accordance with all the requirements defined in this subsection; and

(d) At least thirty days, but not more than one hundred eighty days, have passed between the date the client gave informed consent and the date of the sterilization.

(3) MAA does not require the thirty-day waiting period, but does require at least a seventy-two hour waiting period, for sterilization in the following circumstances:

(a) At the time of premature delivery, the client gave consent at least thirty days before the expected date of delivery. The expected date of delivery must be documented on the consent form;

(b) For emergency abdominal surgery, the nature of the emergency must be described on the consent form.

(4) MAA waives the thirty-day consent waiting period for sterilization when the client requests that sterilization be performed at the time of delivery, and completes a sterilization consent form. One of the following circumstances must apply:

(a) The client became eligible for medical assistance during the last month of pregnancy;

(b) The client did not obtain medical care until the last month of pregnancy; or

(c) The client was a substance abuser during pregnancy, but is not using alcohol or illegal drugs at the time of delivery.

(5) MAA does not accept informed consent obtained when the client is in any of the following conditions:

(a) In labor or childbirth;

(b) Seeking to obtain or obtaining an abortion; or

(c) Under the influence of alcohol or other substances that affect the client's state of awareness.

(6) MAA has certain consent requirements that the provider must meet before MAA reimburses sterilization of a mentally incompetent or institutionalized client. MAA requires both of the following:

(a) A court order; and

(b) A sterilization consent form signed by the legal guardian, sent to MAA at least thirty days prior to the procedure.

(7) MAA reimburses epidural anesthesia in excess of the six-hour limit for sterilization procedures that are performed in conjunction with or immediately following a delivery. MAA determines total billable units by:

(a) Adding the time for the sterilization procedure to the time for the delivery; and

(b) Determining the total billable units by adding together the delivery BAUs, the delivery time, and the sterilization time.

(c) The provider cannot bill separately for the BAUs for the sterilization procedure.

(8) The physician identified in the "consent to sterilization" section of the DSHS-approved sterilization consent form must be the same physician who completes the "physician's statement" section and performs the sterilization procedure. If a different physician performs the sterilization procedure, the client must sign and date a new consent form at the time of the procedure that indicates the name of the physician performing the operation under the "consent for sterilization" section. This modified consent must be attached to the original consent form when the provider bills MAA.

(9) MAA reimburses all attending providers for the sterilization procedure only when the provider submits an appropriate, completed DSHS-approved consent form with the claim for reimbursement. MAA reimburses after the procedure is completed.

HYSTERECTOMY

(10) Hysterectomies performed for medical reasons may require expedited prior authorization as explained in WAC 388-531-0200(2).

(11) MAA reimburses hysterectomy without prior authorization in either of the following circumstances:

(a) The client has been diagnosed with cancer(s) of the female reproductive organs; and/or

(b) The client is forty-six years of age or older.

(12) MAA reimburses all attending providers for the hysterectomy procedure only when the provider submits an appropriate, completed DSHS-approved consent form with the claim for reimbursement. If a prior authorization number is necessary for the procedure, it must be on the claim. MAA reimburses after the procedure is completed.

WAC 388-531-1600 Bariatric surgery. (1) The department covers medically necessary bariatric surgery for eligible clients.

(2) Bariatric surgery must be performed in a hospital with a bariatric surgery program, and the hospital must be:

(a) Located in the state of Washington or approved border cities (see WAC 388-501-0175); and

(b) Meet the requirements of WAC 388-550-2301.

(3) If bariatric surgery is requested or prescribed under the EPSDT program, the department evaluates it as a covered service under EPSDT's standard of coverage that requires the service to be:

(a) Medically necessary;

(b) Safe and effective; and

(c) Not experimental.

(4) The department authorizes payment for bariatric surgery and bariatric surgery-related services in three stages:

(a) Stage one—Initial assessment of client;

(b) Stage two—Evaluations for bariatric surgery and successful completion of a weight loss regimen; and

(c) Stage three—Bariatric surgery.

Stage one—Initial assessment

(5) Any department-enrolled provider who is licensed to practice medicine in the state of Washington may examine a client requesting bariatric surgery to ascertain if the client meets the criteria listed in subsection (6) of this section.

(6) The client meets the preliminary conditions of stage one when:

(a) The client is between twenty-one and fifty-nine years of age;

(b) The client has a body mass index (BMI) of thirty-five or greater;

(c) The client is not pregnant. (Pregnancy within the first two years following bariatric surgery is not recommended. When applicable, a family planning consultation is highly recommended prior to bariatric surgery);

(d) The client is diagnosed with one of the following:

(i) Diabetes mellitus;

(ii) Degenerative joint disease of a major weight bearing joint(s) (the client must be a candidate for joint replacement surgery if weight loss is achieved); or

(iii) Other rare comorbid conditions (such as pseudo tumor cerebri) in which there is medical evidence that bariatric surgery is medically necessary and that the benefits of bariatric surgery outweigh the risk of surgical mortality; and

(e) The client has an absence of other medical conditions such as multiple sclerosis (MS) that would increase the client's risk of surgical mortality or morbidity from bariatric surgery.

(7) If a client meets the criteria in subsection (6) of this section, the provider must request prior authorization from the department before referring the client to stage two of the bariatric surgery authorization process. The provider must attach a medical report to the request for prior authorization with supporting documentation that the client meets the stage one criteria in subsections (5) and (6) of this section.

(8) The department evaluates requests for covered services that are subject to limitations or other restrictions and approves such services beyond those limitations or restrictions when medically necessary, under the provisions of WAC 388-501-0165 and 388-501-0169.

Stage two—Evaluations for bariatric surgery and successful completion of a weight loss regimen

(9) After receiving prior authorization from the department to begin stage two of the bariatric surgery authorization process, the client must:

(a) Undergo a comprehensive psychosocial evaluation performed by a psychiatrist, licensed psychiatric ARNP, or licensed independent social worker with a minimum of two years postmasters' experience in a mental health setting. Upon completion, the results of the evaluation must be forwarded to the department. The comprehensive psychosocial evaluation must include:

(i) An assessment of the client's mental status or illness to:

(A) Evaluate the client for the presence of substance abuse problems or psychiatric illness which would preclude the client from participating in presurgical dietary requirements or postsurgical lifestyle changes; and

(B) If applicable, document that the client has been successfully treated for psychiatric illness and has been stabilized for at least six months and/or has been rehabilitated and is free from any drug and/or alcohol abuse and has been drug and/or alcohol free for a period of at least one year.

(ii) An assessment and certification of the client's ability to comply with the postoperative requirements such as lifelong required dietary changes and regular follow-up.

(b) Undergo an internal medicine evaluation performed by an internist to assess the client's preoperative condition and mortality risk. Upon completion, the internist must forward the results of the evaluation to the department.

(c) Undergo a surgical evaluation by the surgeon who will perform the bariatric surgery (see subsection (13) of this section for surgeon requirements). Upon completion, the surgeon must forward the results of the surgical evaluation to the department and to the licensed medical provider who is supervising the client's weight loss regimen (refer to WAC 388-531-1600 (9)(d)(ii)).

(d) Under the supervision of a licensed medical provider, the client must participate in a weight loss regimen prior to surgery. The client must, within one hundred and eighty days from the date of the department's stage one authorization, lose at least five percent of his or her initial body weight. If the client does not meet this weight loss requirement within one hundred and eighty days from the date of the department's initial authorization, the department will cancel the authorization. The client or the client's provider must reapply for prior authorization from the department to restart stage two. For the purpose of this section, "initial body weight" means the client's weight at the first evaluation appointment.

(i) The purpose of the weight loss regimen is to help the client achieve the required five percent loss of initial body weight prior to surgery and to demonstrate the client's ability to adhere to the radical and lifelong behavior changes and strict diet that are required after bariatric surgery.

(ii) The weight loss regimen must:

(A) Be supervised by a licensed medical provider who has a core provider agreement with the department;

(B) Include monthly visits to the medical provider;

(C) Include counseling twice a month by a registered dietician referred to by the treating provider or surgeon; and

(D) Be at least six months in duration.

(iii) Documentation of the following requirements must be retained in the client's medical file. Copies of the documentation must be forwarded to the department upon completion of stage two. The department will evaluate the documentation and authorize the client for bariatric surgery if the stage two requirements were successfully completed.

(A) The provider must document the client's compliance in keeping scheduled appointments and the client's progress toward weight loss by serial weight recordings. Clients must lose at least five percent loss of initial body weight and must maintain the five percent weight loss until surgery;

(B) For diabetic clients, the provider must document the efforts in diabetic control or stabilization;

(C) The registered dietician must document the client's compliance (or noncompliance) in keeping scheduled appointments, and the client's weight loss progress;

(D) The client must keep a journal of active participation in the medically structured weight loss regimen including the activities under (d)(iii)(A), (d)(iii)(B) if appropriate, and (d)(iii)(C) of this subsection.

(10) If the client fails to complete all of the requirements of subsection (9) of this section, the department will not authorize stage three—Bariatric surgery.

(11) If the client is unable to meet all of the stage two criteria, the client or the client's provider must reapply for prior authorization from the department to reenter stage two.

Stage three—Bariatric surgery

(12) The department may withdraw authorization of payment for bariatric surgery at any time up to the actual surgery if the department determines that the client is not complying with the requirements of this section.

(13) A surgeon who performs bariatric surgery for medical assistance clients must:

(a) Have a signed core provider agreement with the department;

(b) Have a valid medical license in the state of Washington; and

(c) Be affiliated with a bariatric surgery program that meets the requirements of WAC 388-550-2301.

(d) MAA pays the procedure with the second highest maximum allowable fee at the maximum allowable fee minus the base diagnostic endoscopy procedure's maximum allowed amount.

(e) MAA does not pay when payment for other codes within an endoscopy group is less than the base code.

(8) MAA restricts reimbursement for surgery assists to selected procedures as follows:

(a) MAA applies multiple surgery reimbursement rules for surgery assists apply. See subsection (4) of this section.

(b) Surgery assists are reimbursed at twenty percent of the maximum allowable fee for the surgical procedure.

(c) A surgical assist fee for a registered nurse first assistant (RNFA) is reimbursed if the nurse has been assigned a provider number.

MAA pays any procedure that does not have an established medicare payment split according to a split of ten percent - eighty percent - ten percent respectively.

WAC 388-531-1850 Payment methodology for physician-related services—General and billing modifiers.

GENERAL PAYMENT METHODOLOGY

(l) MAA bases the payment methodology for most physician-related services on medicare's RBRVS. MAA obtains information used to update MAA's RBRVS from the MPFSPS.

(2) MAA updates and revises the following RBRVS areas each January prior to MAA's annual update.

(3) MAA determines a budget-neutral conversion factor (CF) for each RBRVS update, by:

(a) Determining the units of service and expenditures for a base period. Then,

(b) Applying the latest medicare RVU obtained from the MPFSDB, as published in the MPFSPS, and GCPI changes to obtain projected units of service for the new period. Then,

(c) Multiplying the projected units of service by conversion factors to obtain estimated expenditures. Then,

(d) Comparing expenditures obtained in (c) of this subsection with base period expenditure levels.

(e) Adjusting the dollar amount for the conversion factor until the product of the conversion factor and the projected units of service at the new RVUs equals the base period amount.

(4) MAA calculates maximum allowable fees (MAFs) in the following ways:

(a) For procedure codes that have applicable medicare RVUs, the three components (practice, malpractice, and work) of the RVU are:

(i) Each multiplied by the statewide GPCI. Then,

(ii) The sum of these products is multiplied by the applicable conversion factor. The resulting RVUs are known as RBRVS RVUs.

(b) For procedure codes that have no applicable medicare RVUs, RSC RVUs are established in the following way:

(i) When there are three RSC RVU components (practice, malpractice, and work):

(A) Each component is multiplied by the statewide GPCI. Then,

(B) The sum of these products is multiplied by the applicable conversion factor.

(ii) When the RSC RVUs have just one component, the RVU is not GPCI adjusted and the RVU is multiplied by the applicable conversion factor.

(c) For procedure codes with no RBRVS or RSC RVUs, MAA establishes maximum allowable fees, also known as "flat" fees.

(i) MAA does not use the conversion factor for these codes.

(ii) MAA updates flat fee reimbursement only when the legislature authorizes a vendor rate increase, except for the following categories which are revised annually during the update:

(A) Immunization codes are reimbursed at EAC. (See WAC 388-530-1050 for explanation of EAC.) When the provider receives immunization materials from the department of health, MAA pays the provider a flat fee only for administering the immunization.

(B) A cast material maximum allowable fee is set using an average of wholesale or distributor prices for cast materials.

(iii) Other supplies are reimbursed at physicians' acquisition cost, based on manufacturers' price sheets. Reimbursement applies only to supplies that are not considered part of the routine cost of providing care (e.g., intrauterine devices (IUDs)).

(d) For procedure codes with no RVU or maximum allowable fee, MAA reimburses "by report." By report codes are reimbursed at a percentage of the amount billed for the service.

(e) For supplies that are dispensed in a physician's office and reimbursed separately, the provider's acquisition cost when flat fees are not established.

(f) MAA reimburses at acquisition cost those HCPCS J and Q codes that do not have flat fees established.

(5) The technical advisory group reviews RBRVS changes.

(6) MAA also makes fee schedule changes when the legislature grants a vendor rate increase and the effective date of that increase is not the same as MAA's annual update.

(7) If the legislatively authorized vendor rate increase, or other increase, becomes effective at the same time as the annual update, MAA applies the increase after calculating budget-neutral fees. MAA pays providers a higher reimbursement rate for primary health care E&M services that are provided to children age twenty and under.

(8) MAA does not allow separate reimbursement for bundled services. However, MAA allows separate reimbursement for items considered prosthetics when those items are used for a permanent condition and are furnished in a provider's office.

(9) Variations of payment methodology which are specific to particular services and which differ from the general payment methodology described in this section are included in the sections dealing with those particular services.

CPT/HCFA MODIFIERS

(10) A modifier is a code a provider uses on a claim in addition to a billing code for a standard procedure. Modifiers eliminate the need to list separate procedures that describe the circumstance that modified the standard procedure. A modifier may also be used for information purposes.

(11) Certain services and procedures require modifiers in order for MAA to reimburse the provider. This information is included in the sections dealing with those particular services and procedures, as well as the fee schedule.

WAC 388-531-1900 Reimbursement—General requirements for physician-related services. (1) MAA reimburses physicians and related providers for covered services provided to eligible clients on a fee-for-service basis, subject to the exceptions, restrictions, and other limitations listed in this chapter and other published issuances.

(2) In order to be reimbursed, physicians must bill MAA according to the conditions of payment under WAC 388-501-0150 and other issuances.

(3) MAA does not separately reimburse certain administrative costs or services. MAA considers these costs to be included in the reimbursement. These costs and services include the following:

(a) Delinquent payment fees;

(b) Educational supplies;

(c) Mileage;

(d) Missed or canceled appointments;

(e) Reports, client charts, insurance forms, copying expenses;

(f) Service charges;

(g) Take home drugs; and

(h) Telephoning (e.g., for prescription refills).

(4) MAA does not routinely pay for procedure codes which have a "#" indicator in the fee schedule. MAA reviews these codes for conformance to medicaid program policy only as an exception to policy or as a limitation extension. See WAC 388-501-0160 and 388-501-0165.

WAC 388-531-2000 Increased payments for physician-related services for qualified trauma cases. (1) The department's trauma care fund (TCF) is an amount that is legislatively appropriated to DSHS each biennium for the purpose of increasing the department's payment to eligible physicians and other clinical providers for providing qualified trauma services to medicaid, general assistance-unemployable (GA-U), and Alcohol and Drug Addiction Treatment and Support Act (ADATSA) fee-for-service clients. Claims for trauma care provided to clients enrolled in the department's managed care programs are not eligible for increased payments from the TCF.

(2) Beginning with services provided after June 30, 2003, the department makes increased payments from the TCF to physicians and other clinical providers who provide trauma services to medicaid, GA-U, and ADATSA clients, subject to the provisions in this section. A provider is eligible to receive increased payments from the TCF for trauma services provided to a GA-U or ADATSA client during the client's certification period only. See WAC 388-416-0010.

(3) The department makes increased payments from the TCF to physicians and other clinical providers who:

(a) Are on the designated trauma services response team of any department of health (DOH)-designated trauma service center;

(b) Meet the provider requirements in this section and other applicable WAC;

(c) Meet the billing requirements in this section and other applicable WAC; and

(d) Submit all information the department requires to ensure trauma services are being provided.

(4) Except as described in subsection (5) of this section and subject to the limitations listed, the department makes increased payments from the TCF to physicians and other eligible clinical providers:

(a) For only those trauma services that are designated by the department as "qualified." These qualified services must be provided to eligible fee-for-service medicaid, GA-U, and ADATSA clients. Qualified trauma services include care provided within six months of the date of injury for surgical procedures related to the injury if the surgical procedures were planned during the initial acute episode of injury.

(b) For hospital-based services only.

(c) Only for trauma cases that meet the injury severity score (ISS) (a summary rating system for traumatic anatomic injuries) of:

(i) Thirteen or greater for an adult trauma patient (a client age fifteen or older); or

(ii) Nine or greater for a pediatric trauma patient (a client younger than age fifteen).

(d) On a per-client basis in any DOH designated trauma service center.

(e) At a rate of two and one-half times the current department fee-for-service rate for qualified trauma services, or other payment enhancement percentage the department determines as appropriate.

(i) The department monitors the increased payments from the TCF during each state fiscal year (SFY) and makes necessary adjustments to the rate to ensure that total payments from the TCF for the biennium will not exceed the legislative appropriation for that biennium.

(ii) Laboratory and pathology charges are not eligible for increased payments from the TCF. (See subsection (6)(b) of this section.)

(5) When a trauma case is transferred from one hospital to another, the department makes increased payments from the TCF to physicians and other eligible clinical providers, according to the ISS score as follows:

(a) If the transferred case meets or exceeds the appropriate ISS threshold described in subsection (4)(c) of this section, eligible providers who furnish qualified trauma services in both the transferring and receiving hospitals are eligible for increased payments from the TCF.

(b) If the transferred case is below the ISS threshold described in subsection (4)(c) of this section, only the eligible providers who furnish qualified trauma services in the receiving hospital are eligible for increased payments from the TCF.

(6) The department distributes increased payments from the TCF only:

(a) When eligible trauma claims are submitted with the appropriate trauma indicator within the time frames specified by the department; and

(b) On a per-claim basis. Each qualifying trauma service and/or procedure on the physician's claim or other clinical provider's claim is paid at the department's current fee-for-service rate, multiplied by an increased TCF payment rate that is based on the appropriate rate described in subsection (4)(e) of this section. Charges for laboratory and pathology services and/or procedures are not eligible for increased payments from the TCF and are paid at the department's current fee-for-service rate.

(7) For purposes of the increased payments from the TCF to physicians and other eligible clinical providers, all of the following apply:

(a) The department may consider a request for a claim adjustment submitted by a provider only if the claim is received by the department within one year from the date of the initial trauma service;

(b) The department does not allow any carryover of liabilities for an increased payment from the TCF beyond three hundred sixty-five days from the date of service. The deadline for making adjustments to a trauma claim for an SFY is the same as the deadline for submitting the initial claim to the department as specified in WAC 388-502-0150(3). WAC 388-502-0150(7) does not apply to TCF claims;

(c) All claims and claim adjustments are subject to federal and state audit and review requirements; and

(d) The total amount of increased payments from the TCF disbursed to providers by the department in a biennium cannot exceed the amount appropriated by the legislature for that biennium. The department has the authority to take whatever actions are needed to ensure the department stays within the current TCF appropriation (see subsection (4)(e)(i) of this section).

WAC 388-532-780 TAKE CHARGE program—Reimbursement and payment limitations. (1) The department limits reimbursement under the TAKE CHARGE program to those services that:

(a) Have a primary focus and diagnosis of family planning as determined by a qualified licensed medical practitioner; and

(b) Are medically necessary for the client to safely, effectively, and successfully use, or continue to use, his or her chosen contraceptive method.

(2) The department reimburses providers for covered TAKE CHARGE services according to the department's published TAKE CHARGE fee schedule.

(3) The department limits reimbursement for TAKE CHARGE research and evaluation activities to selected research sites.

(4) Federally qualified health centers (FQHCs), rural health centers (RHCs), and Indian health providers who choose to become TAKE CHARGE providers must bill the department for TAKE CHARGE services without regard to their special rates and fee schedules. The department does not reimburse FQHCs, RHCs or Indian health providers under the encounter rate structure for TAKE CHARGE services.

(5) The department requires TAKE CHARGE providers to meet the billing requirements of WAC 388-502-0150 (billing time limits). In addition, all final billings and billing adjustments related to the TAKE CHARGE program must be completed no later than two years after the demonstration and research program terminates. The department will not accept new billings or billing adjustments that increase expenditures for the TAKE CHARGE program after the cut-off date.

(6) The department does not cover inpatient services under the TAKE CHARGE program. However, inpatient charges may be incurred as a result of complications arising directly from a covered TAKE CHARGE service. If this happens, providers of TAKE CHARGE related inpatient services that are not otherwise covered by third parties or other medical assistance programs must submit to the department a complete report of the circumstances and conditions that caused the need for inpatient services for the department to consider payment under WAC 388-501-0165.

(7) The department requires a provider under WAC 388-501-0200 to seek timely reimbursement from a third party when a client has available third party resources. The exceptions to this requirement are described under WAC 388-501-0200 (2) and (3) and 388-532-790.

WAC 388-532-790 TAKE CHARGE program—Good cause exemption from billing third party insurance. (1) TAKE CHARGE applicants who are eighteen years of age or younger and depend on their parents' medical insurance, or individuals who are domestic violence victims who depend on their spouses or another's health insurance may request an exemption, due to "good cause," from the eligibility restrictions in WAC 388-532-720 (1)(f) and from the use of available third party family planning coverage. Under the TAKE CHARGE program, "good cause" means that use of the third party coverage would violate his or her confidentiality because the third party:

(a) Routinely or randomly sends verification of services to the third party subscriber and that subscriber is other than the applicant; and/or

(b) Requires the applicant to use a primary care provider who is likely to report the applicant's request for family planning services to the subscriber.

(2) If subsection (1)(a) or (1)(b) of this section applies, the applicant is eligible for TAKE CHARGE without regard to the available third party family planning coverage.

(c) "Facility fee" means the portion of MAA's payment for the hospital or birthing center charges. This does not include MAA's payment for the professional fee defined below.

(d) "Global fee" means the fee MAA pays for total obstetrical care. Total obstetrical care includes all bundled antepartum care, delivery services and postpartum care.

(e) "High-risk" pregnancy means any pregnancy that poses a significant risk of a poor birth outcome.

(f) "Professional fee" means the portion of MAA's payment for services that rely on the provider's professional skill or training, or the part of the reimbursement that recognizes the provider's cognitive skill. (See WAC 388-531-1850 for reimbursement methodology.)

(2) MAA covers full scope medical maternity care and newborn delivery services to fee-for-service clients who qualify for categorically needy (CN) or medically needy (MN) scope of care (see WAC 388-462-0015 for client eligibility). Clients enrolled in an MAA managed care plan must receive all medical maternity care and newborn delivery services through the plan. See subsection (20) of this section for client eligibility limitations for smoking cessation counseling provided as part of antepartum care services.

(3) MAA does not provide maternity care and delivery services to its clients who are eligible for:

(a) Family planning only (a pregnant client under this program should be referred to the local community services office for eligibility review); or

(b) Any other program not listed in this section.

(4) MAA requires providers of maternity care and newborn delivery services to meet all of the following. Providers must:

(a) Be currently licensed by the state of Washington's department of health (DOH) and/or department of licensing;

(b) Have signed core provider agreements with MAA;

(c) Be practicing within the scope of their licensure; and

(d) Have valid certifications from the appropriate federal or state agency, if such is required to provide these services (e.g., federally qualified health centers (FQHCs), laboratories certified through the Clinical Laboratory Improvement Amendment (CLIA), etc.).

(a) Routine antepartum care that begins in any trimester of a pregnancy;

(b) Delivery (intrapartum care/birth) services; and

(c) Postpartum care. This includes family planning counseling.

(6) When an eligible client receives all the services listed in subsection (5) of this section from one provider, MAA pays that provider a global obstetrical fee.

(7) When an eligible client receives services from more than one provider, MAA pays each provider for the services furnished. The separate services that MAA pays appear in subsection (5) of this section.

(8) MAA pays for antepartum care services in one of the following two ways:

(16) MAA pays only a labor management fee to a provider who begins intrapartum care and unanticipated medical complications prevent that provider from following through with the birthing services.

(17) In addition to MAA's payment for professional services in subsection (15) of this section, MAA may pay separately for services provided by any of the following professional staff:

(a) A stand-by physician in cases of high risk delivery and/or newborn resuscitation;

(b) MAA pays a fee to certain providers who include smoking cessation counseling as part of an antepartum care visit or a postpregnancy office visit (which must take place within two months following live birth, miscarriage, fetal death, or pregnancy termination). MAA pays only the following providers for smoking cessation counseling:

(i) Physicians;

(e) Smoking cessation counseling consists of providing information and assistance to help the client stop smoking. Smoking cessation counseling includes the following steps (refer to MAA's physician-related services billing instructions and births and birthing centers billing instructions for specific counseling suggestions and billing requirements):

(i) Asking the client about her smoking status;

(ii) Advising the client to stop smoking;

(iii) Assessing the client's willingness to set a quit date;

(iv) Assisting the client to stop smoking, which includes developing a written quit plan with a quit date. If the provider considers it appropriate for the client, the "assisting" step may also include prescribing smoking cessation pharmacotherapy as needed (see (f) of this subsection); and

(v) Arranging to track the progress of the client's attempt to stop smoking.

(f) A provider may prescribe pharmacotherapy for smoking cessation for a client when the provider considers the treatment is appropriate for the client. MAA covers certain pharmacotherapy for smoking cessation as follows:

(7) MAA pays for authorized first steps child care when provided by any of the following, subject to the limitations and restrictions listed:

(a) A licensed child care home, center, facility, or foster home; and

(b) A friend, neighbor, or relative, other than those listed in subsection (8) of this section, who is unlicensed and:

(i) Has qualified based on a background check conducted prior to providing the child care (see subsection (9) of this section for information on the background check process);

(ii) Is eighteen years of age or older;

(iii) Has a valid Social Security number; and

(iv) Is authorized to work in the United States.

(8) The following individuals are not eligible to provide first steps child care:

(a) The spouse of the client.

(b) The partner of the client if the client and her partner share the same residence.

(c) The father of the pregnant client's unborn child(ren).

(d) The father of the client's other children(ren).

(e) A parent or stepparent of the client.

(f) A parent or stepparent of the client's spouse.

(g) A parent or stepparent of the client's partner if the client and her partner share the same residence.

(h) An older child(ren) of the:

(i) Client;

(ii) Client's spouse; or

(iii) Client's partner if the client and her partner share the same residence.

(i) An unlicensed child care provider:

(i) Whose background check is pending; or

(ii) Who was disqualified due to the background check.

(j) Any person under age eighteen.

(9) Each unlicensed individual child care provider who a client chooses to be a first steps child care provider is subject to a background check under RCW 43.20A.710 and 74.15.-030. First steps child care will not be authorized by a first steps child care authorizer, or paid by MAA, until MAA's background check has been completed on the unlicensed child care provider. Each unlicensed first steps child care provider is subject to a new background check every two years from the date of the first background check.

(a) MAA's background check process includes all of the following:

(i) The unlicensed child care provider completes and signs the first steps child care background check form and gives it to the client. The client returns it to a first steps child care authorizer who submits it to BCCU. The child care provider's signature on the first steps child care background check form authorizes the department's BCCU to perform the background check.

(ii) BCCU performs a background check on the individual and notifies the appropriate first steps agency or CSO of the results. The first steps child care authorizer notifies both the client and child care provider of one of the following results:

(A) "No known record" (means the individual may provide first steps child care);

(B) "Disqualifying record" (means the individual may not provide first steps child care); or

(C) "Record" (means the individual has a criminal record that needs further review).

For cases needing further review, MAA:

(I) Follows the criteria described in this subsection to determine if the individual may or may not provide first steps child care; and

(II) Notifies the first steps agency or CSO, in writing, of the decision.

(b) The department's background check of unlicensed child care providers may include a review of:

(i) Records of criminal convictions and pending criminal charges as reported by the Washington state patrol (WSP);

(ii) Department findings of abuse, neglect, exploitation, and/or abandonment of children or vulnerable adults; and

(iii) Disciplinary board final decisions.

(c) The department's background check may include a review of law enforcement records of convictions and pending charges in other states or locations when the need for further information is indicated by:

(i) A person's prior residences;

(ii) Reports from credible community sources; or

(iii) An identification number indicating the subject has a record on file with the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

(d) For the purpose of conducting criminal history portions of background checks as required by chapters 43.20A and 74.15 RCW, the department:

(i) Considers only a person's convictions and pending charges; and

(ii) Does not solicit or use as the sole basis for disqualification, information about:

(A) Arrests not resulting in charges; and

(B) Dismissed charges.

(e) In certain situations, MAA may find an individual with conviction(s) to be eligible to provide child care to children through the first steps child care program if:

(i) A conviction for any crime listed in WAC 388-06-0180 occurred more than five years from the date of the first steps child care request; or

(ii) A conviction was for a crime other than those listed in WAC 388-06-0180; and

(iii) MAA uses the criteria in subsection (f) of this section and determines the individual qualifies to provide child care.

(f) When an individual's convictions for a crime meet the conditions in (e)(i) and (ii) of this subsection, MAA may review an individual's background to determine character, suitability and competence to have unsupervised access to children using the following factors:

(i) The amount of time that has passed since the finding or conviction;

(ii) The seriousness of the crime that led to the finding or conviction;

(iii) The number and types of other convictions in the individual's background;

(iv) The individual's age at the time of finding or conviction;

(v) Documentation indicating successful completion of all court-ordered programs and restitution;

(vi) The individual's behavior since the finding or conviction; and

(vii) The vulnerability of the children for whom care is needed.

(g) MAA considers findings or criminal charges that are pending to carry the same weight as a finding or conviction. The individual may provide proof to MAA that the charge has been dropped or there was an acquittal.

(h) MAA does not consider a crime a conviction if a pardon is granted or a court of law expunges or vacates the conviction.

(i) An MAA first steps child care program manager reviews all cases that are identified as "record," and reports the final decision to the first steps agency staff. The first steps agency staff notifies the client and the designated child care provider of the results.

(10) A client who does not agree with a department decision regarding first steps child care program services has a right to a fair hearing under chapter 388-02 WAC. After receiving a request for a fair hearing, MAA may request additional information from the client or the department. After MAA reviews the available information, the result may be:

(a) A reversal of the initial department decision;

(b) Resolution of the client's issue(s); or

(c) A fair hearing conducted per chapter 388-02 WAC.

(11) To be a client who is authorized to receive first steps child care for her child(ren) receives the following forms from a first steps child care authorizer and gives the forms to the child care provider:

(a) First steps child care billing form (DSHS 14-316);

(b) W-9 Form (request for taxpayer identification number and certification); and

(c) A first steps child care (MAA) background authorization form (DSHS 15-253) if the child care provider is unlicensed.

(12) To be paid for providing first steps child care, an authorized child care provider must, within ninety days of the first date the child care is provided:

(a) Complete, sign, and date the appropriate sections of the first steps child care billing form (DSHS 14-316);

(b) Complete an original W-9 Form (the W-9 is completed only once for MAA files unless the information changes); and

(c) Mail (or give) the original completed first steps child care billing form (DSHS 14-316) and W-9 Form (both forms must have the individual's original signature) to:

(i) The first steps authorizer, who submits them to MAA; or

(ii) The client and the client mails (or gives) the forms to the first steps authorizer, who submits them to MAA.

(13) MAA sets payment for first steps child care services at a maximum dollar amount per hour from legislatively appropriated funds. Payment is subject to any exceptions, restrictions, or other limitations listed in this section and other WAC. MAA pays the child care provider directly for first steps child care services when the client and the client's designated first steps child care provider meet all the criteria in this section.

(a) Placed away from the child's parents or guardians in licensed, paid, out-of-home care; and

(b) For whom the department or a licensed or certified child placing agency has placement and care responsibility.

(b) Documentation was not in the client's medical file (see subsection (5) of this section).

GENERAL

WAC 388-535-1050 Dental-related definitions. The following definitions and abbreviations and those found in WAC 388-500-0005 apply to this chapter. The department also uses dental definitions found in the American Dental Association's Current Dental Terminology (CDT) and the American Medical Association's Physician's Current Procedural Terminology (CPT). Where there is any discrepancy between the CDT or CPT and this section, this section prevails. (CPT is a trademark of the American Medical Association.)

"Access to baby and child dentistry (ABCD)" is a program to increase access to dental services in targeted areas for medicaid eligible infants, toddlers, and preschoolers up through the age of five. See WAC 388-535-1300 for specific information.

"American Dental Association (ADA)" is a national organization for dental professionals and dental societies.

"Anterior" refers to teeth (maxillary and mandibular incisors and canines) and tissue in the front of the mouth. Permanent maxillary anterior teeth include teeth six, seven, eight, nine, ten, and eleven. Permanent mandibular anterior teeth include teeth twenty-two, twenty-three, twenty-four, twenty-five, twenty-six, and twenty-seven. Primary maxillary anterior teeth include teeth C, D, E, F, G, and H. Primary mandibular anterior teeth include teeth M, N, O, P, Q, and R.

"Asymptomatic" means having or producing no symptoms.

"Base metal" means dental alloy containing little or no precious metals.

"Behavior management" means using the assistance of one additional dental professional staff to manage the behavior of a client to facilitate the delivery of dental treatment.

"By report" - a method of reimbursement in which the department determines the amount it will pay for a service when the rate for that service is not included in the department's published fee schedules. Upon request the provider must submit a "report" which describes the nature, extent, time, effort and/or equipment necessary to deliver the service.

"Caries" means carious lesions or tooth decay through the enamel or decay of the root surface.

"Comprehensive oral evaluation" means a thorough evaluation and documentation of a client's dental and medical history to include extra-oral and intra-oral hard and soft tissues, dental caries, missing or unerupted teeth, restorations, occlusal relationships, periodontal conditions (including periodontal charting), hard and soft tissue anomalies, and oral cancer screening.

"Conscious sedation" is a drug-induced depression of consciousness during which a client responds purposefully to verbal commands, either alone or accompanied by light tactile stimulation. No interventions are required to maintain a patent airway, spontaneous ventilation is adequate, and cardiovascular function is maintained.

"Core buildup" refers to building up of clinical crowns, including pins.

"Coronal" is the portion of a tooth that is covered by enamel.

"Coronal polishing" is a mechanical procedure limited to the removal of plaque and stain from exposed tooth surfaces.

"Crown" means a restoration covering or replacing part or the whole clinical crown of a tooth.

"Current dental terminology (CDT)" is a systematic listing of descriptive terms and identifying codes for reporting dental services and procedures performed by dental practitioners. CDT is published by the Council on Dental Benefit Programs of the American Dental Association (ADA).

"Current procedural terminology (CPT)" is a systematic listing of descriptive terms and identifying codes for reporting medical services, procedures, and interventions performed by physicians and other practitioners who provide physician-related services. CPT is copyrighted and published annually by the American Medical Association (AMA).

"Decay" is a term for caries or carious lesions and means decomposition of tooth structure.

"Deep sedation" is a drug-induced depression of consciousness during which a client cannot be easily aroused, ventilatory function may be impaired, but the client responds to repeated or painful stimulation.

"Dental general anesthesia" see "general anesthesia."

"Dentures" means an artificial replacement for natural teeth and adjacent tissues, and includes complete dentures, immediate dentures, overdentures, and partial dentures.

"Denturist" means a person licensed under chapter 18.30 RCW to make, construct, alter, reproduce, or repair a denture.

"Endodontic" means the etiology, diagnosis, prevention and treatment of diseases and injuries of the pulp and associated periradicular conditions.

"EPSDT" means the department's early and periodic screening, diagnosis, and treatment program for clients twenty years of age and younger as described in chapter 388-534 WAC.

"Flowable composite" is a diluted resin-based composite dental restorative material that is used in cervical restorations and small, low stress bearing occlusal restorations.

"Fluoride varnish, rinse, foam or gel" is a substance containing dental fluoride which is applied to teeth.

"General anesthesia" is a drug-induced loss of consciousness during which a client is not arousable even by painful stimulation. The ability to independently maintain ventilatory function is often impaired. Clients may require assistance in maintaining a patent airway, and positive pressure ventilation may be required because of depressed spontaneous ventilation or drug-induced depression of neuromuscular function. Cardiovascular function may be impaired.

"High noble metal" is a dental alloy containing at least sixty percent pure gold.

"Limited oral evaluation" is an evaluation limited to a specific oral health condition or problem. Typically a client receiving this type of evaluation has a dental emergency, such as trauma or acute infection.

WAC 388-535-1280 Obtaining prior authorization for dental-related services for clients age twenty-one and older. (1) The department uses the determination process described in WAC 388-501-0165 for covered dental-related services for clients age twenty-one and older that require prior authorization.

(2) The department requires a dental provider who is requesting prior authorization to submit sufficient objective clinical information to establish medical necessity. The request must be submitted in writing on an American Dental Association (ADA) claim form, which may be obtained by writing to the American Dental Association, 211 East Chicago Avenue, Chicago, Illinois 60611.

(3) The department may request additional information as follows:

(a) Additional radiographs (X rays) (refer to WAC 388-535-1255(2));

(c) Photographs; and

(d) Any other information as determined by the department.

PAYMENT

WAC 388-535-1350 Payment methodology for dental-related services. The medical assistance administration (MAA) uses the description of dental services described in the American Dental Association's Current Dental Terminology, and the American Medical Association's Physician's Current Procedural Terminology (CPT).

(1) For covered dental-related services provided to eligible clients, MAA pays dentists and other eligible providers on a fee-for-service or contractual basis, subject to the exceptions and restrictions listed under WAC 388-535-1100 and 388-535-1400.

(2) MAA sets maximum allowable fees for dental services provided to children as follows:

(a) MAA's historical reimbursement rates for various procedures are compared to usual and customary charges.

(b) MAA consults with representatives of the provider community to identify program areas and concerns that need to be addressed.

(c) MAA consults with dental experts and public health professionals to identify and prioritize dental services and procedures for their effectiveness in improving or promoting children's dental health.

(d) Legislatively authorized vendor rate increases and/or earmarked appropriations for children's dental services are allocated to specific procedures based on the priorities identified in (c) of this subsection and considerations of access to services.

(e) Larger percentage increases may be given to those procedures which have been identified as most effective in improving or promoting children's dental health.

(f) Budget-neutral rate adjustments are made as appropriate based on the department's evaluation of utilization trends, effectiveness of interventions, and access issues.

(3) MAA reimburses dental general anesthesia services for eligible clients on the basis of base anesthesia units plus time. Payment for dental general anesthesia is calculated as follows:

(a) Dental procedures are assigned an anesthesia base unit of five;

(b) Fifteen minutes constitute one unit of time. When a dental procedure requiring dental general anesthesia results in multiple time units and a remainder (less than fifteen minutes), the remainder or fraction is considered as one time unit;

(c) Time units are added to the anesthesia base unit of five and multiplied by the anesthesia conversion factor;

(d) The formula for determining payment for dental general anesthesia is: (5.0 base anesthesia units + time units) x conversion factor = payment.

(4) When billing for anesthesia, the provider must show the actual beginning and ending times on the claim. Anesthesia time begins when the provider starts to physically prepare the client for the induction of anesthesia in the operating room area (or its equivalent), and ends when the provider is no longer in constant attendance (i.e., when the client can be safely placed under postoperative supervision).

(5) MAA pays eligible providers listed in WAC 388-535-1070 for conscious sedation with parenteral and multiple oral agents, or for general anesthesia when the provider meets the criteria in this chapter and other applicable WAC.

(6) Dental hygienists who have a contract with MAA are paid at the same rate as dentists who have a contract with MAA, for services allowed under The Dental Hygienist Practice Act.

(7) Licensed denturists who have a contract with MAA are paid at the same rate as dentists who have a contract with MAA, for providing dentures and partials.

(8) MAA makes fee schedule changes whenever the legislature authorizes vendor rate increases or decreases.

(9) MAA may adjust maximum allowable fees to reflect changes in services or procedure code descriptions.

(10) MAA does not pay separately for chart or record setup, or for completion of reports, forms, or charting. The fees for these services are included in MAA's reimbursement for comprehensive oral evaluations or limited oral evaluations.

WAC 388-535-1400 Payment for dental-related services. (1) The medical assistance administration (MAA) considers that a provider who furnishes covered dental services to an eligible client has accepted MAA's rules and fees.

(2) Participating providers must bill MAA their usual and customary fees.

(3) Payment for dental services is based on MAA's schedule of maximum allowances. Fees listed in the MAA fee schedule are the maximum allowable fees.

(4) MAA pays the provider the lesser of the billed charge (usual and customary fee) or MAA's maximum allowable fee.

(5) MAA pays "by report" on a case-by-case basis, for a covered service that does not have a set fee.

(6) Participating providers must bill a client according to WAC 388-502-0160, unless otherwise specified in this chapter.

(7) If the client's eligibility for dental services ends before the conclusion of the dental treatment, payment for any remaining treatment is the client's responsibility. The exception to this is dentures and partial dentures as described in WAC 388-535-1240 and 388-535-1290.

Chapter 388-535A WAC
ORTHODONTIC SERVICES

WAC

WAC 388-535A-0010 Definitions for orthodontic services. The following definitions and those found in WAC 388-500-0005 apply to this chapter.

"Appliance placement" means the application of orthodontic attachments to the teeth for the purpose of correcting dentofacial abnormalities.

"Cleft" means an opening or fissure involving the dentition and supporting structures, especially one occurring in utero. These can be:

(1) Cleft lip;

(2) Cleft palate (involving the roof of the mouth); or

(3) Facial clefts (e.g., macrostomia).

"Comprehensive full orthodontic treatment" means utilizing fixed orthodontic appliances for treatment of the permanent dentition leading to the improvement of a client's severe handicapping craniofacial dysfunction and/or dentofacial deformity, including anatomical and functional relationships.

"Craniofacial anomalies" means abnormalities of the head and face, either congenital or acquired, involving disruption of the dentition and supporting structures.

"Craniofacial team" means a cleft palate/maxillofacial team or an American Cleft Palate Association-certified craniofacial team. These teams are responsible for the management (review, evaluation, and approval) of patients with cleft palate craniofacial anomalies to provide integrated management, promote parent-professional partnership, and make appropriate referrals to implement and coordinate treatment plans.

"Dental dysplasia" means an abnormality in the development of the teeth.

"EPSDT" means the department's early and periodic screening, diagnosis, and treatment program for clients twenty years of age and younger as described in chapter 388-534 WAC.

"Hemifacial microsomia" means a developmental condition involving the first and second brachial arch. This creates an abnormality of the upper and lower jaw, ear, and associated structures (half or part of the face appears smaller sized).

"Interceptive orthodontic treatment" means procedures to lessen the severity or future effects of a malformation and to affect or eliminate the cause. Such treatment may occur in the primary or transitional dentition and may include such procedures as the redirection of ectopically erupting teeth, correction of isolated dental cross-bite, or recovery of recent minor space loss where overall space is adequate.

"Limited transitional orthodontic treatment" means orthodontic treatment with a limited objective, not involving the entire dentition. It may be directed only at the existing problem, or at only one aspect of a larger problem in which a decision is made to defer or forego more comprehensive therapy.

"Malocclusion" means improper alignment of biting or chewing surfaces of upper and lower teeth.

"Maxillofacial" means relating to the jaws and face.

"Occlusion" means the relation of the upper and lower teeth when in functional contact during jaw movement.

"Orthodontics" means treatment involving the use of any appliance, in or out of the mouth, removable or fixed, or any surgical procedure designed to redirect teeth and surrounding tissues.

"Orthodontist" means a dentist who specializes in orthodontics, who is a graduate of a postgraduate program in orthodontics that is accredited by the American Dental Association, and who meets the licensure requirements of the department of health.

The assigned client has ten calendar days to contact the department to change the MCO or PCCM provider assignment before enrollment is effective. The notice includes the name of the MCO or PCCM provider to which each client has been assigned, the effective date of enrollment, the date by which the client must respond in order to change the assignment, and the toll-free telephone number of either:

(A) The MCO (for enrollees assigned to an MCO); or

(B) The department (for enrollees assigned to a PCCM provider).

(iv) If the client has a break in eligibility of less than two months, the client will be automatically reenrolled with his or her previous MCO or PCCM provider and no notice will be sent.

(8) The department:

(a) Helps facilitate the choice of a PCP by providing information regarding available providers contracted with the MCOs in the client's service area; and

(b) Upon request, will assist clients in identifying an MCO with which their provider participates.

(9) An MCO enrollee's selection of a PCP or assignment to a PCP occurs as follows:

(a) An MCO enrollee may choose:

(i) A PCP or clinic that is in the enrollee's MCO and accepting new enrollees; or

(ii) A different PCP or clinic participating with the enrollee's MCO for different family members.

(b) The MCO assigns a PCP or clinic that meets the access standards set forth in the relevant managed care contract if the enrollee does not choose a PCP or clinic.

(c) An MCO enrollee may change PCPs or clinics in an MCO for any reason, with the change becoming effective no later than the beginning of the month following the enrollee's request.

(d) An MCO enrollee may file a grievance with the MCO if the MCO does not approve an enrollee's request to change PCPs or clinics.

(e) MCO enrollees required to participate in the department's PRC program may be limited in their right to change PCPs (see WAC 388-501-0135).

WAC 388-538-061 Voluntary enrollment into managed care—Washington medicaid integration partnership (WMIP). (1) The purpose of this section is to describe the managed care requirements for clients eligible for the Washington Medicaid Integration Partnership (WMIP).

(2) Unless otherwise stated in this section, all of the provisions of chapter 388-538 WAC apply to clients enrolled in WMIP.

