GR 9 COVER SHEET

Suggested Amendment
RULES OF PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT (RPC)
Rule 5.5-Unauthorized Practice of Law;
Multijurisdictional Practice of Law

Submitted by the Board of Governors of the Washington State Bar Association

Purpose: At its September 24, 2010 meeting the Board of Governors of the Washington State Bar Association unanimously adopted the recommendation of the Rules of Professional Conduct Committee described as follows:

The purpose of the suggested amendment to Comment [7] is to clarify the meaning of "admitted" as defined by subsections (c) and (d). RPC 5.5(c) permits lawyers "admitted" in another United States jurisdiction to practice on a temporary basis in Washington if specified conditions are met. RPC 5.5(d) permits lawyers "admitted" in another U.S. jurisdiction to provide in-house legal services in Washington if specified conditions are met. Comment [7] to the rule states that "admitted" under paragraph (c) means that "the lawyer is authorized to practice in the jurisdiction in which the lawyer is admitted and excludes a lawyer who while technically admitted is not authorized to practice, because, for example, the lawyer is on inactive status." The comments do not define "admitted" for purposes of applying paragraph (d), raising a potential ambiguity regarding whether paragraph (d) might permit an inactive lawyer in another jurisdiction to serve as in-house counsel in Washington under RPC 5.5. The Rules of Professional Conduct Committee believes that "admitted" was intended to have the same meaning in both paragraphs, and suggested amending the language in Comment [7] to reflect that intent. This suggested amendment is not intended to be a substantive change.

RULES OF PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT (RPC)

RULE 5.5. UNAUTHORIZED PRACTICE OF LAW;
MULTIJURISDICTIONAL PRACTICE OF LAW

(a) - (e) [Unchanged.]

Comment

[1] - [6] [Unchanged.]

[7] Paragraphs (c) and (d) apply to lawyers who are admitted to practice law in any United States jurisdiction, which includes the District of Columbia and any state, territory or commonwealth of the United States. The word "admitted" in paragraph (e) contemplates that the lawyer is authorized to practice in the jurisdiction in which the lawyer is admitted and excludes a lawyer who while technically admitted is not authorized to practice, because, for example, the lawyer is on inactive status.

[8] - [22] [Unchanged.]

Reviser's note: The brackets and enclosed material in the text of the above section occurred in the copy filed by the agency and appear in the Register pursuant to the requirements of RCW 34.08.040.

GR 9 COVER SHEET

Suggested Rule Change
RAP 18.13A

PURPOSE: The Office of Public Defense (OPD) is suggesting a change to the Rules of Appellate Procedure, RAP 18.13A, to require notice to be filed in the appellate courts when adoption proceedings have initiated while a termination order is under review.

The purpose of this suggested change is to eliminate jurisdictional confusion and to protect the appellate courts' ability to provide effective review of a termination order while adoption proceedings are pending. Currently, if an adoption is filed while a termination order is under review, the adoption may be finalized before the termination appeal is decided. If the appeal is reversed after the adoption is finalized, the reversal of the termination could require the adoption to be vacated, disrupting the permanency established by the adoption. Alternatively, if the appellate court's reversal could be characterized as moot, the trial court could attempt to uphold the prematurely entered adoption order. This presents an undesirable jurisdictional conflict between the two actions that is causing great uncertainty in the judicial system.

This problematic situation has been realized at least twice last year alone. See In re A.B., 168 Wn.2d 908 (2010); In re B.R., 239 P.3d 1120 (2010); see in addition In re J.M., 130 Wn. App. 912 (2005). In these cases, the termination order was reversed after the adoption had been finalized, leaving the parties to deal with the prospect of vacating a final adoption order in light of the reversal. We have learned that adoption proceedings have been filed and are pending in at least five other termination appeals up for review last year. More cases like these likely exist, but remain unknown because parents in a termination appeal are not parties to the adoption and therefore do not receive notice of those proceedings.

The notice requirement in OPD's proposal would inform the appellate court and the parties to a termination appeal of any pending adoption proceedings and provide the opportunity to stay a termination order to the extent that it is used to authorize a final adoption. The stay procedure would follow the existing supersedeas procedure under RAP 8.1.

Notice of the adoption is the critical element in these cases in order to make possible a request for a stay of the termination order to prevent the adoption from being finalized. The State or supervising agency is the most appropriate party to provide notice because it has the authority to consent to the adoption, pursuant to the termination order.

This suggested rule change protects the child's interest in permanency with his or her parents if they are fit, and if not, with the adoptive parents. The notice and stay procedure would not interfere with State's ability to set up the filing of an adoption, or prevent the child from placement with the adoptive parents during the pendency of the adoption, as is commonly the case. It would merely prevent the State from consenting the finalization of the adoption before the termination appeals has been decided. Other states have similarly adopted court rules to require a limited stay of enforcement of the termination order until the appeal is decided. See ILCS S.Ct. Rule 305 (Illinois); and see F. R. App. P. Rule 9.146 (Florida).

RULES OF APPELLATE PROCEDURE (RAP)

RULE 18.13A - ACCELERATED REVIEW OF JUVENILE DEPENDENCY DISPOSITION ORDERS TERMINATING PARENTAL RIGHTS

(a) - (j) NO CHANGES.

(k) Termination Appeals - Notice of Adoption Proceedings. (1) When an order terminating parental rights is under review in an appellate court, notice of the initiation of any adoption proceedings, under RCW 26.33, must be filed with the appellate court by the State or supervising agency that has been granted custody pursuant to the termination order. The State or supervising agency shall file notice and proof of service on all parties to the appeal within 30 days from the initiation of adoption proceedings or 30 days from the filing of the notice of appeal, whichever is later, but in all cases before entry of a final adoption order.

(2) The appellate court shall, upon its own motion, or motion by any party to the appeal, determine whether to stay enforcement of the termination order to the extent that it authorizes the custodian to consent to entry of a final adoption order. Any stay of enforcement shall terminate upon issuance of the mandate as provided in Rule 12.5, unless otherwise directed by the appellate court.

PUBLIC NOTICEEcology Issues the New Boatyard General Permit

New Permit Issued: Ecology will issue the new boatyard general permit (permit) on March 2, 2011. This permit replaces the previous permit issued in 2005. It will be effective June 1, 2011.

Purpose of the Permit: The boatyard general permit is a statewide permit that provides coverage for discharges of stormwater and pressure wash water from boatyards. When boatyards build, repair, and paint boats they create pollutants that are carried by stormwater into surface waters. A boatyard, as defined for the purposes of this permit, is a commercial business engaged in the construction, repair, and maintenance of small vessels, eighty-five percent of which are sixty-five feet or less in length, or revenues from which constitute more than eighty-five percent of gross receipts. This definition includes mobile boatyards. There are currently eighty-eight total permitted boatyard facilities in Washington state. The permit prohibits discharge of pressure wash water to surface waters and imposes limits for discharge to POTWs. The permit imposes benchmarks and limits on pollutants discharged in stormwater from boatyards.
