

WAC 296-307-59605 Designate a program administrator.

Exemption: The employer does not need to designate a program administrator if employees use only filtering-facepiece respirators and do so only as voluntary use.

Definition:

Voluntary use. Respirator use that is requested by the employee AND permitted by the employer when no respiratory hazard exists.

The employer must designate a program administrator who has over-all responsibility for the employer's program and has sufficient training or experience to:

- (1) Oversee program development and coordinate implementation.
- (2) Conduct required evaluations of program effectiveness outlined in WAC 296-307-60005.