(3) The following sections of chapter 388-538 WAC do not apply to WMIP enrollees:

(a) WAC 388-538-060. However, WAC 388-538-060(9), describing enrollees' ability to choose their PCP, does apply to WMIP enrollees;

(b) WAC 388-538-063;

(c) WAC 388-538-065;

(d) WAC 388-538-068; and

(e) WAC 388-538-130. However, WAC 388-538-130 (3) and (4), describing the process used when the department receives a request from an MCO to remove an enrollee from enrollment in managed care, do apply to WMIP enrollees. Also, WAC 388-538-130(9), describing the MCO's ability to refer enrollees to the department's "Patient Review and Coordination" program, does apply to WMIP enrollees.

(4) The process for enrollment of WMIP clients is as follows:

(a) Enrollment in WMIP is voluntary, subject to program limitations in (b) and (d) of this subsection.

(b) For WMIP, the department automatically enrolls clients, with the exception of American Indian/Alaska natives and clients eligible for both medicare and medicaid, when they:

(i) Are aged, blind, or disabled;

(ii) Are twenty-one years of age or older; and

(iii) Receive categorically needy medical assistance.

(c) American Indian/Alaska native (AI/AN) clients and clients who are eligible for both medicare and medicaid who meet the eligibility criteria in (b) of this subsection may voluntarily enroll or end enrollment in WMIP at any time.

(d) The department will not enroll a client in WMIP, or will end an enrollee's enrollment in WMIP when the client has, or becomes eligible for, CHAMPUS/TRICARE or any other third-party healthcare coverage that would:

(i) Require the department to either exempt the client from enrollment in managed care; or

(ii) End the enrollee's enrollment in managed care.

(e) A client or enrollee in WMIP, or the client's or enrollee's representative, may end enrollment from the MCO at any time without cause. The client may then reenroll at any time with the MCO. The department ends enrollment for clients prospectively to the first day of the month following the request to end enrollment, except as provided in (f) of this subsection.

(f) A client or enrollee may request that the department retroactively end enrollment from WMIP. On a case-by-case basis, the department may retroactively end enrollment from WMIP when, in the department's judgment:

(i) The client or enrollee has a documented and verifiable medical condition; and

(ii) Enrollment in managed care could cause an interruption of on-going treatment that could jeopardize the client's or enrollee's life or health or ability to attain, maintain, or regain maximum function.

(5) In addition to the scope of medical care services described in WAC 388-538-095, WMIP includes mental health, chemical dependency treatment, and long-term care services.

(6) The department sends each client written information about covered services when the client is eligible to enroll in WMIP, and any time there is a change in covered services. In addition, the department requires MCOs to provide new enrollees with written information about covered services.

This notice informs the client about the right to end enrollment and how to do so.

WAC 388-538-063 GAU clients residing in a designated mandatory managed care plan county. (1) In Laws of 2007, chapter 522, section 209 (13) and (14), the legislature authorized the department to provide coverage of certain medical and mental health benefits to clients who:

(a) Receive medical care services (MCS) under the general assistance unemployable (GAU) program; and

(b) Reside in a county designated by the department as a mandatory managed care plan county.

(2) The only sections of chapter 388-538 WAC that apply to GAU clients described in this section are incorporated by reference into this section.

(3) GAU clients who reside in a county designated by the department as a mandatory managed care plan county must enroll in a managed care plan as required by WAC 388-505-0110(7) to receive department-paid medical care. A GAU client enrolled in an MCO plan under this section is defined as a GAU enrollee.

(4) GAU clients are exempt from mandatory enrollment in managed care if they are American Indian or Alaska Native (AI/AN) and meet the provisions of 25 U.S.C. 1603 (c)-(d) for federally recognized tribal members and their descendants.

(5) The department exempts a GAU client from mandatory enrollment in managed care:

(a) If the GAU client resides in a county that is not designated by the department as a mandatory MCO plan county; or

(b) In accordance with WAC 388-538-130(3).

(6) The department ends a GAU enrollee's enrollment in managed care in accordance with WAC 388-538-130(4).

(7) On a case-by-case basis, the department may grant a GAU client's request for exemption from managed care or a GAU enrollee's request to end enrollment when, in the department's judgment:

(a) The client or enrollee has a documented and verifiable medical condition; and

(b) Enrollment in managed care could cause an interruption of treatment that could jeopardize the client's or enrollee's life or health or ability to attain, maintain, or regain maximum function.

(8) The department enrolls GAU clients in managed care effective on the earliest possible date, given the requirements of the enrollment system. The department does not enroll clients in managed care on a retroactive basis.

(9) Managed care organizations (MCOs) that contract with the department to provide services to GAU clients must meet the qualifications and requirements in WAC 388-538-067 and 388-538-095 (3)(a), (b), (c), and (d).

(10) The department pays MCOs capitated premiums for GAU enrollees based on legislative allocations for the GAU program.

(11) GAU enrollees are eligible for the scope of care as described in WAC 388-501-0060 for medical care services (MCS) programs.

(a) A GAU enrollee is entitled to timely access to medically necessary services as defined in WAC 388-500-0005;

(b) MCOs cover the services included in the managed care contract for GAU enrollees. MCOs may, at their discretion, cover services not required under the MCO's contract for GAU enrollees;

(c) The department pays providers on a fee-for-service basis for the medically necessary, covered medical care services not covered under the MCO's contract for GAU enrollees;

(d) A GAU enrollee may obtain:

(i) Emergency services in accordance with WAC 388-538-100; and

(ii) Mental health services in accordance with this section.

(12) The department does not pay providers on a fee-for-service basis for services covered under the MCO's contract for GAU enrollees, even if the MCO has not paid for the service, regardless of the reason. The MCO is solely responsible for payment of MCO-contracted healthcare services that are:

(a) Provided by an MCO-contracted provider; or

(b) Authorized by the MCO and provided by nonparticipating providers.

(13) The following services are not covered for GAU enrollees unless the MCO chooses to cover these services at no additional cost to the department:

(a) Services that are not medically necessary;

(b) Services not included in the medical care services scope of care, unless otherwise specified in this section;

(c) Services, other than a screening exam as described in WAC 388-538-100(3), received in a hospital emergency department for nonemergency medical conditions; and

(d) Services received from a nonparticipating provider requiring prior authorization from the MCO that were not authorized by the MCO.

(14) A provider may bill a GAU enrollee for noncovered services described in subsection (12) of this section, if the requirements of WAC 388-502-0160 and 388-538-095(5) are met.

(15) Mental health services and care coordination are available to GAU enrollees on a limited basis, subject to available funding from the legislature and an appropriate delivery system.

(16) A care coordinator (a person employed by the MCO or one of the MCO's subcontractors) provides care coordination to a GAU enrollee in order to improve access to mental health services. Care coordination may include brief, evidenced-based mental health services.

(17) To ensure a GAU enrollee receives appropriate mental health services and care coordination, the department requires the enrollee to complete at least one of the following assessments:

(a) A physical evaluation;

(b) A psychological evaluation;

(c) A mental health assessment completed through the client's local community mental health agency (CMHA) and/or other mental health agencies;

(d) A brief evaluation completed through the appropriate care coordinator located at a participating community health center (CHC);

(e) An evaluation by the client's primary care provider (PCP); or

(f) An evaluation completed by medical staff during an emergency room visit.

(18) A GAU enrollee who is screened positive for a mental health condition after completing one or more of the assessments described in subsection (17) of this section may receive one of the following levels of care:

(a) Level 1. Care provided by a care coordinator when it is determined that the GAU enrollee does not require Level 2 services. The care coordinator will provide the following, as determined appropriate and available:

(i) Evidenced-based behavioral health services and care coordination to facilitate receipt of other needed services.

(ii) Coordination with the PCP to provide medication management.

(iii) Referrals to other services as needed.

(iv) Coordination with consulting psychiatrist as necessary.

(b) Level 2. Care provided by a contracted provider when it is determined that the GAU enrollee requires services beyond Level 1 services. A care coordinator refers the GAU enrollee to the appropriate provider for services:

(i) A regional support network (RSN) contracted provider; or

(ii) A contractor-designated entity.

(19) Billing and reporting requirements and payment amounts for mental health services and care coordination provided to GAU enrollees are described in the contract between the MCO and the department.

(20) The total amount the department pays in any biennium for services provided pursuant to this section cannot exceed the amount appropriated by the legislature for that biennium. The department has the authority to take whatever actions necessary to ensure the department stays within the appropriation.

(21) Nothing in this section shall be construed as creating a legal entitlement to any GAU client for the receipt of any medical or mental health service by or through the department.

(22) An MCO may refer enrollees to the department's patient review and coordination (PRC) program according to WAC 388-501-0135.

(23) The grievance and appeal process found in WAC 388-538-110 applies to GAU enrollees described in this section.

(24) The hearing process found in chapter 388-02 WAC and WAC 388-538-112 applies to GAU enrollees described in this section.

WAC 388-538-065 Medicaid-eligible basic health (BH) enrollees. (1) Certain children and pregnant women who have applied for, or are enrolled in, managed care through basic health (BH) (chapter 70.47 RCW) are eligible for medicaid under pediatric and maternity expansion provisions of the Social Security Act. The department determines medicaid eligibility for children and pregnant women who enroll through BH.

(2) Eligible children are enrolled in the basic health plus program and eligible pregnant women are enrolled in the maternity benefits program.

(3) The administrative rules and regulations that apply to managed care enrollees also apply to medicaid-eligible clients enrolled through BH, except as follows:

(a) The process for enrolling in managed care described in WAC 388-538-060(3) does not apply since enrollment is through the health care authority, the state agency that administers BH;

(b) American Indian/Alaska native (AI/AN) clients cannot choose fee-for-service or PCCM as described in WAC 388-538-060(2). They must enroll in a BH-contracted MCO.

(c) If a medicaid eligible client applying for BH plus does not choose an MCO prior to the department's eligibility determination, the client is transferred from BH plus to the department for assignment to managed care.

(d) The department does not consider the basic health plus and the maternity benefits programs to be third party.

WAC 388-538-095 Scope of care for managed care enrollees. (1) Managed care enrollees are eligible for the scope of medical care services as described in WAC 388-501-0060 for categorically needy clients.

(a) A client is entitled to timely access to medically necessary services as defined in WAC 388-500-0005.

(b) The managed care organization (MCO) covers the services included in the MCO contract for MCO enrollees. MCOs may, at their discretion, cover additional services not required under the MCO contract. However, the department may not require the MCO to cover any additional services outside the scope of services negotiated in the MCO's contract with the department.

(c) The department covers medically necessary services described in WAC 388-501-0060 and 388-501-0065 that are excluded from coverage in the MCO contract.

(d) The department covers services through the fee-for-service system for enrollees with a primary care case management (PCCM) provider. Except for emergencies, the PCCM provider must either provide the covered services needed by the enrollee, or refer the enrollee to other providers who are contracted with the department for covered services. The PCCM provider is responsible for instructing the enrollee regarding how to obtain the services that are referred by the PCCM provider. Services that require PCCM provider referral are described in the PCCM contract. The department informs an enrollee about the enrollee's program coverage, limitations to covered services, and how to obtain covered services.

(e) MCO enrollees may obtain specific services described in the managed care contract from either an MCO provider or from a provider with a separate agreement with the department without needing to obtain a referral from the PCP or MCO. These services are communicated to enrollees by the department and MCOs as described in (f) of this subsection.

(f) The department sends each client written information about covered services when the client is required to enroll in managed care, and any time there is a change in covered services. This information describes covered services, which services are covered by the department, and which services are covered by MCOs. In addition, the department requires MCOs to provide new enrollees with written information about covered services.

(2) For services covered by the department through PCCM contracts for managed care:

(a) The department covers medically necessary services included in the categorically needy scope of care and rendered by providers who have a current core provider agreement with the department to provide the requested service;

(b) The department may require the PCCM provider to obtain authorization from the department for coverage of nonemergency services;

(c) The PCCM provider determines which services are medically necessary;

(d) An enrollee may request a hearing for review of PCCM provider or the department coverage decisions (see WAC 388-538-110); and

(e) Services referred by the PCCM provider require an authorization number in order to receive payment from the department.

(3) For services covered by the department through contracts with MCOs:

(a) The department requires the MCO to subcontract with a sufficient number of providers to deliver the scope of contracted services in a timely manner. Except for emergency services, MCOs provide covered services to enrollees through their participating providers;

(b) The department requires MCOs to provide new enrollees with written information about how enrollees may obtain covered services;

(c) For nonemergency services, MCOs may require the enrollee to obtain a referral from the primary care provider (PCP), or the provider to obtain authorization from the MCO, according to the requirements of the MCO contract;

(d) MCOs and their providers determine which services are medically necessary given the enrollee's condition, according to the requirements included in the MCO contract;

(e) The department requires the MCO to coordinate benefits with other insurers in a manner that does not reduce benefits to the enrollee or result in costs to the enrollee;

(f) A managed care enrollee does not need a PCP referral to receive women's healthcare services, as described in RCW 48.42.100, from any women's healthcare provider participating with the MCO. Any covered services ordered and/or prescribed by the women's healthcare provider must meet the MCO's service authorization requirements for the specific service.

(g) For enrollees temporarily outside their MCO services area, the MCO is required to cover enrollees for up to ninety days for emergency care and medically necessary covered benefits that cannot wait until the enrollees return to their MCO services area.

(4) Unless the MCO chooses to cover these services, or an appeal, independent review, or a hearing decision reverses an MCO or department denial, the following services are not covered:

(a) For all managed care enrollees:

(i) Services that are not medically necessary[.]

(ii) Services not included in the categorically needy scope of services.

(iii) Services, other than a screening exam as described in WAC 388-538-100(3), received in a hospital emergency department for nonemergency medical conditions.

(b) For MCO enrollees:

(i) Services received from a participating specialist that require prior authorization from the MCO, but were not authorized by the MCO.

(ii) Services received from a nonparticipating provider that require prior authorization from the MCO that were not authorized by the MCO. All nonemergency services covered under the MCO contract and received from nonparticipating providers require prior authorization from the MCO.

(c) For PCCM enrollees, services that require a referral from the PCCM provider as described in the PCCM contract, but were not referred by the PCCM provider.

(5) A provider may bill an enrollee for noncovered services as described in subsection (4) of this section, if the requirements of WAC 388-502-0160 are met.

WAC 388-538-100 Managed care emergency services. (1) A managed care enrollee may obtain emergency services, for emergency medical conditions from any qualified medicaid provider. ("Emergency services" and "emergency medical condition" are defined in WAC 388-538-050.)

(a) The managed care organization (MCO) covers emergency services for MCO enrollees.

(b) The department covers emergency services for primary care case management (PCCM) enrollees.

(2) Emergency services for emergency medical conditions do not require prior authorization by the MCO, primary care provider (PCP), PCCM provider, or the department.

(3) MCOs must cover all emergency services provided to an enrollee by a provider who is qualified to furnish medicaid services, without regard to whether the provider is a participating or nonparticipating provider.

(4) An enrollee who requests emergency services is entitled to receive an exam to determine if the enrollee has an emergency medical condition. What constitutes an emergency medical condition may not be limited on the basis of diagnosis or symptoms.

(5) The MCO must cover emergency services provided to an enrollee when:

(a) The enrollee had an emergency medical condition, including cases in which the absence of immediate medical attention would not have had the outcomes specified in the definition of an emergency medical condition; and

(b) The plan provider or other MCO representative instructs the enrollee to seek emergency services.

(6) In any disagreement between a hospital and the MCO about whether the enrollee is stable enough for discharge or transfer, or whether the medical benefits of an unstabilized transfer outweigh the risks, the judgment of the attending physician(s) actually caring for the enrollee at the treating facility prevails.

(7) Under 42 C.F.R. 438.114, the enrollee's MCO must cover and pay for:

(a) Emergency services provided to enrollees by an emergency room provider, hospital or fiscal agent outside the managed care system; and

(b) Any screening and treatment the enrollee requires subsequent to the provision of the emergency services.

WAC 388-538-110 The grievance system for managed care organizations (MCO). (1) This section contains information about the grievance system for managed care organization (MCO) enrollees, which includes grievances and appeals. See WAC 388-538-111 for information about the grievance system for PCCM enrollees, which includes grievances and appeals.

(2) An MCO enrollee may voice a grievance or appeal an action by an MCO to the MCO either orally or in writing.

(3) MCOs must maintain records of grievances and appeals and must review the information as part of the MCO's quality strategy.

(4) MCOs must provide information describing the MCO's grievance system to all providers and subcontractors.

(5) Each MCO must have a grievance system in place for enrollees. The system must comply with the requirements of this section and the regulations of the state office of the insurance commissioner (OIC). If a conflict exists between the requirements of this chapter and OIC regulations, the requirements of this chapter take precedence. The MCO grievance system must include all of the following:

(a) A grievance process for complaints about any matter other than an action, as defined in WAC 388-538-050. See subsection (6) of this section for this process;

(b) An appeal process for an action, as defined in WAC 388-538-050. See subsection (7) of this section for the standard appeal process and subsection (8) of this section for the expedited appeal process;

(c) Access to the department's hearing process for actions as defined in WAC 388-538-050. The department's hearing process described in chapter 388-02 WAC applies to this chapter. Where conflicts exist, the requirements in this chapter take precedence. See WAC 388-538-112 for the department's hearing process for MCO enrollees;

(d) Access to an independent review (IR) as described in RCW 48.43.535, for actions as defined in WAC 388-538-050 (see WAC 388-538-112 for additional information about the IR); and

(e) Access to the board of appeals (BOA) for actions as defined in WAC 388-538-050 (also see chapter 388-02 WAC and WAC 388-538-112).

(6) The MCO grievance process:

(a) Only an enrollee may file a grievance with an MCO; a provider may not file a grievance on behalf of an enrollee.

(b) To ensure the rights of MCO enrollees are protected, each MCO's grievance process must be approved by the department.

(c) MCOs must inform enrollees in writing within fifteen days of enrollment about enrollees' rights and how to use the MCO's grievance process, including how to use the department's hearing process. The MCOs must have department approval for all written information the MCO sends to enrollees.

(d) The MCO must give enrollees any assistance necessary in taking procedural steps for grievances (e.g., interpreter services and toll-free numbers).

(e) The MCO must acknowledge receipt of each grievance either orally or in writing, and each appeal in writing, within five working days.

(f) The MCO must ensure that the individuals who make decisions on grievances are individuals who:

(i) Were not involved in any previous level of review or decision making; and

(ii) If deciding any of the following, are healthcare professionals who have appropriate clinical expertise in treating the enrollee's condition or disease:

(A) A grievance regarding denial of an expedited resolution of an appeal; or

(B) A grievance involving clinical issues.

(g) The MCO must complete the disposition of a grievance and notice to the affected parties within ninety days of receiving the grievance.

(7) The MCO appeal process:

(a) An MCO enrollee, or the enrollee's representative with the enrollee's written consent, may appeal an MCO action.

(b) To ensure the rights of MCO enrollees are protected, each MCO's appeal process must be approved by the department.

(c) MCOs must inform enrollees in writing within fifteen days of enrollment about enrollees' rights and how to use the MCO's appeal process and the department's hearing process. The MCOs must have department approval for all written information the MCO sends to enrollees.

(d) For standard service authorization decisions, an enrollee must file an appeal, either orally or in writing, within ninety calendar days of the date on the MCO's notice of action. This also applies to an enrollee's request for an expedited appeal.

(e) For appeals for termination, suspension, or reduction of previously authorized services, if the enrollee is requesting continuation of services, the enrollee must file an appeal within ten calendar days of the date of the MCO mailing the notice of action. Otherwise, the time frames in subsection (7)(d) of this section apply.

(f) The MCO's notice of action must:

(i) Be in writing;

(ii) Be in the enrollee's primary language and be easily understood as required in 42 C.F.R. 438.10 (c) and (d);

(iii) Explain the action the MCO or its contractor has taken or intends to take;

(iv) Explain the reasons for the action;

(v) Explain the enrollee's or the enrollee's representative's right to file an MCO appeal;

(vi) Explain the procedures for exercising the enrollee's rights;

(vii) Explain the circumstances under which expedited resolution is available and how to request it (also see subsection (8) of this section);

(viii) Explain the enrollee's right to have benefits continue pending resolution of an appeal, how to request that benefits be continued, and the circumstances under which the enrollee may be required to pay the costs of these services (also see subsection (9) of this section); and

(ix) Be mailed as expeditiously as the enrollee's health condition requires, and as follows:

(A) For denial of payment, at the time of any action affecting the claim. This applies only when the client can be held liable for the costs associated with the action.

(B) For standard service authorization decisions that deny or limit services, not to exceed fourteen calendar days following receipt of the request for service, with a possible extension of up to fourteen additional calendar days if the enrollee or provider requests extension. If the request for extension is granted, the MCO must:

(I) Give the enrollee written notice of the reason for the decision for the extension and inform the enrollee of the right to file a grievance if the enrollee disagrees with that decision; and

(II) Issue and carry out the determination as expeditiously as the enrollee's health condition requires and no later than the date the extension expires.

(C) For termination, suspension, or reduction of previously authorized services, ten days prior to such termination, suspension, or reduction, except if the criteria stated in 42 C.F.R. 431.213 and 431.214 are met. The notice must be mailed by a method which certifies receipt and assures delivery within three calendar days.

(D) For expedited authorization decisions, in cases where the provider indicates or the MCO determines that following the standard time frame could seriously jeopardize the enrollee's life or health or ability to attain, maintain, or regain maximum function, no later than three calendar days after receipt of the request for service.

(g) The MCO must give enrollees any assistance necessary in taking procedural steps for an appeal (e.g., interpreter services and toll-free numbers).

(h) The MCO must acknowledge receipt of each appeal.

(i) The MCO must ensure that the individuals who make decisions on appeals are individuals who:

(i) Were not involved in any previous level of review or decision making; and

(ii) If deciding any of the following, are healthcare professionals who have appropriate clinical expertise in treating the enrollee's condition or disease:

(A) An appeal of a denial that is based on lack of medical necessity; or

(B) An appeal that involves clinical issues.

(j) The process for appeals must:

(i) Provide that oral inquiries seeking to appeal an action are treated as appeals (to establish the earliest possible filing date for the appeal), and must be confirmed in writing, unless the enrollee or provider requests an expedited resolution. Also see subsection (8) for information on expedited resolutions;

(ii) Provide the enrollee a reasonable opportunity to present evidence, and allegations of fact or law, in person as well as in writing. The MCO must inform the enrollee of the limited time available for this in the case of expedited resolution;

(iii) Provide the enrollee and the enrollee's representative opportunity, before and during the appeals process, to examine the enrollee's case file, including medical records, and any other documents and records considered during the appeal process; and

(iv) Include as parties to the appeal, the enrollee and the enrollee's representative, or the legal representative of the deceased enrollee's estate.

(k) MCOs must resolve each appeal and provide notice, as expeditiously as the enrollee's health condition requires, within the following time frames:

(i) For standard resolution of appeals and notice to the affected parties, no longer than forty-five calendar days from the day the MCO receives the appeal. This time frame may not be extended.

(ii) For expedited resolution of appeals, including notice to the affected parties, no longer than three calendar days after the MCO receives the appeal.

(iii) For appeals for termination, suspension, or reduction of previously authorized services, no longer than forty-five calendar days from the day the MCO receives the appeal.

(l) The notice of the resolution of the appeal must:

(i) Be in writing. For notice of an expedited resolution, the MCO must also make reasonable efforts to provide oral notice (also see subsection (8) of this section).

(ii) Include the results of the resolution process and the date it was completed.

(iii) For appeals not resolved wholly in favor of the enrollee:

(A) Include information on the enrollee's right to request a department hearing and how to do so (also see WAC 388-538-112);

(B) Include information on the enrollee's right to receive services while the hearing is pending and how to make the request (also see subsection (9) of this section); and

(C) Inform the enrollee that the enrollee may be held liable for the cost of services received while the hearing is pending, if the hearing decision upholds the MCO's action (also see subsection (10) of this section).

(m) If an MCO enrollee does not agree with the MCO's resolution of the appeal, the enrollee may file a request for a department hearing within the following time frames (see WAC 388-538-112 for the department's hearing process for MCO enrollees):

(i) For hearing requests regarding a standard service, within ninety days of the date of the MCO's notice of the resolution of the appeal.

(ii) For hearing requests regarding termination, suspension, or reduction of a previously authorized service, within ten days of the date on the MCO's notice of the resolution of the appeal.

(n) The MCO enrollee must exhaust all levels of resolution and appeal within the MCO's grievance system prior to requesting a hearing with the department.

(8) The MCO expedited appeal process:

(a) Each MCO must establish and maintain an expedited appeal review process for appeals when the MCO determines (for a request from the enrollee) or the provider indicates (in making the request on the enrollee's behalf or supporting the enrollee's request), that taking the time for a standard resolution could seriously jeopardize the enrollee's life or health or ability to attain, maintain, or regain maximum function.

(b) When approving an expedited appeal, the MCO will issue a decision as expeditiously as the enrollee's health condition requires, but not later than three business days after receiving the appeal.

(c) The MCO must ensure that punitive action is not taken against a provider who requests an expedited resolution or supports an enrollee's appeal.

(d) If the MCO denies a request for expedited resolution of an appeal, it must:

(i) Transfer the appeal to the time frame for standard resolution; and

(ii) Make reasonable efforts to give the enrollee prompt oral notice of the denial, and follow up within two calendar days with a written notice.

(9) Continuation of previously authorized services:

(a) The MCO must continue the enrollee's services if all of the following apply:

(i) The enrollee or the provider files the appeal on or before the later of the following:

(A) Unless the criteria in 42 C.F.R. 431.213 and 431.214 are met, within ten calendar days of the MCO mailing the notice of action, which for actions involving services previously authorized, must be delivered by a method which certifies receipt and assures delivery within three calendar days; or

(B) The intended effective date of the MCO's proposed action.

(ii) The appeal involves the termination, suspension, or reduction of a previously authorized course of treatment;

(iii) The services were ordered by an authorized provider;

(iv) The original period covered by the original authorization has not expired; and

(v) The enrollee requests an extension of services.

(b) If, at the enrollee's request, the MCO continues or reinstates the enrollee's services while the appeal is pending, the services must be continued until one of the following occurs:

(i) The enrollee withdraws the appeal;

(ii) Ten calendar days pass after the MCO mails the notice of the resolution of the appeal and the enrollee has not requested a department hearing (with continuation of services until the department hearing decision is reached) within the ten days;

(iii) Ten calendar days pass after the state office of administrative hearings (OAH) issues a hearing decision adverse to the enrollee and the enrollee has not requested an independent review (IR) within the ten days (see WAC 388-538-112);

(iv) Ten calendar days pass after the IR mails a decision adverse to the enrollee and the enrollee has not requested a review with the board of appeals within the ten days (see WAC 388-538-112);

(v) The board of appeals issues a decision adverse to the enrollee (see WAC 388-538-112); or

(vi) The time period or service limits of a previously authorized service has been met.

(c) If the final resolution of the appeal upholds the MCO's action, the MCO may recover the amount paid for the services provided to the enrollee while the appeal was pending, to the extent that they were provided solely because of the requirement for continuation of services.

(10) Effect of reversed resolutions of appeals:

(a) If the MCO or OAH reverses a decision to deny, limit, or delay services that were not provided while the appeal was pending, the MCO must authorize or provide the disputed services promptly, and as expeditiously as the enrollee's health condition requires.

(b) If the MCO or OAH reverses a decision to deny authorization of services, and the enrollee received the disputed services while the appeal was pending, the MCO must pay for those services.

WAC 388-538-111 Primary care case management (PCCM) grievances and appeals. (1) This section contains information about the grievance system for primary care case management (PCCM) enrollees, which includes grievances and appeals. See WAC 388-538-110 for information about the grievance system for managed care organization (MCO) enrollees.

(2) A PCCM enrollee may voice a grievance or file an appeal, either orally or in writing. PCCM enrollees use the department's grievance and appeal processes.

(3) The grievance process for PCCM enrollees;

(a) A PCCM enrollee may file a grievance with the department. A provider may not file a grievance on behalf of a PCCM enrollee.

(b) The department provides PCCM enrollees with information equivalent to that described in WAC 388-538-110 (7)(c).

(c) When a PCCM enrollee files a grievance with the department, the enrollee is entitled to:

(i) Any reasonable assistance in taking procedural steps for grievances (e.g., interpreter services and toll-free numbers);

(ii) Acknowledgment of the department's receipt of the grievance;

(iii) A review of the grievance. The review must be conducted by a department representative who was not involved in the grievance issue; and

(iv) Disposition of a grievance and notice to the affected parties within ninety days of the department receiving the grievance.

(4) The appeal process for PCCM enrollees:

(a) A PCCM enrollee may file an appeal of a department action with the department. A provider may not file an appeal on behalf of a PCCM enrollee.

(b) The department provides PCCM enrollees with information equivalent to that described in WAC 388-538-110 (8)(c).

(c) The appeal process for PCCM enrollees follows that described in chapter 388-02 WAC. Where a conflict exists, the requirements in this chapter take precedence.

WAC 388-538-112 The department of social and health services' (DSHS) hearing process for enrollee appeals of managed care organization (MCO) actions. (1) The hearing process described in chapter 388-02 WAC applies to the hearing process described in this chapter. Where a conflict exists, the requirements in this chapter take precedence.

(2) A managed care organization (MCO) enrollee must exhaust all levels of resolution and appeal within the MCO's grievance system prior to requesting a hearing with the department. See WAC 388-538-110 for the MCO grievance system.

(3) If an MCO enrollee does not agree with the MCO's resolution of the enrollee's appeal, the enrollee may file a request for a department hearing within the following time frames:

(a) For hearing requests regarding a standard service, within ninety calendar days of the date of the MCO's notice of the resolution of the appeal.

(b) For hearing requests regarding termination, suspension, or reduction of a previously authorized service, and the enrollee is requesting continuation of services, within ten calendar days of the date on the MCO's notice of the resolution of the appeal.

(4) The entire appeal and hearing process, including the MCO appeal process, must be completed within ninety calendar days of the date the MCO enrollee filed the appeal with the MCO, not including the number of days the enrollee took to subsequently file for a department hearing.

(5) Expedited hearing process:

(a) The office of administrative hearings (OAH) must establish and maintain an expedited hearing process when the enrollee or the enrollee's representative requests an expedited hearing and OAH indicates that the time taken for a standard resolution of the claim could seriously jeopardize the enrollee's life or health and ability to attain, maintain, or regain maximum function.

(b) When approving an expedited hearing, OAH must issue a hearing decision as expeditiously as the enrollee's health condition requires, but not later than three business days after receiving the case file and information from the MCO regarding the action and MCO appeal.

(c) When denying an expedited hearing, OAH gives prompt oral notice to the enrollee followed by written notice within two calendar days of request and transfer the hearing to the time frame for a standard service.

(6) Parties to the hearing include the department, the MCO, the enrollee, and the enrollee's representative or the representative of a deceased enrollee's estate.

(7) If an enrollee disagrees with the hearing decision, then the enrollee may request an independent review (IR) in accordance with RCW 48.43.535.

(8) If there is disagreement with the IR decision, any party may request a review by the department's board of appeals (BOA) within twenty-one days of the IR decision. The department's BOA issues the final administrative decision.

(a) The enrollee needs more information about treatment recommended by the provider or managed care organization (MCO); or

(b) The enrollee believes the MCO is not authorizing medically necessary care.

(2) A managed care enrollee has a right to a second opinion from a participating provider. At the MCO's discretion, a clinically appropriate nonparticipating provider who is agreed upon by the MCO and the enrollee may provide the second opinion.

(3) Primary care case management (PCCM) enrollees have a right to a timely referral for a second opinion by another provider who has a core provider agreement with the department.

WAC 388-538-130 Exemptions and ending enrollment in managed care. (1) The department exempts a client from mandatory enrollment in managed care or ends an enrollee's enrollment in managed care as specified in this section.

(2) A client or enrollee, or the client's or enrollee's representative as defined in RCW 7.70.065, may request the department to exempt or end enrollment in managed care as described in this section.

(a) If a client requests exemption prior to the enrollment effective date, the client is not enrolled until the department approves or denies the request.

(b) If an enrollee requests to end enrollment, the enrollee remains enrolled pending the department's final decision, unless staying in managed care would adversely affect the enrollee's health status.

(c) The client or enrollee receives timely notice by telephone or in writing when the department approves or denies the client's or enrollee's request. The department follows a telephone denial by written notification. The written notice contains all of the following:

(i) The action the department intends to take;

(ii) The reason(s) for the intended action;

(iii) The specific rule or regulation supporting the action;

(iv) The client's or enrollee's right to request a hearing; and

(v) A translation into the client's or enrollee's primary language when the client or enrollee has limited English proficiency.

(3) A managed care organization (MCO) or primary care case management (PCCM) provider may request the department to end enrollment. The request must be in writing and be sufficient to satisfy the department that the enrollee's behavior is inconsistent with the MCO's or PCCM provider's rules and regulations (e.g., intentional misconduct). The department does not approve a request to remove an enrollee from managed care when the request is solely due to an adverse change in the enrollee's health or the cost of meeting the enrollee's healthcare needs. The MCO or PCCM provider's request must include documentation that:

(a) The provider furnished clinically appropriate evaluation(s) to determine whether there is a treatable problem contributing to the enrollee's behavior;

(b) Such evaluation either finds no treatable condition to be contributing, or after evaluation and treatment, the enrollee's behavior continues to prevent the provider from safely or prudently providing medical care to the enrollee; and

(c) The enrollee received written notice of the provider's intent to request the enrollee's removal, unless the department has waived the requirement for provider notice because the enrollee's conduct presents the threat of imminent harm to others. The provider's notice must include:

(i) The enrollee's right to use the provider's grievance system as described in WAC 388-538-110 and 388-538-111; and

(ii) The enrollee's right to use the department's hearing process, after the enrollee has exhausted all grievance and appeals available through the provider's grievance system (see WAC 388-538-110 and 388-538-111 for provider grievance systems, and WAC 388-538-112 for the hearing process for enrollees).

(4) When the department receives a request from an MCO or PCCM provider to remove an enrollee from enrollment in managed care, the department attempts to contact the enrollee for the enrollee's perspective. If the department approves the request, the department sends a notice at least ten days in advance of the effective date that enrollment will end. The notice includes:

(a) The reason the department approved ending enrollment; and

(b) Information about the enrollee's hearing rights.

(5) The department will exempt a client from mandatory enrollment or end an enrollee's enrollment in managed care when any of the following apply:

(a) The client or enrollee is receiving foster care placement services from the division of children and family services (DCFS);

(b) The client has or the enrollee becomes eligible for medicare, basic health (BH), CHAMPUS/TRICARE, or any other third-party healthcare coverage comparable to the department's managed care coverage that would require exemption or involuntarily ending enrollment from:

(i) An MCO, in accordance with the department's managed care contract; or

(ii) A primary care case management (PCCM) provider, according to the department's PCCM contract.

(c) The enrollee is no longer eligible for managed care.

(6) The department will grant a client's request for exemption or an enrollee's request to end enrollment when:

(a) The client or enrollee is American Indian/Alaska native (AI/AN) as specified in WAC 388-538-060(2);

(b) The client or enrollee has been identified by the department as a child who meets the definition of "children with special healthcare needs";

(c) The client or enrollee is homeless or is expected to live in temporary housing for less than one hundred twenty days from the date of the request; or

(d) The client or enrollee speaks limited English or is hearing impaired and the client or enrollee can communicate with a provider who communicates in the client's or enrollee's language or in American sign language and is not available through the MCO and the MCO does not have a provider available who can communicate in the client's language and an interpreter is not available.

(7) On a case-by-case basis, the department may grant a client's request for exemption or an enrollee's request to end enrollment when, in the department's judgment, the client or enrollee has a documented and verifiable medical condition, and enrollment in managed care could cause an interruption of treatment that could jeopardize the client's or enrollee's life or health or ability to attain, maintain, or regain maximum function.

(8) Upon request, the department may exempt the client or end enrollment for the period of time the circumstances or conditions that lead to exemption or ending enrollment are expected to exist. The department may periodically review those circumstances or conditions to determine if they continue to exist. If the department approves the request for a limited time, the client or enrollee is notified in writing or by telephone of the time limitation, the process for renewing the exemption or the ending of enrollment.

WAC 388-539-0200 AIDS—Health insurance premium payment program. (1) The purpose of the AIDS health insurance premium payment program is to help individuals who are not eligible for MAA's medical programs and who are diagnosed with AIDS, pay their health insurance premiums.

(2) To be eligible for the AIDS health insurance premium payment program, individuals must:

(a) Be diagnosed with AIDS as defined in WAC 246-100-011;

(b) Be a resident of the state of Washington;

(c) Be responsible for all, or part of, the health insurance premium payment (without MAA's help);

(d) Not be eligible for one of MAA's other medical programs;

(e) Not have personal income that exceeds three hundred seventy percent of the federal poverty level; and

(f) Not have personal assets, after exemptions, exceeding fifteen thousand dollars. The following personal assets are exempt from the personal assets calculation:

(i) A home used as the person's primary residence; and

(ii) A vehicle used as personal transportation.

(3) MAA may contract with a not-for-profit community agency to administer the Aids health insurance premium payment program. MAA or its contractor determines an individual's initial eligibility and redetermines eligibility on a periodic basis. To be eligible, individuals must:

(a) Cooperate with MAA's contractor;

(b) Cooperate with eligibility determination and redetermination process; and

(c) Initially meet and continue to meet the eligibility criteria in subsection (2) of this section.

(4) Individuals, diagnosed with AIDS, who are eligible for one of MAA's medical programs may ask MAA to pay their health insurance premiums under a separate process. The client's community services office (CSO) is able to assist the client with this process.

(5) Once an individual is eligible to participate in the AIDS health insurance premium payment program, eligibility would cease only when one of the following occurs. The individual:

(a) Is deceased;

(b) Voluntarily quits the program;

(c) No longer meets the requirements of subsection (2) of this section; or

(d) Has benefits terminated due to the legislature's termination of the funding for this program.

(6) MAA sets a reasonable payment limit for health insurance premiums. MAA sets its limit by tracking the charges billed to MAA for MAA clients who have AIDS. MAA does not pay health insurance premiums that exceed fifty percent of the average of charges billed to MAA for its clients with AIDS.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 74.09.757. 00-14-070, § 388-539-0200, filed 7/5/00, effective 8/5/00.]

WAC 388-539-0300 Case management for persons living with HIV/AIDS. MAA provides HIV/AIDS case management to assist persons infected with HIV to: Live as independently as possible; maintain and improve health; reduce behaviors that put the client and others at risk; and gain access to needed medical, social, and educational services.

(1) To be eligible for MAA reimbursed HIV/AIDS case management services, the person must:

(a) Have a current medical diagnosis of HIV or AIDS;

(b) Be eligible for Title XIX (medicaid) coverage under either the categorically needy program (CNP) or the medically needy program (MNP); and

(c) Require:

(i) Assistance to obtain and effectively use necessary medical, social, and educational services; or

(ii) Ninety days of continued monitoring as provided in WAC 388-539-0350(2).

(2) MAA has an interagency agreement with the Washington state department of health (DOH) to administer the HIV/AIDS case management program for MAA's Title XIX (medicaid) clients.

(3) HIV/AIDS case management agencies who serve MAA's clients must be approved to perform these services by HIV client services, DOH.

(4) HIV/AIDS case management providers must:

(a) Notify HIV positive persons of their statewide choice of available HIV/AIDS case management providers and document that notification in the client's record. This notification requirement does not obligate HIV/AIDS case management providers to accept all clients who request their services.

(b) Have a current client-signed authorization to release/obtain information form. The provider must have a valid authorization on file for the months that case management services are billed to MAA (see RCW 70.02.030). The fee referenced in RCW 70.02.030 is included in MAA's reimbursement to providers. MAA's clients may not be charged for services or documents related to covered services.

(c) Maintain sufficient contact to ensure the effectiveness of ongoing services per subsection (5) of this section. MAA requires a minimum of one contact per month between the HIV/AIDS case manager and the client. However, contact frequency must be sufficient to ensure implementation and ongoing maintenance of the individual service plan (ISP).

(5) HIV/AIDS case management providers must document services as follows:

(a) Providers must initiate a comprehensive assessment within two working days of the client's referral to HIV/AIDS case management services. Providers must complete the assessment before billing for ongoing case management services. If the assessment does not meet these requirements, the provider must document the reason(s) for failure to do so. The assessment must include the following elements as reported by the client:

(i) Demographic information (e.g., age, gender, education, family composition, housing.);

(ii) Physical status, the identity of the client's primary care provider, and current information on the client's medications/treatments;

(iii) HIV diagnosis (both the documented diagnosis at the time of assessment and historical diagnosis information);

(iv) Psychological/social/cognitive functioning and mental health history;

(v) Ability to perform daily activities;

(vi) Financial and employment status;

(vii) Medical benefits and insurance coverage;

(viii) Informal support systems (e.g., family, friends and spiritual support);

(ix) Legal status, durable power of attorney, and any self-reported criminal history; and

(x) Self-reported behaviors which could lead to HIV transmission or re-infection (e.g., drug/alcohol use).

(b) Providers must develop, monitor, and revise the client's individual service plan (ISP). The ISP identifies and documents the client's unmet needs and the resources needed to assist in meeting the client's needs. The case manager and the client must develop the ISP within two days of the comprehensive assessment or the provider must document the reason this is not possible. An ISP must be:

(i) Signed by the client, documenting that the client is voluntarily requesting and receiving MAA reimbursed HIV/AIDS case management services; and

(ii) Reviewed monthly by the case manager through in-person or telephone contact with the client. Both the review and any changes must be noted by the case manager:

(A) In the case record narrative; or

(B) By entering notations in, initialing and dating the ISP.

(c) Maintained ongoing narrative records - These records must document case management services provided in each month for which the provider bills MAA. Records must:

(i) Be entered in chronological order and signed by the case manager;

(ii) Document the reason for the case manager's interaction with the client; and

(iii) Describe the plans in place or to be developed to meet unmet client needs.

WAC 388-539-0350 HIV/AIDS case management reimbursement information. (1) MAA reimburses HIV/AIDS case management providers for the following three services:

(a) Comprehensive assessment - The assessment must cover the areas outlined in WAC 388-539-0300 (1) and (5).

(i) MAA reimburses only one comprehensive assessment unless the client's situation changes as follows:

(A) There is a fifty percent change in need from the initial assessment; or

(B) The client transfers to a new case management provider.

(ii) MAA reimburses for a comprehensive assessment in addition to a monthly charge for case management (either full-month or partial-month) if the assessment is completed during a month the client is medicaid eligible and the ongoing case management has been provided.

(b) HIV/AIDS case management, full-month - Providers may request the full-month reimbursement for any month in which the criteria in WAC 388-539-0300 have been met and the case manager has an individual service plan (ISP) in place for twenty or more days in that month. MAA reimburses only one full-month case management fee per client in any one month.

(c) HIV/AIDS case management, partial-month - Providers may request the partial-month reimbursement for any month in which the criteria in WAC 388-539-0300 have been met and the case manager has an ISP in place for fewer than twenty days in that month. Using the partial-month reimbursement, MAA may reimburse two different case management providers for services to a client who changes from one provider to a new provider during that month.

(2) MAA limits reimbursement to HIV/AIDS case managers when a client becomes stabilized and no longer needs an ISP with active service elements. MAA limits reimbursement for monitoring to ninety days past the time the last active service element of the ISP is completed. Case Management providers who are monitoring a stabilized client must meet all of the following criteria in order to bill MAA for up to ninety days of monitoring:

(a) Document the client's history of recurring need;

(b) Assess the client for possible future instability; and

(c) Provide monthly monitoring contacts.

(3) MAA reinstates reimbursement for ongoing case management if a client shifts from monitoring status to active case management status due to documented need(s). Providers must meet the requirements in WAC 388-539-0300 when a client is reinstated to active case management.

KIDNEY CENTER SERVICES

WAC 388-540-101 Purpose and scope. This section describes the medical assistance administration (MAA) reimbursement rules for free-standing kidney centers providing dialysis and end-stage renal disease services to MAA clients.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 74.09.510, 74.09.520, 74.09.522, and 42 C.F.R. 405.2101. 03-21-039, § 388-540-101, filed 10/8/03, effective 11/8/03.]

WAC 388-540-105 Definitions. The following definitions and those found in WAC 388-500-0005, apply to this chapter.

"Acute dialysis" means dialysis given to patients who are not ESRD patients, but who require dialysis of temporary kidney failure due to a sudden trauma (e.g., traffic accident or ingestion of certain drugs, etc.).

"Affiliate" means a facility, hospital, unit, business, or person having an agreement with a kidney center to provide specified services to ESRD patients.

"Agreement" means a written document executed between an ESRD facility and another facility in which the other facility agrees to assume responsibility for furnishing specified services to patients and for obtaining reimbursement for those services.

"Back-up dialysis" means dialysis given to a patient under special circumstances, in a situation other than the patient's usual dialysis environment. Examples are:

(1) Dialysis of a home dialysis patient in a dialysis facility when patient's equipment fails;

(2) Inhospital dialysis when the patient's illness requires more comprehensive care on an inpatient basis;

(3) Pre- and post-operative dialysis provided to transplant patients.

"Composite rate" means a payment method in which all standard equipment, supplies, and services are calculated into a blended rate. All in-facility dialysis and all home dialysis treatments are billed under the composite rate system.

"Continuous ambulatory peritoneal dialysis (CAPD)" means a type of dialysis where the patient's peritoneal membrane is used as the dialyzer. The patient dialyzes at home, using special supplies, but without the need for a machine. (See "Peritoneal dialysis.")

"Continuous cycling peritoneal dialysis (CCPD)" means a type of peritoneal dialysis where the patient dialyzes at home and utilizes an automated peritoneal cycler for delivering dialysis.

"Dialysate" means an electrolyte solution, containing elements such as potassium, sodium chloride, etc., surrounding the membrane or fibers and allowing exchange of substances with the patient's blood in the dialyzer.

