

WAC 388-14A-7650 What kind of federal audit requirements are there for intergovernmental cases? (1) When the division of child support (DCS) is acting as either the initiating jurisdiction (IJ) or the responding jurisdiction (RJ) in an intergovernmental case, there are certain audit requirements which must be met in at least seventy-five percent of the cases reviewed.

(2) For all intergovernmental cases requiring services during the review period, DCS must determine the last required action on each case and determine whether the action was taken during the appropriate time frame.

(3) DCS must use the audit criteria set forth in 45 C.F.R. 308.2(g) when reviewing intergovernmental cases.
