

WSR 09-22-004PREPROPOSAL STATEMENT OF INQUIRY
EASTERN WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY

[Filed October 22, 2009, 8:26 a.m.]

Statutes Authorizing the Agency to Adopt Rules on this Subject: RCW 28B.35.120.

Reasons Why Rules on this Subject may be Needed and What They Might Accomplish: This revision is needed because the time restriction being eliminated is unreasonable - particularly during academic breaks.

Other Federal and State Agencies that Regulate this Subject and the Process Coordinating the Rule with These Agencies: None.

Process for Developing New Rule: Negotiated rule making; and agency study.

Interested parties can participate in the decision to adopt the new rule and formulation of the proposed rule before publication by contacting Trent Lutey, University Policy Administrator, Office of the President, Eastern Washington University, 214 Showalter Hall, Cheney, WA 99004, phone (509) 359-6233, and e-mail tlutey@ewu.edu. WSR 09-22-012PREPROPOSAL STATEMENT OF INQUIRY
DEPARTMENT OF EARLY LEARNING

[Filed October 22, 2009, 11:48 a.m.]

Subject of Possible Rule Making: Requirements regarding administration of hand sanitizers in licensed child care for children over twelve months old with a parent's or guardian's written permission. The department of early learning (DEL) is planning to amend WAC 170-151-230 School age child care, 170-295-3060 Child care centers, and 170-296-0870 Family home child care, and may revise or adopt other related sections if appropriate.

Statutes Authorizing the Agency to Adopt Rules on this Subject: RCW 43.215.200, chapter 43.215 RCW.

Reasons Why Rules on this Subject may be Needed and What They Might Accomplish: The rules are needed to help protect the health and safety of children in DEL-licensed child care. The current worldwide outbreak of the H1N1 influenza virus has caused the World Health Organization to issue a Phase 6 pandemic flu alert. The state department of health (DOH) has filed emergency rules directing heightened vigilance regarding H1N1 monitoring, and the secretary of health has urged DEL to file emergency rules allowing alcohol-based hand sanitizer gels to be used in child care facilities. DEL filed such emergency rules and now intends to make the rules permanent.

DEL rules referenced above set requirements for administering prescription and nonprescription medications to children in licensed child care. The United States Food and Drug [Administration] classifies alcohol-based and similar hand sanitizer products as "over-the-counter (OTC) drugs," which are considered nonprescription medications under DEL rules. Unless a nonprescription medication is specifically listed as allowed for administration with parent or guardian permission, the child care center and school age center rules require a physician's written authorization specific to each child. This requirement is a barrier to using OTC hand sanitizer gels, which, in conjunction with hand washing with soap and warm water, can help reduce the spread of H1N1, other flu viruses, and other communicable diseases in child care settings. Hand sanitizers will also be listed in family home child care rules as a nonprescription medication that may be administered for children over twelve months of age with a parent's or guardian's written permission.

Other Federal and State Agencies that Regulate this Subject and the Process Coordinating the Rule with These Agencies: No federal agencies regulate the use of hand sanitizers in child care settings, although the Centers for Disease Control issues guidance materials. DEL is working closely with DOH on the proper use and safeguards for using hand sanitizer gels in child care, especially with toddlers and preschool-age children.

Process for Developing New Rule: Time permitting, DEL will circulate draft materials for comment before filing a formal proposed rule.

DEPARTMENT OF NATURAL RESOURCES

[Filed October 30, 2009, 1:57 p.m.]

Subject of Possible Rule Making: The department of natural resources (DNR) is considering revisions to WAC 332-30-166 regarding open water disposal of dredge materials on state-owned aquatic lands.

Statutes Authorizing the Agency to Adopt Rules on this Subject: RCW 79.105.500, 789.105.510 [79.105.510], 79.105.520.

Reasons Why Rules on this Subject may be Needed and What They Might Accomplish: In 1980 DNR promulgated WAC 332-30-166 establishing open water disposal sites and established a dedicated account for fees to cover associated management costs. The rule was revised in 1994 to update the disposal fees charged. Since then costs associated with managing dredge material disposal sites have increased. DNR intends to evaluate the fee schedule and alternatives for covering site management costs. DNR also intends to incorporate tasks and procedures related to application, site disposal criteria, and related management considerations.

Other Federal and State Agencies that Regulate this Subject and the Process Coordinating the Rule with These Agencies: Local: County and city governments, DNR will mail the draft rule language and solicit comments.

State: Washington department of fish and wildlife, Washington department of ecology.

Federal: United States Army Corps of Engineers, United States Fish and Wildlife, Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), DNR will coordinate through the dredge disposal management program's monthly interagency meetings.

Process for Developing New Rule: Full rule-making process. The department intends to follow a community relations approach to revising WAC 332-30-166. Opportunities for public participation will be offered (1) at public meetings prior to developing the actual rule language and filing a CR-102 Notice of proposed rule making, (2) as part of the State Environmental Policy Act (SEPA) review process, and (3) formal public hearings held across the state. Department officials will present the purpose and context for rule revisions at each instance.

Interested parties can participate in the decision to adopt the new rule and formulation of the proposed rule before publication. Questions, comments, and suggestions may be sent to Washington Department of Natural Resources, Aquatic Resources Division, Attn: Lisa M. Randlette, P.O. Box 47027, Olympia, WA 98504-7027, phone (360) 902-1100, fax (360) 902-1786, e-mail ARD@dnr.wa.gov. Information will also be posted at <http://www.dnr.wa.gov>.