"Dialysis" means a process by which dissolved substances are removed from a patient's body by diffusion from one fluid compartment to another across a semipermeable membrane.

"Dialysis session" means the period of time beginning when the patient arrives at the facility and ending when the patient departs from the facility. In the case of home dialysis, the time period beginning when the patient prepares for dialysis and ending when the patient is disconnected from the machine.

"Dialyzer" means the synthetic porous membrane or fibers, contained in a supporting structure, through which blood flows for the purpose of eliminating harmful substances, and replacing them with useful ones.

"Drug-related supplies" means nonpharmaceutical items necessary for administration or delivery of a drug.

"Durable medical equipment (DME)" means equipment that:

(1) Can withstand repeated use;

(2) Is primarily and customarily used to serve a medical purpose;

(3) Generally is not useful to a person in the absence of illness or injury; and

(4) Is appropriate for use in the client's place of residence.

"End-stage renal disease (ESRD)" means the stage of renal impairment that is irreversible and permanent, and requires dialysis or kidney transplant to ameliorate uremic symptoms and maintain life.

"Epoetin alpha (EPO)" means the biologically engineered protein that stimulates the bone marrow to make new red blood cells. It is used in the treatment of anemia.

"Free-standing kidney center" means a limited care facility, not operated by a hospital, certified by the federal government to provide ESRD services.

"Hemodialysis" means a method of dialysis in which blood from a patient's body is circulated through an external device or machine and then returned to the patient's bloodstream. Hemodialysis is usually done in a kidney center or facility. It can be done at home with a trained dialysis helper.

"Home dialysis" means any dialysis performed at home.

"Home dialysis helper" means a person trained to assist the client in home dialysis.

"In-facility dialysis," for the purpose of this chapter only, in-facility dialysis means dialysis of any type performed on the premises of a kidney center or other free-standing ESRD facility.

"Intermittent peritoneal dialysis (IPD)" means a type of peritoneal dialysis in which dialysis solution is infused into the peritoneal cavity, allowed to remain there for a period of time, and then drained out. IPD is usually done in a kidney center or facility. It can be done at home with a trained home dialysis helper.

"Kidney center" means a facility as defined and certified by the federal government to:

(1) Provide ESRD services;

(2) Provide the services specified in this chapter; and

(3) Promote and encourage home dialysis for a client when medically indicated.

"Maintenance dialysis" means the usual periodic dialysis treatments given to a client who has ESRD.

"Peritoneal dialysis" means a procedure that introduces dialysate into the abdominal cavity to remove waste products through the peritoneum. Three forms of peritoneal dialysis are continuous ambulatory peritoneal dialysis, continuous cycling peritoneal dialysis, and intermittent peritoneal dialysis.

"Self-dialysis unit" means a unit in a free-standing kidney center where dialysis is performed by an ESRD client who has completed training in self-dialysis.

"Standard ESRD lab tests" means certain laboratory tests that the Centers for medicare and medicaid include in their composite rate calculations. These tests are identified in MAA's kidney center billing instructions.

"Take home drugs" means outpatient prescription drugs that are administered outside of a provider's office.

(i) Subsidized in part or in whole by the employer or union;

(ii) Available and accessible to the applicant or family; and

(iii) At a monthly cost to the family meeting the limitation of subsection (2)(b)(iv).

(2) The department does not require a waiting period prior to coverage under premium-based children's healthcare programs when:

(b) The loss of employer-sponsored dependent coverage is due to any of the following:

(i) Loss of employment with no post-employment subsidized coverage as described in subsection (1)(b);

(ii) Death of the employee;

(iii) The employer discontinues employer-sponsored dependent coverage;

(iv) The family's total out-of-pocket maximum for employer-sponsored dependent coverage is fifty dollars per month or more;

(v) The plan terminates employer-sponsored dependent coverage for the client because the client reached the maximum lifetime coverage amount;

(vi) Coverage under a COBRA extension period expired;

(vii) Employer-sponsored dependent coverage is not reasonably available (e.g., client would have to travel to another city or state to access care); or (viii) Domestic violence caused the loss of coverage for the victim.

(ii) For services that are not covered by medicare but are covered by MAA, if medically necessary.

(8) MAA may pay for medical services rendered to a client only when MAA is the payor of last resort.

(9) MAA does not cover medical equipment and/or services provided to a client who is enrolled in a MAA-contracted managed care plan, but did not use one of the plan's participating provider.

(10) See WAC 388-543-2100, 388-543-2500, 388-543-2700, and 388-543-2900 for other reimbursement methodologies.

WAC 388-543-1500 When MAA purchases DME and related supplies, prosthetics, and orthotics. (1) Durable medical equipment (DME) and related supplies, prosthetics, and orthotics purchased by MAA for a client is the client's property.

(2) MAA's reimbursement for covered DME and related supplies, prosthetics, and orthotics includes all of the following:

(a) Any adjustments or modifications to the equipment that are required within three months of the date of delivery. This does not apply to adjustments required because of changes in the client's medical condition;

(b) Fitting and set-up; and

(c) Instruction to the client or client's caregiver in the appropriate use of the equipment, device, and/or supplies.

(3) MAA requires a provider to furnish to MAA clients only new equipment that includes full manufacturer and dealer warranties.

(4) MAA requires a dispensing provider to include a warranty on equipment for one year after the date MAA considers rented equipment to be purchased, as provided under WAC 388-543-1700(3).

(5) MAA charges the dispensing provider for any costs it incurs to have another provider repair equipment if all of the following apply:

(a) Any DME that MAA considers purchased according to WAC 388-543-1700 requires repair during the applicable warranty period;

(b) The dispensing provider is unwilling or unable to fulfill the warranty; and

(c) The client still needs the equipment.

(6) MAA charges the dispensing provider fifty percent of the total amount MAA paid toward rental and eventual purchase of the first equipment if the rental equipment must be replaced during the warranty period. All of the following must apply:

(a) Any medical equipment that MAA considers purchased according to WAC 388-543-1700 requires replacement during the applicable warranty period;

(b) The dispensing provider is unwilling or unable to fulfill the warranty; and

(c) The client still needs the equipment.

(7) Purchase orders:

(a) MAA rescinds any purchase order for a prescribed item if the equipment was not delivered to the client before the client:

(i) Dies;

(ii) Loses medical eligibility;

(iii) Becomes covered by a hospice agency; or

(iv) Becomes covered by an MAA managed care plan. Refer to subsection (7)(c) of this section.

(b) A provider may incur extra costs for customized equipment that may not be easily resold. In these cases, for purchase orders rescinded per (a) of this subsection, MAA may pay the provider an amount it considers appropriate to help defray these extra costs. MAA requires the provider to submit justification sufficient to support such a claim.

(c) A client may become a managed care plan client before MAA completes the purchase of prescribed medical equipment. If this occurs:

(i) MAA rescinds the purchase order until the managed care primary care provider (PCP) evaluates the client; then

(ii) MAA requires the PCP to write a new prescription if the PCP determines the equipment is still medically necessary as defined in WAC 388-500-0005; then

(iii) The managed care plan's applicable reimbursement policies apply to the purchase or rental of the equipment.

WAC 388-543-1600 Items and services which require prior authorization. (1) The department bases its determination about which DME and related supplies, prosthetics, orthotics, medical supplies and related services require prior authorization (PA) or expedited prior authorization (EPA) on utilization criteria. (See WAC 388-543-1000 for PA and WAC 388-543-1800 for EPA.) The department considers all of the following when establishing utilization criteria:

(a) High cost;

(b) Potential for utilization abuse;

WAC 388-543-1700 When the department covers rented DME. (1) The department's reimbursement amount for rented durable medical equipment (DME) includes all of the following:

(a) Delivery to the client;

(b) Fitting, set-up, and adjustments;

(c) Maintenance, repair and/or replacement of the equipment; and

(d) Return pickup by the provider.

(2) The department requires a dispensing provider to ensure the DME rented to a client is both of the following:

(a) In good working order; and

(b) Comparable to equipment the provider rents to clients with similar medical equipment needs who are either private pay clients or who have other third-party coverage.

(3) The department considers rented equipment to be purchased after twelve months' rental unless one of the following apply:

(a) The equipment is restricted as rental only; or

(b) Other department published issuances state otherwise.

(4) The department rents, but does not purchase, certain medically necessary equipment for clients. This includes, but is not limited to, the following:

(a) Bilirubin lights for newborns at home with jaundice; and

(b) Electric breast pumps.

(5) The department's minimum rental period for covered DME is one day.

(6) If a fee-for-service (FFS) client becomes a managed care plan client, both of the following apply:

(a) The department stops paying for any rented equipment on the last day of the month preceding the month in which the client becomes enrolled in the managed care plan; and

(b) The plan determines the client's continuing need for the equipment and is responsible for reimbursing the provider.

(7) The department stops paying for any rented equipment effective the date of a client's death. The department prorates monthly rentals as appropriate.

(8) For a client who is eligible for both medicaid and medicare, the department pays only the client's coinsurance and deductibles. The department discontinues paying client's coinsurance and deductibles for rental equipment when either of the following applies:

(a) The reimbursement amount reaches medicare's reimbursement cap for the equipment; or

(b) Medicare considers the equipment purchased.

(9) The department does not obtain or pay for insurance coverage against liability, loss and/or damage to rental equipment that a provider supplies to a DSHS client.

WAC 388-543-1800 Prior authorization—General policies for DME and related supplies, prosthetics, orthotics, medical supplies and related services. (1) A provider/vendor may obtain expedited prior authorization (EPA) from MAA according to WAC 388-543-1900.

(2) For prior authorization requests, MAA requires the prescribing provider to furnish patient-specific justification for base equipment and each requested line item accessory or modification as identified by the manufacturer as a separate charge. MAA does not accept general standards of care or industry standards for generalized equipment as justification.

(3) When MAA receives an initial request for prior authorization, the prescription(s) for those items or services cannot be older than three months from the date MAA receives the request.

(4) MAA authorizes BR items that require prior authorization and are listed in MAA's published issuances, including billing instructions and numbered memoranda, only if medical necessity is established and the provider furnishes all of the following information to MAA:

(a) A detailed description of the item or service to be provided;

(b) The cost or charge for the item;

(c) A copy of the manufacturer's invoice, price-list or catalog with the product description for the item being provided; and

(d) A detailed explanation of how the requested item differs from an already existing code description.

(5) MAA requires certain information from providers in order to prior authorize the purchase or rental of equipment. This information includes, but is not limited to, the following:

(a) The manufacturer's name;

(b) The equipment model and serial number;

(c) A detailed description of the item; and

(d) Any modifications required, including the product or accessory number as shown in the manufacturer's catalog.

(6) MAA prior authorizes payment for repair and modification of client-owned equipment only when the criteria in subsection (1) of this section are met. Requests for repairs must include the information listed in subsection (5) of this section.

(7) MAA does not reimburse for purchase, rental, or repair of medical equipment that duplicates equipment the client already owns or rents. If the requesting provider makes such a request, MAA requires the provider to submit for prior authorization and explain the following:

(a) Why the existing equipment no longer meets the client's medical needs; or

(b) Why the existing equipment could not be repaired or modified to meet those medical needs.

(8) MAA informs the provider and the client of a less costly alternative from MAA's manufacturers' literature on file when an MAA denial of a request is based on a less costly, equally effective alternative.

(9) A provider may resubmit a request for prior authorization for an item or service that MAA has denied. MAA requires the provider to include new documentation that is relevant to the request.

(10) MAA authorizes rental equipment for a specific period of time. The provider must request authorization from MAA for any extension of the rental period.

WAC 388-543-1900 Expedited prior authorization criteria for DME and related supplies, prosthetics, orthotics, medical supplies, and related services. (1) The expedited prior authorization process (EPA) is designed to eliminate the need for written and telephonic requests for prior authorization for selected DME procedure codes. MAA allows payment during a continuous twelve-month period for this process.

(2) MAA requires a provider to create an authorization number for EPA for selected DME procedure codes. The process and criteria used to create the authorization number is explained in MAA published DME-related billing instructions. The authorization number must be used when the provider bills MAA.

(3) The written or telephonic request for prior authorization process must be used when a situation does not meet the criteria for a selected DME code or a requested rental exceeds the limited rental period indicated.

(4) Upon request, a provider must provide documentation to MAA showing how the client's condition met the criteria for EPA in subsection (2) of this section.

(5) MAA may recoup any payment made to a provider under this section if the provider did not follow the expedited authorization process and criteria. Refer to WAC 388-502-0100.

WAC 388-543-2000 Wheelchairs. (1) The department bases its decisions regarding requests for wheelchairs on medical necessity and on a case-by-case basis.

(2) The following apply when the department determines that a wheelchair is medically necessary for six months or less:

(a) If the client lives at home, the department rents a wheelchair for the client; or

(b) If the client lives in a nursing facility, the nursing facility must provide a house wheelchair as part of the per diem rate paid by the aging and disability services administration (ADSA).

(3) The department considers rental or purchase of a manual wheelchair for a home client who is nonambulatory or has limited mobility and requires a wheelchair to participate in normal daily activities. The department determines the type of manual wheelchair based on the following:

(a) A standard wheelchair if the client's medical condition requires the client to have a wheelchair to participate in normal daily activities;

(b) A standard lightweight wheelchair if the client's medical condition is such that the client:

(i) Cannot self-propel a standard weight wheelchair; or

(ii) Requires custom modifications that cannot be provided on a standard weight wheelchair.

(c) A high-strength lightweight wheelchair for a client:

(i) Whose medical condition is such that the client cannot self-propel a lightweight or standard weight wheelchair; or

(ii) Requires custom modifications that cannot be provided on a standard weight or lightweight wheelchair.

(d) A heavy duty wheelchair for a client who requires a specifically manufactured wheelchair designed to:

(i) Support a person weighing up to three hundred pounds; or

(ii) Accommodate a seat width up to twenty-two inches wide (not to be confused with custom heavy duty wheelchairs).

(e) A custom heavy duty wheelchair for a client who requires a specifically manufactured wheelchair designed to:

(i) Support a person weighing over three hundred pounds; or

(ii) Accommodate a seat width over twenty-two inches wide.

(f) A rigid wheelchair for a client:

(i) With a medical condition that involves severe upper extremity weakness;

(ii) Who has a high level of activity; and

(iii) Who is unable to self-propel any of the above categories of wheelchair.

(g) A custom manufactured wheelchair for a client with a medical condition requiring wheelchair customization that cannot be obtained on any of the above categories of wheelchairs.

(4) The department considers a power-drive wheelchair when the client's medical needs cannot be met by a less costly means of mobility. The prescribing physician must certify that the client can safely and effectively operate a power-drive wheelchair and that the client meets all of the following conditions:

(a) The client's medical condition negates his or her ability to self-propel any of the wheelchairs listed in the manual wheelchair category; and

(b) A power-drive wheelchair will provide the client the only means of independent mobility; or

(c) A power-drive wheelchair will enable a child to achieve age-appropriate independence and developmental milestones.

(d) All other circumstances will be considered based on medical necessity and on a case-by-case basis.

(e) The following additional information is required for a three or four-wheeled power-drive scooter/cart:

(i) The prescribing physician certifies that the client's condition is stable; and

(ii) The client is unlikely to require a standard power-drive wheelchair within the next two years.

(5) The department considers the power-drive wheelchair to be the client's primary chair when the client has both a power-drive wheelchair and a manual wheelchair.

(6) In order to consider purchasing a wheelchair, the department requires the provider to submit the following information from the prescribing physician, physical therapist, or occupational therapist:

(a) Specific medical justification for the make and model of wheelchair requested;

(b) Define the degree and extent of the client's impairment (such as stage of decubitus, severity of spasticity or flaccidity, degree of kyphosis or scoliosis); and

(c) Documented outcomes of less expensive alternatives (aids to mobility) that have been tried by the client.

(7) In addition to the basic wheelchair, the department may consider wheelchair accessories or modifications that are specifically identified by the manufacturer as separate line item charges. The provider must submit specific medical justification for each line item, with the modification request.

(8) The department considers wheelchair modifications to a medically necessary wheelchair when the provider submits all of the following with the modification request:

(a) The make, model, and serial number of the wheelchair to be modified;

(b) The modification requested; and

(c) Specific information regarding the client's medical condition that necessitates the modification.

(9) The department may consider wheelchair repairs to a medically necessary wheelchair; the provider must submit to the department the make, model, and serial number of the wheelchair for which the repairs are requested.

(10) The department may cover two wheelchairs, a manual wheelchair and a power-drive wheelchair, for a noninstitutionalized client in certain situations. One of the following must apply:

(a) The architecture of the client's home is completely unsuitable for a power-drive wheelchair, such as narrow hallways, narrow doorways, steps at the entryway, and insufficient turning radii;

(b) The architecture of the client's home bathroom is such that power-drive wheelchair access is not possible, and the client needs a manual wheelchair to safely and successfully complete bathroom activities and maintain personal cleanliness;

(c) The client has a power-drive wheelchair, but also requires a manual wheelchair because the power-drive wheelchair cannot be transported to meet the client's community, workplace, or educational activities; the manual wheelchair would allow the caregiver to transport the client in a standard automobile or van. In these cases, the department requires the client's situation to meet the following conditions:

(i) The client's activities that require the second wheelchair must be located farther than one-fourth of a mile from the client's home; and

(ii) Cabulance, public buses, or personal transit are neither available, practical, nor possible for financial or other reasons.

(iii) All other circumstances will be considered on a case-by-case basis, based on medical necessity.

WAC 388-543-2100 Wheelchairs—Reimbursement methodology. (1) MAA reimburses a DME provider for purchased wheelchairs for a home or nursing facility client based on the specific brand and model of wheelchair dispensed. MAA decides which brands and/or models of wheelchairs are eligible for reimbursement based on all of the following:

(a) The client's medical needs;

(b) Product quality;

(c) Cost; and

(d) Available alternatives.

(2) For wheelchair rentals and wheelchair accessories (e.g., cushions and backs), MAA uses either:

(a) The medicare fees that are current on April 1 of each year; or

(b) MAA's maximum allowable reimbursement is based on a percentage of the manufacturer's list price in effect on January 31 of the base year, or the invoice for the specific item. MAA uses the following percentages:

(i) For basic standard wheelchairs, sixty-five percent;

(ii) For add-on accessories and parts, eighty-four percent;

(iii) For upcharge modifications and cushions, eighty percent;

(iv) For all other manual wheelchairs, eighty percent; and

(v) For all other power-drive wheelchairs, eighty-five percent.

(3) MAA determines rental reimbursement for categories of manual and power-driven wheelchairs based on average market rental rates or medicare rates.

(4) MAA evaluates and updates the wheelchair fee schedule once per year.

(5) MAA implements wheelchair rate changes on April 1 of the base year, and the rates are effective until the next rate change.

WAC 388-543-2200 Speech generating devices (SGD). (1) MAA considers all requests for speech generating devices (SGDs) on a case-by-case basis. The SGD requested must be for a severe expressive speech impairment, and the medical condition must warrant the use of a device to replace verbal communication (e.g., to communicate medical information).

(2) In order for MAA to cover an SGD, the SGD must be a speech device intended for use by the individual who has a severe expressive speech impairment, and have one of the following characteristics. For the purposes of this section, MAA uses the medicare definitions for "digitized speech" and "synthesized speech" that were in effect as of April 1, 2002. The SGD must have:

(a) Digitized speech output, using pre-recorded messages;

(b) Synthesized speech output requiring message formation by spelling and access by physical contact with the device; or

(c) Synthesized speech output, permitting multiple methods of message formulation and multiple methods of device access.

(3) MAA requires a provider to submit a prior authorization request for SGDs. The request must be in writing and contain all of the following information:

(a) A detailed description of the client's therapeutic history, including, at a minimum:

(i) The medical diagnosis;

(ii) A physiological description of the underlying disorder;

(iii) A description of the functional limitations; and

(iv) The prognosis for improvement or degeneration.

(b) A written assessment by a licensed speech language pathologist (SLP) that includes all of the following:

(i) If the client has a physical disability, condition, or impairment that requires equipment, such as a wheelchair, or a device to be specially adapted to accommodate an SGD, an assessment by the prescribing physician, licensed occupational therapist or physical therapist;

(ii) Documented evaluations and/or trials of each SGD that the client has tried. This includes less costly types/models, and the effectiveness of each device in promoting the client's ability to communicate with health care providers, caregivers, and others;

(iii) The current communication impairment, including the type, severity, language skills, cognitive ability, and anticipated course of the impairment;

(iv) An assessment of whether the client's daily communication needs could be met using other natural modes of communication;

(v) A description of the functional communication goals expected to be achieved, and treatment options;

(vi) Documentation that the client's speaking needs cannot be met using natural communication methods; and

(vii) Documentation that other forms of treatment have been ruled out.

(c) The provider has shown or has demonstrated all of the following:

(i) The client has reliable and consistent motor response, which can be used to communicate with the help of an SGD;

(ii) The client has demonstrated the cognitive and physical abilities to utilize the equipment effectively and independently to communicate; and

(iii) The client's treatment plan includes a training schedule for the selected device.

(d) A prescription for the SGD from the client's treating physician.

(4) MAA may require trial-use rental. All rental costs for the trial-use will be applied to the purchase price.

(5) MAA covers SGDs only once every two years for a client who meets the criteria in subsection (3) of this section. MAA does not approve a new or updated component, modification, or replacement model for a client whose SGD can be repaired or modified. MAA may make exceptions to the criteria in this subsection based strictly on a finding of unforeseeable and significant changes to the client's medical condition. The prescribing physician is responsible for justifying why the changes in the client's medical condition were unforeseeable.

(6) Clients who are eligible for both medicare and medicaid must apply first to medicare for an SGD. If medicare denies the request and the client requests an SGD from MAA, MAA evaluates the request based on medical necessity and the requirements in this section. The request for an SGD must meet the authorization requirements in this section.

WAC 388-543-2300 Bathroom/shower equipment. (1) MAA considers a caster-style shower commode chair as the primary option for clients.

(2) MAA considers a wheelchair-style shower commode chair only if the client meets both of the following:

(a) Is able to propel the equipment; and

(b) Has special positioning needs that cannot be met by a caster-style chair.

(3) All other circumstances will be considered on a case-by-case basis, based on medical necessity.

WAC 388-543-2400 Hospital beds. (1) Beds covered by MAA are limited to hospital beds for rental or purchase. MAA bases the decision to rent or purchase a manual, semi-electric, or full electric hospital bed on the length of time the client needs the bed, as follows:

(a) MAA initially authorizes a maximum of two months rental for a short-term need. Upon request, MAA may allow limitation extensions as medically necessary;

(b) MAA determines rental on a month-to-month basis if a client's prognosis is poor;

(c) MAA considers a purchase if the need is for more than six months;

(d) If the client continues to have a medical need for a hospital bed after six months, MAA may approve rental for up to an additional six months. MAA considers the equipment to be purchased after a total of twelve months' rental.

(2) MAA considers a manual hospital bed the primary option when the client has full-time caregivers.

(3) MAA considers a full electric hospital bed only if the client meets all of the following criteria:

(a) The client's medical need requires the client to be positioned in a way that is not possible in a regular bed;

(b) The position cannot be attained through less costly alternatives (e.g., the use of bedside rails, a trapeze, pillows, bolsters, rolled up towels or blankets);

(c) The client's medical condition requires immediate position changes;

(d) The client is able to operate the controls independently; and

(e) The client needs to be in the Trendelenburg position.

(4) All other circumstances for hospital beds will be considered on a case-by-case basic, based on medical necessity.

WAC 388-543-2500 Reimbursement methodology for other durable medical equipment. (1) For the purposes of this section, MAA uses the following terms:

(a) "Other durable medical equipment (other DME)" means all durable medical equipment, excluding wheelchairs and related items.

(b) "Pricing cluster" means a group of discounted manufacturers' list prices and/or dealer's costs for brands/models of other DME that MAA uses to calculate the reimbursement rate for a procedure code that does not have a fee established by medicare. MAA uses the discounted manufacturer list price for a brand/model unless that price is not available.

(2) MAA establishes reimbursement rates for purchased other DME.

(a) For other durable medical equipment that have a medicare rate established for a new purchase, MAA uses the rate that is in effect on January first of the year in which MAA sets the reimbursement.

(b) For other durable medical equipment that do not have a medicare rate established for a new purchase, MAA uses a pricing cluster to establish the rate.

(3) Establishing a pricing cluster and reimbursement rates.

(a) In order to make up a pricing cluster for a procedure code, MAA determines which brands/models of other DME its clients most frequently use. MAA obtains prices for these brands/models from manufacturer catalogs or commercial data bases. MAA may change or otherwise limit the number of brands/models included in the pricing cluster, based on the following:

(i) Client medical needs;

(ii) Product quality;

(iii) Introduction of new brands/models;

(iv) A manufacturer discontinuing or substituting a brand/model; and/or

(v) Cost.

(b) If a manufacturer list price is not available for any of the brands/models used in the pricing cluster, MAA calculates the reimbursement rate at the manufacturer's published cost to providers plus a thirty-five percent mark-up.

(c) For each brand used in the pricing cluster, MAA discounts the manufacturer's list price by twenty percent.

(i) If six or more brands/models are used in the pricing cluster, MAA calculates the reimbursement rate at the seventieth percentile of the pricing cluster.

(ii) If five brands/models are used in the pricing cluster, MAA establishes the reimbursement rate at the fourth highest discounted list price, as described in (b) of this subsection.

(iii) If four brands/models are used in the pricing cluster, MAA establishes the reimbursement rate at the third highest discounted list price, as described in (b) of this subsection.

(iv) If three brands/models are used in the pricing cluster, MAA establishes the reimbursement rate at the third highest discounted list price, as described in (b) of this subsection.

(v) If two or fewer brands/models are used in the pricing cluster, MAA establishes the reimbursement rate at the highest discounted list price, as described in (b) of this subsection.

WAC 388-543-2600 Prosthetics and orthotics. (1) MAA reimburses for prosthetics and orthotics to licensed prosthetic and orthotic providers only. This does not apply to:

(a) Selected prosthetics and orthotics that do not require specialized skills to provide; and

(b) Out-of-state providers, who must meet the licensure requirements of that state.

(4) MAA requires the client to take responsibility for routine maintenance of a prosthetic or orthotic. If the client does not have the physical or mental ability to perform the task, MAA requires the client's caregiver to be responsible. MAA authorizes extensive maintenance that the manufacturer recommends be performed by an authorized dealer.

WAC 388-543-2700 Prosthetics and orthotics—Reimbursement. (1) MAA determines reimbursement for prosthetics and orthotics according to a set fee schedule. MAA considers medicare's current fee schedule when determining maximum allowable fees. For BR codes, MAA reimburses eighty-five percent of the agreed upon fee.

(2) MAA's reimbursement for a prosthetic or orthotic includes the cost of any necessary molds.

(3) MAA's hospital reimbursement rate includes any prosthetics and/or orthotics required for surgery and/or placed during the hospital stay.

WAC 388-543-2800 Reusable and disposable medical supplies. (1) The department requires that a physician, advanced registered nurse practitioner (ARNP), or physician's assistant certified (PAC) prescribe reusable and disposable medical supplies. Except for dual eligible medicare/medicaid clients, the prescription must:

(a) Be dated and signed by the prescriber;

(b) Be less than six months in duration from the date the prescriber signs the prescription; and

(c) State the specific item or service requested, diagnosis, estimated length of need (weeks, months, or years), and quantity.

(2) The department bases its determination about which DME and related supplies, prosthetics, orthotics, medical supplies and related services require prior authorization (PA) or expedited prior authorization (EPA) on utilization criteria (see WAC 388-543-1000 for PA and WAC 388-543-1800 for EPA). The department considers all of the following when establishing utilization criteria:

(a) High cost;

(b) The potential for utilization abuse;

(c) A narrow therapeutic indication; and

(d) Safety.

(3) The department requires a provider to obtain a limitation extension in order to exceed the stated limits for nondurable medical equipment and medical supplies. See WAC 388-501-0165.

(4) The department categorizes medical supplies and non-DME (MSE) as follows (see WAC 388-543-1150, 388-543-1600, and department's billing instructions for further information about specific limitations and requirements for PA and EPA):

(a) Antiseptics and germicides;

(b) Bandages, dressings, and tapes;

(c) Blood monitoring/testing supplies;

(d) Braces, belts, and supportive devices;

WAC 388-543-2900 Medical supplies and nondurable medical equipment (MSE)—Reimbursement methodology. (1) MAA determines rates for each category of medical supplies and non-DME (MSE) using either the:

(a) Medicare fee schedule; or

(b) Manufacturers' catalogs and commercial data bases for price comparisons.

(2) MAA evaluates and updates the maximum allowable fees for MSE as follows:

(B) One hundred twenty-five percent of the average dealer cost.

(b) All the brands for which MAA obtains pricing information make up MAA's pricing cluster. However, MAA may limit the number of brands included in the pricing cluster if doing so is in the best interests of its clients. MAA considers all of the following:

(i) A client's medical needs;

(ii) Product quality;

(iii) Cost; and

(iv) Available alternatives.

(3) MAA's nursing facility per diem rate includes any reusable and disposable medical supplies that may be required for a nursing facility client. MAA may reimburse the following medical supplies separately for a client in a nursing facility:

(a) Medical supplies or services that replace all or parts of the function of a permanently impaired or malfunctioning internal body organ. This includes, but is not limited to the following:

(i) Colostomy and other ostomy bags and necessary supplies; and

VISION CARE

WAC 388-544-0010 Vision care—General. (1) The department covers the vision care services listed in this chapter, according to department rules and subject to the limitations and requirements in this chapter. The department pays for vision care when it is:

(a) Covered;

(b) Within the scope of the eligible client's medical care program;

(c) Medically necessary as defined in WAC 388-500-0005;

(d) Authorized, as required within this chapter, chapters 388-501 and 388-502 WAC, and the department's published billing instructions and numbered memoranda; and

(e) Billed according to this chapter, chapters 388-501 and 388-502 WAC, and the department's published billing instructions and numbered memoranda.

(2) The department does not require prior authorization for covered vision care services that meet the clinical criteria set forth in this chapter.

(3) The department requires prior authorization for covered vision care services when the clinical criteria set forth in this chapter are not met, including the criteria associated with the expedited prior authorization process. The department evaluates these requests on a case-by-case basis to determine whether they are medically necessary, according to the process found in WAC 388-501-0165.

WAC 388-544-0050 Vision care—Definitions. The following definitions and those found in WAC 388-500-0005 apply to this chapter. Unless otherwise defined in this chapter, medical terms are used as commonly defined within the scope of professional medical practice in the state of Washington.

"Blindness" - A diagnosis of visual acuity for distance vision of twenty/two hundred or worse in the better eye with best correction or a limitation of the client's visual field (widest diameter) subtending an angle of less than twenty degrees from central.

"Conventional soft contact lenses" or "rigid gas permeable contact lenses" - FDA-approved contact lenses that do not have a scheduled replacement (discard and replace with new contacts) plan. The soft lenses usually last one year, and the rigid gas permeable lenses usually last two years. Although some of these lenses are designed for extended wear, the department generally approves only those lenses that are designed to be worn as daily wear (remove at night).

"Disposable contact lenses" - FDA-approved contact lenses that have a planned replacement schedule (e.g., daily, every two weeks, monthly, quarterly). The contacts are then discarded and replaced with new ones as scheduled. Although many of these lenses are designed for extended wear, the department generally approves only those lenses that are designed to be worn as daily wear (remove at night).

"Expedited prior authorization" - A form of authorization used by the provider to certify that the department-published clinical criteria for a specific vision care service(s) have been met.

"Extended wear soft contacts" - Contact lenses that are designed to be worn for longer periods than daily wear (remove at night) lenses. These can be conventional soft contact lenses or disposable contact lenses designed to be worn for several days and nights before removal.

"Hardware" - Eyeglass frames and lenses and contact lenses.

"Prior authorization" - A form of authorization used by the provider to obtain the department's written approval for a specific vision care service(s). The department's approval is based on medical necessity and must be received before the service(s) are provided to clients as a precondition for payment.

"Specialty contact lens design" - Custom contact lenses that have a more complex design than a standard spherical lens. These specialty contact lenses (e.g., lenticular, aspheric, or myodisc) are designed for the treatment of specific disease processes, such as keratoconus, or are required due to high refractive errors. This definition of specialty contact lens does not include lenses used for surgical implantation.

"Stable visual condition" - A client's eye condition has no acute disease or injury; or the client has reached a point after any acute disease or injury where the variation in need for refractive correction has diminished or steadied. The client's vision condition has stabilized to the extent that eyeglasses or contact lenses are appropriate and that any prescription for refractive correction is likely to be sufficient for one year or more.

"Visual field exams or testing" - A process to determine defects in the field of vision and test the function of the retina, optic nerve and optic pathways. The process may include simple confrontation to increasingly complex studies with sophisticated equipment.

HEARING AID SERVICES

WAC 388-544-1010 Definitions. "Expedited prior authorization" (EPA) means a process designed by MAA to eliminate the need for written prior authorization (see definition for "prior authorization"). MAA establishes authorization criteria and identifies these criteria with specific codes. If the provider determines the client meets the criteria, the provider creates the authorization number using the specific MAA-established codes.

"FM systems" means a hearing device that uses a frequency modulated radio signal. FM systems are sometimes referred to as radio frequency (RF) aids.

"Limitation extension" (LE) means prior authorization from MAA to exceed the service limits (quantity, frequency, or duration) set in WAC or in MAA billing instructions.

"Maximum allowable fee" means the maximum dollar amount that MAA will reimburse a provider for specific services, supplies, and equipment.

"Prior authorization" means MAA and/or department of health approval for certain medical services, equipment, or supplies, before the services are provided to clients, as a precondition for provider reimbursement. Expedited prior authorization and limitation extension are forms of prior authorization.

(x) Acute, infective polyneuritis (Guillain-Barre' syndrome).

(g) Additional medically necessary occupational therapy services, regardless of the diagnosis, must be approved by MAA.

(6) MAA will pay for one visit to instruct in the application of transcutaneous neurostimulator (TENS), per client, per lifetime.

(7) MAA does not cover occupational therapy services that are included as part of the reimbursement for other treatment programs. This includes, but is not limited to, hospital inpatient and nursing facility services.

Chapter 388-546 WAC
TRANSPORTATION SERVICES

WAC

WAC 388-546-0001 Definitions. The following definitions and abbreviations, and those found in WAC 388-500-0005, apply to this chapter unless otherwise specified.

"Advanced life support (ALS)" means that level of care that calls for invasive emergency medical services requiring advanced medical treatment skills.

"Advanced life support (ALS) assessment" means an assessment performed by an ALS crew as part of an emergency response that was necessary because the client's reported condition at the time of dispatch was such that only an ALS crew was qualified to perform the assessment. An ALS assessment does not necessarily result in a determination that the client requires an ALS level of service.

"Advanced life support (ALS) intervention" means a procedure that is beyond the scope of care of an emergency medical technician (EMT).

"Aid vehicle" means a vehicle used to carry aid equipment and individuals trained in first aid or emergency medical procedures.

"Air ambulance" means a helicopter or airplane designed and used to provide transportation for the ill and injured, and to provide personnel, facilities, and equipment to treat clients before and during transportation. Air ambulance is considered an ALS service.

"Ambulance" means a ground or air vehicle designed and used to provide transportation to the ill and injured; and to provide personnel, facilities, and equipment to treat clients before and during transportation; and licensed per RCW 18.73.140.

"Base rate" means the medical assistance administration's (MAA) minimum payment amount per covered trip, which includes allowances for emergency medical personnel and their services, the costs of standing orders, reusable supplies and equipment, hardware, stretchers, oxygen and oxygen administration, intravenous supplies and IV administration, disposable supplies, normal waiting time, and the normal overhead costs of doing business. The base rate excludes mileage.

"Basic life support (BLS)" means that level of care that justifies ambulance transportation but requires only basic medical treatment skills. It does not include the need for or delivery of invasive medical procedures/services.

"Bed-confined" means the client is unable to perform all of the following actions:

(1) Get up from bed without assistance;

(2) Ambulate; and

(3) Sit in a chair or wheelchair.

"Bordering city hospital" means a licensed hospital in a designated bordering city (see WAC 388-501-0175).

"Broker" (see "transportation broker").

"Brokered transportation" means nonemergency transportation arranged by a broker, under contract with MAA, to or from covered medical services for an eligible client (also, see "transportation broker").

"By report" means a method of payment in which MAA determines the amount it will pay for a service that is covered but does not have an established maximum allowable fee. Providers must submit a report describing the nature, extent, time, effort, and/or equipment necessary to deliver the service.

"Emergency medical service" means medical treatment and care that may be rendered at the scene of any medical emergency or while transporting any client in an ambulance to an appropriate medical facility, including ambulance transportation between medical facilities.

"Emergency medical transportation" means ambulance transportation during which a client receives needed emergency medical services en route to an appropriate medical facility.

"Ground ambulance" means a ground vehicle (including a water ambulance) designed and used to provide transportation to the ill and injured and to provide personnel, facilities, and equipment to treat clients before and during transportation.

"Invasive procedure" means a medical intervention that intrudes on the client's person or breaks the skin barrier.

"Lift-off fee" means either of the two base rates MAA pays to air ambulance providers for transporting a client. MAA establishes separate lift-off fees for helicopters and airplanes.

"Loaded mileage" means the number of miles the client is transported in the ambulance vehicle.

"Medical control" means the medical authority upon whom an ambulance provider relies to coordinate prehospital emergency services, triage and trauma center assignment/destination for the person being transported. The medical control is designated in the trauma care plan by the approved medical program director of the region in which the service is provided.

"Nonemergency ambulance transportation" means the use of a ground ambulance to carry a client who may be confined to a stretcher but typically does not require the provision of emergency medical services en route, or the use of an air ambulance when prior authorized by MAA. Nonemergency ambulance transportation is usually scheduled or prearranged. See also "prone or supine transportation," and "scheduled transportation."

"Point of destination" means a facility generally equipped to provide the needed medical or nursing care for the injury, illness, symptoms, or complaint involved.

"Point of pickup" means the location of the client at the time he or she is placed on board the ambulance or transport vehicle.

"Prone or supine transportation" means transporting a client confined to a stretcher or gurney, with or without emergency medical services being provided en route.

"Scheduled transportation" means prearranged transportation for an eligible client, typically in a vehicle other than an ambulance, with no emergency medical services being required or provided en route to or from a covered medical service.

"Specialty care transport (SCT)" means interfacility transportation of a critically injured or ill client by a ground ambulance vehicle, including medically necessary supplies and services, at a level of service beyond the scope of the paramedic.

"Standing order" means an order remaining in effect indefinitely until canceled or modified by an approved medical program director (regional trauma system) or the ambulance provider's medical control.

"Transportation broker" means a person or organization contracted by MAA to arrange, coordinate and manage the provision of necessary but nonemergency transportation services for eligible clients to and from covered medical services.

"Trip" means transportation one-way from the point of pickup to the point of destination by an authorized transportation provider.

WAC 388-546-0100 The MAA ambulance transportation program. (1) The provisions of this chapter take precedence with respect to ambulance coverage in cases of ambiguity in, or conflict with, other rules governing eligibility for medical services.

(2) The medical assistance administration (MAA) covers medically necessary ambulance transportation to and from the provider of MAA covered services that is closest and most appropriate to meet the client's medical need. See WAC 388-546-0150 through 388-546-4000 for ambulance transportation and WAC 388-546-5000 through 388-546-5600 for brokered/nonemergency transportation.

WAC 388-546-0150 Client eligibility for ambulance transportation. (1) Except for clients in the Family Planning Only program, MAA fee-for-service clients are eligible for ambulance transportation to MAA covered services with the following limitations:

(a) Clients in the following programs are eligible for ambulance services within Washington state or bordering cities only, as designated in WAC 388-501-0175:

(i) General assistance-unemployable (GA-U);

(ii) General assistance-expedited medical (GA-X);

(iii) General assistance-pregnancy (GA-S);

(iv) Alcoholism and Drug Addiction Treatment and Support Act (ADATSA);

(v) Emergency medical programs, including alien emergency medical (AEM);

(vi) LCP-MNP emergency medical only; and

(vii) State Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP) when the client is not enrolled in a managed care plan.

(b) Clients in the categorically needy/qualified medicare beneficiary (CN/QMB) and medically needy/qualified medicare beneficiary (MN/QMB) programs are covered by medicare and medicaid, with the payment limitations described in WAC 388-546-0400(5).

(2) Clients enrolled in an MAA managed care plan receive all ambulance services through their designated plan, subject to the plan's coverages and limitations.

(3) Clients enrolled in MAA's primary care case management (PCCM) program are eligible for ambulance services that are emergency medical services or that are approved by the PCCM in accordance with MAA requirements. MAA pays for covered services for these clients according to MAA's published billing instructions.

(4) Clients under the Involuntary Treatment Act (ITA) are not eligible for ambulance transportation coverage outside the state of Washington. This exclusion from coverage applies to individuals who are being detained involuntarily for mental health treatment and being transported to or from bordering cities. See also WAC 388-546-4000.

(5) See WAC 388-546-0800 and 388-546-2500 for additional limitations on out-of-state coverage and coverage for clients with other insurance.

(6) Jail inmates and persons living in a correctional facility are not eligible for MAA ambulance coverage. See WAC 388-503-0505(5).

WAC 388-546-0200 Scope of coverage for ambulance transportation. (1) The ambulance program is a medical transportation service. The medical assistance administration (MAA) pays for ambulance transportation to and from covered medical services when the transportation is:

(a) Within the scope of an eligible client's medical care program (see WAC 388-501-0060);

(b) Medically necessary as defined in WAC 388-500-0005 based on the client's condition at the time of the ambulance trip and as documented in the client's record;

(c) Appropriate to the client's actual medical need; and

(d) To one of the following destinations:

(i) The nearest appropriate MAA-contracted medical provider of MAA-covered services; or

(ii) The designated trauma facility as identified in the emergency medical services and trauma regional patient care procedures manual.

(2) MAA limits coverage to medically necessary ambulance transportation that is required because the client cannot be safely or legally transported any other way. If a client can safely travel by car, van, taxi, or other means, the ambulance trip is not medically necessary and the ambulance service is not covered by MAA. See WAC 388-546-0250 (1) and (2) for noncovered ambulance services.

(3) If medicare or another third party is the client's primary health insurer and that primary insurer denies coverage of an ambulance trip due to a lack of medical necessity, MAA requires the provider when billing MAA for that trip to:

(a) Report the third party determination on the claim; and

(b) Submit documentation showing that the trip meets the medical necessity criteria of MAA. See WAC 388-546-1000 and 388-546-1500 for requirements for nonemergency ambulance coverage.

(4) MAA covers the following ambulance transportation:

(a) Ground ambulance when the eligible client:

(i) Has an emergency medical need for the transportation;

(ii) Needs medical attention to be available during the trip; or

(iii) Must be transported by stretcher or gurney.

(b) Air ambulance when justified under the conditions of this chapter or when MAA determines that air ambulance is less costly than ground ambulance in a particular case. In the latter case, the air ambulance transportation must be prior authorized by MAA. See WAC 388-546-1500 for nonemergency air ambulance coverage.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.08.090, 74.09.530, and 74.09.-700. 06-24-036, § 388-546-0200, filed 11/30/06, effective 1/1/07. Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.057, 74.08.090, and 74.09.510. 04-17-118, § 388-546-0200, filed 8/17/04, effective 9/17/04. WAC 388-546-0250 Ambulance services the department does not cover. (1) The department does not cover ambulance services when the transportation is:

(a) Not medically necessary based on the client's condition at the time of service (see exception at WAC 388-546-1000);

(b) Refused by the client (see exception for ITA clients in WAC 388-546-4000(2));

(c) For a client who is deceased at the time the ambulance arrives at the scene;

(d) For a client who dies after the ambulance arrives at the scene but prior to transport and the ambulance crew provided minimal to no medical interventions/supplies at the scene (see WAC 388-546-0500(2));

(e) Requested for the convenience of the client or the client's family;

(f) More expensive than bringing the necessary medical service(s) to the client's location in nonemergency situations;

(g) To transfer a client from a medical facility to the client's residence (except when the residence is a nursing facility);

(h) Requested solely because a client has no other means of transportation;

(i) Provided by other than licensed ambulance providers (e.g., wheelchair vans, cabulance, stretcher cars); or

(j) Not to the nearest appropriate medical facility.

(2) If transport does not occur, the department does not cover the ambulance service, except as provided in WAC 388-546-0500(2).

(3) The department evaluates requests for services that are listed as noncovered in this chapter under the provisions of WAC 388-501-0160.

(4) For ambulance services that are otherwise covered under this chapter but are subject to one or more limitations or other restrictions, the department evaluates, on a case-by-case basis, requests to exceed the specified limits or restrictions. The department approves such requests when medically necessary, according to the provisions of WAC 388-501-0165 and 388-501-0169.

(5) An ambulance provider may bill a client for noncovered services as described in this section, if the requirements of WAC 388-502-0160 are met.

WAC 388-546-0300 General requirements for ambulance providers. (1) Ambulances must be licensed, operated, and equipped according to federal, state, and local statutes, ordinances and regulations.

(2) Ambulances must be staffed and operated by appropriately trained and certified personnel. Personnel who provide any invasive procedure/emergency medical services for a client during an ambulance trip must be properly authorized and trained per RCW 18.73.150 and 18.73.170.

(3) The medical assistance administration (MAA) requires providers of ambulance services to document medical justification for transportation and related services billed to MAA. Documentation in the provider's client record must include adequate descriptions of the severity and complexity of the client's condition (including the circumstances that made the conditions acute and emergent) at the time of the transportation. MAA may review the client record to ensure MAA's criteria were met.

WAC 388-546-0400 General limitations on payment for ambulance services. (1) In accordance with WAC 388-502-0100(8), the medical assistance administration (MAA) pays providers the lesser of the provider's usual and customary charges or the maximum allowable rate established by MAA. MAA's fee schedule payment for ambulance services includes a base rate or lift-off fee plus mileage.

(2) MAA does not pay providers under fee-for-service for ambulance services provided to a client who is enrolled in an MAA managed care plan. Payment in such cases is the responsibility of the prepaid managed care plan.

