

WAC 357-52-090 How are the results of a prehearing conference documented? The results of the prehearing conference must be stated in a written statement of results. The statement must include, where applicable, agreements concerning issues, admissions, stipulations, witnesses, discovery, length of hearing, motions, exhibits, affidavits, and other matters that may expedite the appeal hearing. The statement resulting from the prehearing conference must control the subsequent course of the appeal, subject to modification upon a filing of exceptions to the statement.