(3) MAA does not pay providers for mileage incurred traveling to the point of pickup or any other distances traveled when the client is not on board the ambulance. MAA pays for loaded mileage only as follows:

(a) MAA pays ground ambulance providers for the actual mileage incurred for covered trips by paying from the client's point of pickup to the point of destination.

(b) MAA pays air ambulance providers for the statute miles incurred for covered trips by paying from the client's point of pickup to the point of destination.

(4) MAA does not pay for ambulance services if:

(a) The client is not transported;

(b) The client is transported but not to an appropriate treatment facility; or

(c) The client dies before the ambulance trip begins (see the single exception for ground ambulance providers at WAC 388-546-0500(2)).

(5) For clients in the categorically needy/qualified medicare beneficiary (CN/QMB) and medically needy/qualified medicare beneficiary (MN/QMB) programs MAA's payment is as follows:

(a) If medicare covers the service, MAA will pay the lesser of:

(i) The full coinsurance and deductible amounts due, based upon medicaid's allowed amount; or

(ii) MAA's maximum allowable for that service minus the amount paid by medicare.

(b) If medicare does not cover or denies ambulance services that MAA covers according to this chapter, MAA pays at MAA's maximum allowable; except MAA does not pay for clients on the qualified medicare beneficiaries (QMB) only program.

WAC 388-546-0425 Ambulance coverage during inpatient hospitals stays. (1) The medical assistance administration (MAA) does not cover ambulance transportation services under fee-for-service when a client remains as an inpatient client in a hospital and the transportation to and/or from another facility is for diagnostic or treatment services (e.g., MRI scanning, kidney dialysis). Transportation of an inpatient client for such services is the responsibility of the hospital, whether MAA pays the hospital under the diagnosis-related group (DRG) or ratio of costs-to-charges (RCC) method.

(2) Except as provided in subsections (3) and (5) of this section, MAA does not cover hospital to hospital transfers of clients under fee-for-service when ambulance transportation is requested solely to:

(a) Accommodate a physician's or other health care provider's preference for facilities;

(b) Move the client closer to family or home (i.e., for personal convenience); or

(c) Meet insurance requirements or hospital/insurance agreements.

(3) MAA covers under fee-for-service ambulance transportation for a client being transferred from one hospital to another when the transferring or discharging hospital has inadequate facilities to provide the necessary medical services required by the client. MAA covers air ambulance transportation for hospital transfers only if transportation by ground ambulance would endanger the client's life or health. The reason for transferring a client from one hospital to another, as well as the need for air ambulance transport, if applicable, must be clearly documented in the client's hospital chart and in the ambulance trip report.

(4) MAA does not cover under fee-for-service ambulance transportation for a client being transferred from a hospital providing a higher level of care to a hospital providing a lower level of care, except as allowed under subsection (5) of this section.

(5) MAA considers requests for fee-for-service ambulance coverage under the provisions of WAC 388-501-0160 (exception to rule) for transportation of a client from an intervening hospital to the discharging hospital. MAA evaluates such requests based on clinical considerations and cost-effectiveness. MAA's decision under the provisions of WAC 388-501-0160 is final. The reason for transferring a client from a hospital to another medical facility must be clearly documented in the client's hospital chart and in the ambulance trip record.

(6) Specialty care transport (SCT) is hospital-to-hospital transportation by ground ambulance of a critically injured or ill client, at a level of service beyond the scope of a paramedic. MAA pays an ambulance provider the advanced life support (ALS) rate for an SCT-level transport, provided:

(a) The criteria for covered hospital transfers under fee-for-service are met; and

(b) There is a written reimbursement agreement between the ambulance provider and SCT personnel. If there is no written reimbursement agreement between the ambulance provider and SCT personnel, MAA pays the provider at the basic life support (BLS) rate.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.057, 74.08.090, and 74.09.510. 04-17-118, § 388-546-0425, filed 8/17/04, effective 9/17/04.]

WAC 388-546-0450 Payment for ground ambulance services. (1) The medical assistance administration (MAA) pays for two levels of service for ground ambulance transportation: Basic life support (BLS) and advanced life support (ALS):

(a) A BLS ambulance trip is one in which the client requires and receives basic medical services at the scene and/or en route from the scene of the acute and emergent illness or injury to a hospital or other appropriate treatment facility. Examples of basic medical services are: Controlling bleeding, splinting fracture(s), treating for shock, and performing cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR).

(b) An ALS trip is one in which the client requires and receives more complex services at the scene and/or en route from the scene of the acute and emergent illness or injury to a hospital. To qualify for payment at the ALS level, certified paramedics or other ALS-qualified personnel on-board must provide the advanced medical services in a properly equipped vehicle as defined by chapter 18.83 RCW. Examples of complex medical services or ALS procedures are:

(i) Administration of medication by intravenous push/bolus or by continuous infusion;

(ii) Airway intubation;

(iii) Cardiac pacing;

(iv) Chemical restraint;

(v) Chest decompression;

(vi) Creation of surgical airway;

(vii) Initiation of intravenous therapy;

(viii) Manual defibrillation/cardioversion;

(ix) Placement of central venous line; and

(x) Placement of intraosseous line.

(2) MAA pays for ambulance services (BLS or ALS) based on the client's actual medical condition and the level of medical services needed and provided during the trip.

(a) Local ordinances or standing orders that require all ambulance vehicles be ALS-equipped do not qualify a trip for MAA payment at the ALS level of service unless ALS services were provided.

(b) A ground ambulance trip is classified and paid at a BLS level, even if certified paramedics or ALS-qualified personnel are on board the ambulance, if no ALS-type interventions were provided en route.

(c) An ALS assessment does not qualify as an ALS transport if no ALS-type interventions were provided to the client en route to the treatment facility.

(3) MAA's base rate includes: Necessary personnel and services; oxygen and oxygen administration; intravenous supplies and IV administration reusable supplies, disposable supplies, required equipment, and waiting time. MAA does not pay separately for chargeable items/services that are provided to the client based on standing orders.

(4) MAA pays ground ambulance providers the same mileage rate, regardless of the level of service. Ground ambulance mileage is paid when the client is transported to and from medical services within the local community only, unless necessary medical care is not available locally. The provider must fully document in the client's record the circumstances that make medical care outside of the client's local community necessary.

(5) MAA pays for extra mileage when sufficient justification is documented in the client's record and the ambulance trip report. Acceptable reasons for allowable extra mileage include, but are not limited to:

(a) A hospital was on "divert" status and not accepting patients; or

(b) A construction site caused a detour, or had to be avoided to save time.

(6) When multiple ambulance providers respond to an emergency call, MAA pays only the ambulance provider that actually furnishes the transportation.

(7) MAA pays for an extra attendant, when the ground ambulance provider documents in the client's file the justification for the extra attendant, and that the extra attendant is on-board for the trip because of one or more of the following:

(a) The client weighs three hundred pounds or more;

(b) The client is violent or difficult to move safely;

(c) The client is being transported for Involuntary Treatment Act (ITA) purposes and the client must be restrained during the trip; or

(d) More than one client is being transported, and each requires medical attention and/or close monitoring.

(8) MAA pays ambulance providers "by report" for ferry and bridge tolls incurred when transporting MAA clients. To be paid, providers must document the toll(s) by attaching the receipt(s) for the toll(s) to the claim.

WAC 388-546-0500 Payment for ground ambulance services in special circumstances. (1) When more than one client is transported in the same ground ambulance at the same time, the provider must bill the medical assistance administration (MAA):

(a) At a reduced base rate for the additional client, and

(b) No mileage charge for the additional client.

(2) MAA pays an ambulance provider at the appropriate base rate (BLS or ALS) if no transportation takes place because the client died at the scene of the illness or injury but the ambulance crew provided medical interventions/supplies to the client at the scene prior to the client's death. See WAC 388-546-0450(1) for examples of medical interventions associated with each base rate. The intervention(s)/supplies provided must be documented in the client's record. No mileage charge is allowed with the base rate when the client dies at the scene of the illness or injury after medical interventions/supplies are provided but before transport takes place.

(3) In situations where a BLS entity provides the transport of the client and an ALS entity provides a service that meets MAA's fee schedule definition of an ALS intervention, the BLS provider may bill MAA the ALS rate for the transport, provided a written reimbursement agreement between the BLS and ALS entities exists. The provider must give MAA a copy of the agreement upon request. If there is no written agreement between the BLS and ALS entities, MAA will pay only for the BLS level of service.

(4) In areas that distinguish between residents and nonresidents, MAA must be billed the same rate for ambulance services provided to a client in a particular jurisdiction as would be billed by that provider to the general public in the same jurisdiction.

WAC 388-546-0600 Procedure code modifiers. Ambulance providers must use procedure code modifiers published by MAA when billing MAA for ambulance trips. The appropriate modifiers must be used for all services related to the same trip for the same client.

WAC 388-546-0700 Payment limitations for air ambulance services. (1) MAA pays for air ambulance services only when all of the following apply:

(a) The necessary medical treatment is not available locally or the client's point of pick up is not accessible by ground ambulance;

(b) The vehicle and crew meet the provider requirements in WAC 388-546-0300 and 388-546-0800;

(c) The client's destination is an acute care hospital; and

(d) The client's physical/medical condition requires immediate and rapid ambulance transportation that cannot be provided by ground ambulance; or

(e) The client's physical or medical condition is such that traveling on a commercial flight is not safe.

(2) MAA pays providers for one lift-off fee per client, per trip.

(3) Air mileage is based on loaded miles flown, as expressed in statute miles.

(4) Except as provided in WAC 388-546-0800(6), MAA pays for extra air mileage with sufficient justification. The reason for the added mileage must be documented in the client's record and the ambulance trip report. Acceptable reasons include, but are not limited to:

(a) Having to avoid a "no fly zone"; or

(b) Being forced to land at an alternate destination due to severe weather.

(5) MAA pays a lift-off fee for each client when two or more clients are transported on a single air ambulance trip. In such a case, the provider must divide equally the total air mileage by the number of clients transported and bill MAA for the mileage portion attributable to each eligible client.

(6) If a client's transportation requires use of more than one ambulance to complete the trip to the hospital or other approved facility, MAA limits its payment as follows:

(a) If air ambulance is used and the trip involves more than one lift off, MAA pays only one lift-off fee per client and the total of air miles. If an air ambulance transport for the same client involves both rotary and fixed wing aircraft, the lift-off fee and mileage payment will be based on the mode of air transport used for the greater distance traveled.

(b) If both air and ground ambulances are used, MAA pays one lift-off fee and total air miles to the air ambulance provider, and the applicable base rate and ground mileage to each ground ambulance provider involved in the trip, except when ground ambulance fees are included in the negotiated trip payment as provided in WAC 388-546-0800(6).

(7) MAA does not pay separately for individual services or an extra attendant for air ambulance transportation. MAA's lift-off fee and mileage payment includes all personnel, services, supplies, and equipment related to the transport.

(8) MAA does not pay private organizations for volunteer medical air ambulance transportation services, unless the organization has MAA's prior authorization for the transportation services and fees. If authorized, MAA's payment is based on the actual cost to provide the service or at MAA's established rates, whichever is lower. MAA does not pay separately for items or services that MAA includes in the established rate(s).

(9) If MAA determines, upon review, that an air ambulance trip was not:

(a) Medically necessary, MAA may deny or recoup its payment and/or limit payment based on MAA's established rate for a ground ambulance trip provided ground ambulance transportation was medically necessary; or

(b) To the nearest available and appropriate hospital, MAA may deny or recoup its payment and/or limit its maximum payment for the trip based on the nearest available and appropriate facility.

(10) Providers must have prior authorization from MAA for any nonemergency air transportation, whether by air ambulance or other mode of air transportation. Nonemergency air transportation includes scheduled transports to or from out-of-state treatment facilities.

(11) MAA uses commercial airline companies (i.e., MAA does not authorize air ambulance transports) whenever the client's medical condition permits the client to be transported by nonmedical and/or scheduled carriers.

(12) MAA does not pay for air ambulance services if no transportation is provided.

WAC 388-546-0800 Payment for ambulance services provided in another state or U.S. territory. (1) The department pays for emergency ambulance transportation provided to eligible Washington state fee-for-service medical assistance clients who are in another state or U.S. territory when the emergency medical situation occurs according to the provisions of WAC 388-501-0180, 388-501-0182, and 388-502-0120.

(2) To receive payment from the department, an out-of-state ambulance provider must:

(a) Meet the licensing requirements of the ambulance provider's home state or province; and

(b) Have a signed agreement with the department.

(3) The department pays for emergency ambulance transportation provided out of state for an eligible Washington state medical assistance client under fee-for-service when the transport is:

(a) Within the scope of the client's medical care program;

(b) Medically necessary as defined in WAC 388-500-0005; and

(c) To the nearest appropriate treatment facility.

(4) The department does not pay for an ambulance transport provided in another state for a fee-for-service Washington state medical assistance client when:

(a) The client's medical eligibility program covers medical services within Washington state and/or designated bordering cities only. See WAC 388-546-0150 and 388-546-0200(5);

(b) The ambulance transport was nonemergent and was not prior authorized by the department.

(5) The department pays for emergency ambulance transportation at the lower of:

(a) The provider's billed amount; or

(b) The rate established by the department.

(6) To receive payment from the department for a nonemergency transport, an ambulance provider, who transports a Washington state medical assistance client to a facility that is out of state or brings a client into the state from a location that is out of state, must obtain prior authorization from the department.

(7) The department pays a negotiated rate for a medically necessary nonemergency interstate ambulance transport that the department has prior authorized. The ambulance provider is responsible for ensuring that all medical services necessary for the client's safety during the transport are available onboard the vehicle or aircraft. The contractual amount for a nonemergency air ambulance transport may include:

(a) The cost of medically necessary ground ambulance transport from the discharging facility to the point-of-pickup (airstrip); and

(b) The cost of medically necessary ground ambulance transport from the landing point (airstrip) to the receiving facility.

(8) The department does not pay to transport clients under the involuntary treatment act (ITA) program to or from locations outside the state of Washington. For ITA purposes, transports to or from designated bordering cities are not covered. See WAC 388-546-4000.

WAC 388-546-1000 Coverage for nonemergency ground ambulance transportation. (1) The medical assistance administration (MAA) pays for nonemergency ground ambulance transportation at the BLS ambulance level of service under the following conditions:

(a) The client is bed-confined and must be transported by stretcher or gurney (in the prone or supine position) for medical or safety reasons. Justification for stretcher or gurney must be documented in the client's record; or

(b) The client's medical condition requires that he or she have basic ambulance level medical attention available during transportation, regardless of bed confinement.

(2) MAA requires ambulance providers to thoroughly document the circumstances requiring nonemergency ground ambulance transportation as follows:

(a) For nonemergency, scheduled ambulance services that are repetitive in nature, the ambulance provider must obtain a written physician certification statement (PCS) from the client's attending physician certifying that the ambulance services are medically necessary. The PCS must specify the expected duration of treatment or span of dates during which the client requires repetitive nonemergency ambulance services. The PCS must be dated no earlier than sixty days before the first date of service. A PCS for repetitive, nonemergency ambulance services is valid for sixty days as long as the client's medical condition does not improve. Kidney dialysis clients may receive nonemergency ground ambulance transportation to and from outpatient kidney dialysis services for up to three months per authorization span.

(b) For nonemergency ambulance services that are either unscheduled or scheduled on a nonrepetitive basis, the ambulance provider must obtain from the client's attending physician a signed PCS within forty-eight hours after the transport. The PCS must certify that the ambulance services are medically necessary.

(c) If the ambulance provider is not able to obtain a signed PCS from the attending physician, a signed certificate of medical necessity form must be obtained from a qualified provider who is employed by the client's attending physician or by the hospital or facility where the client is being treated and who has personal knowledge of the client's medical condition at the time the ambulance service was furnished. In lieu of the attending physician, one of the following may sign the certification form: a physician assistant, a nurse practitioner, a registered nurse, a clinical nurse specialist, or a hospital discharge planner. The signed certificate must be obtained from the alternate provider no later than twenty-one calendar days from the date of service.

(d) If, after twenty-one days, the ambulance provider is unable to obtain the signed PCS from the attending physician or alternate provider for nonemergency ambulance services that are either unscheduled or scheduled on a nonrepetitive basis, the ambulance provider may submit a claim to MAA, as long as the provider is able to show acceptable documentation of the attempts to obtain the PCS.

(e) In addition to the signed certification statement of medical necessity, all other program criteria must be met in order for MAA to pay for the service.

(3) Ground ambulance providers may choose to enter into contracts with MAA's transportation brokers to provide nonemergency transportation at a negotiated payment rate. Any such subcontracted rate may not exceed the costs MAA would incur under subsection (1) of this section.

WAC 388-546-1500 Coverage for nonemergency air ambulance transportation. (1) The medical assistance administration (MAA) pays for a nonemergency air ambulance transport only when the transport is prior authorized by MAA.

(2) MAA authorizes a nonemergency air ambulance transport only when the following conditions are met:

(a) The client's destination is an acute care hospital or approved rehabilitation facility; and

(b) The client's physical or medical condition is such that travel by any other means endangers the client's health; or

(c) Air ambulance is less costly than ground ambulance under the circumstances.

(3) MAA requires providers to thoroughly document the circumstances requiring a nonemergency air ambulance transport. The medical justification must be submitted to MAA prior to transport and must be documented in the client's medical record and ambulance trip report. Documentation must include adequate descriptions of the severity and complexity of the client's condition at the time of transportation.

WAC 388-546-2500 Transportation to or from out-of-state treatment facilities—Coordination of benefits. (1) The medical assistance administration (MAA) does not pay for a client's transportation to or from an out-of-state treatment facility when the medical service, treatment, or procedure sought by the client is available from an in-state facility or in a designated bordering city, whether or not the client has other insurance coverage.

(2) For clients who are otherwise eligible for out-of-state coverage under WAC 388-546-0150, but have other third-party insurance, MAA does not pay for transportation to or from out-of-state treatment facilities when the client's primary insurance:

(a) Denies the client's request for medical services out-of-state for lack of medical necessity; or

(b) Denies the client's request for transportation for lack of medical necessity.

(3) For clients who are otherwise eligible for out-of-state coverage under WAC 388-546-0150, but have other third-party insurance, MAA does not consider requests for transportation to or from out-of-state treatment facilities unless the client has tried all of the following:

(a) Requested coverage of the benefit from his/her primary insurer and been denied;

(b) Appealed the denial of coverage by the primary insurer; and

(c) Exhausted his/her administrative remedies through the primary insurer.

(4) If MAA authorizes transportation to or from an out-of-state treatment facility for a client with other third-party insurance, MAA's liability is limited to the cost of the least costly means of transportation that does not jeopardize the client's health, as determined by MAA in consultation with the client's referring physician.

(5) For clients eligible for out-of-state coverage but have other third-party insurance, MAA considers requests for transportation to or from out-of-state treatment facilities under the provisions of WAC 388-501-0165.

WAC 388-546-4000 Transportation coverage under the Involuntary Treatment Act (ITA). (1) For purposes of this section, the following definitions apply:

(a) "Nearest and most appropriate destination" means the nearest facility able and willing to accept the involuntarily detained individual for treatment, not the closest facility based solely on driving distance.

(b) "County-designated mental health professional (CD-MHP)" means a person who, under the guidelines specified by the Involuntary Treatment Act (ITA):

(i) Assesses a client's level of need for transportation according to procedures established by the county in which the client being assessed resides; and

(ii) Decides, following the assessment, how a client should be transported to an inpatient psychiatric treatment facility.

(c) "Involuntary Treatment Act" means, for adults, chapter 71.05 RCW; for juveniles, chapter 71.34 RCW. See also chapter 388-865 WAC.

(d) "Regional support network (RSN)" means a county authority or group of county authorities recognized by the secretary of the department of social and health services (DSHS) and which contracts with DSHS to implement a locally managed community mental health program.

(2) The medical assistance administration (MAA) covers transportation under ITA for an individual who is being involuntarily detained for mental health treatment, after that individual has been assessed by a CD-MHP and found to be:

(a) A danger to self;

(b) A danger to others; or

(c) Gravely disabled.

(3) Transportation under ITA may be provided to an eligible individual by an organization designated as an ITA provider by the local community mental health center and/or RSN. Designated ITA providers must comply with the department's requirements for drivers, driver training, vehicle and equipment standards and maintenance.

(4) Transportation under the ITA for an individual described in subsection (2) is covered from:

(a) The site of the initial detention;

(b) An evaluation and treatment facility designated by the department; or

(c) A court hearing.

(5) Transportation under the ITA for an individual described in subsection (2) is covered when provided to:

(a) An evaluation and treatment facility;

(b) A less restrictive alternative setting, except when ambulance transport to a client's home is not covered; or

(c) A court hearing.

(6) The CD-MHP authorizes the level of transportation provided under ITA to and from covered facilities based on the individual's need. A copy of the authorization by the CD-MHP must be kept in the individual's file.

(7) MAA pays for ITA transports to the nearest and most appropriate destination. The reason for the diversion to a more distant facility must be clearly documented in the individual's file.

(8) The department's mental health division (MHD) establishes payment for ITA transports. Providers must clearly identify ITA transports on the claim form when submitting claims to MAA.

WAC 388-546-5000 Nonemergency transportation program definitions. The following terms apply to WAC 388-546-5000, 388-546-5100, 388-546-5200, 388-546-5300, 388-546-5400, and 388-546-5500:

"Broker" means an organization or entity contracted with the department of social and health services (DSHS)/ medical assistance administration (MAA) to arrange nonemergency transportation services for MAA's clients.

"Drop off point" means the place authorized by the transportation broker for the client's trip to end.

"Escort" means a person authorized by the broker to be transported with a client to a medical service. An escort may be authorized depending on the client's age, mental state or capacity, safety requirements, mobility requirements, communication or translation requirements, or cultural issues.

"Guardian" means a person who is legally responsible for a client and who may be required to be present when a client is receiving medical services.

"Local provider of type" means the medical provider within the client's local community who fulfills the requirements of the medical appointment. The provider may vary by medical specialty, the provider's acceptance of MAA's clients, and whether managed care, primary care case management or third party participation is involved.

"Noncompliance" means a client:

(1) Engages in violent, seriously disruptive, or illegal conduct;

(2) Poses a direct threat to the health and/or safety of self or others; or

(3) Fails to be present at the pickup point of the trip.

"Pickup point" means the place authorized by MAA's transportation broker for the client's trip to begin.

"Return trip" means the return of the client to the client's home, or another authorized return point, from the location where a covered medical service has occurred.

"Service mode" means the method of transportation the transportation broker selects to use for an MAA client.

"Stretcher trip" means a transportation service that requires a client to be transported in a prone or supine position. This may be by stretcher, board or gurney (reclined and with feet elevated). Medical or safety requirements must be the basis for transporting a client in the prone or supine position.

"Trip" means transportation one-way from the pickup point to the drop off point by an authorized transportation provider.

"Urgent care" means an unplanned appointment for a covered medical service with verification from an attending physician or facility that the client must be seen that day.

WAC 388-546-5100 Nonemergency transportation program scope of coverage. (1) The department's health and recovery services administration (HRSA) covers transportation that is necessary for its clients to receive medically necessary HRSA covered services. See WAC 388-546-0100 through 388-546-1000 for Ambulance transportation that covers emergency ambulance transportation and limited nonemergency ground ambulance transportation as medical services.

(2) Licensed ambulance providers, who contract with HRSA's transportation brokers, may be reimbursed for nonemergency transportation services under WAC 388-546-5200 as administrative services.

(3) HRSA covers nonemergency transportation under WAC 388-546-5000 through 388-546-5500 as an administrative service as provided by the Code of Federal Regulations (42 CFR 431.53 and 42 CFR 440.170 (a)(2)). As a result, clients may not select the transportation provider(s) or the mode of transportation (service mode).

(4) Prior authorization by HRSA is required for all out-of-state nonemergency transportation. Border areas as defined by WAC 388-501-0175 are considered in-state under this section and subsequent sections.

(a) HRSA reviews requests for out-of-state nonemergency transportation in accordance with regulations for covered healthcare services, including WAC 388-501-0180, 388-501-0182 and 388-501-0184.

(b) Nonemergency transportation is not provided to or from locations outside of the United States and U.S. territories, except for the limitations for British Columbia, Canada, identified in WAC 388-501-0184.

(5) HRSA requires all nonemergency transportation to and from covered services to meet the following:

(a) The covered service must be medically necessary as defined in WAC 388-500-0005;

(b) It must be the lowest cost available service mode that is both appropriate and accessible to the client's medical condition and personal capabilities; and

(c) Be limited to the local provider of type as follows:

(i) Clients receiving services provided under HRSA's fee-for-service program may be transported only to the local provider of type. HRSA's transportation broker is responsible for considering and authorizing exceptions.

(ii) Clients enrolled in HRSA's managed care (healthy options) program may be transported to any provider supported by the client's managed care plan. Clients may be enrolled in a managed care plan but are obtaining a specific service not covered under the plan. The requirements in subsection (5)(c)(i) apply to these fee-for-service services.

(6) HRSA does not cover nonemergency transportation services if the covered medical services are within three-quarters of a mile walking distance from the client's residence. Exceptions to this rule may be granted by HRSA's transportation broker based on the client's documented medical condition or personal capabilities, or based on safety or physical accessibility concerns, as described in WAC 388-546-5400(1).

(7) A client must use personal or informal transportation alternatives if they are available and appropriate to the client's needs.

(8) If a fixed-route public transportation service is available to the client within three-quarters of a mile walking distance, the broker may require the client to use the fixed-route public transportation system unless the need for more specialized transportation is present and documented. Examples of such a need are the client's use of a portable ventilator, a walker or a quad cane.

(9) HRSA does not cover any nonemergency transportation service that is not addressed in WAC 388-546-1000 or in 388-546-5000 through 388-546-5500. See WAC 388-501-0160 for information about obtaining approval for noncovered transportation services, known as exception to rule (ETR).

(10) If a medical service is approved by ETR, both the broker and MAA must separately prior approve transportation to that service.

(11) HRSA may exempt members of federally recognized Indian tribes from the brokered transportation program. Where HRSA approves the request of a tribe or a tribal agency to administer or provide transportation services under WAC 388-546-5000 through 388-546-5400, tribal members obtain their transportation services as provided by the tribe or tribal agency.

(12) A client who is denied service under this chapter may request a fair hearing per chapter 388-02 WAC.

WAC 388-546-5200 Nonemergency transportation program broker and provider requirements. (1) MAA requires that all nonambulance transportation providers serving MAA clients be under subcontract with the department's contracted transportation broker. MAA's transportation brokers may subcontract with ambulance providers for nonemergency trips in licensed ground ambulance vehicles as administrative services. See WAC 388-546-5100(2).

(2) MAA requires all contracted and subcontracted transportation providers under this chapter to be licensed, equipped, and operated in accordance with applicable federal, state, and local laws.

(3) MAA's transportation brokers determine the level of transportation service needed by the client and the mode of transportation to be used for each authorized trip.

(4) MAA's transportation brokers must comply with the terms specified in their contracts.

(5) MAA's transportation brokers may require up to forty-eight hours advance notice of a requested trip (see WAC 388-546-5300(2)) with the exception of hospital requests or urgent care trips. MAA allows its transportation brokers to accommodate requests that provide less than forty-eight hours advance notice, within the limits of the resources available to a broker at the time of the request.

(6) If MAA's transportation broker is not open for business and unavailable to give advance approval for a hospital discharge or urgent care request as described in subsection (5), the subcontracted transportation provider must either:

(a) Provide the transportation in accordance with the broker's instructions and request an after-the-fact authorization from the transportation broker within seventy-two hours of the transport; or

(b) Deny the transportation, if the requirements of this section cannot be met.

(7) If the subcontracted transportation provider provides transportation as described in subsection (6), the broker may agree to grant retroactive authorization as provided in WAC 388-546-5300(3). Such retroactive authorization must be:

(a) Documented as to the reasons retroactive authorization is needed; and

(b) Agreed to by the broker within seventy-two hours after the transportation to a medical appointment.

(8) MAA, through its transportation brokers, does not pay for transportation under the following conditions:

(a) Clients are not eligible for transportation services when medical services are within reasonable walking distance (normally three-quarters of a mile actual traveling distance), taking into account the client's documented medical condition and personal capabilities (see WAC 388-546-5100(6));

(b) Clients must use personal or informal transportation alternatives if they are available and appropriate to the clients' needs (see WAC 388-546-5100(7));

(c) If a fixed-route public transportation service is available to the client within three-quarters of a mile walking distance, the broker may require the client to use the fixed route public transportation under the terms of WAC 388-546-5100(8);

(d) MAA or MAA's transportation broker may deny transportation services requested if the request is not necessary, suitable, or appropriate to the client's medical condition (see WAC 388-546-5100 (1) and (5)(a));

(e) The medical services requiring transportation must be services that are covered by the client's medical program (see WAC 488-546-5100(1)); or

(f) The transportation selected by the broker for the client must be the lowest cost available alternative that is both appropriate and accessible to the client's medical condition and personal capabilities.

(9) The transportation broker mails a written notice of denial to each client who is denied coverage of transportation within three business days of the denial.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 74.09.500, 74.04.050, 74.04.055, and 74.04.057. 01-06-029, § 388-546-5200, filed 3/2/01, effective 4/2/01.]

WAC 388-546-5300 Nonemergency transportation program client requirements. (1) Clients must be compliant with MAA's transportation brokers, the brokers' subcontracted transportation providers, and MAA's medical services providers. A client who is in noncompliance may have limited transportation service mode options available. The broker mails the client a written notice of limited transportation service mode options within three business days of the broker's decision that transportation service mode options are limited.

(2) Clients must request, arrange and obtain authorization for transportation forty-eight hours in advance of a medical appointment. Exceptions to the forty-eight-hour advance arrangements are described in subsection (3) of this section and in WAC 388-546-5200 (5) and (6).

(3) If MAA's contracted broker is not open for business at the time nonemergency transportation is needed, the client must follow the transportation broker's instructions to obtain transportation service.

(4) MAA will cover a clients transportation to medically necessary covered services with local providers of type. Transportation services will be covered to nonlocal providers of type in the following circumstances:

(a) The client is enrolled in a healthy options managed health care plan and the client's primary care provider (PCP) or a PCP referred provider is not the closest available provider;

(b) The client's service is covered by a third party payer and the payer requires or refers the client to a specific provider;

(c) A charitable or other voluntary program (e.g., Shriners) is paying for the client's medical service;

(d) The medical service required by the client is not available within the local healthcare service area;

(e) The total cost to MAA is lower when the services are obtained outside of the local healthcare service area; or

(f) The out-of-area service is required to provide continuity of care for the client's ongoing care as:

(i) Documented by the client's primary care provider; and

(ii) Agreed to by MAA's contracted transportation broker.

(5) MAA may require transportation brokers to refer any of the exception categories listed in subsection (4) to MAA's medical director or the medical director's designee for review and/or prior authorization of the medical service.

(6) If local medical services are not available to a client because of noncompliance with MAA's transportation brokers, the brokers' subcontracted transportation providers, or MAA's medical services providers, MAA does not cover nonemergency transportation to out-of-area medical services for the client. MAA's contracted broker mails a written notice to the client within three business days of the broker's determination that the client's documented noncompliance results in a denial to out-of-area transportation services.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 74.09.500, 74.04.050, 74.04.055, and 74.04.057. 01-06-029, § 388-546-5300, filed 3/2/01, effective 4/2/01.]

WAC 388-546-5400 Nonemergency transportation program general reimbursement limitations. (1) To be reimbursed, MAA requires that a trip be a minimum of three-quarters of a mile from pick-up point to drop off point (see WAC 388-546-5100(6)). MAA's transportation broker may grant exceptions to the minimum distance requirement for any of the following conditions:

(a) When there is medical justification for a shorter trip;

(b) When the trip involves an area that MAA's contracted broker considers to be unsafe for the client, other riders, or the driver; or

(c) When the trip involves an area that the broker determines is not physically accessible to the client.

(2) MAA reimburses for return trips from covered medical services if the return trips are directly related to the original trips. MAA, through its transportation broker, may deny coverage of a return trip if any delays in the return trip are for reasons not directly related to the original trip.

(3) MAA does not reimburse any costs related to intermediate stops that are not directly related to the original approved trip.

(4) MAA's transportation broker may authorize intermediate stops that are directly related to the original approved trip if the broker determines that the intermediate stop is likely to limit or eliminate the need for supplemental covered trips. MAA considers the following reasons to be related to the original trip:

(a) Transportation to and from an immediate subsequent medical referral; or

(b) Transportation to a pharmacy to obtain one or more prescriptions when the pharmacy is within a reasonable distance of the original medical appointment route.

(5) MAA may pay the costs of meals and lodging for clients who must be transported to out-of-area medical services. MAA's transportation brokers make the determination that meals and lodging are necessary based on client need and the reasonableness of costs (as measured against state per diem rates).

(6) MAA may pay transportation costs, including meals and lodging, for authorized escorts. MAA's transportation brokers make the determination that the costs of escorts are necessary based on client need and reasonableness of costs (as measured against state per diem rates).

(7) MAA does not provide escorts or pay the wages of escorts. MAA does not pay for the transportation of an escort when the client is not present unless the broker documents exceptional circumstances causing the broker to determine that the service is necessary to ensure that the client has access to medically necessary care.

(8) MAA may reimburse for the transportation of a guardian with or without the presence of the client if the broker documents its determination that such a service is necessary to ensure that the client has access to medically necessary care.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 74.09.500, 74.04.050, 74.04.055, and 74.04.057. 01-06-029, § 388-546-5400, filed 3/2/01, effective 4/2/01.]

WAC 388-546-5500 Modifications of privately owned vehicles. (1) MAA may cover and reimburse the purchase of vehicle driving controls, a vehicle wheelchair lift conversion, or the purchase or repair of a vehicle wheelchair lift, when:

(a) The requested item is necessary for the client's transportation to medically necessary MAA-covered services; and

(b) The client owns a vehicle that MAA determines is suitable for modification; and

(c) Medical transportation provided under WAC 388-546-5000 through 388-546-5400 cannot meet the client's need for transportation to and from medically necessary covered services at a lower total cost to the department (including anticipated costs); and

(d) Prior approval from MAA is obtained.

(2) Any vehicle driving controls, vehicle wheelchair lift conversion or vehicle wheelchair lift purchased by MAA under this section becomes the property of the client on whose behalf the purchase is made. MAA assumes no continuing liability associated with the ownership or use of the device.

(3) MAA limits the purchase of vehicle driving control(s), vehicle wheelchair lift conversion or vehicle wheelchair lift to one purchase per client. If a device purchased under this section becomes inoperable due to wear or breakage and the cost of repair is more than the cost of replacement, MAA will consider an additional purchase under this section as long as the criteria in subsection (1) of this section are met.

(4) MAA must remain the payer of last resort under this section.

(5) MAA does not cover the purchase of any new or used vehicle under this section or under this chapter.

RURAL HEALTH CLINICS

WAC

WAC 388-549-1000 Rural health clinics—Purpose. This chapter establishes the department's reimbursement methodology for rural health clinic (RHC) services. RHC conditions for certification are found in 42 CFR part 491.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 74.09.510, 74.09.522, 42 C.F.R. 405.2472, 42 C.F.R. 491. 08-05-011, § 388-549-1000, filed 2/7/08, effective 3/9/08.]

WAC 388-549-1100 Rural health clinics—Definitions. This section contains definitions of words and phrases that apply to this chapter. Unless defined in this chapter or WAC 388-500-0005, the definitions found in the Webster's New World Dictionary apply.

"Base year"—The year that is used as the benchmark in measuring a clinic's total reasonable costs for establishing base encounter rates.

"Change in scope of service"—A change in the type, intensity, duration, or amount of service.

"Encounter"—A face-to-face visit between a client and a qualified rural health clinic (RHC) provider (e.g., a physician, physician's assistant, or advanced registered nurse practitioner) who exercises independent judgment when providing services that qualify for an encounter rate.

"Encounter rate"—A cost-based, facility-specific rate for covered RHC services, paid to a rural health clinic for each valid encounter it bills.

"Enhancements" (also called healthy options (HO) enhancement)—A monthly amount paid to RHCs for each client enrolled with a managed care organization (MCO). Plans may contract with RHCs to provide services under healthy options. RHCs receive enhancements from the department in addition to the negotiated payments they receive from the MCOs for services provided to enrollees.

"Fee-for-service"—A payment method the department uses to pay providers for covered medical services provided to medical assistance clients, except those services provided under the department's prepaid managed care organizations or those services that qualify for an encounter rate.

"Interim rate"—The rate established by the department to pay a rural health clinic for covered RHC services prior to the establishment of a prospective payment system (PPS) rate for that facility.

"Medicare cost report"—The cost report is a statement of costs and provider utilization that occurred during the time period covered by the cost report. RHCs must complete and submit a report annually to medicare.

"Mobile unit"—The objects, equipment, and supplies necessary for provision of the services furnished directly by the RHC are housed in a mobile structure.

"Permanent unit"—The objects, equipment and supplies necessary for the provision of the services furnished directly by the clinic are housed in a permanent structure.

"Rural area"—An area that is not delineated as an urbanized area by the Bureau of the Consensus.

"Rural health clinic (RHC)"—A clinic, as defined in 42 CFR 405.2401(b), that is primarily engaged in providing RHC services and is:

- Located in a rural area designated as a shortage area as defined under 42 CFR 491.2;
- Certified by medicare as a RHC in accordance with applicable federal requirements; and
- Not a rehabilitation agency or a facility primarily for the care and treatment of mental diseases.

"Rural health clinic (RHC) services"—Outpatient or ambulatory care of the nature typically provided in a physician's office or outpatient clinic and the like, including specified types of diagnostic examination, laboratory services, and emergency treatments. The specific list of services which must be made available by the clinic can be found under 42 CFR part 491.9.

WAC 388-549-1200 Rural health clinics—Enrollment. (1) To participate in the Title XIX (medicaid) program and receive payment for services, a rural health clinic (RHC) must:

(a) Receive RHC certification for participation in the Title XVIII (medicare) program according to 42 CFR 491;

(b) Sign a core provider agreement;

(c) Comply with the clinical laboratory improvement amendments (CLIA) of 1988 testing for all laboratory sites per 42 CFR part 493; and

(d) Operate in accordance with applicable federal, state, and local laws.

(2) An RHC may be a permanent or mobile unit. If an entity owns clinics in multiple locations, each individual site must be certified by the department in order to receive reimbursement from the department as an RHC.

(3) The department uses one of two timeliness standards for determining the effective date of a medicaid-certified RHC.

(a) The department uses medicare's effective date if the RHC returns a properly completed core provider agreement and RHC enrollment packet within sixty days from the date of medicare's letter notifying the clinic of the medicare certification.

(b) The department uses the date the signed core provider agreement is received if the RHC returns the properly completed core provider agreement and RHC enrollment packet after sixty days of the date of medicare's letter notifying the clinic of the medicare certification.

WAC 388-549-1400 Rural health clinics—Reimbursement and limitations. (1) For rural health clinics (RHC) certified by medicare on and after January 1, 2001, the department pays RHCs an encounter rate per client, per day using a prospective payment system (PPS) as required by 42 USC 1396a(bb) for RHC services.

(a) The department calculates the RHC's encounter rate for RHC core services as follows:

(i) Until the RHC's first audited medicare cost report is available, the department pays an average encounter rate of other similar RHCs (such as hospital-based or free-standing) within the state, otherwise known as an interim rate.

(ii) Upon availability of the RHC's audited medicare cost report, the department sets the clinic's encounter rate at one hundred percent of its costs as defined in the cost report. The RHC will receive this rate for the remainder of the calendar year during which the audited cost report became available. The encounter rate is then inflated each January 1 by the medicare economic index (MEI) for primary services.

(2) For RHCs in existence during calendar years 1999 and 2000, the department sets the payment prospectively using a weighted average of one hundred percent of the clinic's total reasonable costs for calendar years 1999 and 2000 and adjusted for any increase or decrease in the scope of services furnished during the calendar year 2001 to establish a base encounter rate.

(a) The department adjusts a PPS base encounter rate to account for an increase or decrease in the scope of services provided during calendar year 2001 in accordance with WAC 388-549-1500.

(b) The PPS base encounter rates are determined using medicare's audited cost reports and each year's rate is weighted by the total reported encounters. The department does not apply a capped amount to these base encounter rates. The formula used to calculate the base encounter rate is as follows:

(c) Beginning in calendar year 2002 and any year thereafter, the encounter rate is increased by the MEI and adjusted for any increase or decrease in the clinic's scope of services.

(3) The department pays for one encounter, per client, per day except in the following circumstances:

(a) The visits occur with different doctors with different specialties; or

(b) There are separate visits with unrelated diagnoses.

(4) RHC services and supplies incidental to the provider's services are included in the encounter rate payment.

(5) Services other than RHC services that are provided in an RHC are not included in the RHC encounter rate. Payments for non-RHC services provided in an RHC are made on a fee-for-service basis using the department's published fee schedules. Non-RHC services are subject to the coverage guidelines and limitations listed in chapters 388-500 through 388-557 WAC.

(6) For clients enrolled with a managed care organization, covered RHC services are paid for by that plan.

(7) The department does not pay the encounter rate or the enhancements for clients in state-only programs. Services provided to clients in state-only programs are considered fee-for-service, regardless of the type of service performed.

WAC 388-549-1500 Rural health clinics—Change in scope of service. (1) The department considers a rural health clinic's (RHC) change in scope of service to be a change in the type, intensity, duration, and/or amount of services provided by the RHC. Changes in scope of service apply only to covered medicaid services.

(2) When the department determines that a change in scope of service has occurred after the base year, the department will adjust the RHC's perspective payment system (PPS) rate to reflect the change.

(3) RHCs must:

(a) Notify the department's RHC program manager in writing, at the address published in the department's rural health clinic billing instructions, of any changes in scope of service no later than sixty days after the effective date of the change; and

(b) Provide the department with all relevant and requested documentation pertaining to the change in scope of service.

(4) The department adjusts the PPS rate to reflect the change in scope of service using one or more of the following:

(a) A medicaid comprehensive desk review of the RHC's cost report;

(b) Review of a medicare audit of the RHC's cost report; or

(c) Other documentation relevant to the change in scope of service.

(5) The adjusted encounter rate will be effective on the date the change of scope of service is effective.

(3) For emergency care exemptions for clients described in subsections (1) and (2) of this section, see WAC 388-538-100.

(4) Coverage for psychiatric indigent inpatient (PII) clients is limited to voluntary inpatient psychiatric hospital services, subject to the conditions and limitations of WAC 388-865-0217 and this chapter:

(a) Out-of-state healthcare is not covered for clients under the PII program; and

(b) Bordering city hospitals and critical border hospitals are not considered instate hospitals for PII program claims.

(5) Healthcare services provided by a hospital located out-of-state are:

(a) Not covered for clients eligible under the medical care services (MCS) program. However, clients eligible for MCS are covered for that program's scope of care in bordering city and critical border hospitals.

WAC 388-550-1700 Authorization and utilization review (UR) of inpatient and outpatient hospital services. (1) This section applies to the department's authorization and utilization review (UR) of inpatient and outpatient hospital services provided to medical assistance clients receiving services through the fee-for-service program. For clients eligible under other medical assistance programs, see chapter 388-538 WAC for managed care organizations, chapters 388-800 and 388-810 WAC for the Alcohol and Drug Addiction Treatment and Support Act (ADATSA), and chapter 388-865 WAC for mental health treatment programs coordinated through the mental health division or its designee). See chapter 388-546 WAC for transportation services.

(2) All hospital services paid for by the department are subject to UR for medical necessity, appropriate level of care, and program compliance.

(3) Authorization for inpatient and outpatient hospital services is valid only if a client is eligible for covered services on the date of service. Authorization does not guarantee payment.

(4) The department will deny, recover, or adjust hospital payments if the department or its designee determines, as a result of UR, that a hospital service does not meet the requirements in federal regulations and WAC.

(5) The department may perform one or more types of UR described in subsection (6) of this section.

(6) The department's UR:

(a) Is a concurrent, prospective, and/or retrospective (including postpay and prepay) formal evaluation of a client's documented medical care to assure that the services provided are proper and necessary and of good quality. The review considers the appropriateness of the place of care, level of care, and the duration, frequency or quantity of services provided in relation to the conditions(s) being treated; and

(b) Includes one or more of the following:

(i) "Concurrent utilization review"—An evaluation performed by the department or its designee during a client's course of care. A continued stay review performed during the client's hospitalization is a form of concurrent UR;

(ii) "Prospective utilization review"—An evaluation performed by the department or its designee prior to the provision of healthcare services. Preadmission authorization is a form of prospective UR; and

(iii) "Retrospective utilization review"—An evaluation performed by the department or its designee following the provision of healthcare services that includes both a postpayment retrospective UR (performed after healthcare services are provided and paid), and a prepayment retrospective UR (performed after healthcare services are provided but prior to payment). Retrospective UR is routinely performed as an audit function.

(7) During the UR process, the department or its designee notifies the appropriate oversight entity if either of the following is identified:

(a) A quality of care concern; or

(b) Fraudulent conduct.

WAC 388-550-1900 Transplant coverage. (1) The department pays for medically necessary transplant procedures only for eligible medical assistance clients who are not otherwise subject to a managed care organization (MCO) plan. Clients eligible under the alien emergency medical (AEM) program are not eligible for transplant coverage.

(2) The department covers the following transplant procedures when the transplant procedures are performed in a hospital designated by the department as a "center of excellence" for transplant procedures and meet that hospital's criteria for establishing appropriateness and the medical necessity of the procedures:

(a) Solid organs involving the heart, kidney, liver, lung, heart-lung, pancreas, kidney-pancreas and small bowel;

(b) Bone marrow and peripheral stem cell (PSC);

(c) Skin grafts; and

(d) Corneal transplants.

(3) For procedures covered under subsections (2)(a) and (b) of this section, the department pays facility charges only to those hospitals that meet the standards and conditions:

(a) Established by the department; and

(b) Specified in WAC 388-550-2100 and 388-550-2200.

(4) The department pays for skin grafts and corneal transplants to any qualified hospital, subject to the limitations in this chapter.

(5) The department deems organ procurement fees as being included in the payment to the transplant hospital. The department may make an exception to this policy and pay these fees separately to a transplant hospital when an eligible medical medical client is covered by a third-party payer which will pay for the organ transplant procedure itself but not for the organ procurement.

(6) The department, without requiring prior authorization, pays for up to fifteen matched donor searches per client approved for a bone marrow transplant. The department requires prior authorization for matched donor searches in excess of fifteen per bone marrow transplant client.

(7) The department does not pay for experimental transplant procedures. In addition, the department considers as experimental those services including, but not limited to, the following:

(a) Transplants of three or more different organs during the same hospital stay;

(b) Solid organ and bone marrow transplants from animals to humans; and

(c) Transplant procedures used in treating certain medical conditions for which use of the procedure has not been generally accepted by the medical community or for which its efficacy has not been documented in peer-reviewed medical publications.

(8) The department pays for a solid organ transplant procedure only once per client's lifetime, except in cases of organ rejection by the client's immune system during the original hospital stay.

(9) The department pays for bone marrow, PSC, skin grafts and corneal transplants when medically necessary.

(10) The department may conduct a post-payment retrospective utilization review as described in WAC 388-550-1700, and may adjust the payment if the department determines the criteria in this section are not met.

WAC 388-550-2100 Requirements—Transplant hospitals. This section applies to requirements for hospitals that perform the department approved transplants described in WAC 388-550-1900(2).

(1) The department requires instate transplant hospitals to meet the following requirements in order to be paid for transplant services provided to medical assistance clients. A hospital must have:

(a) An approved certificate of need (CON) from the state department of health (DOH) for the type(s) of transplant procedure(s) to be performed, except that the department does not require CON approval for a hospital that provides peripheral stem cell (PSC), skin graft or corneal transplant services;

(b) Approval from the United Network of Organ Sharing (UNOS) to perform transplants, except that the department does not require UNOS approval for a hospital that provides PSC, skin graft or corneal transplant services; and

(c) Been approved by the department as a center of excellence transplant center for the specific organ(s) or procedure(s) the hospital proposes to perform.

(2) The department requires an out-of-state transplant center, including bordering city and critical border hospitals, to be a medicare-certified transplant center in a hospital participating in that state's medicaid program. All out-of-state transplant services, excluding those provided in department approved centers of excellence (COE) in bordering city and critical border hospitals, must be prior authorized.

(3) The department considers a hospital for approval as a transplant center of excellence when the hospital submits to the department a copy of its DOH-approved CON for transplant services, or documentation that it has, at a minimum:

(a) Organ-specific transplant physicians for each organ or transplant team. The transplant surgeon and other responsible team members must be experienced and board-certified or board-eligible practitioners in their respective disciplines, including, but not limited to, the fields of cardiology, cardiovascular surgery, anesthesiology, hemodynamics and pulmonary function, hepatology, hematology, immunology, oncology, and infectious diseases. The department considers this requirement met when the hospital submits to the department a copy of its DOH-approved CON for transplant services;

(b) Component teams which are integrated into a comprehensive transplant team with clearly defined leadership and responsibility. Transplant teams must include, but not be limited to:

(i) A team-specific transplant coordinator for each type of organ;

(ii) An anesthesia team available at all times; and

(iii) A nursing service team trained in the hemodynamic support of the patient and in managing immunosuppressed patients.

(c) Other resources that the transplant hospital must have include:

(i) Pathology resources for studying and reporting the pathological responses of transplantation;

(ii) Infectious disease services with both the professional skills and the laboratory resources needed to identify and manage a whole range of organisms; and

(iii) Social services resources.

(d) An organ procurement coordinator;

(e) A method ensuring that transplant team members are familiar with transplantation laws and regulations;

(f) An interdisciplinary body and procedures in place to evaluate and select candidates for transplantation;

(g) An interdisciplinary body and procedures in place to ensure distribution of donated organs in a fair and equitable manner conducive to an optimal or successful patient outcome;

(h) Extensive blood bank support;

(i) Patient management plans and protocols; and

(j) Written policies safeguarding the rights and privacy of patients.

(4) In addition to the requirements of subsection (3) of this section, the transplant hospital must:

(a) Satisfy the annual volume and survival rates criteria for the particular transplant procedures performed at the hospital, as specified in WAC 388-550-2200(2).

(b) Submit a copy of its approval from the United Network for Organ Sharing (UNOS), or documentation showing that the hospital:

(i) Participates in the national donor procurement program and network; and

(ii) Systematically collects and shares data on its transplant program(s) with the network.

(5) The department applies the following specific requirements to a PSC transplant hospital:

(a) A PSC transplant hospital must be a department approved COE to perform any of the following PSC services:

(i) Harvesting, if it has its own apheresis equipment which meets federal or American Association of Blood Banks (AABB) requirements;

(ii) Processing, if it meets AABB quality of care requirements for human tissue/tissue banking; and

(iii) Reinfusion, if it meets the criteria established by the Foundation for the Accreditation of Hematopoietic Cell Therapy.

(b) A PCS transplant hospital may purchase PSC processing and harvesting services from other department-approved processing providers.

(6) The department does not pay a PSC transplant hospital for AABB inspection and certification fees related to PSC transplant services.

WAC 388-550-2200 Transplant requirements—COE. (1) The department measures the effectiveness of transplant centers of excellence (COE) using the performance criteria in this section. Unless otherwise waived by the department, the department applies these criteria to a hospital during both initial and periodic evaluations for designation as a transplant COE. The COE performance criteria shall include, but not be limited to:

(a) Meeting annual volume requirements for the specific transplant procedures for which approved;

(b) Patient survival rates; and

(c) Relative cost per case.

(2) A transplant COE must meet or exceed annually the following applicable volume criteria for the particular transplant procedures performed at the facility, except for cornea transplants which do not have established minimum volume requirements. Annual volume requirements for transplant centers of excellence include:

(a) Twelve or more heart transplants;

(b) Ten or more lung transplants;

(c) Ten or more heart-lung transplants;

(d) Twelve or more liver transplants;

(e) Twenty-five or more kidney transplants;

(f) Eighteen or more pancreas transplants;

(g) Eighteen or more kidney-pancreas transplants;

(h) Ten or more bone marrow transplants; and

(i) Ten or more peripheral stem cell (PSC) transplants.

Dual-organ procedures may be counted once under each organ and the combined procedure.

(3) A transplant hospital within the state that fails to meet the volume requirements in subsection (1) of this section may submit a written request to the department for conditional approval as a transplant COE. The department considers the minimum volume requirement met when the requestor submits an approved certificate of need for transplant services from the department of health (DOH).

(4) An in-state hospital granted conditional approval by the department as a transplant COE must meet the department's criteria, as established in this chapter, within one year of the conditional approval. The department must automatically revoke such conditional approval for any hospital which fails to meet the department's published criteria within the allotted one year period, unless:

(a) The hospital submits a written request for extension of the conditional approval thirty calendar days prior to the expiration date; and

(b) Such request is granted by the department.

(5) A transplant center of excellence must meet medicare's survival rate requirements for the transplant procedure(s) performed at the hospital.

(6) A transplant COE must submit to the department annually, at the same time the hospital submits a copy of its

Medicare Cost Report (Form 2552-96) documentation showing:

(a) The numbers of transplants performed at the hospital during its preceding fiscal year, by type of procedure; and

(b) Survival rates data for procedures performed over the preceding three years as reported on the United Network of Organ Sharing report form.

(7) Transplant hospitals must:

(a) Submit to the department, within sixty days of the date of the hospital's approval as a COE, a complete set of the comprehensive patient selection criteria and treatment protocols used by the hospital for each transplant procedure it has been approved to perform.

(b) Submit to the department annual updates to the documents listed in subsection (a) of this section, or whenever the hospital makes a change to the criteria and/or protocols.

(c) Notify the department if no changes occurred during a reporting period.

(8) The department evaluates compliance with the provisions of WAC 388-550-2100 (2)(d) and (e) based on the protocols and criteria submitted to the department by a transplant COE in accordance with subsection (7) of this section. The department terminates a hospital's designation as a transplant COE if a review or audit finds that hospital in noncompliance with:

(a) Its protocols and criteria in evaluating and selecting candidates for transplantation; and

(b) Distributing donated organs in a fair and equitable manner that promotes an optimal or successful patient outcome.

(9) The department:

(a) Provides notification to a transplant COE it finds in noncompliance with subsection (8) of this section, and may allow from the date of notification sixty days within which such centers may submit a plan to correct a breach of compliance;

(b) Does not allow the sixty-day option as stated in (a) of this subsection for a breach that constitutes a danger to the health and safety of clients as stated in WAC 388-502-0030;

(c) Requires, within six months of submitting a plan to correct a breach of compliance, a center to report that:

(i) The breach of compliance has been corrected; or

(ii) Measurable and significant improvement toward correcting such breach of compliance exists.

(10) The department periodically reviews the list of approved transplant COEs. The department may limit the number of hospitals it designates as a transplant COE or contracts with to provide services to medical assistance clients if, in the department's opinion, doing so would promote better client outcomes and cost efficiencies.

(11) The department pays a department-approved COE for covered transplant procedures using methods identified in chapter 388-550 WAC.

The hospital must provide proof of CAH status to the department upon request. A CAH paid under the CAH program must meet the general applicable requirements in chapter 388-502 WAC. For information on audits and the audit appeal process, see WAC 388-502-0240.

(3) The department pays an eligible CAH for inpatient and outpatient hospital services provided to fee-for-service medical assistance clients on a cost basis (except when services are provided in a distinct psychiatric unit, a distinct rehabilitation unit, or detoxification unit), using departmental weighted costs-to-charges (DWCC) rates and a retrospective cost settlement process. The department pays CAH fee-for-service claims subject to retrospective cost settlement, adjustments such as a third party payment amount, any client responsibility amount, etc.

(4) For inpatient and outpatient hospital services provided to clients enrolled in a managed care organization (MCO) plan, DWCC rates for each CAH are incorporated into the calculations for the managed care capitated premiums. The department considers managed care Health Options and MHD designee DWCC payment rates to be cost. Cost settlements are not performed by the department for managed care claims.

(5) The department prospectively calculates fee-for-service and managed care inpatient and outpatient DWCC rates separately for each CAH.

(a) Prior to the department's calculation of the prospective interim inpatient DWCC and outpatient DWCC rates for each hospital participating in the CAH program, the CAH must timely submit the following to the department:

(i) Within twenty working days of receiving the request from the department, the CAH's estimated aggregate charge master change for its next HFY;

(ii) At the time that the "as filed" version of the medicare cost report the CAH initially submits to the medicare fiscal intermediary for the cost settlement of its most recently completed HFY, a copy of that same medicare cost report;

(iii) At the same time that the "as filed" version of the medicare cost report the CAH has submitted to the medicare fiscal intermediary for cost settlement of its most recently completed HFY, the CAH's corresponding revenue codes and procedure codes to cost centers crosswalk that indicates the revenue codes and procedure codes that are assigned by each hospital to a specific cost center in the hospital's medicare cost report;

(iv) At the same time that the "as filed" version of the medicare cost report the CAH has submitted to the medicare fiscal intermediary for cost settlement of its most recently completed HFY, a document indicating any differences between the CAH's revenue codes and procedure codes to cost centers crosswalk and the standard revenue codes and procedure codes to cost centers crosswalk that the department provides to the CAH from the department's CAH DWCC rate calculation model. (For example, a CAH hospital might indicate when it submits its crosswalk to the department, that a difference exists in the CAH's placement of statistics for the anesthesia revenue code normally identified to the anesthesia cost center in the department's CAH DWCC rate calculation model, but identified to the surgery cost center in the CAH's submitted medicare cost report.)

(b) The department:

(i) Determines if differences between the CAH's crosswalk and the crosswalk in the CAH DWCC rate calculation model will be allowed when the CAH timely submits the document identified in (a)(iii) and (a)(iv) of this subsection. If the CAH does not timely submit the document, the department may use the CAH DWCC rate calculation model without considering the differences.

(ii) Does not allow unbundling or merging of the standard cost centers identified in the CAH DWCC rate calculation model when the department calculates the DWCC rates. This is a standard the department follows during the rate calculation process even though the CAH hospital may have in contrast to the CAH DWCC rate calculation model indicated multiple cost centers, or merged into fewer costs centers, when reporting in the medicare cost report. (For example, a CAH reports to the department that in the department's standard radiology cost center grouping in the CAH DWCC rate calculation model, the hospital has established three costs centers in the medicare cost report, which are radioisotopes, radiology therapeutic, and radiology diagnostic. During the rate calculation process, the department combines these three cost centers under the standard radiology cost center grouping. No unbundling of the standard cost center grouping is allowed.)

(c) The department:

(i) Obtains from its medicaid management information system (MMIS), the following fee-for-service summary claims data submitted by each CAH for services provided during the same HFY identified in (a)(ii) of this subsection:

(A) Medical assistance program codes;

(B) Inpatient and outpatient hospital claim types;

(C) Procedure codes (for outpatient hospital claims only), revenue codes, and diagnosis related group (DRG) codes (for inpatient claims only);

(D) Claim allowed charges, third party liability, client paid amounts, and department paid amounts; and

(E) Units of service.

(ii) Obtains Level III trauma payment data from the department of health (DOH).

(iii) Obtains the costs-to-charges ration (CCR) of each respective cost center from the "as filed" version of the medicare cost report identified in (a)(ii) of this subsection, supplemented by any crosswalk information as described in (a)(iii) and (a)(iv) of this subsection.

(iv) Obtains from the managed care encounter data the following data submitted by each CAH for services provided during the same HFY identified:

(A) Medical assistance program codes;

(B) Inpatient and outpatient hospital claim types;

(C) Procedure codes (for outpatient hospital claims only), revenue codes, and diagnosis related group (DGR) codes (for inpatient claims only); and

(D) Claim allowed charges.

(v) Separates the inpatient claims data and outpatient hospital claims data;

(vi) Obtains the cost center claim allowed charges by classifying inpatient and outpatient hospital claim allowed charges from (c)(i) and (c)(iv) of this subsection billed by a CAH (using any one of, or a combination of, procedure codes, revenue codes, or DRG codes) into the related cost center in the CAH's "as filed" medicare cost report the CAH initially submits to the department.

(vii) Uses the claims classifications and cost center combinations as defined in the department's CAH DWCC rate calculation model;

(viii) Assigns a CAH that does not have a cost center ratio that CAH's cost center average;

(ix) Allows changes only if a revenue codes and procedure codes to cost centers crosswalk has been timely submitted (see (a)(iii), (a)(iv), and (b)(i) of this subsection) and a cost center average is being used;

(x) Does not allow an unbundling of cost centers (see (b)(ii) of this subsection);

(xi) Determines the departmental-weighted costs for each cost center by multiplying the cost center's claim allowed charges from (c)(i) and (c)(iv) of this subsection for the appropriate inpatient or outpatient claim type by the related service costs center ratio;

(xii) Sums all:

(A) Claim allowed charges from (c)(i) and (c)(iv) of this subsection separately for inpatient hospital claims.

(B) Claim allowed charges from (c)(i) and (c)(iv) of this subsection separately for outpatient hospital claims.

(xiii) Sums all:

(A) Departmental-weighted costs from (c)(xi) of this subsection separately for inpatient hospital claims.

(B) Departmental-weighted costs from (c)(xi) of this subsection separately for outpatient hospital claims.

(xiv) Multiplies each hospital's total departmental-weighted costs from (c)(xiii) of this subsection by the centers for medicare and medicaid services (CMS) medicare market basket inflation rate to update costs from the HFY to the rate setting period. The medicare market basket inflation rate is published and updated by CMS periodically;

(xv) Multiplies each hospital's total claim allowed charges from (c)(xii) of this subsection by the CAH estimated charge master change from (a)(i) of this subsection. If the charge master change factor is not submitted timely by the hospital (see (a)(i) of this subsection), the department will apply a reasonable alternative factor; and

(xvi) Determines:

(A) The inpatient DWCC rates by dividing the calculation result from (c)(xiv) of this subsection by the calculation result from (c)(xv) of this subsection.

(B) The outpatient DWCC rates by dividing the calculation result from (c)(xiv) of this subsection by the calculation result from (c)(xv) of this subsection.

(6) For a currently enrolled hospital provider that is new to the CAH program, the basis for calculating initial prospective DWCC rates for inpatient and outpatient hospital claims for:

(a) Fee-for-service clients is:

(i) The hospital's most recent "as filed" medicare cost report; and

(ii) The appropriate MMIS summary claims data for that HFY.

(b) MCO clients is:

(i) The hospital's most recent "as filed" medicare cost report; and

(ii) The appropriate managed care encounter data for that HFY.

(7) For a newly licensed hospital that is also a CAH, the department uses the current statewide average DWCC rates for the initial prospective DWCC rates.

(8) For a CAH that comes under new ownership, the department uses the prior owner's DWCC rates until:

(a) The new owner submits its first "as filed" medicare cost report to the medicare fiscal intermediary, and at the same time to the department, the documents identified in (5)(a)(i) through (a)(iv) of this section; and

(b) The department has calculated new DWCC rates based on the new owner's "as filed" medicare cost report and other timely submitted documents.

(9) In addition to the prospective managed care inpatient and outpatient DWCC rates, the department:

(a) Incorporates the DWCC rates into the calculations for the department's MCO capitated premium that will be paid to the MCO plan; and

(b) Requires all MCO plans having contract relationships with CAHs to pay inpatient and outpatient DWCC rates applicable to managed care claims. For purposes of this section, the department considers the DWCC rates used to pay CAHs for care given to clients enrolled in an MCO plan to be cost. Cost settlements are not performed for claims that are submitted to the MCO plans.

(10) For fee-for-service claims only, the department uses the same methodology as outlined in subsection (5) of this section to perform an interim retrospective cost settlement for each CAH after the end of the CAH's HFY, using "as filed" medicare cost report data from that HFY that is being cost settled, the other documents identified in subsection (5)(a)(i), (a)(iii) and (a)(iv) of this section, when data from the MMIS related to fee-for-service claims. Specifically, the department:

(a) Compares actual department total interim CAH payments to the departmental-weighted CAH fee-for-service costs for the period being cost settled. (Interim payments are the sum of third party liability/client payments, department claim payments, and Level III trauma payments); and

(b) Pays the hospital the difference between CAH costs and interim CAH payments if actual CAH costs are determined to exceed the total interim CAH payments for that period. The department recoups from the hospital the difference between CAH costs and interim CAH payments if actual CAH costs are determined to be less than total interim CAH payments.

(11) The department performs finalized cost settlements using the same methodology as outlined in subsection (10) of this section, except that the department uses the hospital's "final settled" medicare cost report instead of the initial "as filed" medicare cost report for the HFY being cost settled. The "final settled" medicare cost report received from the medicare fiscal intermediary must be submitted by the CAH to the department by the sixtieth day of the hospital's receipt of that medicare cost report.

(12) A CAH must have and follow written procedures that provide a resolution to complaints and grievances.

(13) To ensure quality of care:

(a) A CAH is responsible to investigate any reports of substandard care or violations of the hospital's medical staff bylaws; and

(b) A complaint or grievance regarding substandard conditions or care may be investigated by any one or more of the following:

(i) Department of health (DOH); or

(ii) Other agencies with review authority for department programs.

(14) The department pays detoxification units, distinct psychiatric units, and distinct rehabilitation units operated by CAH hospitals using inpatient payment methods other than DWCC rates and cost settlement.

(a) For dates of admission before August 1, 2007, the department uses the RCW payment method to pay for services provided in detoxification units, distinct psychiatric units, and distinct rehabilitation units. The exception is for state-administered programs' psychiatric claims, which are paid using:

(i) The DRG payment method for claims grouped to stable DRG relative weights (unless the claim has an HIV-related diagnosis), and in conjunction with the base community psychiatric hospitalization payment method; or

(ii) The RCW payment method for other psychiatric claims (except for DRGs 469 and 470), in conjunction with the base community psychiatric hospitalization payment method.

(b) For dates of admission on and after August 1, 2007, the department uses the per diem payment method to pay for services provided in detoxification units, distinct psychiatric units, and distinct rehabilitation units.

(15) The department may conduct a post pay or on-site review of any CAH.

WAC 388-550-2600 Inpatient psychiatric services. (1) The department, on behalf of the mental health division (MHD), regional support networks (RSNs) and prepaid inpatient health plans (PIHPs), pays for covered inpatient psychiatric services for a voluntary or involuntary inpatient psychiatric admission of an eligible medical assistance client, subject to the limitation and restrictions in this section and other published rules.

(2) The following definitions and abbreviations and those found in WAC 388-550-0005 and 388-550-1050 apply to this section (where there is any discrepancy, this section prevails):

(a) "Authorization number" refers to a number that is required on a claim in order for a provider to be paid for providing psychiatric inpatient services to a medical assistance client. An authorization number:

(i) Is assigned when the certification process and prior authorization process has occurred;

(ii) Identifies a specific request for the provision of psychiatric inpatient services to a medical assistance client;

(iii) Verifies when prior or retrospective authorization has occurred;

(iv) Will not be rescinded once assigned; and

(v) Does not guarantee payment.

(b) "Certification" means a clinical determination by an MHD designee that a client's need for a voluntary or involuntary inpatient psychiatric admission, length of stay extension, or transfer has been reviewed and, based on the information provided, meets the requirements for medical necessity for inpatient psychiatric care. The certification process occurs concurrently with the prior authorization process.

(c) "IMD" See "institution for mental diseases."

(d) "Institution for mental diseases (IMD)" means a hospital, nursing facility, or other institution of more than sixteen beds that is primarily engaged in providing diagnosis, treatment, or care of persons with mental diseases, including medical attention, nursing care, and related services. The MHD designates whether a facility meets the definition for an IMD.

(e) "Involuntary admission" refer to chapters 71.05 and 71.34 RCW.

(f) "Mental health division (MHD)" is the unit within the department of social and health services (DSHS) authorized to contract for and monitor delivery of mental health programs. MHD is also known as the state mental health authority.

(g) "Mental health division designee" or "MHD designee" means a professional contact person authorized by MHD, who operates under the direction of a regional support network (RSN) or a prepaid inpatient health plan (PIHP).

(h) "PIHP" see "prepaid inpatient health plan."

(i) "Prepaid inpatient health plan (PIHP)" see WAC 388-865-0300.

(j) "Prior authorization" means an administrative process by which hospital providers must obtain an MHD designee's for a client's inpatient psychiatric admission, length of stay extension, or transfer. The prior authorization process occurs concurrently with the certification process.

(k) "Regional support network (RSN)" see WAC 388-865-0200.

(l) "Retrospective authorization" means a process by which hospital providers and hospital unit providers must obtain an MHD designee's certification after services have been initiated for a medical assistance client. Retrospective authorization can be prior to discharge or after discharge. This process is allowed only when circumstances beyond the control of the hospital or hospital unit provider prevented a prior authorization request, or when the client has been determined to be eligible for medical assistance after discharge.

(m) "RSN" see "regional support network."

(n) "Voluntary admission" refer to chapters 71.05 and 71.34 RCW.

(3) The following department of health (DOH)-licensed hospitals and hospital units are eligible to be paid for providing inpatient psychiatric services to eligible medical assistance clients, subject to the limitations listed:

(a) Medicare-certified distinct part psychiatric units;

(b) State-designated pediatric psychiatric units;

(c) Hospitals that provide active psychiatric treatment outside of a medicare-certified or state-designated psychiatric unit, under the supervision of a physician according to WAC 246-322-170; and

(d) Free-standing psychiatric hospitals approved as an institution for mental diseases (IMD).

(4) An MHD designee has the authority to approve or deny a request for initial certification for a client's voluntary inpatient psychiatric admission and will respond to the hospital's or hospital unit's request for initial certification within two hours of the request. An MHD designee's certification and authorization, or a denial, will be provided within twelve hours of the request. Authorization must be requested prior to admission. If the hospital chooses to admit the client without prior authorization due to staff shortages, the request for an initial certification must be submitted the same calendar day (which begins at midnight) as the admission. In this case, the hospital assumes the risk for denial as the MHD designee may or may not authorize the care for that day.

(5) To be paid for a voluntary inpatient psychiatric admission:

(a) The hospital provider or hospital unit provider must meet the applicable general conditions of payment criteria in WAC 388-502-0100; and

(b) The voluntary inpatient psychiatric admission must meet the following:

(i) For a client eligible for medical assistance, the admission to voluntary inpatient psychiatric care must:

(A) Be medically necessary as defined in WAC 388-500-0005;

(B) Be ordered by an agent of the hospital who has the clinical or administrative authority to approve an admission;

(C) Be prior authorized and meet certification and prior authorization requirements as defined in subsection (2) of this section. See subsection (8) of this section for a voluntary inpatient psychiatric admission that was not prior authorized and requires retrospective authorization by the client's MHD designee; and

(D) Be verified by receipt of a certification form dated and signed by an MHD designee (see subsection (2) of this section). The form must document at least the following:

(I) Ambulatory care resources available in the community do not meet the treatment needs of the client;

(II) Proper treatment of the client's psychiatric condition requires services on an inpatient basis under the direction of a physician (according to WAC 246-322-170);

(III) The inpatient services can reasonably be expected to improve the client's level of functioning or prevent further regression of functioning;

(IV) The client has been diagnosed as having an emotional or behavioral disorder, or both, as defined in the current edition of the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of the American Psychiatric Association; and

(V) The client's principle diagnosis must be an MHD covered diagnosis.

(ii) For a client eligible for both medicare and a medical assistance program, the department pays secondary to medicare.

(iii) For a client eligible for both medicare and a medical assistance program and who has not exhausted medicare lifetime benefits, the hospital provider or hospital unit provider must notify the MHD designee of the client's admission if the dual eligibility status is known. The admission:

(A) Does not require prior authorization by an MHD designee; and

(B) Must be in accordance with medicare standards.

(iv) For a client eligible for both medicare and a medical assistance program who has exhausted medicare lifetime benefits, the admission must have prior authorization by a MHD designee.

(v) When a liable third party is identified (other than medicare) for a client eligible for a medical assistance program, the hospital provider or hospital unit provider must obtain a MHD designee's authorization for the admission.

(6) To be paid for an involuntary inpatient psychiatric admission:

(a) The involuntary inpatient psychiatric admission must be in accordance with the admission criteria specified in chapters 71.05 and 71.34 RCW; and

(b) The hospital provider or hospital unit provider:

(i) Must be certified by the MHD in accordance with chapter 388-865 WAC;

(ii) Must meet the applicable general conditions of payment criteria in WAC 388-502-0100; and

(iii) When submitting a claim, must include a completed and signed copy of an Initial Certification Authorization form Admission to Inpatient Psychiatric Care form, or an Extension Certification Authorization for Continued Inpatient Psychiatric Care form.

(7) To be paid for providing continued inpatient psychiatric services to a medical assistance client who has already been admitted, the hospital provider or hospital unit provider must request from an MHD designee within the time frames specified, certification and authorization as defined in subsection (2) of this section for any of the following circumstances:

(a) If the client converts from involuntary (legal) status to voluntary status, or from voluntary to involuntary (legal) status as described in chapter 71.05 or 71.34 RCW, the hospital provider or hospital unit provider must notify the MHD designee within twenty-four hours of the change. Changes in legal status may result in issuance of a new certification and authorization. Any previously authorized days under the previous legal status that are past the date of the change in legal status are not billable;

(b) If an application is made for determination of a patient's medical assistance eligibility, the request for certification and prior authorization must be submitted within twenty-four hours of the application;

(c) If there is a change in the client's principal ICD9-CM diagnosis to an MHD covered diagnosis, the request for certification and prior authorization must be submitted within twenty-four hours of the change;

(d) If there is a request for a length of stay extension for the client, the request for certification and prior authorization must be submitted prior to the end of the initial authorized days of services (see subsections (11) and (12) of this section for payment methodology and payment limitations); and

(e) If the client is to be transferred from one community hospital to another community hospital for continued inpatient psychiatric care, the request for certification and prior authorization must be submitted prior to the transfer.

(f) If a client who has been authorized for inpatient care by the MHD designee has been discharged or left against medical advice prior to the expiration of previously authorized days, a hospital provider or hospital unit provider must notify the MHD designee within twenty-four hours of discharge. Any previously authorized days past the date the client was discharged or left the hospital are not billable.

(8) An MHD designee has the authority to approve or deny a request for retrospective certification for a client's voluntary inpatient psychiatric admission, length of stay extension, or transfer when the hospital provider or hospital unit provider did not notify the MHD designee within the notification timeframes stated in this section. For a retrospective certification request prior to discharge, the MHD designee responds to the hospital or hospital unit within two hours of the request, and provides certification and authorization or a denial within twelve hours of the request. For retrospective certification requests after the discharge, the hospital or hospital unit must submit all the required clinical information to the MHD designee within thirty days of discharge. The MHD designee provides a response within thirty days of the receipt of the required clinical documentation. All retrospective certifications must meet the requirements in this section. An authorization or denial is based on the client's condition and the services provided at the time of admission and over the course of the hospital stay, until the date of notification or discharge, as applicable.

(9) To be paid for a psychiatric inpatient admission of an eligible medical assistance client, the hospital provider or hospital unit provider must submit on the claim form the authorization (see subsection (2)(a) for definition of prior authorization and retrospective authorization).

(10) The department uses the payment methods described in WAC 388-550-2650 through 388-550-5600, as appropriate, to pay a hospital and hospital unit for providing psychiatric services to medical assistance clients, unless otherwise specified in this section.

(11) Covered days for a voluntary psychiatric admission are determined by a MHD designee utilizing MHD approved utilization review criteria.

(12) The number of initial days authorized for an involuntary psychiatric admission is limited to twenty days from date of detention. The hospital provider or hospital unit provider must submit the Extension Certification Authorization for Continued Inpatient Psychiatric Care form twenty-four hours prior to the expiration of the previously authorized days. Extension requests may not be denied for a person detained under ITA unless a less restrictive alternative is identified by the MHD designee and approved by the court. Extension requests may not be denied for youths detained under ITA who have been referred to the children's long-term inpatient program unless a less restrictive alternative is identified by the MHD designee and approved by the court.

(13) The department pays the administrative day rate for any authorized days that meet the administrative day definition in WAC 388-550-1050, and when all of the following conditions are met:

(a) The client's legal status is voluntary admission;

(b) The client's condition is no longer medically necessary;

(c) The client's condition no longer meets the intensity of service criteria;

(d) Less restrictive alternative treatments are not available, posing barrier to the client's safe discharge; and

(e) The hospital or hospital unit and the MHD designee mutually agree that the administrative day is appropriate.

(14) The hospital provider or hospital unit provider will use the MHD approved due process for conflict resolution regarding medical necessity determinations provided by the MHD designee.

(15) In order for an MHD designee to implement and participate in a medical assistance client's plan of care, the hospital provider or hospital unit provider must provide any clinical and cost of care information to the MHD designee upon request. This requirement applies to all medical assistance clients admitted for:

(a) Voluntary inpatient psychiatric services; and

(b) Involuntary inpatient psychiatric services, regardless of payment source.

(16) If the number of days billed exceeds the number of days authorized by the MHD designee for any claims paid, the department will recover any unauthorized days paid.

WAC 388-550-2650 Base community psychiatric hospitalization payment method for medicaid and SCHIP clients and nonmedicaid and non-SCHIP clients. (1) Effective for dates of admission from July 1, 2005 through June 30, 2007, and in accordance with legislative directive, the department implemented two separate base community psychiatric hospitalization payment rates, one for medicaid and SCHIP clients and one for nonmedicaid and non-SCHIP clients. Effective for dates of admission on and after July 1, 2007, the base community psychiatric hospitalization payment method for medicaid and SCHIP clients and nonmedicaid and non-SCHIP clients is no longer used. (For the purpose of this section, a "nonmedicaid or non-SCHIP client" is defined as a client eligible under the general assistance-unemployable (GA-U) program, the Alcoholism and Drug Addiction Treatment and Support Act (ADATSA), the psychiatric indigent inpatient (PII) program, or other state-administered program, as determined by the department.)

(a) The medicaid base community psychiatric hospital payment rate is a minimum per diem for claims for psychiatric services provided to medicaid and SCHIP covered patients, paid to hospitals that accept commitments under the involuntary treatment act (ITA).

(b) The nonmedicaid base community psychiatric hospital payment rate is a minimum allowable per diem for claims for psychiatric services provided to indigent patients paid to hospitals that accept commitments under the ITA.

(2) For the purposes of this section, "allowable" means the calculated allowed amount for payment based on the payment method before adjustments, deductions, or add-ons.

(3) To be eligible for payment under the base community psychiatric hospitalization payment method:

(a) A client's inpatient psychiatric voluntary hospitalization must:

(i) Be medically necessary as defined in WAC 388-500-0005. In addition, the department considers medical necessity to be met when:

(A) Ambulatory care resources available in the community do not meet the treatment needs of the client;

(B) Proper treatment of the client's psychiatric condition requires services on an inpatient basis under the direction of a physician;

(C) The inpatient services can be reasonably expected to improve the client's condition or prevent further regression so that the services will no longer be needed; and

(D) The client, at the time of admission, is diagnosed as having an emotional/behavioral disturbance as a result of a mental disorder as defined in the current published Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of the American Psychiatric Association. The department does not consider detoxification to be psychiatric in nature.

(ii) Be approved by the professional in charge of the hospital or hospital unit.

(iii) Be authorized by the appropriate mental health division (MHD) designee prior to admission for covered diagnoses.

(iv) Meet the criteria in WAC 388-550-2600.

(b) A client's inpatient psychiatric involuntary hospitalization must:

(i) Be in accordance with the admission criteria in chapters 71.05 and 71.34 RCW.

(ii) Be certified by a MHD designee.

(iii) Be approved by the professional in charge of the hospital or hospital unit.

(iv) Be prior authorized by the regional support network (RSN) or its designee.

(v) Meet the criteria in WAC 388-550-2600.

(4) The provider requesting payment must complete the appropriate sections of the Involuntary Treatment Act patient claim information (form DSHS 13-628) in triplicate and route both the form and each claim form submitted for payment, to the county involuntary treatment office.

(5) Payment for all claims is based on covered days within a client's approved length of stay (LOS), subject to client eligibility and department-covered services.

(6) The medicaid base community psychiatric hospitalization payment rate applies only to a medicaid or SCHIP client admitted to a nonstate-owned free-standing psychiatric hospital located in Washington state.

(7) The nonmedicaid base community psychiatric hospitalization payment rate applies only to a nonmedicaid or SCHIP client admitted to a hospital:

(a) Designated by the department as an ITA-certified hospital; or

(b) That has a department-certified ITA bed that was used to provide ITA services at the time of the nonmedicaid or non-SCHIP admission.

(8) For inpatient hospital psychiatric services provided to eligible clients for dates of admission on and after July 1, 2005, through June 30, 2007, the department pays:

(a) A hospital's department of health (DOH)-certified distinct psychiatric unit as follows:

(i) For medicaid and SCHIP clients, inpatient hospital psychiatric services are paid using the department-specific nondiagnosis related group (DRG) payment method.

(ii) For nonmedicaid and non-SCHIP clients, the allowable for inpatient hospital psychiatric services is the greater of:

(A) The state-administered program DRG allowable (including the high cost outlier allowable, if applicable), or the department-specified non-DRG payment method if no relative weight exists for the DRG in the department's payment system; or

(B) The nonmedicaid base community psychiatric hospitalization payment rate multiplied by the covered days.

(b) A hospital without a DOH-certified distinct psychiatric unit as follows:

(i) For medicaid and SCHIP clients, inpatient hospital psychiatric services are paid using:

(A) The DRG payment method; or

(B) The department-specified non-DRG payment method if no relative weight exists for the DRG in the department's payment system.

(ii) For nonmedicaid and SCHIP clients, the allowable for inpatient hospital psychiatric services is the greater of:

(A) The state-administered program DRG allowable (including the high cost outlier allowable, if applicable), or the department-specified non-DRG payment method if no relative weight exists for the DRG in the department's payment system; or

(B) The nonmedicaid base community psychiatric hospitalization payment rate multiplied by the covered days.

(c) A nonstate-owned free-standing psychiatric hospital as follows:

(i) For medicaid and SCHIP clients, inpatient hospital psychiatric services are paid using as the allowable, the greater of:

(A) The ratio of costs-to-charges (RCC) allowable; or

(B) The medicaid base community psychiatric hospitalization payment rate multiplied by covered days.

(ii) For nonmedicaid and non-SCHIP clients, inpatient hospital psychiatric services are paid the same as for medicaid and SCHIP clients, except the base community inpatient psychiatric hospital payment rate is the nonmedicaid rate, and the RCC allowable is the state-administered program RCC allowable.

(d) A hospital, or a distinct psychiatric unit of a hospital, that is participating in the certified public expenditure (CPE) payment program, as follows:

(i) For medicaid and SCHIP clients, inpatient hospital psychiatric services are paid using the methods identified in WAC 388-550-4650.

(ii) For nonmedicaid and non-SCHIP clients, inpatient hospital psychiatric services are paid using the methods identified in WAC 388-550-4650 in conjunction with the nonmedicaid base community psychiatric hospitalization payment rate multiplied by covered days.

(e) A hospital, or a distinct psychiatric unit of a hospital, that is participating in the critical access hospital (CAH) program, as follows:

(i) For medicaid and SCHIP clients, inpatient hospital psychiatric services are paid using the department-specified non-DRG payment method.

(ii) For nonmedicaid [and] non-SCHIP clients, inpatient hospital psychiatric services are paid using the department-specified non-DRG payment method.

WAC 388-550-2800 Payment methods and limits—Inpatient hospital services for medicaid and SCHIP clients. The term "allowable" used in this section means the calculated allowed amount for payment based on the applicable payment method before adjustments, deductions, or add-ons.

(1) The department pays hospitals for medicaid and SCHIP inpatient hospital services using the rate setting methods identified in the department's approved state plan as follows:

Payment method used for medicaid inpatient hospital claims	Applicable providers/services	Process to adjust for third-party liability insurance and any other client responsibility
Diagnosis related group (DRG) negotiated conversion factor	Hospitals participating in the medicaid hospital selective contracting program under waiver from the federal government	Lesser of either the DRG billed amount minus the third-party payment amount and any client responsibility amount, or the allowed [amount], minus the third-party payment amount and any client responsibility amount.
DRG cost-based conversion factor	Hospitals not participating in or exempt from the medicaid hospital selective contracting program	Lesser of either the DRG billed amount minus the third-party payment amount and any client responsibility amount, or the allowed [amount], minus the third-party payment amount and any client responsibility amount.
Ratio of costs-to-charges (RCC)	Some services exempt from DRG payment methods	The allowable minus the third-party payment amount and any client responsibility amount.
Costs-to-charges rate with a "hold harmless" settlement provision	Hospitals eligible to be paid through the certified public expenditure (CPE) payment program	For the "hold harmless" settlement, the lesser of the billed amount minus the third-party payment amount and any client responsibility amount, or the allowed amount minus the third-party payment amount and any client responsibility amount. The payment made is the federal share only.

Payment method used for medicaid inpatient hospital claims	Applicable providers/services	Process to adjust for third-party liability insurance and any other client responsibility
Single case rate	Hospitals eligible to provide bariatric surgery to medical assistance clients	Lesser of either the billed amount minus the third-party payment amount and any client responsibility amount, or the single case rate allowed amount minus the third-party payment amount and any client responsibility amount.
Fixed per diem rate	Long-term acute care (LTAC) hospitals	Lesser of either the billed amount minus the third-party payment amount and any client responsibility amount, or the per diem allowed amount minus the third-party payment amount and any client responsibility amount.
Per diem rate	Some providers/services exempt from the DRG payment methods	Per diem allowed amount, and for some services a high outlier amount, minus the third-party payer amount and any client responsibility amount.
Cost settlement	DOH-approved critical access hospitals (CAHs)	The allowed amount, subject to retrospective cost settlement, minus the third-party payment amount and any client responsibility amount.
Medicaid base community psychiatric hospitalization rate	Nonstate-owned free-standing psychiatric hospitals located in Washington state	Paid according to applicable payment method in WAC 388-550-2650 for medicaid and SCHIP clients, minus the third-party payment amount and any client responsibility amount.

See WAC 388-550-4800 for payment methods used by the department for inpatient hospital services provided to clients eligible under state-administered programs. The department's policy for payment on state-administered program claims that involve third-party liability (TPL) and/or client responsibility payments on claims is the same policy indicated in the table in subsection (1) in this section. However, to determine the department's payment on the claim, state-administered program rates, not medicaid or SCHIP rates, apply when comparing the lesser of either the billed amount minus the third-party payment and any client responsibility amount, or the allowed amount minus the third-party payment amount and any client responsibility amount.

(2) The department's annual aggregate medicaid and SCHIP payments to each hospital for inpatient hospital services provided to medicaid and SCHIP clients will not exceed the hospital's usual and customary charges to the general public for the services (42 CFR Sec. 447.271). The department recoups annual aggregate medicaid and SCHIP payments that are in excess of the usual and customary charges.

(3) The department's annual aggregate payments for inpatient hospital services, including state-operated hospitals, will not exceed the estimated amounts that the department would have paid using medicare payment principles.

(4) When hospital ownership changes, the department's payment to the hospital will not exceed the amount allowed under 42 U.S.C. Section 1395x (v)(1)(O).

(5) Hospitals participating in the department's medical assistance program must annually submit to the department:

(a) A copy of the hospital's CMS medicare cost report (form 2552-96) that is the official "as filed" cost report submitted to the medicare fiscal intermediary; and

(b) A disproportionate share hospital (DSH) application if the hospital wants to be considered for DSH payments. See WAC 388-550-4900 for the requirement for a hospital to qualify for a DSH payment.

(6) Reports referred to in subsection (5) of this section must be completed according to:

(a) Medicare's cost reporting requirements;

(b) The provisions of this chapter; and

(c) Instructions issued by the department.

(7) The department requires hospitals to follow generally accepted accounting principles.

(8) Participating hospitals must permit the department to conduct periodic audits of their financial records, statistical records, and any other records as determined by the department.

(9) The department limits payment for private room accommodations to the semiprivate room rate. Room charges must not exceed the hospital's usual and customary charges to the general public as required by 42 C.F.R. Sec. 447.271.

(10) For a client's hospital stay that involves both regional support network (RSN)-approved voluntary inpatient and involuntary inpatient hospitalizations, the hospital must bill the department for payment, unless the hospital contracts directly with the RSN. In that case, the hospital must bill the RSN for payment.

(11) Refer to subsection (1) of this section for how the department adjusts inpatient hospital claims for third party payment amounts and any client responsibility amounts.

WAC 388-550-2900 Payment limits—Inpatient hospital services. (1) To be eligible for payment for covered inpatient hospital services, a hospital must:

(a) Have a core-provider agreement with the department; and

(b) Be an in-state hospital, a bordering city hospital, a critical border hospital, or a distinct unit of such a hospital, that meets the definition in RCW 70.41.020 and is certified under Title XVIII of the federal Social Security Act; or

(c) Be an out-of-state hospital that meets the conditions in WAC 388-550-6700.

(2) The department does not pay:

(a) A hospital or distinct unit for inpatient care and/or services provided to a client when a managed care organization (MCO) plan is contracted to cover those services.

(b) A hospital or distinct unit for care and/or services provided to a client enrolled in the hospice program, unless the care or services are completely unrelated to the terminal illness that qualifies the client for the hospice benefit.

(c) A hospital or distinct unit for ancillary services in addition to the:

(i) Diagnosis related group (DRG) payment, or per case rate payment on claims with dates of admission before August 1, 2007; or

(ii) DRG payment, per diem payment, or per case rate payment on claims with dates of admission on and after August 1, 2007.

(d) For additional days of hospitalization on a non-DRG claim when:

(i) Those days exceed the number of days established by the department or mental health division (MHD) designee (see WAC 388-550-2600), as the approved length of stay (LOS); and

(ii) The hospital or distinct unit has not requested and/or received approval for an extended length of stay (LOS) from the department or MHD designee as specified in WAC 388-550-4300(6). The department may perform a prospective, concurrent, or retrospective utilization review as described in WAC 388-550-1700, to evaluate an extended LOS. A MHD designee may also perform those utilization reviews to evaluate an extended LOS.

(e) For dates of admission before August 1, 2007, for elective or nonemergency inpatient services provided in a nonparticipating hospital. A nonparticipating hospital is defined in WAC 388-550-1050. See also WAC 388-550-4600.

(f) For inpatient hospital services when the department determines that the client's medical record fails to support the medical necessity and inpatient level of care for the inpatient admission. The department may perform a retrospective utilization review as described in WAC 388-550-1700, to evaluate if the services are medically necessary and are provided at the appropriate level of care.

(g) For two separate inpatient hospitalizations if a client is readmitted to the same or different hospital or distinct unit within seven calendar days of discharge, unless the readmission is due to conditions unrelated to the previous admission. The department:

(i) May perform a retrospective utilization review as described in WAC 388-550-1700 to determine the appropriate payment for the readmission.

(ii) Determines if the combined hospital stay for the admission qualifies to be paid as an outlier. See WAC 388-550-3700 for DRG high-cost outliers and per diem high outliers for dates of admission on and after August 1, 2007.

(h) For a client's day(s) of absence from the hospital or distinct unit.

(i) For an inappropriate or nonemergency transfer of a client from one acute care hospital or distinct unit to another. The department may perform a prospective, concurrent, or retrospective utilization review as described in WAC 388-550-1700 to determine if the admission to the second hospital or distinct unit qualifies for payment. See also WAC 388-550-3600 for hospital transfers.

(3) An interim billed inpatient hospital claim submitted for a client's continuous inpatient hospitalization of at least sixty calendar days, is considered for payment by the department only when the following occurs (this does not apply to interim billed hospital claims for which the department is not the primary payer (see (b) of this subsection), or to inpatient psychiatric admissions:

(a) Each interim billed hospital claim must:

(i) Be submitted in sixty calendar day intervals, unless the client is discharged prior to the next sixty calendar day interval.

(ii) Document the entire date span between the client's date of admission and the current date of services billed, and include the following for that date span:

(A) All inpatient hospital services provided; and

(B) All applicable diagnosis codes and procedure codes.

(iii) Be submitted as an adjustment to the previous interim billed hospital claim.

(b) When the department is not the primary payer, the department pays an interim billed hospital claim when the criteria in (a) of this subsection are met and:

(i) After sixty calendar days from the date the department becomes the primary payer; or

(ii) The date a client eligible for both medicare and medicaid has exhausted the medicare lifetime reserve days for inpatient hospital care.

(4) A hospital claim submitted for a client's continuous inpatient hospital admission of sixty calendar days or less is considered for payment by the department upon the client's discharge from the hospital or distinct unit. The department considers a client discharged from the hospital or distinct unit if one of the following occurs. The client:

(a) Obtains a formal release issued by the hospital or distinct unit;

(b) Dies in the hospital or distinct unit;

(c) Transfers from the hospital or distinct unit as an acute care transfer; or

(d) Transfers from the hospital or distinct unit to a designated psychiatric unit or facility, or a designated acute rehabilitation unit or facility.

(5) To be eligible for payment, a hospital or distinct unit must bill an inpatient hospital claim:

(a) In accordance with the current national uniform billing data element specifications:

(i) Developed by the national uniform billing committee;

(ii) Approved and/or modified by the Washington state payer group or the department; and

(iii) In effect on the date of the client's admission.

(b) In accordance with the current published international classification of diseases clinical modification coding guidelines;

(c) Subject to the rules in this section and other applicable rules;

(d) In accordance with the department's current published billing instructions and other documents; and

(e) With the date span that covers the client's entire hospitalization. See subsection (3) of this section for when the department considers and pays an initial interim billed hospital claim and/or subsequent interim billed hospital claims; and

(f) That requires an adjustment due to, but not limited to, charges that were not billed on the original paid claim (i.e., late charges), through submission of an adjusted hospital claim. Each adjustment to a paid hospital claim must provide complete documentation for the entire date span between the client's admission date and discharge date, and include the following for that date span:

(i) All inpatient hospital services provided; and

(ii) All applicable diagnosis codes and procedure codes.

(6) The department allows the semiprivate room rate for a client's room charges, even if a hospital bills the private room rate. Room charges must not exceed the hospital's usual and customary charges to the general public as required by C.F.R. §447.271.

(7) For inpatient hospital claims, the department allows hospitals an all-inclusive administrative date rate, beginning on the client's admission date, for those days of hospital stay in which a client does not meet criteria for acute inpatient level of care, but is not discharged because an appropriate placement outside the hospital is not available.

(8) The department pays for observation services according to WAC 388-550-3000 (2)(b), 388-550-6000 (4)(c) and 388-550-7200 (2)(e) and other applicable rules.

(9) The department determines its actual payment for an inpatient hospital admission by making any required adjustments from the calculations of the allowed covered charges. Adjustments include, but are not limited to, any client responsibility, any third party liability amount, including medicare part A and part B, and any other adjustments as determined by the department.

(10) The department reduces payment rates to hospitals and distinct units for services provided to clients eligible under state-administered programs according to the hospital equivalency factor and/or ratable, or other department policy, as provided in WAC 388-550-4800.

(11) All hospital providers must present final charges to the department within three hundred sixty-five days of the "statement covers period from date" shown on the claim. The state of Washington is not liable for payment based on billed charges received beyond three hundred sixty-five days from the "statement covers period from date" shown on the claim.

WAC 388-550-3000 Payment method—DRG. (1) The department uses the diagnosis-related group (DRG) payment method to pay for covered inpatient hospital services, except as specified in WAC 388-550-4300 and 388-550-4400.

(2) The department uses the all-patient grouper (AP-DRG) to assign a DRG to each inpatient hospital stay. The department periodically evaluates which version of the AP-DRG to use.

(3) A DRG payment includes all covered hospital services provided to a client during days the client is eligible, but is not limited to:

(a) An inpatient hospital stay.

(b) Outpatient hospital services, including preadmission, emergency room, and observation services related to an inpatient hospital stay and provided within one calendar day of a client's inpatient hospital stay. These outpatient services must be billed on the inpatient hospital claim (see WAC 388-550-6000 (3)(c)).

(c) Any specific service(s), treatment(s), or procedure(s) (such as renal dialysis services) that the admitting hospital is unable to provide and:

(i) The admitting hospital sends the client to another facility or provider for the service(s), treatment(s), or procedure(s) during the client's inpatient hospital stay; and

(ii) The client returns as an inpatient to the admitting hospital.

(d) All transportation costs for an inpatient client when the client requires transportation to another facility or provider for a specific service(s), treatment(s), or procedure(s) that the admitting hospital is unable to provide and:

(i) The admitting hospital sends the client to another facility or provider for the service(s), treatment(s), or procedure(s); and

(ii) The client returns as an inpatient to the admitting hospital.

(4) The department's allowed amount for the DRG payment is determined by multiplying the assigned DRG's relative weight, as determined in WAC 388-550-3100, by the hospital's conversion factor. The total allowed amount also includes any high outlier amount calculated for claims. See WAC 388-550-3450 and 388-550-4600(4).

(5) The department's DRG payment to a hospital may be adjusted when one or more of the following occur:

(a) For dates of admission before August 1, 2007, a claim qualifies as a DRG high-cost or low-cost outlier, and for dates of admission on and after August 1, 2007, a claim qualifies as a DRG high outlier (see WAC 388-550-3700);

(b) A client transfers from one acute care hospital or distinct unit to another acute care hospital or distinct unit (see WAC 388-550-3600);

(c) A client is not eligible for a medical assistance program on one or more of the days of the hospital stay;

(d) A client has third party liability coverage at the time of admission to the hospital or distinct unit;

(e) A client is eligible for Part B medicare and medicare has made a payment for the Part B hospital charges; or

(f) A client is discharged from an inpatient hospital stay and, within seven calendar days, is readmitted as an inpatient to the same hospital. The department or its designee performs a retrospective utilization review (see WAC 388-550-1700) on the initial admission and the readmission(s) to determine which inpatient hospital stay(s) qualify for DRG payment. Upon the department's retrospective review, an outlier payment may be made if the department determines the claim for combined hospital stays qualifies as a high-cost outlier or high outlier. See WAC 388-550-3700 for DRG high-cost outliers and high outliers.

(6) The department does not pay for a client's day(s) of absence from the hospital.

(7) The department pays an interim billed hospital claim or covered inpatient hospital services provided to an eligible client only when the interim billed claim meets the criteria in WAC 388-550-2900.

(8) The department applies all applicable claim payment adjustments for client responsibility, third party liability, medicare, etc., to the payment.

WAC 388-550-3010 Payment method—Per diem payment. (1) Effective for dates of admission on and after August 1, 2007, the department uses the per diem payment method to pay some covered inpatient hospital services as specified in this section and WAC 388-550-4300, 388-550-4400, and 388-550-3460. The per diem payment method for long term acute care (LTAC), administrative day, and swing bed is effective for dates of admission before, and on and after, August 1, 2007.

(2) The department uses the all-patient diagnosis related group (AP-DRG) grouper software to assign a DRG classification to each inpatient hospital stay. The department periodically evaluates which version of the AP-DRG grouper software to use and updates the grouper version. This update is normally completed once every three years during inpatient payment system rebasing.

(3) A per diem payment includes, but is not limited to:

(a) A hospital covered service(s) provided to a client during the client's inpatient hospital stay.

(b) An outpatient hospital covered service(s), including preadmission, emergency room, and observation services related to an inpatient hospital stay and provided within one calendar day of a client's inpatient hospital stay. These outpatient services must be billed on the inpatient hospital claim (see WAC 388-550-6000 (3)(c)).

(c) Any specific service(s), treatment(s), or procedure(s) (such as renal dialysis services) that the admitting hospital is unable to provide when:

(i) The admitting hospital sends the client to another facility or provider for the service(s), treatment(s), or procedure(s) during the client's inpatient stay; and

(ii) The client returns as an inpatient to the admitting hospital.

(d) All transportation costs for an inpatient client when the client requires transportation to another facility or provider for a specific service(s), treatment(s), or procedure(s) that the admitting hospital is unable to provide when:

(i) The admitting hospital sends the client to another facility or provider for the service(s), treatment(s), or procedure(s); and

(ii) The client returns as an inpatient to the admitting hospital.

(4) The department has established an average length of stay (ALOS) for each DRG classification during the rebasing process. The DRG ALOS is used as a benchmark to authorize and pay inpatient hospital stays that are exempt from the DRG payment method. See WAC 388-550-4300(6).

(5) The department's per diem payments to hospitals may be adjusted when one or more of the following occur:

(a) A claim qualifies as a per diem high outlier claim (see WAC 388-550-3700). The outlier provision does not include a claim grouped to a DRG classification in a specialty service category. The specialty services categories include psychiatric, rehabilitation, detoxification, and CUP program services. Long term acute care (LTAC), administrative days and swing bed days do not qualify for high outlier payment;

(b) A client is not eligible for a medical assistance program on one or more of the days of the hospital stay;

(c) A client has third party liability coverage at the time of admission to the hospital or distinct unit;

(d) A client is eligible for medicare, and medicare has made a payment for the hospital charges; or

(e) A client is discharged from an inpatient hospital stay and, within seven calendar days, is readmitted as an inpatient to the same hospital or a different hospital. The department or its designee performs a retrospective utilization review (see WAC 388-550-1700) on the initial admission and the readmission(s) to determine which, if any, inpatient hospital stay(s) qualify for payment. An outlier payment may be made if the department determines the claim for the combined hospital stays qualifies as a high outlier. (See WAC 388-550-3700 for high outliers.)

(6) The department does not pay for a client's day(s) of absence from the hospital.

(7) The department pays an interim billed hospital claim for covered inpatient hospital services provided to an eligible client only when the interim billed claim meets the criteria in WAC 388-550-2900.

(8) The department applies all applicable claim payment adjustments for client responsibility, third party liability, medicare, etc., to the payment.

WAC 388-550-3020 Payment method—Bariatric surgery—Per case payment. (1) The department pays designated department-approved hospitals for prior authorized bariatric surgery when the criteria in WAC 388-550-2301 are met. Claims grouped to a DRG classification in a bariatric surgery service category (diagnosis and procedure codes recognized by the department for bariatric surgery per case payment) do not qualify for outlier payments.

(2) For dates of admission before and on and after August 1, 2007, the department pays for claims grouped to a DRG classification in a bariatric surgery service category (diagnosis and procedure codes recognized by the department for bariatric surgery per case payment) using a per case rate. See WAC 388-550-3470.

(3) The department applies all applicable claim payment adjustments for client responsibility, third party liability, medicare, etc., to the payment.

WAC 388-550-3100 Calculating DRG relative weights. (1) This section describes how the department calculates Washington diagnostic-related group (DRG) relative weights. The department:

(a) Classifies the Washington hospital admissions data using the all-patient diagnosis related group (AP-DRG).

(b) Statistically tests each DRG for adequacy of sample size to ensure that relative weights meet acceptable reliability and validity standards.

(c) Establishes a single set of medicaid-specific relative weights from Washington hospital admissions data. For dates of admission before August 1, 2007, the relative weights are based on claim charges. The department identifies these relative weights as stable or unstable.

(d) Tests the stability of the relative weights from subsection (1)(c) of this section using a reasonable statistical test to determine if the weights are stable. The department accepts as stable and adopts those relative weights that pass the reasonable statistical test.

(e) For dates of admission before August 1, 2007, may compare the medicaid-specific relative weights to nonmedicaid relative weights. The department:

(i) May combine the medicaid-specific relative weights with the nonmedicaid relative weights if the nonmedicaid relative weights are statistically comparable to the medicaid-specific weights; or

(ii) Uses only the medicaid-specific relative weights if the nonmedicaid relative weights are not statistically comparable to the medicaid-specific relative weights.

(f) For dates of admission before August 1, 2007, uses the ratio of costs-to-charges (RCC) payment method to pay for hospital stays that have unstable DRG relative weights.

(2) When using ratios with a DRG relative weight as base, the department adjusts all stable relative weights so that the average weight of the case mix population equals 1.0.

(3) For dates of admission on and after August 1, 2007, the department:

(a) Bases the relative weights on the estimated wage adjusted cost of the claims in each stable DRG classification. The operating and capital component costs were used for this process. To calculate relative weights, the department divides the average cost per discharge for each stable AP-DRG classification by the average cost per discharge for all stable AP-DRG classifications combined. For purposes of these calculations, the department uses the two most current years of medicaid inpatient hospital paid claims data available at the time of relative weight calibration.

(i) The department uses a combination of medicaid fee-for-service and healthy options (HO) managed care organization (MCO) data from the two most current years of fully adjudicated paid claims data available at the time of relative weight calibration.

(ii) The department removes:

(A) Claims that represent statistical outliers from the dataset prior to calculating relative weights, based on the assumption that these claims are likely to be paid under an alternative outlier payment methodology. The department identifies statistical outliers as those claims with estimated costs that exceed three standard deviations of the mean cost of all claims in each AP-DRG classification;

(B) Claims to be paid by alternative methods, including psychiatric, rehabilitation, detoxification, CUP woman program, bariatric surgery cases, and organ transplant claims;

(C) Transfer-out claims;

(D) Same day discharges;

(E) Claims that were either ungroupable or had invalid diagnosis for AP-DRG classification purposes; and

(F) Claims related to state-administered programs where the payment calculations are based on reduced state-administered program payment rates.

(b) Uses the term "unstable" generically to describe an AP-DRG classification that has fewer than ten occurrences, or that is unstable based on the statistical stability test indicated below. The formula for the statistical stability test calculates the required size of a sample population of values necessary to estimate a mean cost value with ninety percent confidence and within an acceptable error of plus or minus twenty percent given the populations's estimated standard deviation.

The formula is:

$N = (Z^2 * S^2)/R^2$, where

• The Z statistic for 90 percent confidence is 1.64;

• S = the standard deviation for the AP-DRG classification; and

• R = acceptable error range, per sampling unit.

(c) Uses:

(i) The per diem payment method to pay for hospital stays that group to an unstable DRG relative weight, some long term acute care (LTAC) services, and other specialty service and low volume services groups identified in WAC 388-550-3460.

(ii) One of the other non-DRG payment methods (e.g., RCC, per case rate, etc.) to pay for claims paid using other non-DRG payment methods (e.g., some transplants, the high outlier portion of high outlier claims, non-per diem portion of LTAC claims, bariatric surgery, etc.).

WAC 388-550-3150 Base period costs and claims data. (1) The department sets a hospital's cost-based conversion factor for dates of admission before August 1, 2007, using base period cost data from its medicare cost report (Form CMS 2552) for its fiscal year corresponding with the base period.

(2) The department may use in rate-setting, "as filed" base period cost data, or "final settled" medicare cost report base period cost data that have been desk reviewed and/or field audited by the medicare intermediary.

(3) The department, to the extent feasible, factors out of a hospital's base period cost data nonallowable hospital charges associated with the items/services listed in WAC 388-550-1600 before calculating the hospital's conversion factor.

(4) For dates of admission before August 1, 2007, the department uses the figures for total costs, capital costs, and direct medical education costs from a hospital's medicare cost report in calculating that hospital's allowable costs for each of the thirty-eight categories of cost/revenue centers, listed in subsections (5) and (6) below, used to categorize medicaid claims.

(5) For dates of admission before August 1, 2007, the department uses nine categories to assign a hospital's accommoation costs and days of care. These accommodation categories are:

(a) Routine;
(b) Intensive care;
(c) Intensive care-psychiatric;
(d) Coronary care;
(e) Nursery;
(f) Neonatal intensive care unit;
(g) Alcohol/substance abuse;
(h) Psychiatric; and
(i) Oncology.

(6) For dates of admission before August 1, 2007, the department uses twenty-nine categories to assign ancillary costs and charges. These ancillary categories are:

(a) Operating room;
(b) Recovery room;
(c) Delivery/labor room;
(d) Anesthesiology;
(e) Radiology-diagnostic;
(f) Radiology-therapeutic;
(g) Radioisotope;
(h) Laboratory;
(i) Blood storage;
(j) Intravenous therapy;
(k) Respiratory therapy;
(l) Physical therapy;
(m) Occupational therapy;
(n) Speech pathology;
(o) Electrocardiography;
(p) Electroencephalography;
(q) Medical supplies;
(r) Drugs;
(s) Renal dialysis;
(t) Ancillary oncology;
(u) Cardiology;
(v) Ambulatory surgery;
(w) Computerized tomography scan/magnetic resonance imaging;
(x) Clinic;
(y) Emergency;
(z) Ultrasound;
(aa) Neonatal intensive care unit transportation;
(bb) Gastrointestinal laboratory; and
(cc) Miscellaneous.

(7) The department shall:

(a) Extracts from the medicaid management information system all medicaid and SCHIP paid claims data for each hospital's base year;

(b) Assigns line item charges from the paid hospital claims to the appropriate accommodation and ancillary cost center categories; and

(c) Uses the cost center categories to apportion medicaid and SCHIP costs.

(8) For dates of admission on and after August 1, 2007, the department rebased the hospital inpatient payment system and used claim and estimated cost data to estimate costs for the system development.

(a) Claim data used for rebasing process. The department uses the following claim data resources considered the most complete and available at the time the system is developed for the rebase:

(i) From the department's medicaid management information system (MMIS) data base, two years of fee-for-service paid claim data, excluding claims related to state programs and paid at the Title XIX reduced rates;

(ii) From the comprehensive hospital abstract reporting system (CHARS) dataset that is maintained by the department of health (DOH), two years of sample claims representing healthy options (HO) services that are identified from the CHARS dataset based on the medicaid HO eligibility data files; and

(iii) From the healthcare cost report information system (HCRIS) that is maintained by the centers for medicare and medicaid (CMS), the hospital's most current medicare cost report data. If the hospital's medicare cost report from the HCRIS system is not available, the department uses the medicare cost report provided by the hospital.

(b) Claim data used to estimate costs. The department uses:

(i) The fee-for-service and HO claims for two fiscal years to calculate diagnosis related group (DRG) relative weights.

(ii) The fee-for-service and HO claims for the most current single fiscal year to calculate conversion factors, per diem rates, and per case rates.

(iii) The payments from fee-for-service only claims for a single year to model the fiscal impacts to the department and individual hospitals that result from the implementation of the payment methodology.

(c) Estimated costs of claims. The department:

(i) Identifies the operating (routine and ancillary), capital (routine and ancillary), and direct medical education (routine and ancillary) cost components from different worksheets from the hospital's medicare cost report;

(ii) Estimates costs for each separate component identified in (c)(i) of this subsection for each fee-for-service and HO claim in the dataset by:

(A) Calculating the operating, capital, and direct medical education routine costs for each fee-for-service and HO claim by multiplying the average hospital cost per day reported in the medicare cost report data for each type of accommodation service (e.g., adult and pediatric, intensive care unit, psychiatric, nursery) by the number of days reported at the claim line level by type of service.

(B) Calculating the operating, capital, and direct medical education ancillary costs for each fee-for-service and HO claim by multiplying the ratio of costs-to-charges (RCC) reported for each ancillary type of services (e.g., operating room, recovery room, radiology, laboratory, pharmacy, clinic) by the allowed charges reported at the claim line level by type of service.

(d) Routine and ancillary cost components. For purposes of estimating costs consistently for all hospitals' claims, the department uses standard routine and ancillary cost components. The standard cost components used for estimating costs of claims are:

(i) Routine cost components:
(A) Routine care;
(B) Intensive care;
(C) Intensive care-psychiatric;
(D) Coronary care;
(E) Nursery;
(F) Neonatal ICU;
(G) Alcohol/Substance abuse;
(H) Psychiatric;
(I) Oncology; and
(J) Rehabilitation.

(ii) Ancillary cost components:
(A) Operating room;
(B) Recovery room;
(C) Deliver/labor room;
(D) Anesthesiology;
(E) Radio, diagnostic;
(F) Radio, therapeutic;
(G) Radioisotope;
(H) Laboratory;
(I) Blood administration;
(J) Intravenous therapy;
(K) Respiratory therapy;
(L) Physical therapy;
(M) Occupational therapy;
(N) Speech pathology;
(O) Electrocardiography;
(P) Electroencephalography;
(Q) Medical supplies;
(R) Drugs;
(S) Renal dialysis/home dialysis;
(T) Ancillary oncology;
(U) Cardiology;
(V) Ambulatory surgery;
(W) CT scan/MRI;
(X) Clinic;
(Y) Emergency;
(Z) Ultrasound;
(AA) NICU transportation;
(BB) GI laboratory;
(CC) Miscellaneous; and
(DD) Observation beds.

WAC 388-550-3200 Medicaid cost proxies. (1) For cases in which a hospital has medicaid and SCHIP charges (claims) for certain accommodation or ancillary cost centers which are not separately reported on its medicare cost report, the department establishes cost proxies to estimate costs in order to ensure recognition of medicaid related costs.

(2) For the inpatient payment system effective for dates of admission before August 1, 2007, the department develops per diem proxies for accommodation cost centers using the median value of the hospital's per diem cost data within the affected hospital peer group.

(3) For the inpatient payment system effective for dates of admission before August 1, 2007, the department also develops ratio of cost-to-charge (RCC) proxies for ancillary cost centers using the median value of the hospital's RCC data within the affected hospital peer group.

(4) For the inpatient payment system effective for dates of admission on and after August 1, 2007, the department:

(a) Develops per diem proxies for accommodation cost centers using the hospital's per diem cost data within the affected same type of services; and

(b) Develops ratios of costs-to-charges (RCC) proxies for ancillary cost centers based on the hospital's aggregate ancillary costs to aggregate ancillary charges.

WAC 388-550-3250 Indirect medical education costs—Conversion factors, per diem rates, and per case rates. (1) For dates of admission before August 1, 2007, for each hospital with a graduate medical education program, the department removes indirect medical education-related costs from the aggregate operating and capital costs of each hospital in the peer group before calculating a peer group's cost cap for conversion factor rebasing.

(2) For dates of admission before August 1, 2007, to arrive at indirect medical education costs for each component, the department:

(a) Multiplies medicare's indirect cost factor of 0.579 by the ratio of the number of interns and residents in the hospital's approved teaching programs to the number of hospital beds; and

(b) Multiplies the product obtained in subsection (2)(a) of this section by the hospital's operating and capital components.

(3) For dates of admission before August 1, 2007, after the peer group's cost cap has been calculated, the department adds back to the hospital's aggregate costs its indirect medical education costs. See WAC 388-550-3450.

(4) For dates of admission on and after August 1, 2007, the department:

(a) Uses the indirect medical costs in the calculation of the hospital DRG conversion factor, per diem rates, and per case rates.

(b) Uses the medicare's indirect medical education factor matching the same period of the hospital medicare cost report used in calculating the hospital cost to estimate the hospital aggregate operating and capital costs. The indirect medical education costs were removed from the hospital aggregate operating and capital costs in determination of statewide standardized average operating and capital cost per discharge, per day, and per case amounts.

(c) To calculate the hospital-specific DRG conversion factor, per diem rates, and per case rates during rebasing. The department:

(i) Multiplies the statewide standardized labor portion of the operating amount by the most currently available facility-specific wage index established by medicare that exists at the time of the medicaid rebasing (to determine the labor portion, the department used the factor established by medicare multiplied by the statewide operating standardized amount), then the nonlabor portion is added to the result to produce a hospital-specific operating amount; then

(ii) Multiplies the hospital-specific operating amount by 1.0 plus the most currently available operating indirect medical education factor established by medicare that exists at the time of the medicaid rebasing; then

(iii) Multiplies the statewide standardized capital amount by 1.0 plus the most currently available capital indirect medical education factor established by medicare that exists at the time of the medicaid rebasing; then

(iv) Adds this hospital-specific operating amount to the statewide standardized capital amount; then

(v) Adds the hospital-specific direct medical education portion adjusted for hospital-specific casemix index to the operating and capital amounts.

WAC 388-550-3300 Hospital peer groups and cost caps. (1) For rate setting purposes, the department groups hospitals into peer groups.

(2) The six hospital peer groups are:

(a) Group A, rural hospitals;

(b) Group B, urban hospitals without medical education programs;

(c) Group C, urban hospitals with medical education program;

(d) Group D, specialty hospitals or other hospitals not easily assignable to the other five groups;

(e) Group E, public hospitals participating in the "full cost" public hospital certified public expenditure (CPE) program; and

(f) Group F, hospitals approved by the department of health (DOH) as critical access hospitals.

(3) For dates of admission before August 1, 2007, the department uses a cost cap at the seventieth percentile for hospitals in peer groups B and C for cost based conversion rate setting. All other peer groups are exempt from the cost caps for the following reasons:

(a) Peer group A hospitals because they are paid under the ratio of costs-to-charges (RCC) methodology for medicaid claims.

(b) Peer group D hospitals because they are specialty hospitals without a common peer group on which to base comparisons.

(c) Peer group E hospitals because they are paid under the "full cost" public hospital certified public expenditure (CPE) program RCC methodology for inpatient claims.

(d) Peer group F hospitals because they are paid under the departmental weighted costs-to-charges (DWCC) methodology for most hospital claims. See WAC 388-550-2598(14) for the payment methods for inpatient detoxification unit, distinct psychiatric unit, and distinct rehabilitation unit claims.

(4) For dates of admission before August 1, 2007, the department calculates cost caps for peer groups B and C for cost based conversion rate setting based on the hospitals' base period costs after subtracting:

(a) Indirect medical education costs, in accordance with WAC 388-550-3250(2), from the aggregate operating and capital costs of each hospital in the peer group; and

(b) The cost of outlier cases from the aggregate costs in accordance with WAC 388-550-3350(1).

(5) For dates of admission before August 1, 2007, the department uses the lesser of each individual hospital's calculated aggregate cost or the peer group's seventieth percentile cost cap as the base amount in calculating the individual hospital's adjusted cost-based conversion factor. After the peer group cost cap is calculated, the department adds back to the individual hospital's base amount its indirect medical education costs and appropriate outlier costs, as determined in WAC 388-550-3350(2).

(6) For dates of admission before August 1, 2007, in cases where corrections or changes in an individual hospital's base-year cost or peer group assignment occur after peer group cost caps are calculated, the department updates the peer group cost caps involved only if the change in the individual hospital's base-year costs or peer group assignment will result in a five percent or greater change in the seventieth percentile of costs calculated for either its previous peer group category, its new peer group category, or both.

(7) For dates of admission on and after August 1, 2007, the department continues to use the hospital peer groups in subsection (2) of this section to determine some rate setting and payment methods.

WAC 388-550-3350 Outlier costs. (1) The information and processes described in subsections (1) through (5) of this section are applicable for claims with dates of admission before August 1, 2007.

(a) The department removes the cost of low- and high-cost outlier cases from individual hospitals' aggregate costs before calculating the peer group cost cap.

(b) After this initial step, all subsequent calculations involving outliers in subsections (2) through (5) of this section pertain only to high-cost outliers.

(c) For a definition of outliers see WAC 388-550-1050.

(2) After an individual hospital's base period costs and its peer group cost cap are determined, the department adds the individual hospital's indirect medical education costs and an outlier cost adjustment back to:

(a) The lesser of the hospital's calculated aggregate cost; or

(b) The peer group's seventieth percentile cost cap.

(3) The outlier cost adjustment is determined as follows to reduce the original high-cost outlier amount in proportion to the reduction in the hospital's base period costs as a result of the capping process:

(a) If the individual hospital's aggregate operating, capital, and direct medical education costs for the base period are less than the seventieth percentile costs for the peer group, the entire high-cost outlier amount is added back.

(b) A reduced high-cost outlier amount is added back if:

(i) The individual hospital's aggregate base period costs are higher than the seventieth percentile for the peer group; and

(ii) The hospital is capped at the seventieth percentile.

(iii) The amount of the outlier added back is determined by multiplying the original high-cost outlier amount by the percentage obtained when the hospital's final cost cap, which is the peer group's seventieth percentile cost, is divided by its uncapped base period costs, as determined in WAC 388-550-3300(4).

(4) The department pays high-cost outlier claims from the outlier set-aside pool. The department calculates an individual hospital's high-cost outlier set-aside as follows:

(a) For each hospital, the department extracts utilization and paid claims data from the medicaid management information system (MMIS) for the most recent twelve-month period for which the department estimates the MMIS has complete payment information.

(b) Using the data in (a) of this subsection, the department determines the projected annual amount above the high-cost diagnosis related group (DRG) outlier threshold that the department paid to each hospital.

(c) The department's projected high-cost outlier payment to the hospital determined in (b) of this subsection is divided by the department's total projected annual DRG payments to the hospital to arrive at a hospital-specific high-cost outlier percentage. This percentage becomes the hospital's outlier set-aside factor.

(5) The department uses the individual hospital's outlier set-aside factor to reduce the hospital's CBCF by an amount that goes into a set-aside pool to pay for all high-cost outlier cases during the year. The department funds the outlier set-aside pool on hospitals' prior high-cost outlier experience. No cost settlements will be made to hospitals for outlier cases.

(6) For dates of admission on and after August 1, 2007, the department includes statistical outlier claims for calculation of the conversion factors, per diem rates, and per case rates, and does not establish an outlier set-aside pool. The department does not include statistical outlier claims for calibration of DRG relative weights.

WAC 388-550-3381 Payment methodology for acute PM&R services and administrative day services. The department's payment methodology for acute PM&R services provided by acute PM&R hospitals is described in this section.

(1) For dates of admission before August 1, 2007, the department pays an acute PM&R rehabilitation hospital according to the individual hospital's current ratio of costs-to-charges as described in WAC 388-550-4500. For dates of admission on and after August 1, 2007, the department pays an acute PM&R hospital for acute PM&R services based on a rehabilitation per diem rate. See WAC 388-550-3010 and 388-550-3460.

(2) Acute PM&R room and board includes, but is not limited to:

(a) Facility use;

(b) Medical social services;

(c) Bed and standard room furnishings; and

(d) Dietary and nursing services.

(3) When the department authorizes administrative day(s) for a client as described in WAC 388-550-2561(8), the department pays the facility:

(a) The administrative day rate; and

(b) For pharmaceuticals prescribed in the client's use during the administrative portion of the client's stay.

(4) The department pays for transportation services provided to a client receiving acute PM&R services in an acute PM&R hospital according to chapter 388-546 WAC.

WAC 388-550-3400 Case-mix index. (1) The department:

(a) Adjusts hospital costs used to calculate the conversion factor and per diem rates during the rebasing process by the hospital's case-mix index; and

(b) Calculates the case-mix index (CMI) for each individual hospital to measure the relative cost for treating medicaid and SCHIP cases in a given hospital.

(2) The department calculates the CMI for each hospital using medicaid and SCHIP admissions data from the individual hospital and the hospital's base period cost report. See WAC 388-550-3150. The CMI is calculated for each hospital by summing all relative weights for all claims in the dataset, and dividing the sum of the relative weights by the number of claims. That amount represents the relative acuity of the claims. The hospital-specific CMI is calculated as follows:

(a) The department multiplies the number of medicaid and SCHIP admissions to the hospital for a specific DRG classification by the relative weight for that DRG classification. The department repeats this process for each DRG billed by the hospital.

(b) The department adds together the products in (a) of this subsection for all of the medicaid and SCHIP admissions to the hospital in the base year.

(c) The department divides the sum obtained in (b) of this subsection by the corresponding number of medicaid and SCHIP hospital admissions.

(d) Example: If the average case mix index for a group of hospitals is 1.0, a CMI of 1.0 or greater for a hospital in that group means that the hospital has treated a mix of patients in the more costly DRG classifications. A CMI of less than 1.0 indicates a mix of patients in the less costly DRG classifications.

(3) The department recalculates each hospital's case-mix index periodically, but no less frequently than each time rebasing is done.

WAC 388-550-3450 Payment method for calculating medicaid DRG conversion factor rates. (1) For medicaid and SCHIP accommodation costs, the department:

(a) Uses each hospital's base period cost data to calculate the hospital's total operating, capital, and direct medical education costs for each of the accommodation categories described in WAC 388-550-3150; then

(b) Divides those costs per category by total hospital days per category to arrive at a per day accommodation cost; then

(c) Multiplies the per day accommodation cost for each category by the total medicaid and SCHIP days to arrive at total medicaid accommodation costs per category for the three components.

(2) For ancillary costs the department:

(a) Uses the base period cost data to calculate total operating, capital, and direct medical education costs for each of the hospital's ancillary categories described in WAC 388-550-3150; then

(b) Divides these costs by total charges per category to arrive at a ratio of costs-to-charges (RCC) per ancillary category; then

(c) Multiplies these RCCs by medicaid and SCHIP charges per category, as tracked by the medicaid management information system (MMIS), to arrive at total medicaid and SCHIP ancillary costs per category for the three components (operating, capital, and medical education).

(3) The department:

(a) Combines medicaid and SCHIP accommodation and ancillary costs to derive the hospital's total costs for operating, capital, and direct medical education components for the base year; then

(b) Divides the hospital's combined total cost by the number of medicaid and SCHIP cases during the base year to arrive at an average medicaid and SCHIP cost per discharge; then

(c) For dates of admission before August 1, 2007, adjusts, for hospitals with a fiscal year ending different than the common fiscal year end, the medicaid and SCHIP average cost by a factor determined by the department to standardize hospital costs to the common fiscal year end. The department adjust the hospital's medicaid and SCHIP average cost by the hospital's specific case mix index.

(4) For dates of admission before August 1, 2007, the department caps the medicaid and SCHIP average cost per case for peer groups B and C at seventy percent of the peer group average. In calculation of the peer group cap, the department removes the indirect medical education and outlier costs from the medicaid average cost per admission.

(a) For hospitals in department peer groups B or C, the department determines aggregate costs for the operating, capital, and direct medical education components at the lesser of hospital-specific aggregate cost or the peer group cost cap; then

(b) To whichever is less, the hospital-specific aggregate cost or the peer group cost cap determined in subsection (4) of this section, the department adds:

(i) The individual hospital's indirect medical education costs, as determined in WAC 388-550-3250(2); and

(ii) An outlier cost adjustment in accordance with WAC 388-550-3350.

(5) For dates of admission before August 1, 2007, for an inflation adjustment and outlier set-aside adjustment, the department may:

(a) Multiply the sum obtained in subsection (4) of this section by an inflation factor as determined by the legislature for the period January 1 of the year after the base year through October 31 of the rebase year;

(b) Reduce the product obtained in (a) of this subsection by the outlier set-aside percentage determined in accordance with WAC 388-550-3350(3) to arrive at the hospital's adjusted CBCF.

(6) For dates of admission on and after August 1, 2007, the department establishes medicaid DRG conversion factors for calculation of the medicaid and SCHIP DRG payments.

(a) The department determines DRG conversion factors based on the estimated hospital operating, capital, and direct medical education costs from medicaid and SCHIP fee-for-services and Health Option claims data for the most current state fiscal year, or "base year claims data." The claims data is designated by the department as the "base year claims data" used for the DRG conversion factor calculation process. The "base year claims data" consists of medicaid and SCHIP fee-for-service and health options claims data for the most current state fiscal year (at the time the rebasing process takes place) from instate acute care hospitals that are not a critical access hospital (CAH) or a long term acute care (LTAC) hospital. The detailed cost calculation is described in WAC 388-550-3150. Only base year claims grouped to a DRG classification that has a stable DRG relative weight are included in the DRG conversion factor calculation. Stable relative weight DRGs are defined in WAC 388-550-3100.

(b) The department calculates and adjusts hospital-specific operating, capital and direct medical education costs as follows:

(i) For hospital-specific operating costs (to determine the labor portion, the department used the factor established by medicare multiplied by the statewide operating standardized amount) by the most currently available hospital-specific medicare wage index established by medicare that exists at the time of the medicaid rebasing; then adds the nonlabor portion to the result; then divides the result by (1.0 plus the most currently available hospital-specific medicare operating indirect medical education factor established by medicare that exists at the time of the medicaid rebasing); then divides that result by the hospital-specific medicaid case-mix index; then

(ii) For hospital-specific capital costs, the department divides hospital-specific capital costs by (1.0 plus the hospital-specific medicare capital indirect medical education factor); then divides that result by the hospital-specific medicaid case-mix; then

(iii) For hospital-specific direct medical education costs, the department divides hospital-specific direct medical education costs by the hospital-specific medicaid case-mix; then

(iv) To make adjustments to hospital-specific costs derived in subsections (i) through (iii) of this subsection, the department uses:

(A) The medicare wage indices and indirect medical education factors in effect for the medicare inpatient prospective payment system (PPS) federal fiscal year that most closely matches the time period covered by the medicare cost report used for these calculations; and

(B) The medicaid case mix indices based on the recalibrated DRG relative weights applied to the base year claims data. Medicaid case mix index is described in WAC 388-550-3400.

(c) Calculates statewide operating and capital standardized amounts to adjust hospital-specific operating and capital costs as follows. The department:

(i) Divides the statewide aggregate adjusted operating costs by the statewide aggregate number of discharges in the base year claims data (cost and discharges are described in subsection (a) and (b) of this subsection); and

(ii) Divides the statewide aggregate adjusted capital costs by the statewide aggregate number of discharges in the base year claims data (costs and discharges described in subsection (a) and (b) of this section.

(d) The department makes hospital-specific adjustments to the statewide operating and capital standardized amounts as follows:

(i) To determine the labor portion, the department used the factor established by medicare multiplied by the statewide operating standardized amount. The labor portion of the hospital-specific operating standardized amount is multiplied by the most currently available hospital-specific medicare wage index established by medicare that exists at the time of the medicaid rebasing; then the nonlabor portion is added to the result; then the result is multiplied by (1.0 plus the most currently available hospital-specific medicare operating indirect medical education factor established by medicare that exists at the time of the medicaid rebasing). These adjustments are made only at the time the rate setting calculation takes place during the rebasing process.

(ii) Capital standardized amount is multiplied by (1.0 plus the most current available hospital-specific medicare capital indirect medical education factor that has been published at the point the rate setting calculation takes place during the rebasing process).

(e) To determine hospital-specific DRG conversion factors, the department sums for each hospital:

(i) The adjusted operating standardized amount;

(ii) The adjusted capital standardized amount; and

(iii) The direct medical education cost per discharge adjusted for hospital-specific case-mix index.

(f) The department adjusts the hospital-specific DRG conversion factors for inflation based on the CMS PPS input price index. The adjustment is to reflect the increases in price index levels between the base year data and the rebased inpatient payment system implementation year.

(g) The department may adust the hospital-specific DRG conversion factors by a factor to achieve budget neutrality for the state's aggregate inpatient payments for all hospital inpatient services for the rebasing implementation year.

(h) The department may make other necessary adjustments as directed by the legislature.

(i) The hospital's specific DRG conversion factor may not be changed unless the inpatient payment system is rebased or the legislature authorized the changes.

WAC 388-550-3460 Payment method—Per diem rate. (1) For dates of admission before August 1, 2007 the department established per diem rates for:

(a) Inpatient chronic pain management as indicated in WAC 388-550-2400;

(b) Long term acute care (LTAC) hospitals as indicated in WAC 388-550-2595;

(c) Community psychiatric inpatient hospitalization as indicated in WAC 388-550-2650; and

(d) Administrative day status, and nursing facility swing bed day status, as indicated in WAC 388-550-4500.

(2) For dates of admission on and after August 1, 2007, the department continues to pay per diems for the services identified in subsection (1), except for the community psychiatric hospitalization per diem indicated in subsection (1)(c).

(3) For dates of admission on and after August 1, 2007, with the exception of psychiatric services, the department establishes per diem rates for specialty services that are generally based on statewide standardized average cost per day amounts, which are then adjusted to reflect the unique characteristic of hospitals in the state of Washington for payment purposes.

(a) The department calculates separate statewide standardized per diem rates for the following categories:

(i) Rehabilitation services—Rehabilitation claims are identified as all claims with a rehabilitation diagnosis (i.e., assigned to a rehabilitation AP-DRG classification) at acute care hospitals and freestanding rehabilitation hospitals including distinct part units;

(ii) Detoxification services—Detoxification claims are identified as all claims from hospital-based detoxification units, and all claims with a detoxification diagnosis (i.e., assigned to a detoxification AP-DRG classification) at acute care hospitals.

(iii) CUP women program services—Chemically using pregnant (CUP) women program services are identified as any claims with units of service (days) submitted to revenue code 129 in the claim record.

(b) The department calculates hospital-specific per diem rates for all medicaid services provided by free-standing psychiatric hospitals, and all psychiatric services provided by acute care hospitals, including distinct part units.

(c) To determine statewide standardized cost per day amounts for rehabilitation, detoxification and CUP women program services, the department uses the estimated costs of the claims identified for each category based on the department's cost finding process for the system. These claims include any statistical outliers. These statewide standardized amounts serve as the basis for calculating per diem rates for each hospital for each service. The department then makes adjustments to the cost amounts for each hospital to factor out differences related to approved medical education programs.

(i) For each in-state acute care hospital, excluding critical access hospitals (CAHs) and LTAC hospitals, the department estimates operating and capital costs for each of the three specialty services.

(ii) The department then adjusts these costs to remove the indirect costs associated with approved medical education programs. Medicare publishes separate indirect medical education factors for operating and capital components, so these adjustments are made separately for both of these components. These factors are intended to reflect the indirect costs incurred by hospitals in support of approved graduate medical education programs.

(A) For hospital-specific operating costs, the department adjusts the labor portion of the hospital-specific operating costs by the most currently available hospital-specific medicare wage index established by medicare that exists at the time of the medicaid rebasing; then adds the nonlabor portion to the result; then divides the result by (1.0 plus the most currently available hospital-specific medicare operating indirect medical education factor established by medicare that exists at the time of the medicaid rebasing); then divides that result by the hospital-specific medicaid case-mix index; then

(B) For hospital-specific capital costs, the department divides hospital-specific capital costs by (1.0 plus the hospital-specific medicare capital indirect medical education factor); then divides the result by the hospital-specific medicaid case-mix; then

(iii) The department then sums the costs and days for all included hospitals for each service, and calculates each services' statewide standardized weighted average cost per day amounts, weighted based on number of days.

(d) Once the department establishes the statewide standardized amounts, hospital-specific per diem rates for each specialty service are calculated.

(i) Starting with the statewide standardized operating amount, the department multiplies the labor portion of the amount (to determine the labor portion, the department used the factor established by medicare multiplied by the statewide operating standardized amount) by the most currently available hospital-specific wage index established by medicare that exists at the time of the medicaid rebasing, as published by medicare. This adjustment is made to reflect wage differences incurred by hospitals in different regions of the state. The department then adds the nonlabor portion to the result.

(ii) The department adjusted operating and capital amounts reflect the indirect costs associated with approved teaching programs. The department adjusts for the indirect costs by multiplying the operating and capital amounts by (1.0 plus the most currently available hospital-specific medicare indirect medical education factor in the medicare final rule for the operating and capital components). These adjustments are made only at the time the rate setting calculation takes place during the rebasing process.

(iii) The department then adds to the operating and capital amounts the hospital-specific direct medical education cost per day (hospital-specific direct medical education cost per day adjusted for hospital-specific case-mix index).

(iv) Finally, the department adjusts the facility-specific combined operating, capital and medical education cost per day amounts to reflect increases in inflation between the base year and the implementation year using the CMS PPS Input Price Index. For purposes of this adjustment, the department applies the operating index to the operating and direct medical education components of the per diem rate, and the capital-related index to the capital component of the per diem rate.

(e) Specialty service claims are not eligible for high outlier payments. See WAC 388-550-3700.

(4) For dates of admission on and after August 1, 2007, the department establishes hospital-specific per diem rates for psychiatric services provided by instate noncritical access hospitals that are free-standing psychiatric hospitals, acute care hospitals with psychiatric distinct part units, or other acute care hospitals.

(a) The department identifies psychiatric claims for hospitals meeting the criteria in this subsection as all claims from free-standing psychiatric hospitals, and all claims with a psychiatric diagnosis (i.e., assigned to a psychiatric AP-DRG classification) at the acute care hospitals. The department includes all claims from freestanding psychiatric hospitals, regardless of AP-DRG assignment.

(b) To determine facility-specific payment rate per day for psychiatric services, the department uses the greater of the estimated costs per diem of the:

(i) Hospital's inpatient psychiatric claims in the base year dataset; or

(ii) Statewide average of the estimated costs of the hospital's inpatient psychiatric claims (as described in subsection (4)(a)) in the base year claims including adjustments for regional wage differences and for differences in medical education costs.

(c) The department calculates average cost per day amounts for each hospital and then makes adjustments to the average cost per day amounts to reflect changes in the indirect medical education factor and hospital-specific wage index between the base year and the implementation year.

(d) Finally, the department adjusts the hospital-specific combined operating, capital and medical education cost per day amounts to reflect increases in inflation between the base year and the implementation year using the CMS PPS Input Price Index. For purposes of this adjustment, the department applies the operating index to the operating and direct medical education components of the per diem rate, and the capital-related index to the capital component of the per diem rate.

(5) For dates of admission on and after August 1, 2007, for hospitals not meeting the criteria in subsection (4), the department calculates per diem rates using the same method used for rehabilitation, detoxification and CUP women program payments described in this section, except that the department uses only the psychiatric claims from those facilities identified as qualifying for hospital-specific rates.

(6) For dates of admission on and after August 1, 2007, for freestanding rehabilitation facilities, the department uses the per diem rate established for rehabilitative services rather than a facility-specific rate.

(7) For dates of admission on and after August 1, 2007, for claims that are classified into AP-DRG classifications that do not have enough claims volume to establish stable relative weights, and that are not specialty claims as described in this section, the department also uses a per diem rate.

(a) These types of claims are less homogeneous than the specialty claims described in this section, and the costs of these claims are more variable than the costs of those that are included under the DRG payment method. The department conducts significant analyses to establish per diem rates based on groupings that would distinguish between higher cost per day claims and lower cost per day claims. As part of this analysis, the department analyzes costs per day based on the following criteria for groupings, which are not mutually exclusive:

(i) Neonatal claims, based on assignment to major diagnostic category (MDC) 15;

(ii) Burn claims based on assignment to MDC 22;

(iii) AP-DRG assignments that include primarily medical procedures;

(iv) AP-DRG assignments that include primarily surgical procedures;

(v) Cranial procedure claims, based on specific cranial procedure AP-DRG classifications, and

(vi) MDC assignment.

(b) Based on the analyses of cost per day amounts for each grouping criteria identified in subsection (7)(a), the department identified four nonspecialty service groupings appropriate for establishing per diem payments. These are:

(i) Neonatal claims, based on assignment to MDC 15;

(ii) Burn claims based on assignment to MDC 22;

(iii) AP-DRG assignments that include primarily medical procedures, excluding any neonatal or burn classifications identified in this subsection; and

(iv) AP-DRG assignments that include primarily surgical procedures, excluding any neonatal or burn classifications identified in this subsection.

(c) For each service group, except for burn cases, the department calculates a per diem rate for each hospital based on the aggregate statewide weighted average cost per day for the service after adjusting costs for regional wage differences and differences in graduate medical education program costs. Unstable burn claim per diem rates are based on the average cost per day of unstable burn claims at Harborview Medical Center, which treats the vast majority of burn cases in the state.

(d) The per diem calculations are based on the estimated costs of the claims for each service group in the base year, including both fee-for-service and healthy options claims data. After determining the statewide weighted average cost per day after these adjustments, the department calculates the per diem rate for each hospital for each service group by adjusting the statewide weighted average cost per day amount for each hospital based on its hospital-specific wage index and medical education program costs.

(e) Because of the variability of the cost of claims in unstable AP-DRG classifications, the department developed an outlier policy for these per diem payments, similar to the outlier methodology recommended for the DRG payment method.

(f) Claims that are not in the specialty service groupings indicated in subsection (3)(a) and (b), may qualify for a high outlier payment if the claim qualifies under the high outlier criteria. See WAC 388-550-3700.

WAC 388-550-3470 Payment method—Bariatric surgery—Per case rate. (1) The department:

(a) Pays for bariatric surgery provided in designated department-approved hospitals when all criteria established in WAC 388-550-2301 and 388-550-3020 are met;

(b) Requires qualification and prior authorization of the provider before bariatric surgery related services are provided (see WAC 388-550-2301); and

(c) Uses a per case rate to pay for bariatric surgery.

(2) For dates of admission before August 1, 2007, the department determines the per case rate by using a hospital-specific medicare fee schedule rate the department used to pay for bariatric surgery.

(3) For dates of admission on and after August 1, 2007, the department determines the per case rate by using the bariatric per case rate calculation method described in this subsection and established by the department's new inpatient payment system implemented on August 1, 2007.

(a) To adjust hospital-specific operating, capital, and direct medical education costs, the department:

(i) Inflates the hospital-specific operating, capital, and direct medical education routine costs from the hospital's medicare cost report fiscal year to the mid-point of the state fiscal year.

(ii) Divides the labor portion of the hospital-specific operating costs by the hospital-specific medicare wage index in effect for the medicare inpatient prospective payment system federal fiscal year that most closely matches the time period covered by the medicare cost report used for these calculations.

(b) To determine the statewide standardized weighted average cost per case by using the adjusted hospital-specific operating and capital costs derived in (a) of this subsection, the department:

(i) Adjusts the hospital-specific operating and capital costs to remove the indirect costs associated with approved medical education programs; then

(ii) Calculates the operating standardized amount by dividing statewide aggregate adjusted operating costs by the statewide aggregate number cases in the base year claims data; then

(iii) Calculates the capital standardized amount by dividing statewide aggregate adjusted capital costs by the statewide aggregate number of cases in the base year claims data.

(c) To make hospital-specific adjustments to the statewide operating and capital standardized amounts, the department:

(i) Defines the adjusted operating standardized amount for bariatric services as the average of all instate hospitals operating standardized amount after making adjustments for the wage index and the indirect medical education. The department:

(A) To determine the labor portion, uses the factor established by medicare multiplied by the statewide operating standardized amount, then multiplies the labor portion of the operating standardized amount by (1.0 plus the most currently available hospital-specific medicare wage index); then

(B) Adds the nonlabor portion of the operating standardized amount to the labor portion derived in (c)(i)(A) of this subsection; then

(C) Multiplies the amount derived in (c)(i)(B) of this subsection by 1.0 plus the most currently available hospital-specific medicare operating indirect medical education factor to derive the operating standardized amount for bariatric services; then

(D) Adjusts the hospital-specific operating standardized amount for bariatric services for inflation based on the CMS PPS input price index. The adjustment is to reflect the increases in price index levels between the base year data and the payment system implementation year.

(E) Calculates the statewide bariatric operating payment per case amount by:

(I) Totaling the hospital-specific amounts derived in (c)(i)(D) of this subsection for each hospital approved by the department to provide bariatric services; and

(II) Dividing the results in (E)(I) of this subsection by the number of instate hospitals approved by the department to provide bariatric services.

(ii) Defines the adjusted capital standardized amount for bariatric services as the average of all instate hospitals capital standardized amount after adjusting for the indirect medical education. The department:

(A) Multiplies the amount derived in (b)(iii) of this subsection by (1.0 plus the most currently available hospital-specific medicare capital indirect medical education factor) to derive the adjusted indirect medical education capital standardized amount for bariatric services.

(B) Adjusts the hospital-specific capital standardized amount for bariatric services for inflation based on the CMS PPS input price index. The adjustment is to reflect the increases in price index levels between the base year data and the payment system implementation year.

(C) Calculates the statewide bariatric capital payment per case amount by:

(I) Totaling the hospital-specific amounts derived in (c)(ii)(B) of this subsection for each hospital approved by the department to provide bariatric services; and

(II) Dividing the results derived in (C)(I) of this subsection by the number of instate hospitals approved by the department to provide bariatric services.

(iii) Defines the direct medical education standardized amount for bariatric services as the instate hospitals hospital-specific direct medical education weighted cost per case multiplied by the CMS PPS input price index. The adjustment is to reflect the increases in price index levels between the base year data and the payment system implementation year. The department calculates the statewide bariatric direct medical education standardized payment per case by:

(A) Multiplying the hospital-specific direct medical education weighted cost per case for each hospital approved by the department to provide bariatric services by the CMS PPS input price index; then

(B) Totaling the hospital-specific amounts derived in (iii)(A) of this subsection for each hospital approved by the department to provide bariatric services.

(d) To determine hospital-specific bariatric payment per case amount, the department sums for each hospital the instate statewide bariatric operating payment per case, the instate statewide bariatric capital payment per case, and the hospital-specific direct medical education payment per case. (For critical border hospitals, the direct medical education payment per case is limited at the highest direct medical education payment per case amount for the instate hospitals approved by the department to provide bariatric services.)

(e) The department adjusts the hospital-specific bariatric payment per case amount by a factor to achieve budget neutrality for the state's aggregate inpatient payments for all hospital inpatient services.

(f) The department may make other necessary adjustments as directed by the legislature (i.e., rate rebasing and other changes as directed by the legislature).

WAC 388-550-3500 Hospital annual inflation adjustment determinations. (1) Effective each state fiscal year, except rebase implementation years, the department may adjust all cost-based conversion factors (CBCF), per diem rates, and per case rates, by an inflation factor (vendor rate increase), as determined by the state legislature and supported in the state's budget. The department does not automatically give an inflation increase to negotiated conversion factors for contracted hospitals participating in the hospital selective contracting program.

(2) For dates of admission on and after August 1, 2007, except for rebase implementation years, the department makes adjustments to the hospital's DRG conversion factors, per diem rates, and per case rates, by an inflation factor (vendor rate increase), as authorized and determined by the legislature and supported in the state's budget.

WAC 388-550-3600 Diagnosis-related group (DRG) payment—Hospital transfers. The department applies the following payment rules when an eligible client transfers from one acute care hospital or distinct unit to another acute care hospital or distinct unit:

(1) The department does not pay a hospital for a nonemergency case when the hospital transfers the client to another hospital.

(2) The department pays a hospital that transfers emergency cases to another hospital, the lesser of:

(a) The appropriate diagnosis-related group (DRG) payment; or

(b) For dates of admission:

(i) Before August 1, 2007, a per diem rate multiplied by the number of medically necessary days the client stays at the transferring hospital. The department determines the per diem rate by dividing the hospital's DRG payment amount for the appropriate DRG by that DRG's average length of stay.

(ii) On or after August 1, 2007, a per diem rate multiplied by the number of medically necessary days the client stays at the transferring hospital plus one, not to exceed the total calculated DRG-based payment amount including any outlier payment amount. The department determines the per diem rate by dividing the hospital's DRG allowed amount for payment for the appropriate DRG by that DRG's statewide average length of stay for the AP-DRG classification as determined by the department.

(3) The department uses:

(a) The hospital's midnight census to determine the number of days a client stayed in the transferring hospital prior to the transfer; and

(b) The department's length of stay data to determine the number of medically necessary days for a client's hospital stay.

(4) The department:

(a) Pays the hospital that ultimately discharges the client to any residence other than a hospital (e.g., home, nursing facility, etc.) the full DRG payment; and

(b) Applies the outlier payment methodology if a transfer case qualifies:

(i) For dates of admission before August 1, 2007, as a high-cost or low-cost outlier; and

(ii) For dates of admission on or after August 1, 2007, as a high outlier.

(5) The department does not pay a discharging hospital any additional amounts as a transferring hospital if it transfers a client to another hospital (intervening hospital) which subsequently sends the client back.

(a) The department's maximum payment to the discharging hospital is the full DRG payment.

(b) The department pays the intervening hospital(s) a per diem payment based on the method described in subsection (2) of this section.

(6) The department makes all applicable claim payment adjustments to claims for client responsibility, third party liability, medicare, etc.

WAC 388-550-3700 DRG high-cost and low-cost outliers, and new system DRG and per diem high outliers. This section applies to inpatient hospital claims paid under the diagnosis-related group (DRG) payment methodology, and for dates of admission on and after August 1, 2007. It also applies to inpatient hospital claims paid under per diem payment methodology.

(1) For dates of admission before August 1, 2007, a medicaid or state-administered claim qualifies as a DRG high-cost outlier when:

(a) The client's admission date on the claim is before January 1, 2001, the stay did not meet the definition of "administrative day," and the allowed charges exceed:

(i) A threshold of twenty-eight thousand dollars; and

(ii) A threshold of three times the applicable DRG payment amount.

(b) The client's admission date on the claim is January 1, 2001, or after, the stay did not meet the definition of "administrative day," and the allowed charges exceed:

(i) A threshold of thirty-three thousand dollars; and

(ii) A threshold of three times the applicable DRG payment amount.

(2) For dates of admission before August 1, 2007, if the claim qualifies as a DRG high-cost outlier, the high-cost outlier threshold, for payment purposes, is the amount in subsection (1)(a)(i) or (ii), whichever is greater, for an admission date before January 1, 2001; or subsection (1)(b)(i) or (ii), whichever is greater, for an admission date January 1, 2001 or after.

(3) For dates of admission before August 1, 2007, the department determines payment for medicaid claims that qualify as DRG high-cost outliers as follows:

(a) All qualifying claims, except for claims in psychiatric DRGs 424-432 and in-state children's hospitals, are paid seventy-five percent of the allowed charges above the outlier threshold determined in subsection (2) of this section, multiplied by the hospital's RCC rate, plus the applicable DRG payment.

(b) In-state children's hospitals are paid eighty-five percent of the allowed charges above the outlier threshold determined in subsection (2) of this section, multiplied by the hospital's RCC rate, plus the applicable DRG payment.

(c) Psychiatric DRG high-cost outliers for DRGs 424-432 are paid one hundred percent of the allowed charges above the outlier threshold determined in subsection (2) of this section, multiplied by the hospital's RCC rate, plus the applicable DRG payment.

Three examples for DRG high-cost outlier claim qualification and payment calculation (admission dates are January 1, 2001, or after, and before August 1, 2007).

(4) For dates of admission before August 1, 2007, DRG high-cost outliers for state-administered programs are paid according to WAC 388-550-4800.

(5) For dates of admission before August 1, 2007, a medicaid or state-administered claim qualifies as a DRG low-cost outlier if:

(a) The client's admission date on the claim is before January 1, 2001, and the allowed charges are:

(i) Less than ten percent of the applicable DRG payment; or

(ii) Less than four hundred dollars.

(b) The client's admission date on the claim is January 1, 2001, or after, and the allowed charges are:

(i) Less than ten percent of the applicable DRG payment; or

(ii) Less than four hundred fifty dollars.

(6) If the claim qualifies as a DRG low-cost outlier:

(a) For an admission date before January 1, 2001, the low-cost outlier amount is the amount in subsection (5)(a)(i) or (ii), whichever is greater; or

(b) For an admission date on January 1, 2001, or after, the low-cost outlier amount is the amount in subsection (5)(b)(i) or (ii), whichever is greater.

(7) For dates of admission before August 1, 2007, the department determines payment for a medicaid claim that qualifies as a DRG low-cost outlier by multiplying the allowed charges for each claim by the hospital's RCC rate.

(8) For dates of admission before August 1, 2007, DRG low-cost outliers for state-administered programs are paid according to WAC 388-550-4800.

(9) For dates of admission before August 1, 2007 the department makes day outlier payments to hospitals in accordance with section 1923 (a)(2)(C) of the Social Security Act, for clients who have exceptionally long stays that do not reach DRG high-cost outlier status. A hospital is eligible for the day outlier payment if it meets all of the following criteria:

(a) The hospital is a disproportionate share hospital (DSH) and the client served is under age six, or the hospital may not be a DSH hospital but the client served is a child under age one;

(b) The payment methodology for the admission is DRG;

(c) The allowed charges for the hospitalization are less than the DRG high-cost outlier threshold as defined in subsection (2) of this section; and

(d) The client's length of stay exceeds the day outlier threshold for the applicable DRG payment amount. The day outlier threshold is defined as the number of days in an average length of stay for a discharge (for an applicable DRG payment), plus twenty days.

(10) For dates of admission before August 1, 2007 the department bases the day outlier payment on the number of days that exceed the day outlier threshold, multiplied by the administrative day rate.

(11) For dates of admission before August 1, 2007, the department's total payment for day outlier claims is the applicable DRG payment plus the day outlier or administrative days payment.

(12) For dates of admission before August 1, 2007, a client's outlier claim is either a day outlier or a high-cost outlier, but not both.

(13) For dates of admission on and after August 1, 2007, the department does not identify a claim as a low cost outlier or day outlier. Instead, these claims are processed using the applicable payment method described in this chapter. The department may review claims with very low costs.

(14) For dates of admission on and after August 1, 2007, the department allows a high outlier payment for claims paid using the DRG payment method when high outlier qualifying criteria are met. The estimated costs of the claim are calculated by multiplying the total submitted charges, minus the noncovered charges on the claim, by the hospital's ratio of costs-to-charges (RCC) rate. The department identifies a DRG high outlier claim based on the claim's estimated costs. To qualify as a DRG high outlier claim, the department determined estimated costs for the claim must be greater than both the fixed outlier cost threshold of fifty thousand dollars and one hundred seventy-five percent of the applicable base DRG allowed amount for payment. These criteria are also used to determine if a transfer claim qualifies for high outlier payment when a transfer claim is submitted to the department by a transferring hospital.

For Children's Hospital Regional Medical Center, Mary Bridge Children's Hospital and Health Center, and claims grouped to neonatal and pediatric DRGs under the DRG payment method, the department identifies a high outlier claim based on the claim's estimated costs. To qualify as a high outlier claim, the claim's estimated cost amount must be greater than both the fixed outlier threshold of fifty thousand dollars and one hundred fifty percent of the applicable base DRG allowed amount for payment.

(15) For dates of admission on and after August 1, 2007, the department may allow an adjustment for a high outlier for per diem claims grouped to a DRG classification in one of the acute unstable DRG service categories, i.e., medical, surgical, burn, and neonatal. These service categories are described in subsection (16) of this section.

The department identifies high outlier per diem claims for medical, surgical, burn, and neonatal DRG service categories based on the claim estimated costs. The claim estimated costs are the total submitted charges, minus the noncovered charges for the claim, multiplied by the hospital's ratio of costs-to-charges (RCC) related to the admission. To qualify as a high outlier claim, when a claim is grouped to medical, surgical, burn, or neonatal DRG service category, the claim's estimated cost amount must be greater than both the fixed outlier threshold of fifty thousand dollars and one hundred seventy-five percent of the applicable per diem base allowed amount for payment.

For Children's Hospital Regional Medical Center, Mary Bridge Children's Hospital and Health Center, and claims grouped to neonatal and pediatric DRGs under medical, surgical, burn, and neonatal services categories, the department identifies high outlier claims based on the claim's estimated costs. To qualify as a high outlier claim, the claim's estimated cost amount must be greater than both the fixed outlier threshold of fifty thousand dollars and one hundred fifty percent of the applicable per diem base allowed amount for payment.

The department performs retrospective prepay utilization review on all per diem outlier claims that exceed the department determined DRG average length of stay (LOS). If the department determines the entire LOS or part of the LOS is not medically necessary, the claim will be denied or the payment will be adjusted.

(16) For dates of admission on and after August 1, 2007, the term "unstable" is used generically to describe an AP-DRG classification that has fewer than ten occurrences (low volume), or that is unstable based on the statistical stability test indicated in this subsection, and to describe such claims in the major service categories of per diem paid claims identified in this section. The formula for the statistical stability test calculates the required size of a sample population of values necessary to estimate a mean cost value with ninety percent confidence and within an acceptable error of plus or minus twenty percent given the population's estimated standard deviation.

Specifically, this formula is:

$N = (Z^2 * S^2)/R^2$, where

- The Z statistic for 90 percent confidence is 1.64
- S = the standard deviation for the AP-DRG classification, and
- R = acceptable error range, per sampling unit

If the actual number of claims within an AP-DRG classification is less than the calculated N size for that classification during relative weight recalibration, the department designates that DRG classification as unstable for purposes of calculating relative weights. And as previously stated, for relative weight recalibration, the department also designates any DRG classification having less than ten claims in total in the claims sample used to recalibrate the relative weights, as low volume and unstable.

The DRG classification assigned to the per diem payment method, that are in one of the following major services categories in subsection (16)(a) through (d) of this section, qualify for determination to ascertain if a high outlier payment is appropriate. The department specifies those DRG classifications to be paid the per diem payment method because the DRG classification has low volume and/or unstable claims data for determination of a AP-DRG relative weight. A claim in a DRB classification that falls into one of the following major services categories that the department designates for per diem payment, may receive a per diem high outlier payment when the claim meets the high outlier criteria as described in subsection (15) of this section:

(a) Neonatal claims, based on assignment to medical diagnostic category (MDC) 15;

(b) Burn claims based on assignment to MDC 22;

(c) AP-DRG groups that include primarily medical procedures, excluding any neonatal or burn per diem classifications identified in (a) and (b) of this subsection; and

(d) AP-DRG groups that include primarily surgical procedures, excluding any neonatal or burn per diem classifications identified in (a) and (b) of this subsection.

(17) For dates of admission on and after August 1, 2007, the high outlier claim payment processes for the general assistance-unemployable (GA-U) program are the same as those for the medicaid or SCHIP DRG paid and per diem paid claims, except that the DRG rates and per diem rates are reduced, and the percent of outlier adjustment factor applied to the payment may be reduced. The high outlier claim payment process for medicaid or SCHIP DRG paid and per diem paid claims is as follows:

(a) The department determines the claim estimated cost amount that is used in the determination of the high outlier claim qualification and the high outlier threshold for the calculation of outlier adjustment amount. The claim estimated cost is equal to the total submitted charges, minus the noncovered charges reported on the claim, multiplied by the hospital's inpatient ratio of costs-to-charges (RCC) related to the admission.

(b) The high outlier threshold when calculating the high outlier adjustment portion of the total payment allowed amount on the claim is:

(i) For DRG paid claims grouped to nonneonatal or nonpediatric DRG classifications, and for DRG paid claims that are not from Children's Hospital Regional Medical Center or Mary Bridge Children's Hospital and Health Center, the high outlier threshold is one hundred seventy-five percent of the base DRG payment allowed amount;

(ii) For DRG paid claims grouped to neonatal or pediatric DRG classifications, and for DRG paid claims that are from Children's Hospital Regional Medical Center or Mary Bridge Children's Hospital and Health Center, the high outlier threshold is one hundred fifty percent of the base DRG payment allowed amount;

(iii) For nonspecialty service category per diem paid claims grouped to nonneonatal and nonpediatric DRG classifications, and for nonspecialty service category per diem paid claims that are not from Children's Hospital Regional Medical Center or Mary Bridge Children's Hospital and Health Center, the high outlier threshold is one hundred seventy-five percent of the base per diem payment allowed amount; and

(iv) For nonspecialty service category per diem paid claims grouped to neonatal and pediatric DRG classifications, and for all nonspecialty service category per diem paid claims from Children's Hospital Regional Medical Center and Mary Bridge Children's Hospital and Health Center, the high outlier threshold is one hundred fifty percent of the base per diem payment allowed amount;

(c) The high outlier payment allowed amount is equal to the difference between the department's estimated cost of services associated with the claim, and the high outlier threshold for payment indicated in (b)(i) through (iv) of this subsection, respectively, the resulting amount being multiplied by a percent of outlier adjustment factor. The percent of outlier adjustment factor is:

(i) Ninety-five percent for outlier claims that fall into one of the neonatal or pediatric AP-DRG classifications. Hospitals paid with the payment method used for out-of-state hospitals are paid using the percent of outlier adjustment factor identified in (c)(iii) of this subsection. All high outlier claims at Children's Hospital Regional Medical Center and Mary Bridge Children's Hospital and Health Center receive a ninety-five percent of outlier adjustment factor, regardless of AP-DRG classification assignment;

(ii) Ninety percent for outlier claims that fall into burn-related AP-DRG classifications;

(iii) Eighty-five percent for all other AP-DRG classifications; and

(iv) Used as indicated in WAC 388-550-4800 to calculate payment for state-administered programs' claims that are eligible for a high outlier payment.

(d) The high outlier payment allowed amount is added to the calculated allowed amount for the base DRG or base per diem payment, respectively, to determine the total payment allowed amount for the claim.

DRG high outlier

Three examples for medicaid or SCHIP DRG high outlier claim qualification and payment calculation (admission dates are on or after August 1, 2007). Example dollar amounts are approximated and not based on real claims data.

Total Submitted Charges Minus Noncovered Charges	Base DRG Payment Allowed Amount[1]	175% of Base DRG Payment Allowed Amount	Department Determined Estimated Costs Are Greater Than $50,000?[2]	Department Determined Estimated Costs Are Greater Than 175% of Base DRG Payment Allowed Amount?	Total DRG High Outlier Claim Payment Allowed Amount[3,4]	Hospital's Individual RCC Rate
$95,600	$28,837	$50,465	Yes	Yes	$38,761	65%
$64,500	$28,837	$50,465	No	Yes	$28,837	65%
$77,000	$28,837	$50,465	Yes	No	$28,837	65%

All examples represent a claim that is a nonpsychiatric claim and a claim that isn't from Children's Hospital Regional Medical Center or Mary Bridge Children's Hospital and Health Center.

Example one: The claim meets high cost outlier criteria. Example dollar amounts are approximated and not based on real claims data:

[1]DRG conversion factor times DRG relative weight = Base DRG allowed amount

$6,300 x 4.5773 = $28,837 = Base DRG allowed amount

[2]Total submitted charges minus total noncovered charges times RCC rate = Department determined estimated costs

$95,600 x 65% = $62,140 = Department determined estimated costs

[3]If department determined estimated costs are greater than the outlier qualifying criteria (in this example $50,000), then (department determined estimated costs minus 175% of base DRG payment allowed amount (high outlier payment threshold)) times claim's percent of outlier adjustment factor (see subsection (17)(c)(i), (ii) and (iii)) = High outlier portion allowed amount, if greater than $0, otherwise $0.

$62,140 - $50,465 = $11,675 x 85% = $9,924 = High outlier portion allowed amount

[4]Base DRG payment allowed amount plus high outlier portion allowed amount = Total DRG high outlier claim payment amount

$28,837 + $9,924 = $38,761

Example two: The claim does not meet high cost outlier criteria due to department-determined estimated cost being less than $50,000. Example dollar amounts are approximated and not based on real claims data:

[1]DRG conversion factor times DRG relative weight = Base DRG allowed amount

$6,300 x 4.5773 = $28,837 = Base DRG allowed amount

[2]Total submitted charges minus total noncovered charges times RCC rate = Department determined estimated costs

$64,500 x 65% = $41,925 = Department determined estimated costs

[3]If department determined estimated costs are greater than the outlier qualifying criteria, then (department determined estimated costs minus 175% of base DRG payment allowed amount (high outlier payment threshold)) times claim's percent of outlier adjustment factor (see subsection (17)(c)(i), (ii) and (iii)) = High outlier portion allowed amount, if greater than $0, otherwise $0.

($41,925 - $50,465 = ($8,540)) x 85% = ($7,259), which is converted to $0. Also, $41,925 is not greater than $50,000, so the claim does not meet the high outlier qualifying criteria. Therefore, the high outlier portion allowed amount is $0.

[4]Base DRG payment allowed amount plus high outlier portion allowed amount = Total DRG high outlier claim payment allowed amount

$28,837 + $0 = $28,837

Example three: The claim does not meet high outlier criteria due to high DRG allowed amount. Example dollar amounts are approximated and not based on real claims data:

[1]DRG conversion factor times DRG relative weight = Base DRG allowed amount

$6,300 x 4.5773 = $28,837 = Base DRG allowed amount

[2]Total submitted charges minus total noncovered charges times RCC rate = Department determined estimated costs

$77,000 x 65% = $50,050 = Department determined estimated costs

[3]If department determined estimated costs are greater than the outlier qualifying criteria, then (department determined estimated costs minus 175% of base DRG payment allowed amount (high outlier payment threshold)) times claim's percent of outlier adjustment factor (see subsection (17)(c)(i), (ii) and (iii)) = high outlier portion allowed amount, if greater than $0, otherwise $0.

($50,050 - $50,465 = ($415)) x 85% = ($353), which is converted to $0. Also, $50,050 is greater than $50,000, but not greater than $50,465, so the claim does not meet the high outlier qualifying criteria. Therefore, the high outlier portion allowed amount is $0.

[4]Base DRG payment allowed amount plus high outlier portion allowed amount = Total DRG high outlier claim payment allowed amount

$28,837 + $0 = $28,837

Per Diem High Outlier

Three examples for medicaid and SCHIP per diem high outlier claim qualification and payment calculation (admission dates are on or after August 1, 2007). Example dollar amounts are approximated and not based on real claims data.

Total Submitted Charges Less Total Noncovered Charges	Base Per Diem Payment Allowed Amount[1]	175% of Base Per Diem Payment Allowed Amount	Department Determined Estimated Costs Are Greater Than $50,000?[2]	Department Determined Estimated Costs Are Greater Than 175% of Base Per Diem Payment Allowed Amount?	Total Per Diem High Outlier Claim's Payment Allowed Amount[3,4]	Hospital's Individual RCC Rate
$100,000	$25,000	$43,750	Yes	Yes	$47,313	70%
$64,000	$25,000	$43,750	No	Yes	$25,000	70%
$75,000	$35,000	$61,250	Yes	No	$35,000	70%

All examples represent a claim that is a nonpsychiatric claim and a claim that isn't from Children's Hospital Regional Medical Center or Mary Bridge Children's Hospital and Health Center.

Example one: The claim meets high cost outlier criteria. Example dollar amounts are approximated and not based on real claims data:

[1]Per diem rate times client's department recognized length of stay for eligible days = Base per diem allowed amount

$1,000 (rate) x 25 (days) = $25,000 = Base per diem allowed amount

[2]Total submitted charges minus total noncovered charges times RCC rate = Department determined estimated costs

$100,000 x 70% = $70,000 = Department determined estimated costs

[3]If department determined estimated costs are greater than the outlier qualifying criteria, then (department determined estimated costs minus 175% of base per diem payment allowed amount (high outlier payment threshold)) times claim's percent of outlier adjustment factor (see subsection (17)(c)(i), (ii) and (iii)) = High outlier portion allowed amount, if greater than $0, otherwise $0.

($70,000 - $43,750 = $26,250) x 85% = $22,313 = High outlier portion allowed amount

[4]Base per diem payment allowed amount plus high outlier portion allowed amount = Total per diem high outlier claim payment allowed amount

$25,000 + $22,313 = $47,313

Example two: The claim does not meet high cost outlier criteria due to department-determined estimated cost being less than $50,000. Example dollar amounts are approximated and not based on real claims data:

[1]Per diem rate times client's department recognized length of stay for eligible days = Base per diem allowed amount

$1,000 x 25 = $25,000 = Base per diem allowed amount

[2]Total submitted charges minus total noncovered charges times RCC rate = Department determined estimated costs

$64,500 x 70% = $45,150 = Department determined estimated costs

[3]If department determined estimated costs are greater than the outlier qualifying criteria, then (department determined estimated costs minus 175% of base per diem payment allowed amount (high outlier payment threshold)) times claim's percent of outlier adjustment factor (see subsection

(17)(c)(i), (ii) and (iii)) = High outlier portion allowed amount, if greater than $0, otherwise $0.

($45,150 - $43,750 = $1,400), but $45,150 is not greater than $50,000, so the claim does not meet the high outlier qualifying criteria. Therefore, the high outlier portion allowed amount is $0.

[4]Base per diem payment allowed amount plus high outlier portion allowed amount = Total per diem high outlier claim payment allowed amount

$25,000 + $0 = $25,000

Example three: (The claim does not meet high outlier criteria due to high DRG allowed amount. Example dollar amounts are approximated and not based on real claims data):

[1]Per diem rate times client's department recognized length of stay for eligible days = Base per diem allowed amount

$1,000 x 35 = $35,000 = Base per diem allowed amount

[2]Total submitted charges minus total noncovered charges times RCC rate = Department determined estimated costs

$75,000 x 70% = $52,500 = Department determined estimated costs

[3]If department determined estimated costs are greater than the outlier qualifying criteria, then (department determined estimated costs minus 175% of base DRG payment allowed amount (high outlier payment threshold)) times claim's percent of outlier adjustment factor (see subsection (17)(c)(i), (ii) and (iii)) = High outlier portion allowed amount, if greater tan $0, otherwise $0.

($52,500 - $61,250 = (8,750)) x 85% = ($7,438), which is converted to $0. Also, $52,500 is greater than $50,000, but not greater than $61,250, so the claim does not meet the high outlier qualifying criteria. Therefore, the high outlier portion allowed amount is $0.

[4]Base per diem payment allowed amount plus high outlier portion allowed amount = Total per diem high outlier claim payment allowed amount

$35,000 + $0 = $35,000

(18) The department makes all applicable claim payment adjustments for client responsibility, third party liability, medicare, etc., to the payment.

WAC 388-550-3800 Rebasing and recalibration. (1) The department rebases most of the rates used in the medicaid inpatient payment system once every three years. Changes to the inpatient hospital rate calculations and rate-setting methods involved in this rebasing process are implemented pursuant to the rebasing of the rate system

(a) To determine costs for that rebasing process, the department uses:

(i) Each instate hospital's medicare cost report for the hospital fiscal year that ends during the calendar year that the rebasing base year designated by the department begins; and

(ii) Inpatient medicaid and SCHIP claims data for the twelve-month period designated by the department as the rebasing base year.

(b) The rebasing process updates rates for the diagnosis related group (DRG), per diem, and per case rate payment methods.

(c) Other inpatient payment system rates (e.g., the ratio of costs-to-charges (RCC) rates, departmental weighted costs-to-charges (DWCC) rates, administrative day rate, and swing bed rate) are rebased on an annual basis.

(d) The department increases inpatient hospital rates only when mandated by the state legislature. These increases are implemented according to the base methodology in effect, unless otherwise directed by the legislature.

(2) The department periodically recalibrates diagnosis-related group (DRG) relative weights, as described in WAC 388-550-3100, but no less frequently than each time the rate rebasing process described in subsection (1) takes place. The department makes recalibrated relative weights effective on the rebasing implementation date, which can change with each rebasing process.

(3) When recalibrating DRG relative weights without rebasing, the department may apply a budget neutrality factor (BNF) to hospitals' conversion factors to ensure that total DRG payments to hospitals do not exceed total DRG payments that would have been made to hospitals if the relative weights had not been recalibrated. For the purposes of this section, BNF equals the percentage change from total aggregate payments calculated under a new payment system to total aggregate payments calculated under the prior payment system.

WAC 388-550-3900 Payment method—Bordering city hospitals and critical border hospitals. (1) For dates of admission before August 1, 2007, under the diagnosis-related group (DRG) payment method:

(a) The department calculates the cost-based conversion factor (CBCF) of a bordering city hospital as defined in WAC 388-550-1050, in accordance with WAC 388-550-3450.

(b) For a bordering city hospital with no medicare cost report (Form 2552-96) for the rebasing year, the department assigns the department peer group average conversion factor. This is the average of all final conversion factors of hospitals in that group.

(2) For dates of admission before August 1, 2007, the department calculates:

(a) The ratio of costs-to-charges (RCC) in accordance with WAC 388-550-4500.

(b) For a bordering city hospital with no medicare cost report submitted to the department, its RCC is based on the Washington in-state average RCC.

(3) For dates of admission before August 1, 2007, the department pays a bordering city hospital using the same payment methods as for an instate hospital for allowed covered charges related to medically necessary services identified on an outpatient hospital claim.

(4) For dates of admission on and after August 1, 2007, with the exception of outpatient payment to hospitals previously paid under the outpatient prospective payment system (OPPS) methodology and critical border hospitals located in bordering cities, the department pays bordering city hospitals for allowed covered charges related to medically necessary services based on the inpatient and outpatient hospital rates and payment methods used to pay out-of-state hospitals. See WAC 388-550-4000.

(5) For dates of admission on and after August 1, 2007, the department pays a critical border hospital for allowed covered charges related to medically necessary services identified on an inpatient hospital claim:

(a) Under one of the inpatient DRG, RCC, per diem, or per case rate payment methods that are similar to the methods used to pay instate hospitals;

(b) Using a DRG conversion factor, per diem, or per case rate based on the statewide standardized average that will result in payment that does not exceed the payment that would be made to any instate hospital for the same service, including medical education components of payments; and

(c) Using a hospital's specific RCC rate based on the hospital's annual medicare cost report information for the applicable period. For a critical border hospital that does not submit a medicare cost report to the department, the department determines which instate hospital has the lowest RCC rate and uses that rate as the critical border hospital's RCC rate.

(6) The inpatient payment rates used to calculate payments to critical border hospitals are prospective payment rates. Those rates are not used to pay for claims with dates of admission before the hospital qualified as a critical border hospital. Bordering city hospitals' base period claims data is analyzed during the rebasing process, and annually thereafter, to determine if a bordering city hospital qualifies as a critical border hospital.

(7) For dates of admission on and after August 1, 2007, the department pays a critical border hospital for allowed covered charges related to medically necessary services identified on an outpatient hospital claim using the outpatient hospital payment methods and payment criteria identified in WAC 388-550-6000 and 388-550-7200. The department limits payment to bordering city hospitals that are noncritical border hospitals to the lesser of the billed charges or the calculated payment amount.

(8) The department makes applicable claim payment adjustments for client responsibility, third party liability, medicare, etc., to claim payments.

WAC 388-550-4000 Payment method—Emergency services—Out-of-state hospitals. The department pays for emergency services that are covered by the department and provided to eligible medical assistance clients as follows:

(1) For dates of admission before August 1, 2007, the department pays:

(a) Inpatient hospital claims for emergency services provided in out-of-state hospitals, the lesser of:

(i) Billed charges; or

(ii) The weighted average of ratio of cost-to-charge (RCC) ratios for in-state hospitals multiplied by the allowed covered charges for medically necessary services.

(b) Outpatient hospital claims for emergency services provided in out-of-state hospitals, the lesser of:

(i) Billed charges; or

(ii) The weighted average of outpatient hospital rates for instate hospitals multiplied by the allowed covered charges for medically necessary services.

(2) For dates of admission on and after August 1, 2007, the department pays:

(a) Inpatient hospital claims for emergency services provided in out-of-state hospitals under the inpatient diagnostic related group (DRG), ratio of costs-to-charges (RCC), per diem, and per case rate payment methods, whether or not the hospital has submitted a medicare cost report (Form 2552-96) to the department for the rebasing year. The department:

(i) Pays an out-of-state hospital and bordering city hospital that is not a critical border hospital, using the lowest of the instate inpatient hospital rates, and excludes payment for medical education (out-of-state hospitals are not eligible to receive payment for medical education). This rate is the same rate calculated for all rural hospitals in Washington for the same service (excluding DWCC rates that are paid to instate critical access hospitals).

(ii) Pays a department designated critical border hospital according to WAC 388-550-3900.

(iii) Limits payment to out-of-state hospitals and bordering city hospitals that are noncritical border hospitals to the lesser of the billed charges or the calculated payment amount.

(b) Pays outpatient hospital claims for emergency services provided in out-of-state hospitals that are:

(i) Bordering city hospitals, including critical border hospitals previously paid under the outpatient prospective payment system (OPPS) methodology for dates of admission before August 1, 2007, in accordance with WAC 388-550-7200; and

(ii) Out-of-state hospitals, including bordering city hospitals not previously paid under the OPPS methodology, the lesser of:

(A) Billed charges; or

(B) The instate average hospital outpatient rate times the allowed covered charges for medically necessary services.

(3) The department does not pay for nonemergency hospital services provided to medical assistance clients in out-of-state hospitals unless the facility is contracted and/or prior authorized by the department or the department's designee, for the specific service provided.

(i) Contracted services are paid according to the contract terms whether or not the hospital has signed a core provider agreement.

(ii) Authorized services are paid according to subsections (1) and (2) of this section.

(4) The department makes all applicable claim payment adjustments for clients responsibility, third party liability, medicare, etc., to claim payments.

WAC 388-550-4100 Payment method—New hospitals. (1) For rate-setting purposes, the department considers as new:

(a) A hospital which began services after the most recent rebased cost-based conversion factors (CBCFs) conversion factors, RCC rates, per diem rates, per case rates, etc.; or

(b) A hospital that has not been in operation for a complete fiscal year.

(2) The department determines a new hospital's:

(a) CBCF as the average of the CBCF of all hospitals within the same department peer group for dates of admission before August 1, 2007.

(b) Conversion factor, per diem rate, or per case rate, to be the statewide average rate for the conversion factor, category of per diem rate, or per case rate, for dates of admission on and after August 1, 2007, adjusted by the geographically appropriate hospital specific medicare wage index.

(3) The department determines a new hospital's ratio of costs-to-charges (RCC) by calculating and using the average RCC rate for all current Washington in-state hospitals.

(4) The department considers that a change in hospital ownership does not constitute a new hospital.

WAC 388-550-4200 Change in hospital ownership. (1) For purposes of this section, a change in hospital ownership may involve one or more, but is not limited to, the following events:

(a) A change in the composition of the partnership;

(b) A sale of an unincorporated sole proprietorship;

(c) The statutory merger or consolidation of two or more corporations;

(d) The leasing of all or part of a provider's facility if the leasing affects utilization, licensure, or certification of the provider entity;

(e) The transfer of a government-owned institution to a governmental entity or to a governmental corporation;

(f) Donation of all or part of a provider's facility to another entity if the donation affects licensure or certification of the provider entity;

(g) Disposition of all or some portion of a provider's facility or assets through sale, scrapping, involuntary conversion, demolition or abandonment if the disposition affects licensure or certification of the provider entity; or

(h) A change in the provider's federal identification tax number.

(2) A hospital must notify the department in writing ninety days prior to the date of an expected change in the hospital's ownership, but in no case later than thirty days after the change in ownership takes place.

(3) When a change in a hospital's ownership occurs, the department sets the new provider's cost-based conversion factor (CBCF), conversion factor, per diem rates, per case rate, at the same level as the prior owner's, except as provided in subsection (4) below.

(4) The department sets for a hospital formed as a result of a merger:

(a) A blended CBCF, conversion factor, per diem rate, per case rate, based on the old hospitals' rates, proportionately weighted by admissions for the old hospitals; and

(b) An RCC rate determined by combining the old hospitals' cost reports and following the process described in WAC 388-550-4500. Partial year cost reports will not be used for this purpose.

(5) The department recaptures depreciation and acquisition costs as required by section 1861 (V)(1)(0) of the Social Security Act.

WAC 388-550-4300 Hospitals and units exempt from the DRG payment method. (1) Except when otherwise specified, inpatient services provided by hospitals and units that are exempt from the diagnosis-related group (DRG) payment method are paid under the ratio of costs-to-charges (RCC) payment method described in WAC 388-550-4500, the per diem payment method described in WAC 388-550-3010, the per case rate payment method described in WAC 388-550-3020, or other payment methods identified in this chapter (e.g., long term acute care (LTAC), certified public expenditure (CPE), critical access hospital (CAH), etc.). The department limits inpatient hospital stays based on the department's determinations from medical necessity and quality assurance reviews.

(2) For dates of admission before August 1, 2007, subject to the restrictions and limitations listed in this section, the department exempts the following hospitals and units from the DRG payment method for inpatient services provided to medicaid-eligible clients:

(a) Peer group A hospitals, as described in WAC 388-550-3300(2). Exception: Inpatient services provided to clients eligible under the following programs are paid through the DRG payment method (see WAC 388-550-4400):

(i) General assistance programs; and

(ii) Other state administered programs.

(b) Peer group E hospitals, as described in WAC 388-550-3300(2). See WAC 388-550-4650 for how the department calculates payment to Peer group E hospitals.

(c) Peer group F hospitals (critical access hospitals).

(d) Rehabilitation units when the services are provided in department-approved acute physical medicine and rehabilitation (acute PM&R) hospitals and designated distinct rehabilitation units in acute care hospitals.

The department uses the same criteria as the medicare program to identify exempt rehabilitation hospitals and designated distinct rehabilitation units. Inpatient rehabilitation services provided to clients eligible under the following programs are covered and paid through the DRG payment method (see WAC 388-550-4400 for exceptions):

(i) General assistance programs; and

(ii) Other state-only administered programs.

(e) Out-of-state hospitals excluding hospitals located in designated bordering cities as described in WAC 388-501-0175. Inpatient services provided in out-of-state hospitals to clients eligible under the following programs are not covered or paid by the department:

(i) General assistance programs; and

(ii) Other state administered programs.

(f) Military hospitals when no other specific arrangements have been made with the department. Military hospitals may individually elect or arrange for one of the following payment methods in lieu of the RCC payment method:

(i) A negotiated per diem rate; or

(ii) DRG.

(g) Nonstate-owned specifically identified psychiatric hospitals and designated hospitals with medicare certified distinct psychiatric units. The department uses the same criteria as the medicare program to identify exempt psychiatric hospitals and distinct psychiatric units of hospitals.

(i) Inpatient psychiatric services provided to clients eligible under the following programs are paid through the DRG payment method:

(A) General assistance programs; and

(B) Other state administered programs.

(ii) Mental health division (MHD) designees that arrange to reimburse nonstate-owned psychiatric hospitals and designated distinct psychiatric units of hospitals directly, may use the department's payment methods or contract with the hospitals to reimburse using different methods. Claims not paid directly through a MHD are paid through the department's payment system.

(3) The department limits inpatient hospital stays for dates of admission before August 1, 2007 that are exempt from the DRG payment method and identified in subsection (2) of this section to the number of days established at the seventy-fifth percentile in the current edition of the publication, "Length of Stay by Diagnosis and Operation, Western Region," unless the stay is:

(a) Approved for a specific number of days by the department, or for psychiatric inpatient stays, by the regional support network (RSN);

(b) For chemical dependency treatment which is subject to WAC 388-550-1100; or

(c) For detoxification of acute alcohol or other drug intoxication.

(4) If subsection (3)(c) of this section applies to an eligible client, the department will:

(a) Pay for three-day detoxification services for an acute alcoholic condition; or

(b) Pay for five-day detoxification services for acute drug addiction when the services are directly related to detoxification; and

(c) Extend the three- and five-day limitations for up to six additional days if either of the following is invoked on a client under care in a hospital:

(i) Petition for commitment to chemical dependency treatment; or

(ii) Temporary order for chemical dependency treatment.

(5) For dates of admission on and after August 1, 2007, the department exempts the following hospitals, units, and services from the DRG payment method for inpatient services provided to medicaid-eligible clients:

(a) Peer group E hospitals as described in WAC 388-550-3300(2), i.e., hospitals participating in the department's certified public expenditure (CPE) payment program. See WAC 388-550-4650.

(b) Peer group F hospitals, i.e., critical access hospitals. See WAC 388-550-2598.

(c) Rehabilitation services. All rehabilitation services are paid through the per diem payment method except as indicated in (b), (c), and (f) of this subsection. See WAC 388-550-3010. Inpatient psychiatric services, involuntary treatment act services, and detoxification services provided in out-of-state hospitals are not covered or paid by the department or a MHD designee. The department does not cover or pay for other hospital services provided to clients eligible for those services in the following programs, when the services are provided in out-of-state hospitals that are not in designated bordering cities:

(i) General assistance programs; and

(ii) Other state-administered programs.

(f) Military hospitals when no other specific arrangements have been made with the department. The department, or the military hospital, may elect or arrange for one of the following payment methods in lieu of the RCC payment method:

(i) Per diem payment method; or

(ii) DRG payment method.

(g) Psychiatric services. All psychiatric services are paid through the per diem payment method except as indicated in (b), (c), and (f) of this subsection. See WAC 388-550-3010. A MHD designee that arranges to pay a hospital and/or a designated distinct psychiatric unit of a hospital directly, may use the department's payment methods or contract with the hospitals to pay using different methods. Claims not paid directly through a MHD designee are paid through the department's payment system.

(6) For dates of admission on and after August 1, 2007, the department has established an average length of stay (ALOS) for each DRG classification. The DRG ALOS is based on the claims data used during the rebasing period. For DRGs with an exceptionally low volume of claims, the department uses a proxy DRG ALOS. The DRG ALOS is used as a benchmark to authorize and pay inpatient hospital stays exempt from the DRG payment method. When an inpatient hospital stay exceeds the department's DRG ALOS benchmark or prior authorized LOS:

(a) For a psychiatric inpatient stay, the hospital must obtain approval for additional days beyond the prior authorized days from the MHD or the MHD designee who prior authorized the admission. See WAC 388-550-2600;

(b) For an acute physical medicine and rehabilitation (PM&R) or a long term acute care (LTAC) stay, the hospital must obtain approval for additional days beyond the prior authorized days from the department unit that prior authorized the admission. See WAC 388-550-2561 and 388-550-2590;

(c) For an inpatient hospital stay for detoxification for a chemical dependent pregnant CUP client, see WAC 388-550-1100;

(d) For other medical inpatient stays for detoxification, see WAC 388-550-1100 and subsection (7) of this section;

(e) For an inpatient stay in a certified public expenditure (CPE) hospital, see WAC 388-550-4690; and

(f) For an inpatient hospital stay not identified in (a) through (e) of this subsection, the department may perform retrospective utilization review to determine if the LOS was medically necessary and at the appropriate level of care.

(7) If subsection (6)(d) of this section applies to an eligible client, the department will:

(a) Pay for three-day detoxification services for an acute alcoholic condition; or

(b) Pay for five-day detoxification services for acute drug addiction when the services are directly related to detoxification; and

(c) Extend the three- and five-day limitations for up to six additional days if either of the following is invoked on a client under care in a hospital:

(i) Petition for commitment to chemical dependency treatment; or

(ii) Temporary order for chemical dependency treatment.

WAC 388-550-4400 Services—Exempt from DRG payment. (1) Except when otherwise specified, inpatient services exempt from the diagnosis-related group (DRG) payment method are paid under the ratio of costs-to-charges (RCC) payment method described in WAC 388-550-4500, the per diem payment method described in WAC 388-550-3010, the per case rate payment method described in WAC 388-550-3020, or other payment methods identified in this chapter (e.g., long term acute care (LTAC), certified public expenditure (CPE), critical access hospital (CAH), etc.). The department limits inpatient hospital stays based on the department's determinations from medical necessity and quality assurance reviews.

(2) Subject to the restrictions and limitations in this section, for dates of admission before August 1, 2007, the department exempts the following services for medicaid clients from the DRG payment method:

(a) Neonatal services for DRGs 602-619, 621-628, 630, 635, and 637-641.

(b) Acquired immunodeficiency syndrome (AIDS)-related inpatient services for those cases with a reported diagnosis of AIDS-related complex and other human immunodeficiency virus infections. These services are also exempt from the DRG payment method when funded by the department through the general assistance programs and any other state administered program.

(c) Alcohol or other drug detoxification services when provided in a hospital having a detoxification provider agreement with the department to perform these services. These services are also exempt from the DRG payment method when funded by the department through the general assistance programs and any other state administered program.

(d) Hospital-based intensive inpatient detoxification, medical stabilization, and drug treatment services provided to chemically dependent pregnant women (CUP program) by a certified hospital. These are medicaid program services and are not funded by the department for the general assistance programs or any other state administered program.

(e) Acute physical medicine and rehabilitation services provided in department-approved rehabilitation hospitals and hospital distinct units, and services for physical medicine and rehabilitation patients. See WAC 388-550-4300 (2)(d). Rehabilitation services provided to clients under the general assistance programs and any other state-only administered program are also reimbursed through the RCC payment method.

(f) Psychiatric services provided in nonstate-owned psychiatric hospitals and designated distinct psychiatric units of hospitals. Inpatient psychiatric services provided to clients eligible under the following programs are reimbursed through the DRG payment method:

(i) General assistance programs; and

(ii) Other state administered programs.

(g) Chronic pain management treatment provided in department-approved pain treatment facilities.

(h) Administrative day services. The department pays administrative days based on the statewide average medicaid nursing facility per diem rate, which is adjusted annually each November 1. The department applies this rate to patient days identified as administrative days on the hospital's notice of rates. Hospitals must request an administrative day designation on a case-by-case basis.

(i) Inpatient services recorded on a claim that is grouped by the department to a DRG for which the department has not published an all patient DRG relative weight, except that claims grouped to DRGs 469 and 470 will be denied payment. This policy also applies to covered services paid through the general assistance programs and any other state administered program.

(j) Organ transplants that involve the heart, kidney, liver, lung, allogeneic bone marrow, pancreas, autologous bone marrow, or simultaneous kidney/pancreas. These services are also exempt from the DRG payment method when funded by the department through the general assistance programs and any other state administered program.

(k) Bariatric surgery performed in hospitals that meet the criteria in WAC 388-550-2301. The department pays hospitals for bariatric surgery on a per case rate basis. See WAC 388-550-3470.

(3) Inpatient services provided through a managed care plan contract are paid by the managed care plan.

(4) Subject to the restrictions and limitations in this section, for dates of admission on and after August 1, 2007, the department exempts the following services for medicaid and SCHIP clients from the DRG payment method. This policy also applies to covered services paid through the general assistance programs and any other state-administered program, except when otherwise indicated in this section. The exempt services are:

(a) Alcohol or other drug detoxification services when provided in a hospital having a detoxification provider agreement with the department to perform these services.

(b) Hospital-based intensive inpatient detoxification, medical stabilization, and drug treatment services provided to chemically-using pregnant (CUP) women program by a certified hospital. These are medicaid program services and are not covered or funded by the department through the general assistance programs or any other state-administered program.

(c) Acute physical medicine and rehabilitation (acute PM&R) services.

(d) Psychiatric services. A mental health division (MHD) designee that arranges to pay a hospital directly for psychiatric services, may use the department's payment methods or contract with the hospital to pay using different methods. Claims not paid directly through a MHD designee are paid through the department's payment system.

(e) Chronic pain management treatment provided in a hospital approved by the department to provide that service.

(f) Administrative day services. The department pays administrative days based on the statewide average medicaid nursing facility per diem rate, which is adjusted annually. The department applies this rate to patient days identified as administrative days on the hospital's notice of rates. A hospital must request an administrative day designation on a case-by-case basis. The department may designate part of a client's stay to be paid an administrative day rate upon review of the claim and/or client's medical record.

(g) Inpatient services recorded on a claim that is grouped by the department to a DRG for which the department has not published an all patient DRG (AP DRG) relative weight. Claims grouped to DRG 469 or DRG 470 will be denied payment.

(h) Organ transplants that involve heart, kidney, liver, lung, allogeneic bone marrow, autologous bone marrow, pancreas, or simultaneous kidney/pancreas. The department pays hospitals for these organ transplants using the ratio of costs-to-charges (RCC) payment method.

(i) Bariatric surgery performed in hospitals that meet the criteria in WAC 388-550-2301. The department pays hospitals for bariatric surgery on a per case rate basis. See WAC 388-550-3020 and 388-550-3470.

(j) Services provided by a critical access hospital (CAH).

(k) Services provided by a hospital participating in the certified public expenditure (CPE) payment program. The CPE "hold harmless" provision allows a reconciliation that is described in WAC 388-550-4670.

(l) Services provided by a long term acute care (LTAC) hospital.

WAC 388-550-4500 Payment method—Inpatient RCC rate, administrative day rate, hospital outpatient rate, and swing bed rate. (1) The inpatient ratio of costs-to-charges (RCC) allowed amount is the hospital's covered charges on a claim multiplied by the hospital's inpatient RCC rate. The department limits this RCC allowed amount for payment to the hospital's allowable usual and customary charges.

(a) The department calculates a hospital's RCC rate by dividing allowable costs by patient-related revenues associated with these allowable costs. The department determines the allowable costs and associated revenues.

(b) The department bases the RCC rate calculation on data from the hospital's "as filed" annual medicare cost report (Form 2552-96) and applicable patient revenue reconciliation data provided by the hospital.

(c) The department updates a hospital's inpatient RCC rate annually after the hospital sends its "as filed" hospital fiscal year medicare cost report to the centers for medicare and medicaid services (CMS) and to the department.

(i) In situations where a delay in submission of the CMS medicare cost report to the medicare fiscal intermediary is granted by medicare, the department may adjust the RCC rate based on a department-determined method.

(ii) Prior to calculating the RCC rate, the department excludes department nonallowed costs and nonallowable revenues. Costs and revenues attributable to a change in ownership are one example of what the department does not allow in the calculation process.

(2) The department limits a hospital's RCC payment to one hundred percent of its allowed covered charges.

(3) The department establishes the basic inpatient hospital RCC allowed amount by multiplying the hospital's assigned RCC rate by the allowed covered charges for medically necessary services. The department deducts client responsibility and third-party liability (TPL), and makes other applicable payment program adjustments to the basic allowed amount to determine the actual payment due.

(4) For dates of admission:

(a) Before August 1, 2007, the department uses the RCC payment method to pay:

(i) DRG-exempt hospitals identified in WAC 388-550-4300; and

(ii) Any hospital for DRG-exempt services identified in WAC 388-550-4400. See the services identified in WAC 388-550-4400 (2)(g), (h), and (k) for an exception to this policy.

(b) For dates of admission on and after August 1, 2007, the department uses the RCC payment method to pay:

(i) Transplant services identified in WAC 388-550-4400;

(ii) DRG and per diem payment method high outlier payments;

(iii) Long term acute care (LTAC) hospital services not covered under the LTAC per diem rate; and

(iv) Other services specified by the department.

(5) For dates of admission before August 1, 2007, the department pays instate and bordering city hospitals that lack sufficient medicare cost report data to establish a hospital specific RCC, using the weighted average in-state:

(a) RCC rate for applicable inpatient services identified in WAC 388-550-4300 and 388-550-4400; and

(b) Outpatient rate as provided in WAC 388-550-6000.

(6) The department pays out-of-state hospitals for covered services as described in WAC 388-550-4000.

(7) The department identifies all in-state hospitals that have hospital specific RCC rates, and calculates the weighted average in-state RCC rate annually by dividing the department-determined total allowable costs of these hospitals by the department-determined total patient-related revenues associated with those costs.

(8) The department allows hospitals an all-inclusive administrative day rate for those days of hospital stay in which a client does not meet criteria for acute inpatient level of care, but is not discharged because an appropriate placement outside the hospital is not available.

(a) Upon request, the department's nursing facility rate-setting staff provides the department's hospital rate-setting staff with the statewide weighted average nursing facility medicaid payment rate each year to update the all-inclusive administrative day rate on November 1.

(b) The department does not pay for ancillary services provided during administrative days.

(c) The department identifies administrative days during the length of stay review process after the client's discharge from the hospital.

(d) The department pays the hospital the administrative day rate starting with the date of hospital admission if the admission is solely for a stay until an appropriate sub-acute placement can be made.

(9) The department calculates the weighted average in-state hospital outpatient rate annually by multiplying the weighted average in-state RCC rate by the outpatient adjustment factor.

(10) For hospitals that have their own hospital specific inpatient RCC rate, the department calculates the hospital's specific hospital outpatient rate by multiplying the hospital's inpatient RCC rate by the outpatient adjustment factor.

(11) The outpatient adjustment factor:

(a) Must not exceed 1.0; and

(b) Is updated annually. At the time the outpatient adjustment factor is updated, the hospital outpatient rate for the hospital is adjusted.

(12) The department establishes the basic hospital outpatient allowed amount for a claim as provided in WAC 388-550-6000 and 388-550-7200. The department deducts any client responsibility and any third-party liability (TPL), and makes any other applicable payment program adjustments to the allowed amount to determine the actual payment due.

(13) The department allows hospitals a swing bed day rate for those days when a client is receiving department-approved nursing service level of care in a swing bed. The department's aging and disability services administration (ADSA) determines the swing bed day rate.

(a) The department does not allow payment for acute inpatient level of care for swing bed days when a client is receiving department-approved nursing service level of care in a swing bed.

(b) The department's allowed amount for those ancillary services not covered under the swing bed day rate is based on the payment methods provided in WAC 388-550-6000 and 388-550-7200, and may be billed by the hospital on an outpatient hospital claim, except for pharmacy services and pharmaceuticals.

(c) The department allows pharmacy services and pharmaceuticals not covered under the swing bed day rate, that are provided to a client receiving department-approved nursing service level of care, to be billed directly by a pharmacy through the point of sale system. The department does not allow those pharmacy services and pharmaceuticals to be paid to the hospital through submission of a hospital outpatient claim.

WAC 388-550-4600 Hospital selective contracting program. This section applies only for dates of admission before July 1, 2007. The hospital selective contracting program ends on June 30, 2007.

(1) The department designates selective contracting areas (SCA) in which hospitals participate in competitive bidding to provide hospital services to medicaid clients. Selective contracting areas are based on historical patterns of hospital use by medicaid clients.

(2) The department requires medicaid clients in a selective contracting area obtain their elective (nonemergent) inpatient hospital services from participating or exempt hospitals in the SCA. Elective (nonemergent) inpatient hospital services provided by nonparticipating hospitals in an SCA shall not be reimbursed by the department, except as provided in WAC 388-550-4700.

(3) The department exempts from the selective contracting program those hospitals that are:

(a) In an SCA but designated by the department as remote. The department designates hospitals as remote when they meet the following criteria:

(i) Located more than ten miles from the nearest hospital in the SCA;

(ii) Having fewer than seventy-five beds; and

(iii) Having fewer than five hundred medicaid admissions in a two-year period.

(b) Owned by health maintenance organizations (HMOs) and providing inpatient services to HMO enrollees only;

(c) Children's hospitals;

(d) State psychiatric hospitals or separate (freestanding) psychiatric facilities;

(e) Out-of-state hospitals located in nonbordering cities, and out-of-state hospitals in bordering cities not designated as selective contracting areas;

(f) Peer group E hospitals; and

(g) Peer group F hospitals (critical access hospitals).

(4) The department:

(a) Negotiates with selectively contracted hospitals a negotiated conversion factor (NCF) for inpatient hospital services provided to medicaid clients.

(b) Calculates its maximum financial obligation for a medicaid client under the hospital selective contract in the same manner as DRG payments using cost-based conversion factors (CBCFs).

(c) Applies NCFs to medicaid clients only. (The department uses CBCFs in calculating payments for medical care services clients.)

WAC 388-550-4650 "Full cost" public hospital certified public expenditure (CPE) payment program. (1) The department's "full cost" public hospital certified public expenditure (CPE) payment program provides payments to participating hospitals based on the "full cost" of covered medically necessary services and requires the expenditure of local funds in lieu of state funds to qualify for federal matching funds. The department's payments to participating hospitals equal the federal matching amount for allowable costs. The department uses the ratio of costs-to-charges method described in WAC 388-550-4500 to determine "full cost."

(2) Only the following facilities are reimbursed through the "full cost" public hospital CPE payment program:

(a) Public hospitals located in the state of Washington that are:

(i) Owned by public hospital districts; and

(ii) Not certified by the department of health (DOH) as a critical access hospital;

(b) Harborview Medical Center; and

(c) University of Washington Medical Center.

(3) Payments made under the CPE payment program are limited to medically necessary services provided to medical assistance clients eligible for inpatient hospital services.

(4) Each hospital described in subsection (2) of this section is responsible to provide certified public expenditures as the required state match for claiming federal medicaid funds.

(5) The department determines the actual payment for inpatient hospital services under the CPE payment program by:

(a) Multiplying the hospital's medicaid RCC rate by the covered charges (to determine allowable costs), then;

(b) Subtracting the client's responsibility and any third party liability (TPL) from the amount derived in (a) of this subsection, then;

(c) Multiplying the state's federal matching assistance percentage (FMAP) by the amount derived in (b) of this subsection.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 74.09.500. 06-08-046, § 388-550-4650, filed 3/30/06, effective 4/30/06. Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.08.090. 05-12-132, § 388-550-4650, filed 6/1/05, effective 7/1/05.]

WAC 388-550-4670 CPE payment program—"Hold harmless" provision. To meet legislative requirements, the department includes a "hold harmless" provision for hospital providers eligible for the certified public expenditure (CPE) payment program. Under the provision and subject to legislative directives and appropriations, hospitals eligible for payments under the CPE payment program will receive no less in combined state and federal payments than they would have received under the methodologies otherwise in effect as described in this section. All hospital submissions pertaining to the CPE payment program, including but not limited to cost report schedules, are subject to audit at any time by the department or its designee.

(1) The department:

(a) Uses historical cost and payment data trended forward to calculate prospective hold harmless grant payment amounts for the current state fiscal year (SFY); and

(b) Reconciles these hold harmless grant payment amounts when the actual claims data is available for the current fiscal year.

(2) For each state fiscal year, the department calculates what the hospital would have been paid under the methodologies otherwise in effect for the state fiscal year (SFY) as the sum of:

(a) The total payments for inpatient claims for patients admitted during the fiscal year, calculated by repricing the claims using:

(i) For SFYs 2006 and 2007, the inpatient payment method in effect during SFY 2005; or

(ii) For SFYs 2008 and beyond, the payment method that would otherwise be in effect during the CPE payment program year if the CPE payment program had not been enacted.

(b) The total net disproportionate share hospital and state grant payments paid for SFY 2005.

(3) For each SFY, the department determines total state and federal payments made under the program, including:

(a) Inpatient claim payments;

(b) Disproportionate share hospital (DSH) payments; and

(c) Supplemental upper payment limit payments made for SFY 2006 and 2007, as applicable.

(4) The amount determined in subsection (3) of this section is subtracted from the amount calculated in subsection (2) of this section to determine the gross state grant amount necessary to hold the hospital harmless. If the resulting number is positive, the hospital is entitled to a grant in that amount, subject to legislative directives and appropriations.

(a) The department calculates an interim hold harmless grant amount approximately ten months after the SFY to include the paid claims for the same SFY admissions. Claims are subject to utilization review prior to the interim hold harmless calculation. Prospective grant payments made under subsection (1) of this section are deducted from the calculated interim hold harmless grant amount to determine the net grant payment amount due to or due from the hospital.

(b) The department calculates the final hold harmless grant amount at such time as the final allowable federal portions of program payments are determined. The procedure is the same as the interim grant calculation but it includes all additional claims that have been paid or adjusted since the interim hold harmless calculation. Claims are subject to utilization review and audit prior to the final calculation of the hold harmless amount. Interim grant payments determined under (a) of this subsection are deducted from this final calculation to determine the net final hold harmless amount due to or due from the hospital.

WAC 388-550-4690 Authorization requirements and utilization review for hospitals eligible for CPE payments. This section does not apply to psychiatric certified public expenditure (CPE) inpatient hospital admissions. See WAC 388-550-2600.

(1) CPE inpatient hospital claims submitted to the department must meet all authorization and program requirements in WAC and current department-published issuances.

(2) The department performs utilization reviews of inpatient hospital:

(a) Admissions in accordance with the requirements of 42 CFR 456, subparts A through C; and

(b) Claims for compliance with medical necessity, appropriate level of care and the department's (or a department designee's) established length of stay (LOS) standards.

(3) For CPE inpatient admissions prior to August 1, 2007, the department performs utilization reviews:

(a) Using the professional activity study (PAS) length of stay (LOS) standard in WAC 388-550-4300 on claims that qualified for ratio of costs-to-charges (RCC) payment prior to July 1, 2005.

(b) On seven-day readmissions according to the diagnosis related group (DRG) payment method described in WAC 388-550-3000 (5)(f) for claims that qualified for DRG payment prior to July 1, 2005.

(4) For claims identified in this subsection, the department may request a copy of the client's hospital medical records and itemized billing statements. The department sends written notification to the hospital detailing the department's findings. Any day of a client's hospital stay that exceeds the LOS standard:

(a) Is paid under a nonDRG payment method if the department determines it to be medically necessary for the client at the acute level of care;

(b) Is paid as an administrative day (see WAC 388-550-1050 and 388-550-4500(8)) if the department determines it to be medically necessary for the client at the subacute level of care; and

(c) Is not eligible for payment if the department determines it was not medically necessary.

(5) For CPE inpatient admissions on and after August 1, 2007, CPE hospital claims are subject to the same utilization review rules as nonCPE hospital claims.

(a) LOS reviews may be performed under WAC 388-550-4300.

(b) All claims are subject to the department's medical necessity review under WAC 388-550-1700(2).

(c) For inpatient hospital claims that involve a client's seven-day readmission, see WAC 388-550-3000 (5)(f).

(2) MAA pays any qualified hospital for medically necessary but nonemergent inpatient hospital services provided to an eligible medical care client deemed by the department to reside an excessive travel distance from a contracting hospital.

WAC 388-550-4800 Hospital payment methods—State administered programs. Subsections (1) through (11) of this section apply to hospital payment methods for state administered programs for dates of admission before August 1, 2007. Subsections (12) through (19) of this section apply to hospital payment methods for state administered programs for dates of admission on and after August 1, 2007.

(1) Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section, the department uses the ratio of costs-to-charges (RCC) and diagnosis-related group (DRG) payment methods described in this section to pay hospitals at reduced rates for covered services provided to a client who is not eligible under a medicaid program, the SCHIP program, or alien emergency medical (AEM) program and:

(a) Who qualifies for the general assistance unemployable (GAU) program; or

(b) Is involuntarily detained under the Involuntary Treatment Act (ITA).

(2) The department exempts the following services from the state-administered programs' payment methods and/or reduced rates:

(a) Detoxification services when the services are provided under a department-assigned provider number starting with "thirty-six." (The department pays these services using the Title XIX medicaid RCC payment method.)

(b) Program services provided by department-approved critical access hospitals (CAHs) to clients eligible under state-administered programs. (The department pays these services through cost settlement as described in WAC 388-550-2598.)

(c) Program services provided by Peer group E hospitals to clients eligible under the GAU program. (The department these services through the "full cost" public hospital certified public expenditure (CPE) payment program (see WAC 388-550-4650).)

(3) The department determines:

(a) A state-administered program RCC payment by reducing a hospital's Title XIX medicaid RCC rate using the hospital's ratable.

(b) A state-administered program DRG payment by reducing a hospital's Title XIX medicaid DRG cost based conversion factor (CBCF) using the hospital's ratable and equivalency factor (EF).

(4) The department determines:

(a) The RCC rate for the state-administered programs mathematically as follows:

State-administered programs' RCC rate = current Title XIX medicaid RCC rate x (one minus the current hospital ratable)

(b) The DRG conversion factor (CF) for the state-administered programs mathematically as follows:

State-administered programs' DRG CF = current Title XIX medicaid DRG CBCF x (one minus the current hospital ratable) x EF

(5) The department determines payments to hospitals for covered services provided to clients eligible under the state-administered programs mathematically as follows:

(a) Under the RCC payment method:

State-administered programs' RCC payment = state-administered programs' RCC Rate x allowed charges

(b) Under the DRG payment method:

State-administered programs' DRG payment = state-administered programs' DRG CF x all patient DRG relative weight (see subsection (6) of this section for how the department determines payment for state-administered program claims that qualify as DRG high-cost outliers).

(6) For state-administered program claims that qualify as DRG high-cost outliers, the department determines:

(a) In-state children's hospital payments for state-administered program claims that qualify as DRG high-cost outliers mathematically as follows:

Eighty-five percent of the allowed charges above the outlier threshold x the specific hospital's RCC rate x (one minus the current hospital ratable) plus the DRG allowed amount

(b) Psychiatric DRG high-cost outlier payments for DRGs 424 through 432 mathematically as follows:

One hundred percent of the allowed charges above the outlier threshold x the specific hospital's RCC rate x (one minus the current hospital ratable) plus the applicable DRG allowed amount

(c) Payments for all other claims that qualify as DRG high-cost outliers as follows:

Sixty percent x the specific hospital's RCC rate x (one minus the current hospital ratable) plus the applicable DRG allowed amount

High-cost Outlier Calculations for Qualifying Claims State-administered Programs (for admission dates January 1, 2001 and after)
In-state Children's Hospitals Allowed charges	(-)	> of $33000 or 3 x DRG	(=)	Charges > threshold	(x)	RCC	(x)	1 (-) Ratable	(x)	85%	(=)	Outlier Add-on Amount	(+)	*DRG Allowed Amount

*Basic DRG allowed amount calculation: DRG relative weight x conversion factor = DRG allowed amount

(7) See WAC 388-550-3700(5) for how claims qualify as low-cost outliers.

(8) The department determines payments for claims that qualify as DRG low-cost outliers mathematically as follows:

Allowed charges for the claim x the specific hospital's RCC rate x (one minus the current hospital ratable)

(9) To calculate a hospital's ratable that is applied to both the Title XIX medicaid RCC rate and the Title XIX medicaid DRG CBCF used to determine the respective state-administered program's reduced rates, the department:

(a) Adds the hospital's medicaid revenue (medicaid revenue as reported by department of health (DOH) includes all medicaid revenue and all other medical assistance revenue) and medicare revenue to the value of the hospital's charity care and bad debts, all of which is taken from the most recent complete calendar year data available from DOH at the time of the ratable calculation; then

(b) Deducts the hospital's low-income disproportionate share hospital (LIDSH) revenue from the amount derived in (a) of this subsection to arrive at the hospital's community care dollars; then

(c) Subtracts the hospital-based physicians revenue that is reported in the hospital's most recent HCFA-2552 medicare cost report received by the department at the time of the ratable calculation, from the total hospital revenue reported by DOH from the same source as discussed in (a) of this subsection, to arrive at the net hospital revenue; then

(d) Divides the amount derived in (b) of this subsection by the amount derived in (c) of this subsection to obtain the ratio of community care dollars to net hospital revenue (also called the preliminary ratable factor); then

(e) Subtracts the amount derived in (d) of this subsection from 1.0 to obtain the hospital's preliminary ratable; then

(f) Determines a neutrality factor by:

(i) Multiplying hospital-specific medicaid revenue that is reported by DOH from the same source as discussed in (a) of this subsection by the preliminary ratable factor; then

(ii) Multiplying that same hospital-specific medicaid revenue by the prior year's final ratable factor; then

(iii) Summing all hospital-medicaid revenue from the hospital-specific calculations that used the preliminary ratable factor discussed in (f)(i) of this subsection; then

(iv) Summing all hospital revenue from the hospital-specific calculations that used the prior year's final ratable factor discussed in (f)(ii) of this subsection; then

(v) Comparing the two totals; and

(vi) Setting the neutrality factor at 1.0 if the total using the preliminary ratable factor is less than the total using the prior year's final ratable factor; or

(vii) Establishing a neutrality factor that is less than 1.0 that will reduce the total using the preliminary ratable factor to the level of the total using the prior year's final ratable factor, if the total using the preliminary ratable factor is greater than the total using the prior year's ratable factor; then

(g) Multiplies, for each specific hospital, the preliminary ratable by the neutrality factor to establish hospital-specific final ratables for the year; then

(h) Subtracts each hospital-specific final ratable from 1.0 to determine hospital-specific final ratable factors for the year; then

(i) Calculates an instate-average ratable and an instate-average ratable factor used for new hospitals with no prior year history.

(10) The department updates each hospital's ratable annually on August 1.

(11) The department:

(a) Uses the equivalency factor (EF) to hold the hospital specific state-administered programs' DRG CF at the same level prior to rebasing, adjusted for inflation; and

(b) Calculates a hospital's EF as follows:

EF = State-administered programs' prior DRG CF divided by current Title XIX medicaid DRG CBCF x (one minus the prior ratable)

(12) For dates of admission on and after August 1, 2007, the department pays for services provided to a client eligible for a state administered program based on state-administered program rates. The state administered program rates are established independently from the process used in setting the medicaid payment rates. The state administered program rates may not be changed unless the legislature authorizes the changes. The department uses the ratable factor and equivalency factor to keep the state administered program payment rates at the same level they were at before the state medicaid rates are rebased.

(13) The table in this subsection shows a comparison of the payment policy for the department's inpatient payment system for dates of admission before August 1, 2007, and the inpatient payment system effective for dates of admission on and after August 1, 2007. Under this inpatient payment system effective August 1, 2007, the per diem rates are used to pay for many services previously paid using the RCC payment method.

The following table indicates differences in policy for the two inpatient payment systems:

	Inpatient payment system for dates of admission before August 1, 2007	Inpatient payment system for dates of admission on and after August 1, 2007
Stable DRGs	DRG Grouper v 14.1	DRG grouper v 23.0
Unstable/Medical DRGs	RCC	Per diem
Unstable Surgical DRGs Unstable Neonate DRGs	RCC RCC	Per diem Per diem

Transplant	RCC	RCC
Military hospitals	RCC	RCC
HIV Chronic pain management	RCC Per diem	Not separately defined Per diem
Bariatric surgery	Per case rate	Per case rate

See specific sections in the chapter 388-550 WAC to determine how the department pays hospitals participating in the critical access hospital (CAH) program, the long term acute care (LTAC) program, and the certified public expenditure (CPE) payment program.

(14) Due to changes in payment methodologies established for the inpatient payment system effective August 1, 2007, the department has established the following state administered program rates used for dates of admission on and after August 1, 2007:

(a) State administered program DRG conversion factor for claims grouped under stable DRG classifications services.

(b) State administered program per diem rates for claims grouped under the following specialty service categories:

(i) CUP;

(ii) Detoxification; and

(iii) Physical medicine and rehabilitation.

(c) State administered program per diem rates for the claims grouped to unstable DRG classifications under the following nonspecialty service categories:

(i) Surgical;

(ii) Medical;

(iii) Burns; and

(iv) Neonate and pediatric.

(d) State administered program per diem rates for claims grouped under psychiatric services.

(e) State administered program per case rate for claims grouped under bariatric services.

(f) State administered program RCC rates for claims grouped under transplant services.

(15) This subsection describes the state administered program (DRG) conversion factor and payment calculation processes used by the department to pay claims paid using the DRG payment method. The department pays for services grouped to a stable DRG classification that are provided to clients eligible for a state administered program based on use of a DRG conversion factor and a DRG relative weight. This process is similar to the payment method used to pay for medicaid and SCHIP services that are grouped to a stable DRG classification.

(a) The department's state administered program DRG conversion factor calculation process is as follows:

(i) For instate and critical border hospitals, the hospital's specific DRG conversion factor that is used to calculate payment for a state administered program claim, is based on the medicaid conversion factor adjusted by the most available ratable factor and the applicable equivalency factor. Mathematically the calculation is:

State administered program DRG CF =

((Medicaid DRG CF x applicable Equivalency Factor) x most available ratable factor)

(ii) For instate and critical border hospitals that do not have a current state administered program DRG conversion factor, the state administered program conversion factor is the hospital's specific proposed medicaid conversion factor multiplied by the average applicable equivalent factor and average applicable ratable.

(iii) For bordering city hospitals that are not critical border hospitals, and for other out-of-state hospitals that are not critical border hospitals, the state administered program DRG conversion factor is the lowest instate medicaid DRG conversion factor multiplied by the average ratable and equivalency factor.

(b) The department's state administered program DRG equivalency factor calculation process is as follows:

(i) The equivalency factor is a factor used to hold the hospital's specific state administered program DRG conversion factor or rates at the same level before and after the medicaid DRG rate is rebased. Mathematically the calculation is:

Equivalency factor = (State administered program DRG CF/(medicaid DRG CF x ratable))

(ii) The department may make an adjustment to the equivalency factor to address the differences in the relative weight values of the two DRG grouper versions due to the recalibration of the weights.

(iii) Refer to the ratable and ratable factor definition and calculation for the ratable factor determination.

(c) The department's DRG payment calculation process for DRG classifications grouped to stable DRG relative weights is as follows:

(i) The department determines the allowed amount for the inlier portion of the state-administered program DRG payment calculation. Mathematically the calculation is:

State administered program DRG inlier portion allowed amount of the payment = (State administered program DRG CF x DRG relative weight)

(ii) The department determines the high outlier claim calculation for the state administered program DRG payment. See WAC 388-550-3700 for more information about high outlier qualification and calculation processes. Mathematically the calculation is:

State-administered program DRG inlier and outlier portion allowed amount of the payment = (State-administered program DRG CF x DRG relative weight) + outlier adjustment

(iii) The outlier payment adjustment calculation for a state administered program claim is different than the outlier payment calculation for a medicaid claim. The outlier adjustment for a state administered program claim is adjusted by the ratable factor.

(iv) The outlier threshold amount for claims that are eligible for a high outlier payment and are grouped to nonneonatal DRGs and nonpediatric DRGs, equals one hundred seventy-five percent of the DRG inlier allowed amount calculation. This same outlier threshold is used for claims that are eligible for a high outlier payment in hospitals other than Children's Hospital Regional Medical Center and Mary Bridge Children's Hospital and Health Center.

(v) The outlier threshold amount for claims that are eligible for a high outlier payment and are grouped to neonatal DRGs, pediatric DRGs, equals one hundred fifty percent of the DRG inlier allowed amount calculation. This same outlier threshold is used for claims that are eligible for a high outlier payment when the claim is from Children's Hospital Regional Medical Center or Mary Bridge Children's Hospital and Health Center.

(vi) The outlier transfer provision is applied for the calculation of services paid under the state administered program DRG payments.

(vii) Refer to the medicaid percent of outlier adjustment factor described in WAC 388-550-3700 and (d) of this subsection for how the percent of outlier adjustment factor is reduced by a ratable to determine the outlier portion allowed amount for the claim.

(d) The department determines the outlier portion allowed amount calculation for the state-administered program high outlier claim DRG payment as follows. Mathematically the calculation is:

State administered program outlier portion allowed amount of claim = ((Covered charges x RCC) - outlier threshold) x (Percent of outlier adjustment factor x ratable factor)

(i) A claim is an outlier claim when the claim cost (covered charges x RCC) is greater than both the fixed loss amount of fifty thousand dollars and one hundred seventy-five percent (one hundred fifty percent for neonatal, pediatric DRGs, Children's Hospital Regional Medical Center or Mary Bridge Children's Hospital and Health Center) of the DRG inlier allowed amount for payment.

(ii) The outlier threshold used in calculation of the outlier payment adjustment will always be one hundred seventy-five percent (one hundred fifty percent for neonatal, pediatric DRGs, Children's Hospital Regional Medical Center or Mary Bridge Children's Hospital and Health Center) of the DRG inlier allowed amount for payment.

(iii) Refer to the ratable and ratable factor definition and calculation for the ratable factor determination.

(16) This subsection describes the state-administered program per diem rate and payment calculation for the following specialty service categories and unstable DRG nonspecialty service categories.

(a) The per diem rate is separately established for each of the following services:

(i) CUP;

(ii) Detoxification;

(iii) Physical medicine and rehabilitation;

(iv) Surgical;

(v) Medical;

(vi) Burns; and

(v) Neonate and pediatric.

(b) The per diem rate calculation process for CUP, detoxification, physical medicine and rehabilitation, surgical, medical, burns, and neonate and pediatric services is, for instate and critical border hospitals, the hospital's specific state administered program per diem rate is based on the Title XIX medicaid rates multiplied by the most available ratable factor and the equivalency factor. Mathematically the calculation is:

State administered program per diem rate =

((Hospital's specific medicaid per diem x ratable factor) x Equivalency factor)

(c) The per diem equivalency factor calculation process is as follows:

(i) The per diem equivalency factor is a factor used to hold the aggregate payment for all nonmedicaid claims grouped under per diem payment method at the same level before and after the per diem medicaid rate is rebased. The equivalency factor is the calculated based on the estimate nonmedicaid per diem, the medicaid per diem, and the hospital's specific ratable factor. Mathematically the calculation is:

Equivalency factor =

(Estimated state administered program per diem rate/ (medicaid per diem rate x ratable))

(ii) For bordering city hospitals that are not critical border hospitals, and for other out-of-state hospitals that are not critical border hospitals, the state administered program per diem rate is the lowest instate medicaid per diem rate multiplied by the average ratable and equivalency factor.

(iii) The state administered program per diem rate is an estimate based on the actual payment per day. The actual payment per day equals the aggregate payment amount (inflated from the base year to the implementation year) divided by the number of days associated with the aggregate costs.

(iv) For a hospital with more than twenty state administered program claims that grouped in the base year data to DRG classifications that are paid using the per diem payment method, a hospital's specific equivalency factor is established based on the hospital's data.

(v) For a hospital with less than twenty state administered program claims that grouped in the base year data to DRG classifications are paid using the per diem payment method, an average equivalency factor is established based on the hospital data base of all hospitals.

(d) The state administered program per diem allowed amount of payment calculation process for CUP, detoxification, and physical medicine and rehabilitation services is as follows. Mathematically the calculation is:

Per diem payment =

Hospital's state administered program per diem rate x patient stay LOS recognized by the department for payment

The high outlier and transfer policy is not applied to payment calculations for CUP, detoxification, and physical medicine and rehabilitation services.

(e) The state administered program per diem allowed amount of payment calculation process for surgical, medical, burns, and neonate services is as follows. Mathematically the calculation is:

Per diem payment =

Hospital's state administered program per diem rate x patient stay LOS recognized by the department for payment

(i) The outlier policy is applied to payment calculations for a claim grouped to an unstable DRG classification when the claim is for surgical, medical, burns, neonate and pediatric services (see WAC 388-550-3700). Refer to the state administered program outlier DRG adjustment payment calculation for the outlier calculation.

(ii) The transfer policy is not applied to payment calculations for a claim grouped to an unstable DRG classification when the claim is for surgical, medical, burns, neonate and pediatric services.

(17) The state administered program per diem rate and payment calculation for psychiatric services is as follows:

(a) The department uses a payment method similar to the method used to pay for medicaid psychiatric services, for state administered program psychiatric services provided to clients eligible for those services. Psychiatric services provided to state administered program clients are paid using a psychiatric per diem rate. The per diem rate calculation process for state administered program psychiatric services is as follows:

(i) For instate hospitals, the hospital's specific state administered program psychiatric per diem rate used to calculate the allowed amount for payment is based on the Title XIX medicaid rate adjusted by a ratable factor specified by the legislature to reduce the medicaid psychiatric per diem to a state program per diem. Mathematically the calculation is:

State administered program psychiatric per diem rate =

Medicaid psychiatric per diem x a ratable factor specified by the legislature to reduce the medicaid psychiatric per diem to a state program per diem.

(ii) For hospitals located outside the state of Washington, including bordering city hospitals, critical border hospitals, and other out-of-state hospitals, psychiatric services and involuntary treatment act (ITA) services are not covered or paid by the department.

(b) The per diem payment calculation process for state-administered program psychiatric services is as follows. Mathematically the calculation is:

Psychiatric payment =

State administered program hospital's specific per diem rate x patient stay LOS recognized by the department's MHD designee for payment

(i) Outlier payment and transfer policies are not applied to state administered program psychiatric claims.

(ii) The ratable factor was provided to the department by the legislature.

(18) This subsection describes the state administered program per case rate and payment processes for bariatric surgery services.

(a) The department limits provision of bariatric surgery services to medical assistance clients to hospitals that are approved by the department to provide those services. Bariatric surgery services provided to a medical assistance client by an approved hospital must also be prior authorized by the department for the hospital to receive payment from the department for those services. Effective August 1, 2007, the department approved bariatric surgery services programs at the Sacred Heart Medical Center, the University of Washington Medical Center, and the Oregon Health Science University. The department may approve other programs based on department discretion.

(b) The department calculates the state administered program per case rate for bariatric surgery services by multiplying the hospital's specific medicaid per case rate for bariatric surgery services by the hospital's specific ratable factor and DRG-equivalency factor. Mathematically the calculation is:

State administered program per case rate =

Medicaid per case rate x hospital's specific ratable factor x DRG equivalency factor

The per case payment rate for bariatric surgery services is an all-inclusive rate. No outlier provision is applied to the per case rate.

(19) This subsection describes the state administered program RCC rates and payment calculation processes for transplant services and other RCC paid services. Transplant services provided to a client eligible for those services through a state administered program are paid using the RCC payment method. There are some other services that may be paid using the RCC payment method, e.g., services provided by military hospitals when no other payment method is agreed upon by the department and the hospital. The state administered program RCC rate is calculated by multiplying the medicaid RCC rate by the ratable factor. Mathematically the calculation is:

State administered program RCC rate = Medicaid RCC x ratable factor

(20) The department may pay for authorized psychiatric indigent inpatient claims submitted by an instate community hospital designated as an institution for mental diseases (IMD) using state funds when such funds are provided by the state legislature specifically for this purpose.

(21) The department's policy for payment on state-administered program claims that involve third party liability (TPL) and/or client responsibility payments is the same policy indicated in the table in WAC 388-550-2800, except that when the department determines the payment on the claim, it applies state-administered program rates, not medicaid or SCHIP rates, when comparing the lesser of billed charges or the allowed amount on the claim.

WAC 388-550-4900 Disproportionate share hospital (DSH) payments—General provisions. (1) As required by section 1902 (a)(13)(A) of the Social Security Act (42 USC 1396 (a)(13)(A)) and RCW 74.09.730, the department makes payment adjustments to eligible hospitals that serve a disproportionate number of low-income clients with special needs. These adjustments are also known as disproportionate share hospital (DSH) payments.

(2) No hospital has a legal entitlement to any DSH payment. A hospital may receive DSH payments only if:

(a) It satisfies the requirements of 42 USC 1396r-4;

(b) It satisfies all the requirements of department rules and policies; and

(c) The legislature appropriates sufficient funds.

(3) For purposes of eligibility for DSH payments, the following definitions apply:

(a) "Base year" means the hospital fiscal year or medicare cost report year that ended during the calendar year immediately preceding the year in which the state fiscal year for which the DSH application is being made begins.

(b) "Case mix index (CMI)" means the average of diagnosis related group (DRG) weights for all of an individual hospital's DRG-paid medicaid claims during the state fiscal year (SFY) two years prior to the SFY for which the DSH application is being made.

(c) "Charity care" means necessary hospital care rendered to persons unable to pay for the hospital services or unable to pay the deductibles or coinsurance amounts required by a third-party payer. The charity care amount is determined in accordance with the hospital's published charity care policy.

(d) "Disproportionate share hospital (DSH) cap" means the maximum amount per state fiscal year that the state can distribute in DSH payments to hospitals (statewide DSH cap), or the maximum amount of DSH payments a hospital may receive during a state fiscal year (hospital-specific DSH cap).

(e) "DSH reporting data file (DRDF)" means the information submitted by hospitals to the department which the department uses to verify medicaid patient eligibility and patient days.

(f) "Hospital-specific DSH cap" means the maximum amount of DSH payments a hospital may receive from the department during a state fiscal year. For a critical access hospital (CAH), the DSH cap is based strictly on the net cost to the hospital of providing services to uninsured patients.

(g) "Low income utilization rate (LIUR)" means the sum of these two percentages: (1) The ratio of payments received by the hospital for patient services provided to clients under medicaid (including managed care) and state-administered programs, plus cash subsidies received by the hospital from state and local governments for patient services, divided by total payments received by the hospital from all patient categories; plus (2) the ratio of inpatient charity care charges (excluding contractual allowances), divided by total billed charges for inpatient services. The department uses LIUR as one criterion to determine a hospital's eligibility for the low income disproportionate share hospital (LIDSH) program. To qualify for LIDSH, a hospital's LIUR must be greater than twenty-five percent.

(h) "Medicaid inpatient utilization rate (MIPUR)" means the number of inpatient days of service provided by a hospital to medicaid clients during its hospital fiscal year or medicare cost report year, divided by the number of inpatient days of service provided by that hospital to all patients during the same period.

(i) "Medicare cost report year" means the twelve-month period included in the annual cost report a medicare-certified hospital or institutional provider is required by law to submit to its fiscal intermediary.

(j) "Nonrural hospital" means a hospital that is not a peer group E hospital or a small rural hospital and is located inside the state of Washington or in a designated bordering city. For DSH purposes, the department considers as nonrural any hospital located in a designated bordering city.

(k) "Obstetric services" means routine, nonemergency delivery of babies.

(l) "Service year" means the one year period used to measure the costs and associated charges for hospital services. The service year may refer to a hospital's fiscal year or medicare cost report year, or to a state fiscal year.

(m) "Small rural hospital" means a hospital that is not a peer group E hospital, has fewer than seventy-five acute licensed beds, is located inside the state of Washington, and is located in a city or town with a nonstudent population of no more than seventeen thousand one hundred fifteen in calendar year 2006 as determined by the Washington State office of financial management estimate. The nonstudent population ceiling increases cumulatively by two percent each succeeding state fiscal year.

(n) "Uninsured patient" means an individual who does not have health insurance that would apply to the hospital service the individual sought and received. An individual who did have health insurance that applied to the hospital service the individual sought and received, is considered an insured individual for DSH program purposes, even if the insurer did not pay the full charges for the services. When determining the cost of a hospital service provided to an uninsured patient, the department uses as a guide whether the service would have been covered under medicaid.

(4) To be considered for a DSH payment for each SFY, a hospital located in the state of Washington or in a designated bordering city must submit to the department a completed and final DSH application by the due date. The due date will be posted on the department's website.

(5) A hospital is a disproportionate share hospital for a specific SFY if the hospital submits a completed DSH application for that specific year, if it satisfies the utilization rate requirement (discussed in (a) of this subsection), and the obstetric services requirement (discussed in (b) of this subsection).

(a) The hospital must have a medicaid inpatient utilization rate (MIPUR) greater than one percent; and

(b) Unless one of the exceptions described in (i)(A) or (B) of this subsection applies, the hospital must have at least two obstetricians who have staff privileges at the hospital and who have agreed to provide obstetric services to eligible individuals.

(i) The obstetric services requirement does not apply to a hospital that:

(A) Provides inpatient services predominantly to individuals younger than age eighteen; or

(B) Did not offer nonemergency obstetric services to the general public as of December 22, 1987, when section 1923 of the Social Security Act was enacted.

(ii) For hospitals located in rural areas, "obstetrician" means any physician with staff privileges at the hospital to perform nonemergency obstetric procedures.

(6) To determine a hospital's eligibility for any DSH program, the department uses the criteria in this section and the information obtained from the DSH application submitted by the hospital, subject to the following:
